POETRY.

Believing that some of our readers are occasionally fond of an humorous article, even when a little satarical, we have commenced below, the publication of the best thing of the kind, that we have lately come across. It was handed us by a friend of ours.—N. J. Banner.

ADDRESS

Of the Carriers of the New York Commercial Advertiser, January, 1836.

THE AGE OF HUMBUG.

I sing of humbug.—Once a year,
The Newmans' honest hearts to cheer,
The editor resigns his quill,
And bids us scribble what we will,
In prose or verse, no matter what,
So we but pay the Printer's scot,
And mind, in showing off our learning,
Than he we dont prove more discerning,
Nor let the world perceive that we,
Have both more wit and brains than he.
So clip your wings, Old Father Time,
And listen to my humble rhyme;
For rhyme the rudder is of verses,
By which, like ships, they steer their courses.

Stand forth, Missouri's blowsy son,
Great Benton! humbug number one.
Thou mighty sage from the Red River,
That erst made haughty Jackson quiver,
And left within his arm corporeal,
An ounce of lead, as a 'mem-orial,'
In token of the sweet affection
You bore for him fore his election,—
While he as quick as he could pull it,
Discharged at you a pistol bullet,
In fondest hope that through your skin,
A streak of day-light might get it,
O! Benton! Benton! mighty man,
Bear up your honors if you can
Great Stentor of these modern days,
The object of a nation's gaze,
Whose matchless voice when lifted high,
Would make the Bull of Bashan fly;
Go Benton! Benton! mighty sage.
Thou father of the 'golden age!'
Thou wizard, at whose potent spell,
'Squire Biddle's Mammoth Monster fell;
Thou Plutus, at whose stern command,
Our rivers flow with golden sand,
While Mississippi's groaning tide,
Rolls backward in his swelling pride,
Rejoicing as up hill he flows,
In waves of Eagles and Half Joes!
Stand forth thou mighty man of quarrels,
And take a crown of well earned laurels!
Stand forth! Missouri's greatest son—
Stand forth! great Humbug Number One.

Now turn you at my muse's beck,
And glance along that quarter deck,
Where proudly stalks in gold and blue,
Brave Elliot—Humbug Number Two.
Brave Elliot, who, in times of old,
On Erie's waves was wond'rous bold—
Brave—while old Towson did the fighting
And he was left to fight by writing:—
Brave—just outside of 'Put-in-Bay,'
Where Perry would have lost the day,
But that the fickle envious wind,
Had left our Hero's ship behind;
By means of which when quite defeated,
The youthful Perry quick retreated,
And found behind, far in his wake,
A ship unscathed for him to take:—
The winds then kindly veered, and blew
Just as the youngster wished 'em to—
Whereby again he joined the fray;
Renewed the fight and won the day.
Now does it not stand clear to reason,
That in so critical a season,
If Elliot had not kept away,
Our Perry 'd ne'er outlived the fray?
From which—and contradict who can,
I argue Elliot was the man!
And now for proof, I pray you look,
In Russell Jarvis' recent book.
Brave Elliot!—who must not admire,
A soul so full of martial fire,
So brave mid scenes of blood and death,
That e'en the winds must hold their breath!
Long long, great Elliot, shall thy name,
Stand blazoned on the scroll of fame,—
Thy monument when thou art dead,
Be sculptured with a 'Figure Head?

What Humbug next espires to be,
As high in rank as Number Three?
Where shall we find of great or small,
The choicest Humbug of them all?
Alas, thou beauteous Baltimore,
Too long thy fate must we deplore,
Since History's muse is forced to mention,
That chief of Humbugs—the Convention,
Made up of hungry scores of elves,
Deputed by their noble selves,
To represent the people's wishes,
In dishing up the 'loaves and fishes.'
Lo, What a throng of hungry leeches,
With elbows patched and tattered breeches,
Swarm'd forth from North, and South & West,
To hear King Andrew's high behest,
And like a pack of Eastern slaves,
Or servile packs or purchased Knaves'
Crook low 'the hinges of the knee,'
And register the stern decree.

