BEAUTY AND TIME.

BY S. LOVER, ESQ.

Time met beauty one day in her garden,
Where roses were blooming fair
Time and Beauty were never good friends,
So she wondered what brought him there.
Poor Beauty exclaimed, with a sorrowful air,
"I request, Father Time, my sweet roses you'll spare"—
For time was going to mow them all down
While Beauty exclaimed, with her prettiest frown,
"Fie, Father Time!
Oh, what a crime! fie, Father Time!"

II

"Well," said Time, "at least let me gather
A few of your roses here;
'Tis part of my pride to be always supplied
With roses the whole of the year."
Poor Beauty consented, though half in despair,
And Time as he went asked a lock of her hair;
And, as he stole the soft ringlet so bright,
He vowed 'twas for love—but she knew 'twas for spite.
Fie, Father Time! &c.

III

Time went on, and left Beauty in tears—
He's a tell tale, the world well knows:—
So he busied himself at the fair lady's fall,
And showed the lost ringlet and rose.
So shocked was poor Beauty to find that her fame
Was ruined, though she was in no to blame,
That she drooped like some flower that's torn from its stem,
And her friends all mysteriously said 'twas Time.
Fie, Father Time! &c.

THE MORNING SOLILOQUY.

Rat-ther he lives old a beau,
And I am sorry—not twenty yet,
A downright a year or so.
Pulled like a gentle like the bit.
(You'll too soon throw up the reins,
(the must have feelings yet, you know)
He'll highly prize such gains,
Although he is so old a beau!

He is so rich! his mansion!—you
Could scarcely more for gems of art,
And what I think he calls vertu,—
With such hard names they made me start.
The noble park—the herds of deer—
Should I fill these at once forego,
I would content me in a year—
But then—he is so old a beau!

He's wrong to forty eight—not more—
And really wears uncommon well;
His wig's the best that head e'er wore—
So very like!—you scarce could tell.
And when at night he's lighted up,
How blandly do his accents flow!
One might with silver lovers sup;
'Tis pity he's so old a beau!

Three years five gaily graced the ring.
Now Anne and Sophy are by my side;
And as a maid, next winter brings
Maria out—her heart and pride.
The men will say, like Beaujon's heirs,
To the crack of doom the link will go;
I never will rue their jests and sneers—
Oh! why is he so old a beau?

And what will Edward Temple say?
He'll swallow poison—that I know!
How sweetly did he vow and pray
When we were young, two years ago!
Oh! he'll forget and He forgive—
Since fate ordains it—ah no, no—
Make wealth and splendor cease to live—
No, never—with so old a beau!

THE GENTLEMAN'S

Vade Mecum,

OR

THE SPORTING AND DRAMATIC

COMPANION,

A WEEKLY REPOSITORY OF

Dramatic Literature, Sporting, the Turf, Fashions, Gaming, Agriculture, and Various subjects of Interest and Amusement:

INTERSPERSED WITH A MULTITUDE OF

Appropriate Engravings,

INCLUDING PORTAITS OF

CELEBRATED WINNING HORSES

PHILOSOPHICAL & NATURAL

Phenomena, Legerdemain, &c.

This popular journal, although but a few months have passed since it was commenced, has already obtained an extensive and profitable subscription list, which is daily increasing and affords ample encouragement to the proprietors to persevere in their efforts to render it as useful, as it is instructive.

☞ On the commencement of the approaching year, the VADE MECUM will undergo several important improvements—instead of four pages, it will be increased to Eight of nearly the present size, and consequently will contain almost double the quantity of reading matter which is now given—Making it one of the largest and neatest paper's ever published in the United States. It will be printed on new type, and fine white paper, and the embellishments will be considerably multiplied, & of a superior order. Persons desirous of procuring the work at the beginning of the new volume, will please send their orders at once—as they may fail to be supplied, as but few copies will be published more than are actually subscribed for at the time.

☞ The subjects which are particularly embraced in this work will be more distinctly understood from the following brief analysis of them:

The Drama forms a material portion of the Gentleman's Vade Mecum—every week an entire Play or Farce is given. They are selected with a single eye to their merits alone: a preference, however, will be extended in all cases to native productions when they can be obtained. Independent criticisms, carefully excluding all invidious comparisons, and recommended by their brevity, are occasionally inserted: as also, Biographical Sketches, Anecdotes, and Bon Mots of prominent Commedians of the present and past ages, of which a rare and inexhaustible compilation is in store. The publisher, by the liberality of the managers of the two Philadelphia Theatres, and several other gentlemen connected with the stage, has obtained a very excellent and numerous selection of Plays and Farces for the Vade Mecum: many of them have never appeared in print.

THE TURF.

A faithful record is kept of all the Running and trotting Matches in this country and England. Biographies and correct portraits of celebrated thorough bred Horses are published once a month. Every fact relative to the breeding, management, keeping, and the diseases of this invaluable animal is particularly attended to.

THE SPORTING INTELLIGENCE

(At home and abroad) occupies a considerable portion of our columns, and is collected from the most authentic sources.

Among the Portraits of celebrated Winning Horses which have been given, are

The American Trotting horse, Edwin Forrest.

The imported Racing Horse, Messenger.

The American Trotting Mare, Lady Jackson

The Racing Mare, Ariel, and her foal by Eclipse

The true blooded popular Horse, Chateau Margaux.

