ED. P ROBERTS & SADNS & NEILSON Having purchased the Establishment of the FARMER & GARDENER.

Successor to the AMERICAN FARMER,

And being desitous to place it within the reach of every agriculturist in the United States, have concluded to reduce its subscription price from five dollars, to two dollars and a half, per year, from and after the beginning of the next volume, which will commence in May next.

It is now nearly eighteen years since the American Farmer was first established. Prior to its institution, there were no paper exclusively devoted to agriculture in the country, and it will not be arrogating any thing but what it deserves, to say, that, as it was the pioneer in the good work, the labors of its former conductors must have been productive of much solid advantage to those for whose benefit it was established. In continuing its publication, the present proprietors flatter themselves that its pages will be found to contain matter at once calculated to instruct & interest the agricultural reader. So far as they are concerned, they are determined to conduct it with industry, unflinching perseverance, & with undivided attention to the great and important purposes which called it into existence. They feel certain that none of its patrons will have cause to complain, at the end of their subscription year, that they have left any effort unessayed to render it worthy of their confidence and support.

In reducing its subscription price, they have ventured upon an experiment full of risk and responsibility, and as they have done so under the influence of motives which they must be permitted to say should commend it to a greatly increased subscription—as they can alone look to that as the source of their remuneration—and as in so doing, their labor will be much increased—they appeal to its present patrons to aid them in giving it an extended circulation. They are confident that those who now honor them with their support, can, without personal inconvenience, in their own immediate neighborhoods, and among their persons' friends, by using their deserved influence, procure such an addition to their present list of subscribers, as will not only realize their fondest expectations; but place them under renewed obligations of interest and gratitude, to render the Farmer and Gardener a welcome visitor to the fireside of every farmer and planter.

The farmer and Gardener will at once be a faithful repository of original communications from practical agriculturists and horticulturists and of judicious selections from every other available source. Foreign, and domestic agricultural, and scientific works, will be constantly resorted to, for the purpose of furnishing materials calculated to advance the prosperity and happiness of the country, and of adding to the intelligence of the American husbandman.

In fine, whatever concerns the business, of the farm, domestic animals of all kinds, newly invented implements of husbandry, those of approved utility now in use, together with the principles and practice of agriculture, horticulture, and gardening generally, will be regularly and conscientiously noticed. The prices of produce in this market, and the value of bank notes will be weekly laid before its readers.

With a view of keeping their patrons advised of the superior breeds of animals already introduced or which may be hereafter imported, they will seize the earliest opportunity of translating all such information to the columns of their journal.

TERMS, &c.

Price two dollars and fifty cents per annum or all subscriptions paid in advance, or within one month from the date of subscription—all subscriptions which remain unpaid beyond that period, will be charged at the rate of three dollars per year.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That if this act shall be confirmed by the General Assembly after the next election of delegates, in the first session after such new election, as the constitution and form of government directs, that in such case this act and the alterations therein contained shall be considered as a part of the said constitution and form of government to all intents and purposes, any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithstanding.

CHAPTER 230.

A supplement to the act to provide for the public instruction of Youth in Primary Schools throughout this State, passed at December session eighteen hundred and twenty five, chapter one hundred and sixty two.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland. That the levy court of Frederick county, at their annual meeting in May next, and annually thereafter, appoint a board of inspectors of the primary schools of said county, consisting of one person from each election district, who shall be vested with the same powers, and charged with the same duties, as are now vested in the inspectors and commissioners under the original act, except so far as said laws is altered or abolished by this supplement.

Sec. 2 And be it enacted, That each inspector shall receive the sum of two dollars per diem, whilst in the execution of the duties imposed upon him by the original act or any supplements thereto, the said per diem allowance to be paid out of the school funds of the county.

Sec. 3 And be it enacted, That the Treasurer of the Western Shore be, and he is hereby authorised to pay to the inspectors of the primary schools of Frederick county, the cash balance now standing to the credit of the Frederick county school fund, the dividends upon stocks now due, or hereafter to become due, and the annual school fund arising from the tax on banks now due or which may hereafter become due.

