sparks of political excitement, was uttered all appeared to be absorbed in the general subject of their National Independence; Peace, good will and hilarity was the grand motto of all, content was visibly depicted in each countenance, as the guests returned homewards, repeating the satisfaction of having enjoyed the festivities of so memorable a day.

A PARTAKER.

[For the Easton Gazette.]

Mr. Graham:—

I am not going to talk to you on politics—about Jackson men and anti-Jackson men, nor yet about the crafty Go-betweens—but, sir, I am for downright abuse of the good people of Easton—now for it. Is it not a shame, that in a town like Easton with so many intelligent and respectable inhabitants, a place of much resort and great business, there should be so little attention paid to cleanliness in their back grounds? In all parts around the town, in every direction, you cant walk at sun set without the eyes & the nostrils being perpetually offended by heaps of noxious matter and neglected parcels of filth—the same may be said of the back grounds in the interior of the Town; for although some keep theirs clean, a great many neglect theirs to the annoyance of their neighbors and to the unhealthiness of all. It is not the Hog-sties alone, but inattention to all kinds of filth, that is complained of; and it is matter of surprise, that some farmer in the vicinity does not agree to scrape these grounds and remove this filth off to manure his fields; as I heard a creditable man say the other day, there was more neglected filth lying in and about the town than would be sufficient to manure a hundred acre field; and all these are sources of disease and just grounds of reproach to the inhabitants.

If the Commissioners are not permitted to forbid the Hog-sties let the Hogs that the inhabitants desire to raise go at large, it will be better, cheaper, more cleanly, and healthier—Hogs are permitted to go at large in large cities, for they act in some degree as scavengers to remove the noxious filth—the only inconvenience is, that now and then, Mr. Grunten runs against a pair of white pantaloons, or takes shelter under the shade of miss Such-a-ones broad hat—but this is a much less evil than losing a good citizen by a billious fever. Or if Hog-sties are insisted on at all events—let the Town baliff be positively enjoined to see them every day, and let the owners of every Hog-stie that is not thoroughly cleansed every day by 10 o'clock in the morning with broom, scraper, and water and the filth removed, be subject to a fine—the health and comfort of the Town requires this—humanity to the poor, who are unable to employ Physicians and buy of the Apothecaries, and lose their time by sickness, demand this or some such regulation—and a respect for common decency as well as the gratification of breathing a sound and safe atmosphere all join in the petition.

After this is done, and the inhabitants feel the delightful benefit of it, both in the enjoyment of improved health and in the increased inducements to refresh themselves by a walk in the evening after the labor of the day is closed, the Court House square ought to be neatly enclosed, trees planted in it, and the ground laid off into apartments of nice grass, and into gravel walks—a saunter through this improved ground would be a fine termination to an afternoon's walk, and would serve also as a sort of charge, where the Citizens could meet with each other at a leisure moment and make appointments on business the next day, or interchange any other matter they might desire. The ladies too would be invited to exercise, and here they could interchange civilities—nor would the Elegantes and their attendants be less inclined to avail themselves of this delightful promenade—whilst the Doctors, relieved of much care by the improved state of health, would have more pleasurable time on their hands—the mechanics would here enjoy refreshment after their day of industrious occupation—the lawyer divested of the dust of his papers would also gladly indulge an hour or two—whilst the Merchant, overjoyed to see the country folks crowding out of town with their gigs, carriages and carry-alls laden with their purchases, would long for sunset that they might catch a little of the improved atmosphere in the improved grounds.

Now comes the bug-bear. What will all this cost? answer—much less than is necessary to pay physicians, apothecaries & for loss of time, & loss of comfort in the present state of things. Let the Commissioners meet directly, now is the time of the year to do these things, & after making proper plans for cleansing the Town and keeping it clean, and seeing that it is done—then let subscription papers be set on foot to enclose the Court House square the whole of the posts will no doubt be given freely from the country and money will also be subscribed—Town people can subscribe money, labour, use of carts and horses—Trees will be given from the country at the proper time to transplant. Let men of business undertake this matter and exert themselves and there will be no difficulty and no man, a month after, will feel it—The advantage to Easton will be wonderful, the satisfaction will be universal, and the just reproach which the Town and its inhabitants have been subject to, will be completely done away—dont say it can't be done—try it properly and then say.

EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Evening, July 25.

We understand the Court of Appeals for the Western Shore has appointed John Johnson, Esq. of Prince George's county, Clerk of the Court, vice Thomas Harris, deceased. Mr. Johnson is the son of the late Chancellor of Maryland.

Edward Hughs, Esq. of Montgomery county has been appointed by the Executive, Commissioner of Lotteries, vice Thomas B. Hall, deceased.

CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL.

On Saturday night last a body of earth from the slope of the Deep Cut fell into the Canal, and completely closed it the height of several feet above the water line. The National Gazette says of it:—

Immediate measures were of course taken for its removal, and we are happy to learn that, in all probability, the opening of the canal will not be delayed by the accident. Such SLIPS, as they are called, have heretofore occurred frequently on this part of the canal—some of them of a much more formidable kind than the present, and the workmen are of course familiar with the mode of rectifying them.

The Philadelphia papers state that the packet sloop, Florida, plying between Snowhill, on the Chesapeake bay, and Philadelphia, passed through the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal on Friday 17th inst. She is a vessel of 40 tons, and is the first of that kind which has passed through the canal.

[Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Washington, to his friend in Baltimore, dated July 22.

"The President and Secretary of State have left the city for a few days. Among the reports in circulation is that of the Secretary of State being averse to further changes, and that he has been able to diffuse this feeling so generally that the progress of dismissals has been stopped."

The intelligence of Mr. Barbour's recall, and the appointment of the Hon. Louis M'Lane as Minister to great Britain, was received in London on the 23d ult.

From the Nat. Intel. of the 23d inst.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The whole of yesterday's session of the Circuit Court was consumed in vainly endeavouring to complete the pannel for trying the second indictment against T. Watkins.—About thirty talesmen attended in the course of the day, out of which five more Jurors were sworn in—making eleven. The remainder of the thirty were excepted to and excluded on the ground of having formed and expressed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant.—Only one more Juror is wanted now to complete the pannel.

REFORM.

The Administration having acted such a ridiculous part in the prosecution of what they denominate reform, that they have literally come at last to be, not only the scorn of men, but the jest of boys. A few frolicksome youngsters, in a town about thirty miles from here, assembled a few days ago, and, after making fools of each other, conceived the idea of making fools of General Jackson and Major Barry. The thing was easily done. One of their number, more sober than the rest, drew up a petition for the removal of the Post, Master and the appointment of a certain other personage designated in the petition. The instrument was signed by the other boys and forthwith sent to Washington—As had been foreseen the project succeeded, and the return mail brought on a commission for the new Post Master. Now the joke of the whole matter is this: The new post master is the most ragged, drunken vagabond in seven cities, and cannot for the life of him decipher the superscription of a letter.

N. E. Review.

A letter of May 15, states that the John Alexander, from Alexandria, and the ship Augusta, from New York, with Flour, had arrived. Business was dull, and no good Coffee in market. The Brazilian Government had prolonged the period for permitting the prosecution of the Slave Trade for six months from August!

American.

Our readers will see, the course of the proceedings on Saturday, in the prosecution of T. Watkins, the present singular situation of the case. The Counsel for the defendant mean to claim judgment of acquittal on the verdict rendered by the Jury & the Counsel of the Government, it is understood intend to move a rejection of the verdict as insufficient, and have a new trial. These motions will be made, and the questions argued, we presume, to-day. Their decision rests with the Court, and on their decision, it is probable, depends whether the 300 dollar case will be tried or not.—Nat. Intell.

A pithy observation. The eccentric, but shrewd author of "Lacon, or Many Things in Few Words," speaking of government matters, says: "An upright minister asks what recommends a man; a corrupt minister, who."