To fill the ranks of patriots rare,
Feds, quids, and quacks were mingled there,
Republicans of the old school,
Dyed but an hour before i' th' wool;
With half a score as good as any,
Fresh from the bogs of dear Kilkenny;—
And lest the Humbug should not be
Complete, there came from Tennessee,
One of Steam Doctor Thompson's men,
With bell bore and hot cayenne,
And quantum suff. of wild lobelia,
With which to either cure or kill ye.
Illustrious RUCKER!—thine the glory,
Of these eight lines of this my story.
Had it not been for thee, who knows,
(As oft this world so wicked goes)
But that New York's careering Son,
Might then have found his race was run?
Who knows that but an awful slight,
Might then and there have passed outright,
On old Kentuck's great legislator,
The practical amalgamator,—
The man of whom the wags in sport,
Say that he made a 'mail report'—
The man of whom 'tis often said,
He laid the great Thecumseh dead—
But who, let knaves say what they will,
Did not the dusky chieftain kill.
Hail Rucker, hail,—thy voice potential,
For old Kentuck proved influential:—
Hail Johnson! brave in Indian slaughters;
And hail thy copper-colored daughters?
And hail great man of Kinderhook?
And Hail Professor Holland's book??
But dont forget, our good Magician.
To pray that Tennessee Physician!

The Silk Manual.

Just published and for sale by Sinclair & Moore and Robt. Sinclair, Jr. at the Maryland Agricultural Repository, Light near Pratt street, Baltimore, a complete Manual of the Silk Culture, in which plain instructions are laid down for the culture of the Mulberry, the feeding of the Silk worms, management of the cocoons, reeling, spinning and drying of the Silk In fine, it is a perfect Manual, and comprises every department of the business. The rules are arranged in so plain and methodical a manner that every one can understand them, and by a very few hours attention become master of the business. It is clearly demonstrated in this Manual, that largely upwards of $500 may be netted from an acre in the Culture; and it is a singular fact connected with the Mulberry as adapted to the making of Silk, that poor dry, sandy or gravelly land suits it best, the fabric made from worms fed on leaves raised on such soil, being greatly superior in elasticity and richness of gloss to those grown on rich grounds.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

Caronaway from Jacob C. Wilson one of the Septribers, living near Upper Hunting Creek Caroline County, (Md.) on Saturday the 5th December, 1835, a negro woman who calls herself

MILLY PINKETT,

The above negro is apparently from 35 to 40 years of age, and of a dark color. She is very large and fat with an erect walk and forbidding appearance. No particular marks upon her person recollected, except that one lock of her hair in front, is grey, the rest has not changed its hue. The clothing she had on when she went off, is not recollected, but she took a good supply with her. It is supposed, she has made her way through Delaware, intending to reach New Jersey or Pennsylvania. The above reward will be given, if she is apprehended without the limits of the State, or $50 it taken in the State To be entitled to the reward, she must be delivered in the Easton or Cambridge Jail.

THE GETLEMAN'S

Vade Mecum,

OR

THE SPORTING AND DRAMATIC

COMPANION,

A WEEKLY REPOSITORY OF

Dramatic Literature, Sporting, the Turf, Fashions, Grazing, Agriculture, and Various subjects of Interest and Amusement:

INTERSPERSED WITH A MULTITUDE OF

Appropriate Engravings,

INCLUDING PORTRAITS OF

CELEBRATED WINNING HORSES,

PHILOSOPHICAL & NATURAL

Phenomena, Legerdemain, &c,

This popular journal, although but a few months have passed since it was commenced, has already obtained an extensive and profitable subscription list, which is daily increasing, and affords ample encouragement to the publishers to persevere in their efforts to render pamu useful, sing, and instructive.

☞On the commencement of the approaching year, the VADE MECUM will undergo several important improvements—instead of four pages, it will be increased to EIGHT of nearly the present size, and consequently will contain almost double the quantity of reading matter which is now given—Making it one of the largest and neatest quarto's ever published in the United States. It will be printed on new type, and fine white paper, and the embellishments will be considerably multiplied, & of a superior order. Persons desirous of procuring the work at the beginning of the new volume, will please send their orders at once—as they may fail to be supplied, as but few copies will be published more than are actually subscribed for at the time.

