Return of killed and wounded in the battl of Withlacoochee, Dec. 31st, 1835.

Regular troops—2 artificers and 2 privates, killed—1 captain, 1 1st lieutenant, 1 2d lieutenant, 2 sergeants, 4 corporals, 43 privates, wounded—4 killed, 52 wounded.

Militia. 4th Regiment—wounded, Col Warren, Maj. Cooper, severely, Lt. John Youmans, privates James Tyson and John Higgingbotham slightly.

Leon troops two privates wounded slightly. Militia, total 7 wounded.

Aggregate, 4 killed, 59 wounded—out of 227 men in battle.

Many were shot through their cloths, and some horses killed and wounded—Col. Warren wounded. Gen. Clinch, one ball through his cap and had one through his jacket sleeve. The firing was heavy, and the bushes literally cut up around us, how it was that more were not shot, I cannot tell.

MOST DISTRESSING FROM FLORIDA.

Butchery of two Companies of U. States Troops.

The Mobile papers of the 12th inst. furnish the annexed account of a most horrible butchery of two companies of U. States troops, by the Seminole Indians. These ruthless savages have now, for several weeks, had complete possession of a large part of the Territory of Florida, and have burned, robbed and massacred, almost without resistance. How wise it would be to provoke an invasion from a few regiments of French troops, when a horde of wild Indians can thus overrun one of the Territories of the United States.

Balt. Chron.

From the Mobile Chronicle, Jan 12.

HORRID MASSACRE.

By the mail boat Mazeppa, Capt Carson, arrived yesterday afternoon, from New Orleans, we have received the painful and distressing intelligence of the surprize and massacre of two companies of United States Troops, under the command of Major Dade, consisting of 112 men, by the Seminole Indians.

Major Dade had started with his Troops from Tampa Bay to Camp King to join Gen Clinch, when on the morning of the 28th December at eight o'clock, they were surrounded by a large body of Indians, supposed to number from 800 to 1000, and were cut to pieces. Only three men of the 112 escaped, badly wounded, to recount the lamentable history of the butchery of their fellow soldiers.

Major Dade was shot off his horse on the commencement of the attack. Captains Gardner and Fraser soon after fell mortally wounded and their scalps were taken by the savages. Lieutenants Bassinger, Henderson, Mudge and Kean, and Dr. Gatlin, Sergeon to the detachment, were all slain.—Lieutenant Bassinger was wounded on the onset, and was discovered by a negro in the party of savages, crawling off to a place of concealment, and tomahawked. We do not remember the history of a butchery more horrid, and it stands without an example in the annals of Indian warfare. Our citizens, we are sure, will meet together and send some relief to the suffering and defenceless inhabitants of Florida.

Colonel Twiggs, of the U. S Army, chartered the steamboat Merchant, and started with four companies of troops from New Orleans to Tampa Bay. Major Belton is now there with the force under his command.

EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, (MD.)

Saturday Morning Jan. 30.

ANTI VAN BUREN NOMINATION.

FOR PRESIDENT.

William Henry Harrison

OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT

JOHN TYLER,

OF VIRGINIA.

On the first page of to-day's paper, we lay before our readers the speech of our Senator Mr GOLDSBOROUGH, noticed in our last—and also the French Letter, as it is called, which we have no doubt will be read by all with no ordinary interest. The National Intelligencer speaks of it as follows:

"The letter, or what purports to be the letter of the Duc de Broglie, first Minister of France, to the Charge d'Affaires of that Government in this country, by him laid before the Executive of the United States, is now made public. This publication appeared at New York, on the same afternoon, in the Star and the Journal of Commerce. Its authenticity may doubtless be relied upon, or it would not have appeared in either of those journals.