FOREIGN.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The packet ship Monongahela has arrived at Philadelphia, bringing Liverpool dates to the 8th June inclusive. The packet ship Britania has also arrived at New York, having sailed from Liverpool on the 7th June. From the Philadelphia papers, and a slip transmitted from the Philadelphia Gazette office, we make the following extracts:

The most important articles in these papers, are those which relate to warlike operations in the East.

Despatches received in London from Lord Cowley, the English Ambassador at Vienna, mention a prevailing report in that city that the Turks had defeated the Russians at a place called Czernadova. This is supposed to be the same affair alluded to in a Paris letter also received, and mentions that a general battle had been brought on by an attempt to push some cattle into Silistria; that the garrison had made a vigorous sortie; and that the Russians were defeated with great loss.

A German paper states that Varna has been recaptured by the Turks, after a horrible carnage. This statement, however is declared not to be entitled to credit.

The Russian army, it is generally agreed, has suffered during the spring from sickness—the plague and various contagious disorders having made great havoc among them.

It is mentioned from Sicily, that Admiral Malcolm had issued orders for all the English vessels of war in the Mediterranean immediately to join the fleet off Syracuse.

The subject of Parliamentary reform was introduced to the House of Commons by the Marquis of Blandford, on the 3d of June. A conviction of the necessity of some change in the system of representation, is said to be gradually growing in the public mind.

An attempt was made in the British Parliament by Mr. Bright to procure a reduction of the duty on tobacco, for the benefit of the West India planters Sir C. Burrell and Mr. Portman wished the growth of tobacco at home to be legalized: it would be beneficial to farmers, and create employment for labourers. Mr. Heathcote and Mr. Cresset Pelham thought it unfair now that the Irish participated in all civil privileges, to allow them to grow tobacco while it was denied to the English farmer. The Chancellor of the Exchequer replied, that it was merely permitted in Ireland as an experiment. He was averse to the reduction of the duty, as it was following the evil principle of granting a bounty on production. Mr. Charles Grant thought the time was approaching when this and other prohibitory duties must be modified. The motion was negatived.

We are again enabled to gratify our readers with an account of further improvement in trade. At Glasgow, Dumfries, and other districts, the manufacturers are in better spirits, and anticipate that the improvement will be progressive.

The British Parliament was expected to rise on the 16th June.

LIVERPOOL CORN MARKET.

Saturday June 6.

The Corn trade during the whole of the past week has been exceedingly inactive. The few sales effected in Wheat have been at gradually receding rates, and at this morning's market the secondary qualities were offering at an abatement of 3d per 70 lbs. on the quotations of this day sen'night. As is usually the case in a dull market, some parcels of Oats have been sold rather below our previous currency, but we cannot vary our general quotations for this grain, nor does there appear much disposition to press sales.—Barley is 3d per 60 lbs. higher, and all qualities scarce. Little change has occurred in the value of Beans or Peas.—The transactions in Indian Corn have also been less numerous. Flour and Oatmeal fully sustain previous rates. The business in Bonded Grain has been chiefly in Barley, some choice parcels of which have sold at 3s. 8d. to 3s. 10d. per 60 lbs.

Prices.—Wheat, per 70lb. English W. & R. 10s. 6d a 11s. 4d; Barley, Imperial Qr. Malting, £1 14 a £1 18s.—Flour 280 lbs. English and Irish, £2 10s. a £2 16s.

The Providence papers give an account of the imprisonment of a poor woman in that town, destitute of the most common and ordinary necessaries of life who had been compelled to consult with a physician once or twice, for which he charged her $3; and not having the means of paving, was sued for the same. When the officer came with the writ, she requested him to inform the doctor she could not pay in money but would do any kind of work for him in her power.—This would not answer, and the officer was compelled in the discharge of his duty, and to the eternal disgrace of the creditor, to take this poor woman upon the execution, with her nursing infant, and commit her to goal. There she remained pennyless and almost naked, for about ten days, and but for the humanity of the goaler, she and her infant must have perished.

Such an inhuman monster, (says the Cadet) ought not to be suffered to tread in the paths of men; and, in justice, his name should be revealed, an object for the "slow, unmoving finger of scorn."—No delicacy ought to conceal the names of such individuals.