☞The subjects which are particularly embraced in this work will be more distinctly understood from the following brief anyalysis of them:

The Drama forms a material portion of the Gentleman's Vade Mecum—every week an entire Play or Farce is given. They are selected with a single eye to their merits alone: a preference, however, will be extended in all cases to native productions when they can be obtained. Independent ciriticisms, carefully excluding all invidious comparisons, and recommended by their brevity, are occasionally inserted; as also, Biographical Sketches, Anecdotes, and Bon Mots of prominent Commedians of the present and past ages, of which a rare and inexhaustible compilation is in store. The publisher, by the liberality of the managers of the two Philadelphia Theatres, and several other gentlemen connected with the stage, has obtained a very excellent and numerous selection of Plays and Farces for the Vade Mecum; many of them have never appeared in print.

THE TURF.

A faithful record is kept of all the Running and trotting Matches in this country and England. Biographies and correct portraits of celebrated thorough bred Horses are published once a month. Every fact relative to the breeding management, keeping, and the diseases of this invaluable animal is particularly attended to.

THE SPORTING INTELLIGENCE

(At home and abroad) occupies a considerable portion of our columns, and is collected from the most authentic sources.

Among the Portraits of celebrated Winning Horses which have been given, are

The American Trotting horse, Edwin Forrest.
The imported Racing Horse, Messenger.
The American Trotting Mare, Lady Jackson.
The Racing Mare, Ariel, and her foal by Eclipse
he true blooded popular Horse, Chateau Margaux.
The American Trotting Horse, Top Gallant.
he well known English Race Horse, Touchstone,
Mundig; the winner of the Derby Stakes in June, 1835.
The unrivalled American Trotter Andrew Jackson.
The celebrated English horse, Glencoe.
A complete treatise on Riding, with four teen Illustrations, for the improvement of Ladies in that most healthy of all exercises.
Explanation of the Automaton Chess Player illustrated by eleven engravings
Four Engravings, designed to represent the scene which took place in Paris in July last, on the attempted destruction of the Royal Family of France—with a view of the Infernal Machine, and a likeness of the Assassin, Gerard.
A correct Picture of a Race Course, occupying the width of seven columns.

SPORTING.

Besides other matters belonging to this head there will be published correct accounts of Shooting Matches, Pedestrian Feats, Gymnastic Exercises, Aquatic Excursions, Fishing, Gaming, &c. with anecdotes of noted Dogs.

MILITARY UNIFORMS.

The publisher has employed the assistance of an excellent artist to furnish a regular series of Engravings of the different beautiful uniforms worn by the principal Volunteer Corps of Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Baltimore and other cities, which will be published periodically, with a particular description of each, furnished by a competent hand.—This subject forms a peculiar attraction to the general interest of the work.

GENTLEMEN'S FASHIONS.

A quarterly review is made out by a gentleman connected with a fashionable house in Philadelphia, explanatory of the various improvements and changes which costumes worn in the dress circles constantly undergo: by which it will be rendered an easy task for drapers and tailors, at a distance, to suit their customers with the most approved colours and modern style of apparel at the earliest possible period.

MISCELLANY.—Although the purposes of our sheet may appear to be confined to the several leading subjects which have been stated, we deem it proper to say, that there constantly is, in addition to these, a considerable space allowed for miscellaneous matter, such as Tales, Poetry, Anecdotes, Legerdemain, an Epitome of News, Places of Amusement, Statistics, Agriculture, Domestic Economy, Valuable Receipts, &c. Also, a republication of the best and most popular of the old English and American Sporting and National Songs set to music; besides many other matters, regarding which an interest is supposed to exist

☞By the above explanation, it will be seen that the Gentleman's Vade Mecum is particularly designed as a companion for the patrons of the Turf; the Drama, Sporting, the Fashions, &c. It is worthy of notice, that in patr oin the course of one year, will be furnished with from forty five to fifty popular Plays or Farces—the price of which, saparately, at one of our bookstores, would be at least thirteen dollars! Here, then, is an absolute saving of ten dollars in the purchase or a well-stored Dramatic Library—(to be had for an unprecedented small sum!) without taking into consideration the multiplied variety which is sent along with it, free of additional charge.

