cutting down to the walls of the stone heap was done by his brother and himself, but not the coaling, he thinks. the coaling was done since he cut the wood, which has been about thirty five years, that the meadow which Sams house stands on, he always heard it called Elliotts ever since his first recollection, that he has known the Elliotts to cut and haul timber and wood repeatedly from the falls up the hill to the fence, that he cutt timber about fifteen years ago for the Elliotts along between Little Worth and the Valley of Owen up to the stone &c. that he has also known the Elliotts cut and hauled timber repeatedly off the tract of land called Cabbs Vineyard since they purchased of Mr Dorsey, and that he had cut timber there also himself, that he never heard of Mr Dorsey setting up any claim to the lot on which Sams house stands or the land next to the falls and further said that he knew William Peg, that he was a convict for fourteen years, that he has always understood that the original beginning of the Valley of Owen was down and lost, that the only way that they could find it was by going to the cedar post which is admitted to be the 2nd boundary and reversing the first line that he had frequently heard before and after towards running that there was no other boundary known of the Valley of Owen, which this affirmant says he alluded to the beginning of the tract that he has heard of other boundaries of the tract called The Valley of Owen within five or ten years but wether they were down or standing he does not know that the land near the stone &c. he heard by persons that Dorsey did clear and cultivate it into tobacco, that he never heard of Dorseys cutting and coaling on the land now claimed by the Elliotts on the falls and further saith not.
