POETRY

THE VILLAGE CHURCH.

BY ROBERT NICOLL.

God's lowly temple! place of many prayers!
Grey is thy roof, and crumbling are thy walls
And over old green graves thy shadow falls.
To bless the spot where end all human cares!
The sight of thee brings gladness to my heart
And while beneath thy humble roof I stand,
I seem to grasp an old familiar hand,
And hear a voice that bids my spirit start.
Long years ago, in childhood's careless hour,
Thou wast to me e'en like a guardian's love—
From storms a shelter thou was made to be—
I bound my brow with ivy from thy tower.
The humble hearted, and the meek and pure,
Have, by the holy worship of long years,
Made thee a hallowed place, and many tears,
Shed in repentance deep have blessed thy floor.
Like some all loving good man's feeling heart,
Thy portal hath been opened unto all;
A treasure house where men, of great or small,
May bring their purest, holiest thoughts, then and
Church of the village! God doth not despise
The torrent's voice, in mountain valley hidden,
Nor yet the blackbird's summer morning hymn;
And He will hear the prayers from thee that rise.
The Father loves thee, for His son is laid
Among thy graves! to mortal love thee too
For 'neath thy roof, by love thus tried and true,
Her quiet heart long since was happy made.
The wanderer in a far and foreign land,
When death's last sickness o'er him revels free,
Turns his heart homewards, even unto thee
And those who weekly 'neath thy roof stand.
Lowly thou art; but yet, when time is set,
Will He who loves what wicked men despise—
Who hears the orphan's voice, that up doth rise
In deep adversity—not thee forget!
Love temples! all men know it—unto thee
Would pilgrims come, more than to earthly palace;
For thou hast fathered human woes and pains;
And taught men's souls the truth that makes them free!
The distant sound of thy sweet Sabbath bell
O'er meadows green do more shall come to me,
Sitting beneath the lonely forest tree—
Church of my native Village! true the well!

TO A LADY READING.

BY HENRY F. CHORLEY, ESQ.

What, lonely maid? and bending o'er the page
Thine heart, if not thine eyes,—dear dreamer, say,
Where, led by hard inspired, or calmer sage
Do thy young virgin thoughts, soft truants stray?
Hark music sounds, and feet are on the floor
Come forth, thy flatterers wait there,—read no more!

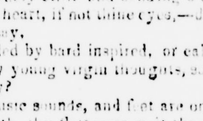

Is it Romance that with her spells hath cloaked
That gentle brow, made grave that laughing eye,
Whilst thou, in sweet bewildering fancies shrouded,
Wanderest though lands of gorgeous mystery?—
Wake, and return! there's folly in her lure,
The wise world laughs at fables—read no more!

Or is't a tale of some proud lip and cheek,
Worshipped of old, to thy rash fancies known?
And thou a shrine whom Beauty's pilgrims seek,
Now sorrowest sadly from the common lot?
Fear not hour Time—too well shall Art restore
Dull cheeks and silvered tresses—read no more!

Come, wreathe thy hair with roses, o'er thy heart—
What boots its aching?—clasp a jewelled zone;
And learn to laugh when burning tears would start;
To move 'mid crowds most gaily, when alone
Thou pinest to sigh—and learn to hide thy store
Of rich, bright, useless thought for evermore!

So shalt thou have the mightiest at thy feet,
Kings at thine ear, and nobles at thy call;
Nor hand shall write, nor echo dare repeat
The envious whisper, "'Tis but mockery all!"
Still dost thou dream? unheeding, and unwon
By the world's lure—True heart! then read—read on!

TO THE PUBLIC.

The subscriber has been informed that there is a report in circulation stating that he has disposed of his possessions on the Choptank, and ceased to keep the Cambridge Ferry. The report was undoubtedly gotten up by some interested individual with a view of injuring the subscriber, and, if suffered to remain uncontroverted, the aim of its originator would certainly be attained. The subscriber, therefore, takes this method of informing his friends and the public, that there is not the slightest foundation in truth for the above mentioned report; but that, on the contrary, he still keeps the Cambridge Ferry, and expects so to do the remainder of his days. His boats are substantial, safe and in good order, and are under the management of as prompt, active, trusty and experienced hands as these belonging to any boat that has hitherto been, or may hereafter be stationed on the above named ferry, while he keeps, as he will, good horses and carriages for the accommodation of travellers. He has wharves on both sides of the river, which he will at all times answer with the utmost despatch, so that no one shall be kept waiting longer than shall be absolutely necessary.

The subscriber returns his thanks to his friends and the public for the very liberal encouragement which he has heretofore received from them, and, as his long experience in the business, and his determination to use his best efforts to please, induce him to hope that he will give general satisfaction, he respectfully solicits a continuance of their favor.

A NEW AND CHEAP PERIODICAL.

Attention is requested from our readers to the following prospectus of a new, and even a cheaper book periodical, which will be issued from this office in the first week of next January. It will not be in so convenient a form for binding as the present, with which it will in no way interfere, but it will make books cheap beyond all precedent. It will contain the works of the day, which are much sought after, but are comparatively dear, and which cannot penetrate the interior in any mode half so rapidly as by mail, in which volumes of books are prohibited. A fifty cent American reprint will be furnished entire for from four to six cents; a Marryat novel for twelve cents, and others in proportion.

As but very few copies will be printed but what are actually subscribed for, those who wish the Omnibus must make their remittances at once.

WALDIE'S LITERARY OMNIBUS.

NOVEL AND IMPORTANT
Literary Enterprise!!