The Gentleman's Vade Mecum or Sporting and Dramatic Companion, is published every Saturday, on fine extra imperial quarto paper, of a superior quality each number forming eight pages of the largest class, at $3 per annum. Orders from abroad, postage paid, will be promptly attended to, and the paper carefully packed, to prevent it from rubbing by mail. As the number of agents will be limited to principlip ajes, or such other places where a considerable subscription may be obtained, we request those who propose to patronize the work, to transmit by mail at once to the publisher. Small notes of solvent banks of the different States, taken at par. By enclosing a Five Dollar Note, two copies of the paper will be forwarded to any direction ordered, for one year. Specimen numbers will be sent to any part of the Union, by addressing the publisher, postage paid.

THE MODERN

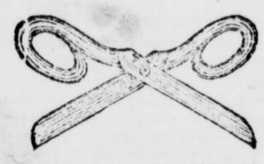

ACTING DRAMA.

Has hitherto been issued in volumes of about 300 pages each—containing the PLAYS, FARCES &c. which appear in the Vade Mecum, neatly printed, and bound in elastic covers, for transportation—and published every six weeks. Eight volums constitute a set, or one year's subscription, the terms of which is 3 dollars, payable in advance—☞Subscribers to the Vade Mecum are entitled to a deduction of one third, when subscribing for the Modern Acting Drama. An order for four sets will be thankfully received and the work forwarded to any direction, by inclosing a ten dollar note, postage paid. Gentlemen desirous of securing a sett of this work, will please to forward their names immediately—the edition, which was a small one, is going off rapidly, and it cannot be re published at the same price.

This work will undergo a material improvement on the commencement of a new series in January, 1836. It is intended to be published Every Month, or as near the beginning as possible, each No. to consist of 48 pages of fine letter press printing and 12 numbers to constitute a volume of 576 pages. Every Play or Farce which will be published, is to be accompanied by a beautiful and appropriate Engraveing—making in the course of the year nearly Fifty two Embellishments—to which will be added as a Frontispiece a full sized steel Engraving, containing the likeness of six Distinguished Actors and Actresses. No alterations will be made from the present terms. Every person who desires to preserve an invaluable collection of the best Dramatic Authors should forward his name forthwith, as the edition will be limited to the number which is absolutely subscribed for. ☞The publisher pledges himself to make this work equal in interest and superiority of execution to his prospectus, or he will refund the price of subscription, free of all charges. No subscription received unless the terms are complied with. No work of this kind has ever been attempted in the United States, and none is more likely to prove popular and satisfactory.

☞Any person collecting four subscribers to the Gentleman's Vade Mecum or the Modern Acting Drama, and remitting the amount of one year's subscription, ($3) for each—shall be presented with the Norclist Magazine, in two volumes, a work of considerable popularity, and which is now selling for $3—it contains the productions of eight different authors well known to the public

THE NATIONAL.

At the instance of a number of friends in Congress, and to accommodate their wishes the Publishers of the National Intelligencer propose to issue, during the Session of Congress, a WEEKLY PAPER, to be called 'THE NATIONAL:' to comprise, so far as its limits will admit, the Proceedings and Debates in Congress, and such other selections from the columns of the National Intelligencer as may be deemed interesting or valuable. The paper will be of the same size as the Intelligencer, and will be commenced on the first day of January, if a sufficient number of copies to justify the experiment be subscribed for by that time. It will be published SIX MONTHS or longer, if the session continue longer, the price for the whole term will be as follows:

For five copies, or more, one dollar each.
For single subscriptions, to be sent by mail, one dollar and a half each.

☞Gentlemen desiring to be supplied with copies will please to send their orders in promptly, that the publishers may ascertain as early as practicable whether they may proceed to make arrrangements for issuing the paper.

John Randolph, of Roanoke, is offered for sale, either whole or in part:—He is a beautiful dark brown, 16 hands high, and of a superior style and action. He was got by the far famed Sir Archy, out of Roanoka, she was got by Ball's Florizel. For his pedigree, which is surpassed by that of no horse in this country, see American Turf Register, Vol. 5, page 489, and page 321, of Edgar's American Race Turf Register. His colts are uncommonly fine and docile. For terms and other particulars, enquire of the subscriber near Wilmington, Del.