"We have read it through with some attention, and we declare that we cannot perceive what there is in the Letter to make it not fit to be received by our Government. It is an argumentative document, explaining, from the highest authority, the position in which the French Government considers itself. The Letter displays, throughout, a conciliatory spirit. It vindicates, as might be expected, the course of the writer's government. It also, perhaps, puts our government a little in the wrong, but puts it most in the wrong by the moderation and self restraint which it exhibits throughout, in contrast with some of the documents which have emanated from this government in the course of the controversy.

"No one, we think, can read this letter with attention, without perceiving that it was framed for the express purpose of opening the way to a frank and friendly adjustment of what had become a mere point of etiquette between the two countries. If it failed of itself to show the way, it ought surely not to have been repelled in such a manner as to discourage any attempt to effect the same object in a different way."

The western mail had not arrived last night when this paper went to press—of course we have nothing new from Annapolis or Washington—we hear great complaints from every quarter about the horrid arrangement of the mails—the evil is neither looked to or regarded by those who ought to apply the remedy.

For the Easton Gazette.

MR. GRAHAM:

DEAR SIR—I noticed in the last Whig the organization of a club in Easton, under the title of "The Agy Club," with regard to this title I can say nothing not being able to find the term in my dictionary and not knowing the derivative of the word, but with regard to the sentiments there expressed, I feel disposed to make a few remarks. I should in this case, Sir, have applied to the Editor of the Whig the organ through which the information was communicated, were it not in my humble opinion a strong presumption, that the feet of his being requested, and willingly consenting to "publish these" I presume resolutions, "without any compunctious visitings" goes to show conclusively that they not only meet his own views of the subject but also actually speak the sentiments of his own heart—I should therefore expect from that quarter, the fashionable "Veto" system, now so prevalent with a certain class of the community.—But, believing that sentiments like them, so repugnant to the commands of scripture, so totally at variance with the instinctive principles of human nature, and so diametrically opposed to the dictates of common sense, could never find a resting place in your more matured judgment, I must beg your indulgence while I make a few remarks in answer to the resolutions and the consequence thereof. They head their publication with "Wedlock is a dreadful state" have they tried it, it not upon what grounds do they make their quoted assertion, or does their opinion arise from a series of Love troubles and disappointments, growing out of their own disqualifications both of body and mind, to attract the affections of the female heart.—But Sir, to the law & the testimony, & we not positively commanded to be united in the holy bands of Matrimony, with those whom it has pleased the all-wise Creator of all good to ordain for that purpose, (namely women) in order to increase and perpetuate man's happiness not only here but probably hereafter, if this be true, then are their assertions to the contrary untrue. The next great trouble they appear anxious to guard against is "The habilities they are subject to, during the present year, (leap year) from the rude assaults of the matrimonial noose." I would say to them "fear not little flock" that thy rod and thy staff cannot protect you, from cupids fiery darts, I doubt not, but that your furrowed cheeks & wrinkled brows, will be your "shield and buckler" and will eventually safely land you where female chagrin will never again disturb your peaceful and quiet repose. "The ills that women have caused were eloquently recited (not portrayed) and brought the Briny Tear down teany a scaly cheek." I doubt it not, for I presume there are few, nay none, to be found among us, whose cheek had not been "sealed" by the frosts of many long, long winters of single wretchedness and misery, who would have been so callous to the natural feelings common to man, as to have been found in such an association, hence if the briny tear did flow, it must have been down those scaly cheeks. With regard to the first resolution, I will wait for an explanation from its author; I think it not unlike some of the acts of our not very late politicians, neither he that made it, nor they that are to execute it, can understand it, it must therefore be returned, endorsed, misunderstood.

The second resolution reads thus: "Resolved that all persons desirous to join, will notify some one of the Society, who is to be found in any place where females dwelleth not." We know where females do dwell, by the pleasure of their very agreeable society, which we have often enjoyed, and we presume we might say that we know, that they do not dwell in Taverns, Ale Houses, Oyster Houses, Grog Shops, &c. &c., if these be the places where "The Agy Club" are to be found, we promise them that we will not take the trouble to look them out, fearing that our gain would not reward us for our trouble. The third and last resolution we have to return as the first, misunderstood and therefore dismiss the subject until further informed. Yours truly

TIMOTHY TWIST.