The American Trotting Horse, Top Gallant.

The well known English Race Horse, Touchstone,

Mundig, the winner of the Derby Stakes in June, 1835.

The unrivalled American Trotter Andrew Jackson.

The celebrated English horse, Glencoe.

A complete treatise on Riding, with fourteen Illustrations, for the improvement of Ladies in that most healthy of all exercises.

Explanation of the Automaton Chess Player, illustrated by eleven engravings.

Four Engravings, designed to represent the scene which took place in Paris in July last, on the attempted destruction of the Royal Family of France—with a view of the Infernal Machine, and a likeness of the Assassin, Gerard.

A correct Picture of a Race Course, occupying the width of seven columns.

SPORTING.

Besides other matters belonging to this head there will be published correct accounts of Shooting Matches, Pedestrian Feats, Gymnastic Exercises, Aquatic Excursions, Fishing, Gaming, &c. with anecdotes of noted Dogs.

MILITARY UNIFORMS.

The publisher has employed the assistance of an excellent artist to furnish a regular series of Engravings of the different beautiful uniforms worn by the principal Volunteer Corps of Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Baltimore and other cities, which will be published periodically, with a particular description of each, furnished by a competent hand—This subject forms a peculiar attraction to the general interest of the work.

GENTLEMEN'S FASHIONS.

A quarterly review is made out by a gentleman connected with a fashionable house in Philadelphia, explanatory of the various improvements and changes which costumes worn in the dress circles constantly undergo: by which it will be rendered an easy task for drapers and tailors, at a distance, to suit their customers with the most approved colours and modern style of apparel at the earliest possible period.

MISCELLANY.—Although the purposes of our sheet may appear to be confined to the several leading subjects which have been stated, we deem it proper to say, that there constantly is, in addition to these, a considerable space allowed for miscellaneous matter, such as Tales, Poetry, Anecdotes, Legerdemain, an Epitome of News, Pieces of Amusement, Statistics, Agriculture, Domestic Economy, Valuable Receipts, &c. Also, a republication of the best and most popular of the old English and American Sporting and National Songs, set to music; besides many other matters, regarding which an interest is supposed to exist.

☞ By the above explanation, it will be seen that the Gentleman's Vade Mecum is particularly designed as a companion for the patrons of the Turf, the Drama, Sporting, the Fashions, &c. It is worthy of notice, that its patrons in the course of one year, will be furnished with from forty five to fifty popular Plays or Farces—the price of which, separately, at one of our bookstores, would be at least thirteen dollars. Here then, is an absolute saving of ten dollars in the purchase or a well-stored Dramatic Library—(to be had for an unprecedented small sum!) without taking into consideration the multiplied variety which is sent along with it, free of additional charge.

The Gentleman's Vade Mecum or Sporting and Dramatic Companion, is published every Saturday, on fine extra imperial quarto paper, of a superior quality each number forming eight pages of the largest class, at $3 per annum. Orders from abroad, postage paid, will be promptly attended to, and the paper carefully packed, to prevent it from rubbing by mail. As the number of agents will be limited to principle cities, or such other places where a considerable subscription may be obtained, we request those who propose to patronize the work, to transmit by mail at once to the publisher. Small notes of solvent banks of the different States, taken at par. By enclosing a Five Dollar Note, two copies of the paper will be forwarded to any direction ordered, for one year. Specimen numbers will be sent to any part of the Union, by addressing the publisher, postage paid.

THE MODERN

ACTING DRAMA,

Has hitherto been issued in volumes of about 300 pages each—containing the PLAYS, FARCES &c. which appear in the Vade Mecum, neatly printed, and bound in elastic covers, for transportation—and published every six weeks.—Eight volums constitute a set, or one year's subscription, the terms of which is 3 dollars, payable in advance.—☞ Subscribers to the Vade Mecum are entitled to a deduction of one third, when subscribing for the Modern Acting Drama. An order for four sets will be thankfully received and the work forwarded to any direction, by inclosing a ten dollar note, postage paid. Gentlemen desirous of securing a set of this work, will please to forward their names immediately—the edition which was a small one, is going off rapidly, and it cannot be re published at the same price.

This work will undergo a material improvement on the commencement of a new series in January, 1836. It is intended to be published Every Month, or as near the beginning as possible, each No. to consist of 48 pages of fine letter press printing and 12 numbers to constitute a volume of 576 pages. Every Play or Farce which will be published, is to be accompanied by a beautiful and appropriate Engraving—making in the course of the year nearly Fifty two Embellishments—to which will be added as a Frontispiece, a full sized steel Engraving, containing the likeness of six Distinguished Actors and Actresses. No alterations will be made from the present terms. Every person who desires to preserve an invaluable collection of the best Dramatic Authors should forward his name forthwith, as the edition will be limited to the number which is absolutely subscribed for. ☞ The publisher pledges himself to make this work equal in interest and superiority of execution to his prospectus, or he will refund the price of subscription, free of all charges. No subscription received unless the terms are complied with. No work of this kind has ever been attempted in the United States, and none is more likely to prove popular and satisfactory.

☞ Any person collecting four subscribers to the Gentleman's Vade Mecum, or the Modern Acting Drama, and remitting the amount of one year's subscription, ($3) for each—shall be presented with the Novelist Magazine, in two volumes a work of considerable popularity, and which is now selling for $3—it contains the productions of eight different authors, well known to the public