Novels, Tales, Biography, Voyages, Travels, Reviews,

AND THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

IT was one of the great objects of "Waldie's Litterary," to make good reading cheaper, and to bring literature to every man's door. That object has been accomplished, we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the utmost parts of our vast continent, carrying society to the secluded, occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to a literary banquet more than twofold accessible. we gave and shall continue to give in the quarto literary a volume weekly for two cents, a day; we now proposed to give a volume in the same period for less than four cents a week, and to add as a piquant seasoning to the dish a few columns of shorter literary matters, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still further in the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still verge enough for us to run at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as a very great favourite, will continue to make its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation and its price and form will remain the same. But we shall, in the first week of January, 1837, issue a huge sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America, but on very superior paper, as filled with books of the newest and most entertaining though in their several departments of Novels, Tales, Voyages, Travels, &c. so best in their character, edited with readers such as usually should be a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great good; to enliven and enlighten the family circle, and to give to it, at an expense which shall be no consideration to any, a mass of reading that in book form would drain the pockets of the prudent, and to do it in a manner that the most receipted shall acknowledge the power of concentration in a publishing. No book which appears in Waldie's series of Library will be published in the form which will be an entirely distinct periodical.

TERMS.

Waldie's Literary Omnibus, will be issued every Friday morning, price [illegible] per annum, a quality superior to any other weekly sheet, and of the largest size. It will contain,

1st. Books, the newest and the best that can be procured, equal every week to a London duodecimo volume, embracing Novels, Travels, Memoirs, &c. and only chargeable with newspaper postage.

2d. Literary Reviews, Tales, Sketches, notices of books, and information from the world of letters, of every description.

3d. The news of the week concentrated in a small compass, but in a sufficient amount to embrace a knowledge of the principal events, political and miscellaneous, of Europe and America.

The price will be two dollars to clubs of five subscribers where the paper is forwarded to one address. To clubs of two individuals, five dollars; single mail subscribers, three dollars. The discount on uncurrent money will be charged to the remitter, the low price and superior paper absolutely prohibit paying a discount.

On no condition will a copy ever be sent until the payment is received in advance.

As the arrangements for the prosecution of this great literary undertaking are all made, and the proprietor has redeemed all his pledges to a generous public for many years, no fear of the non fulfilment of the contract can be felt. The Omnibus will be regularly issued, and will contain in a year reading matter equal in amount to two volumes of Rees's Cyclopedia, for the small sum mentioned above.

Address, post paid,

ADAM WALDIE,
46 Carpenter St. Philadelphia.

☞ Editors throughout the Union, and Canada, will confer a favour by giving the above one or more conspicuous insertions and accepting the work for a year as compensation.

 A specimen number, nearly ready, will be forwarded to those who request it, provided such request is made free from postage.

LITERARY UNION,

LADY'S BOOK

AND

Ladies American Magazine.

The Proprietor of the Lady's Book, grateful for the unceasing patronage which he has received, announces to the Ladies who have so generously sustained their own "Book," that he has made new arrangements for their gratification. Convinced that he could not in any way more effectually promote the interests, or realize the wishes of his numerous subscribers, he has secured the valuable aid of

of Boston, to whose superintendance the literary departments of the Lady's Book will hereafter be committed. For many years Mrs. Hale has conducted the American Ladies' Magazine—a periodical of uncommon merit, which will be merged in the Lady's Book.—Her abilities are familiar to her countrywomen, and on both sides of the Atlantic she enjoys a high reputation as one of the most graceful, vigorous, and accomplished of our female writers.

Under the judicious management of Mrs. Hale, the Lady's Book will not only maintain the excellent character it has already acquired, but it is confidently expected that it will be rendered more eminently worthy of the support of those to whose interests and amusement it has been, and will continue to be, especially devoted. The superior talents and fine taste of the Editor will give the work a new impulse; while her own contributions, and those received from her personal friends, and other correspondents, of whom a number have already promised, will render it almost entirely original. Amongst others who are expected to furnish matter for the Book may be mentioned,

The proprietor of the Lady's Book is determined to use every means to maintain the superiority which his publication has obtained. For years he has gone steadily on in the course of its movement, and he flatters himself that his facilities are such as to give his work eminent advantages over his competitors. His very ample subscription list enables him to be liberal in his expenditures upon it, and whatever can be accomplished by enterprize and cost he is resolved to effect. Besides the persons above mentioned as contributors, he has expectations of receiving original articles from several distinguished female writers in Europe and as an inducement to writers of our own country, he is willing to pay for every article adopted by him as suitable to his work, as high a rate of remuneration as will be given by the proprietors of any other periodical in the U. States.

The mechanical portion of the Lady's Book will likewise be improved. The typography will be more elegant, and the paper of a better quality. During the year portraits, engraved on steel, of several eminent ladies will be given, and every second month a coloured plate, illustrating the prevailing fashion, will be furnished. Other embellishments, calculated to enhance the appearance and increase the value of the work, will be introduced: and generally, everything will be done that the most untiring purpose of making the Lady's Book preeminently entitled to patronage can suggest. With the experience he has acquired during a long course of years devoted to the business, and the aid to be derived from the distinguished lady who will henceforth be associated with him, the publisher is confident that he will be able to render the amplest satisfaction to all who may become his patrons. He, therefore, with a just reliance on his claims to support, respectfully solicits a continuance of that liberal encouragement which has so kindly been bestowed on his endeavours.

The terms of the Lady's Book are Three Dollars per annum, payable in advance. All orders must be addressed to

L. A. GODEY,
100 Walnut Street.

As the publisher of the Lady's Book is connected with other popular periodicals, he suggests, for the convenience of remittance, the following system of