The statement made by Mr. Webster, on the injunction of secrecy being removed, of the conduct of the President at the close of last session, has made a deep and serious impression in this quarter. It proved the important fact that not having obtained the uncontrolled use of the three millions of dollars, he determined to leave the Fortification bill unsigned and endeavor to throw the odium on the Senate; and while he refused receiving a any thing officially after twelve o'clock on the fourth of March from that body, he had actually signed a favorite bill after that hour.—It is astonishing that the people can thus allow the President to trifle with the interests of the country by discharging his public duties or neglecting to discharge them, as he pleases—by disregarding the checks on power and the division of duties, in attempting to coerce Congress to follow his orders and obey his will. If the people have so far forgot what is due to their own freedom and safety, as to allow the President to assume all the prerogatives of a King, at least they should limit his power and make it correspond with the sovereigns of Europe. Our condition, at all events should not be worse than that of our brother subjects and vassals of Europe.

The President orders his candidate for speaker to be chosen—he claims the right of controlling the public property—the laws must emanate from him—he demands the appropriation of immense sums without a specific object—he signs what bills he pleases, and causes the Senate to be abused by his colleagues, for want of loyalty and obedience to his commands. Really, this farce of keeping up the name of a republic, must be either abandoned or the President must understand that his duties are prescribed, his power limited, and that he is the servant and not the master of the people. We are rejoiced to perceive that there are some free spirits left in the lower house, and a decided number in the Senate, not disposed to abandon the country to corruption and misrule.—N. York Star.

The Washington Correspondent of the Baltimore Chronicle says:—"The rumour is, and I heard it from the lips of the Vice President, that Poindexter is defeated in Mississippi, and an early partizan and a youthful one too, Mr. Robt. Walker is elected the Senator from that state. This Mr. Walker is the man who first at Pittsburgh nominated Andrew Jackson for the chair he now fills, & who has stuck by the hero thro' "evil," and I was going to say "good" but that is carrying the joke too far—precious little good has he done since his election.—Tho' the source of my information is high and from one who seldom commits himself without being thoroughly guarded in his position, there is much doubt here as to the correctness of the fact. I give it to you not second handed and do myself the honor of endorsing Van's word I believe that Walker is elected, and so now farewell to Poindexter."

A Mammoth.—A proposition has been made in the Legislature of Massachusetts, for the chartering of a bank with a capital of ten millions of dollars. A great London Bank has just established an agency in Boston, under the charge of Francis J. Oliver, Esq.

SILK.

The subject of cultivating mulberry trees, with a view to the increased production and manufacture of SILK, is attracting attention in various quarters throughout the country. In the course of another score of years, or probably less, from present indications, the country will obtain its supply of the article independent of foreign markets. In reference to this subject it is stated in the Virginia Herald, that—

"In the vicinity of Fredericksburg, especially across the river, where the soil though trim, is represented from the nature to be peculiarly favorable to the growth of the mulberry, whose foliage forms the food of the worms—plantations of the tree are about to be established. It is apparent from the soberest calculation that an acre of land applied to this purpose, cannot return to the cultivator a less profit than the same quantity of cotton ground does in the South. And the amount of labor is much less. But it is evident, that, though every farmer may devote a very small portion of his land and labor with advantage to the production of silk, the cheapest and most profitable mode is to conduct the business on an extensive scale, and associations formed for the purpose."

A letter from St. Augustine, dated 6th January says:

"I heard that the whole of Mosquito County was burnt by the Indians. I went down and found it true, but they were off and we could not get a view of them. I came home, and here I find things dreadful. Clinch has fought, and got the worst of it, driven back to his pickets. Gen Call, with all his volunteers, has gone home, and the country completely captured. All the roads to their possession—all communication cut off—the houses burnt, and a man killed within 12 miles of this town. The Agent and a Lieut. South of the Army, killed and scalped in sight of Clinch's camp and two men with them taken off. It is dreadful, and it is disgraceful; 500 600 dollars would not pay the damages. D. Poyster has 870 or 80 negroes taken away—Horses as many."

