y), He and the unassuming General WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON

Hitherto we have refrained from taking our stand in favor of any candidate, although we have had our preferences and strong preferences too, prefering to await the action of our political friends throughout the state, and to fight when fight we must, shoulder to shoulder with them, in the great contest which is to determine whether the President of the United States is to be invested with the power of naming his successor, and our government be thus made to assume a heraditary form of most odious tendency, and 'the spoils of victory' or the offices and the revenue of the country, to be divided among an army of one hundred thousand office holders. That action has now taken place. Our political friends throughout the state have spoken their sentiments through the medium of their Convention, which assembled in Baltimore on the 22d inst —the proceedings of which will be found in this day's paper. To the sentiments thus spoken we respond most cordially —to these sentiments we believe the freemen of the western portion of our state will respond with an enthusiasm and an unanimity from which the most cheering and the most happy results may be anticipated.—Torch Light.

From the Frederick (Md.) Herald.

The Whig Convention assembled in Baltimore on Tuesday last, and on the following day nominated WILLIAM H HARRISON, of Ohio, as a candidate for the Presidency, and JOHN TYLER, of Virginia, as a candidate for the Vice Presidency. That this result has surprised us, our friends cannot doubt—as we have freely expressed an opinion that the convention would see the expediency of postponing all action upon the subject, until the voice of the Whigs of the nation was more firmly united in favor of a single individual. Still we are willing to surrender our judgement to the superior wisdom of the Convention, and to believe that it has presented a rallying point for the friends of the country, from which they can march to conquest. The leader, it is true, is not emblazoned with those glorious civic deeds which we believe to be the only true claims to the admiration of an enlightened and free people—yet there is sufficient of the oak mingled with the laurel in the crown upon his brow, to diminish the bewildering glare that marks the successful warrior. But if General Harrison had naught but military deeds to recommend him to the people, the present is a crisis when no patriot can hesitate to espouse his cause with ardour, if he will but for a moment contrast it with the principle involved in the present contest against the President's assumed right to name his successor.—For, strip the Baltimore Ruck er convention of the mummery by which the people were attempted to be cheated, and it will be seen as a mere servant carrying into effect the commands of a master. That principle, we believe to be fatal to the purity and existence of this republic, and we will oppose it with every effort of body and mind. We have therefore, ranged ourselves under the banner of

HARRISON AND THE CONSTITUTION, and will sustain it so long as it floats in the breeze.

John Tyler is a type of the chivalry and intelligence of his native state, and is worthy of the untiring and enthusiastic support of the Whigs—he will receive it.

Harrison at home.—The Cincinnati Gazette of the 22d ult. states that there was a meeting of the friends of Gen. Harrison, recently held at North Bend, and that more than fifty of those who participated in the proceedings, had always been the[illegible] made in [illegible] will remain [illegible] shall be divided [illegible] Jackson Harrison in Indiana.—The LaFayette (Indiana) Free Press says: We can no longer view it a questionable matter that Indiana will sustain the hero—she will as certainly cast her vote for Gen. Harrison, as truth, uprightness, gratitude and independence, are the characteristics of a large majority of her citizens.

An extorted but Candid confession.—The Cleveland Herald says, in reference to the late Ohio election:

"The fact is the name of General Harrison was in no way connected with the late election; and, if things remain as they now are, he must carry the State by an overwhelming majority. We have been forced to this conclusion, by the irresistible evidence daily presented; and contrary too, to our own feelings and predilections."

Sewing by Machinery.—The Rochester Daily Democrat says that a mechanic of that city has invented a machine for making clothes which will "hereafter take the place of fingers and thimbles" If such be the case, we hope that the machine will find its way to the bottom of Lake Ontario, and its inventor be handed over to the disposal of a Jury of Females, each of whom has a family of destitute children depending upon her 'fingers and thimble" for support—Alb. Journal.

The Farmer and Gardener states, upon the authority of a highly respectable gentleman from Charles County, that emigration to the west from the lower part of Maryland is very great. The editor would recommend the improving of the old lands of our native State, instead of seeking new lands in the West. The statement of his information is as follows:—

"Since the first of September last there have removed to the west and south west from Charles county, many of our best citizens—whole neighborhoods, as it were have been broken up—they have gone en masse carrying with them negroes and other property to the value of from $600,000. I think I might say in safety $800,000—and the emigration from St. Mary's county has been nearly as great."

ST JOHN'S COLLEGE.—It affords us much pleasure to announce, that the Hon. ROBERT H. GOLDSBOROUGH, United States Senator from Maryland, has consented to deliver an Oration, before the associate Alumni, and the other Literary Societies of ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE, at the next annual commencement. Feb 22d 1836. The Exercises will be held in the Hall of the Old College; and from the numbers of the class to be graduated, and the prospects opened, and by the completion of the new and splendid edifice that has been erected during the past year, the occasion will doubtless, be full of interest.—Annapolis Republican.

THE SALMAGUNDI,

AND NEWS OF THE DAY.

EMBELLISHED WITH A MULTITUDE OF

COMIC ENGRAVINGS.

A new periodical, of a novel character, bearing the above appellation, will be commenced on the beginning of January, 1836. While it will furnish its patrons with the leading features of the news of the day, its principal object will be to serve up a humorous compilation of the numerous lively and pungent sallies which are daily floating along the tide of Literature, and which, for the want of a proper channel for their preservation, are positively lost to the Reading world. Original wits and humorists of our time will here have a medium devoted to the faithful record of the scintillations of their genius. It is not necessary to detail the many attractions which this journal will possess, as the publisher will furnish a specimen number to every person who desires it—(those out of the city, will forward their orders, postage paid)—☞and he pledges himself that no exertions on his part shall be wanting to make each succeeding number superior in every respect to the preceding ones.

The Salmagundi will be printed on large imperial paper, equal in size and quality to that which is at present used for the Gentleman's Vade Mecum. It is calculated that more than will be furnished to the patrons of this Journal in one year—these, in addition to an extensive and choice selection of Satire, Criticism, Humour and Wit, to be circulated through its columns, will form a Literary Banquet of a superior and attractive order; and the publisher relies with perfect confidence on the liberality of the American public, and the spirit and tact with which this expensive undertaking will be prosecuted, to bear him successfully and profitably along with it.

The terms of The Salmagundi will be two dollars per annum, payable invariably in advance. No paper will be furnished unless this stipulation is strictly adherred to. ☞Clubs of three will be supplied with the paper for one year, by forwarding a five dollar note, postage paid. Clubs of seven will be supplied for the same term, by forwarding a ten dollar note ☞The papers that are sent out of the city will be carefully packed in strong envelopes, to prevent their rubbing in the mail.

☞The Salmagundi will be published on alternate weeks—otherwise it would be impossible to procure the numerous Embellishments which each number will contain—and the general interest it will afford must be enhanced by this arrangement.

☞All orders must come postage paid.

☞Address, CHARLES ALEXANDER, Athenian Buildings, Franklin Place, Philadelphia.