JACKSON CITY.—A correspondent of the New York Commercial says, that the new city of 'Jackson' will take the lead of every thing that has ever been known in this country. Every expectant of office is expected to purchase a lot of ground—in which case the supply of lots will, of course, be soon exhausted. The building will not go on exactly so rapidly. But according to this letter writer, it is confidently spoken of and believed that in ten years the new city will rival Baden's burg.'

Election in Pennsylvania.—The Northumberland Advocate predicts that old Buckeye will beat Van Puren 40,000 votes in Pennsylvania, next fall. We see it stated elsewhere that some half a dozen of papers which had heretofore supported Wolf or Muhlenburg, have raised the Harrison banner.—Not a bad sign.

THE EFFECTS OF THE MESSAGE.—The New-York Advertiser says—"The Special Message had but a slight effect upon our stock market yesterday, strong hopes being entertained that the Message of the President at the opening of the present session of Congress, will be considered by France as a satisfactory explanation, and induce her forthwith to fulfil the treaty. Information of what effect that Message will have had in France may be looked for in the course of three or four weeks—and until that is received, we doubt whether Congress will adopt any measure that may tend to widen our existing differences with that country.

The London Globe makes the following remarks:

"Whatever may be said of General Jackson's message, it certainly quickened the recognition of his country's claims by the French Chamber. The national point of honour was engaged to remove the stigma cast on it. In General Jackson's place, a wise statesman, having gained that advantage, would realize it by soothing, after stimulating, the heroism of France. A wrong-headed and obstinate man would follow the shadow and drop the substance. Which will be General Jackson's course? We shall see"

The Georgetown Metropolitan of the 22d says—'The Administration have resolved to act in the most vigorous manner against the Indian demonstration on our frontier. General Scott set off last evening to command the United States troops to be employed in repressing the hostilities of the Seminoles.'

A chance for Life.—Drugs to the value of nearly $100 000 were destroyed at the fire in New York.

A Whig State Convention is to meet at Trenton in New Jersey, on the 24th of February next, to nominate candidates for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States. A similar convention, for the same purpose, is to meet in Ohio, on the 22d of February.

POSTLETH'S PRACTICE.

The subscriber has published the second edition of the Justices Practice by J. H. B. Latrobe. This edition brings down the laws relating to the Justices of the Peace and Constables, and those subjects in connection with which their agency may be required, to Dec. 1834 which terminated March 1835 inclusive. While the general arrangement of the work remains nearly the same as in the first edition, a great deal of matter has been added which experience had shown to be useful, and in particular the chapter on conveyancing has been very much enlarged, so as to furnish the Justice of the Peace with precedents in most of the cases connected with the transfer of property, that can occur before him.

The Silk Manual.

Just published and for sale by Sinclair & Moore and Robt. Sinclair, Jr. at the Maryland Agricultural Repository, Light near Pratt street, Baltimore a complete Manual of the Silk Culture, in which plain instructions are laid down for the culture of the Mulberry, the feeding of the Silk worms, management of the cocoons, reeling, spinning and drying of the Silk. In fine, it is a perfect Manual, and comprises every department of the business. The rules are arranged in so plain and methodical a manner that every one can understand them, and by a very few hours attention become master of the business. It is clearly demonstrated in this Manual, that largely upwards of $500 may be netted from an acre in the Culture; and it is a singular fact connected with the Mulberry as adapted to the making of Silk, that poor dry, sandy or gravelly land suits it best, the fabric made from worms fed on leaves raised on such soil, being greatly superior in elasticity and richness of gloss to those grown on rich grounds.