Sec. 4 And be it enacted, That the levy court of Frederick county, be, and they are hereby authorised and directed to pay over to the inspectors of the primary schools of Frederick county, the interest arising from the school fund invested under the order of the levy court, now due, or which may hereafter become due, and to adjust any balance due by the county to the school funds, by payment of the principal and interest due, and that the levy court be, and are hereby authorised to levy upon the assessable property of the county, such amount as shall discharge the principal and interest of the debt due by the county to the school fund

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That whenever the said inspectors shall have qualified, and shall have laid off school districts, and trustees and teachers shall be appointed in the manner directed by the act of eighteen hundred and twenty five, the said inspectors shall be, and they are hereby authorised, on the first day of July in each and every year, to distribute the interest upon the investments of the school fund, the annual school fund of the county, and all other funds from whatsoever source derived, being appropriated to the purposes of education, among the school districts, in the manner provided in the act to which this is a supplement.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That the levy court of Frederick county shall annually levy upon the assessable property of the county, the sum of five thousand dollars, to be paid over to the inspectors of primary schools of said county, to be appropriated in the manner hereafter directed and in case a majority of the board of inspectors shall so determine, the levy court are hereby authorised to increase the amount levied to eight thousand dollars, which levy may be diminished or entirely abolished, if in the judgment of the board of inspectors the same is not required for the purposes of the original act & this supplement; the levy court to be guided in levying the amount or otherwise, by the order of the board of inspectors, filed with the said levy court.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That the inspectors of the primary schools shall annually distribute the amount of said levy received from the county, among the several school districts of the county, to be used in the erection of school houses, and in the purchase of stationary, fuel, &c; and the said inspectors are hereby authorised, in case they deem it necessary, to distribute the present cash balance due the Frederick county school fund now in the hands of the treasurer, among the several school districts, to be appropriated in the erection of school houses, the purchase of stationary, fuel, and so forth, and that in case the said inspectors shall be satisfied that the requisite number of school houses have been erected, they are hereby authorised to appropriate the said amount of levy among the several school districts for the general purposes of said schools.

Sec 8. And be it enacted, That the trustees of the several school districts shall be elected in the manner provided in the original act, and shall be charged with the duties imposed in that act, and shall have the power of exercising discipline in their respective schools by the expulsion of the refractory pupil, or such other punishment as may be necessary to correct the evil.

Sec 9 And be it enacted, That the said trustees shall be charged with the same duties, and shall be liable to the same penalties as are imposed by the original act, except so far as the same may be hereby repealed; and the said trustees are hereby authorisnd to receipt for all monies received by them from the inspectors, and shall apply the same as hereinbefore provided, the monies specially appropriated for the erection of school houses, the purchase of stationary, fuel, and so forth, to the purposes specified, and the residue in the payment of teachers and other general purposes of the schools, and make report and returns in the mode and manner provided in the original act, all the proceedings of said trustees to be subject to the revision of the board of inspectors.

Sec. 10. And be it enacted, That the said trustees be, and they are hereby authorised in their discretion to charge each pupil whose parent or estate, under the charge of a guardian, may in the judgment of the trustees be enabled to pay the same, the sum of twenty-five cents per month, the money arising from which said charge to be used by the trustees for the general purposes of the school, and to be by them accounted for in their returns to the inspectors.

Sec. 11. And be it enacted, That the offices of clerk and collector, provided for in the original act, be, and the same are hereby abolished, and that the collector of the county be authorised and required to collect the amount levied upon the county, and pay the same when collected, over to the inspectors of primary schools, to be by them applied in the manner heronbefore mentioned.

Sec. 12. And be it enacted, That the trustees aforesaid be, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to contract for and purchase any school house now built for the use of primary schools aforesaid; and that they may permit any of the said school houses to be used for public worship.

Sec. 13. And be it enacted, That this law shall not have any effect or operation to be in force unless a majority of the voters of Frederick county, at their next election for Delegates to the General Assembly, shall assent to it, which assent they may declare upon their ballots: those voting in favour of this law shall have on their ballots these words, For the Primary School Law, and those voting against this law shall have on their ballots these words, Against the Primary School Law; and the judges of election shall keep an accurate account of the votes for and against the law.

Sec 14 And be it enacted, That all acts inconsistent herewith be, and the same are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 236.

RAISING OF THE SILKWORM, AND THE CULTIVATION OF SILK.

NO. 1.

Mr Frees,—As every thing relating to the growing and breeding that curious insect, the Silkworm, in the United States, and particularly in the State of Pennsylvania, is becoming interesting to the community, a short history of the worms that produce white silk, which were raised by the subscriber, in Germantown, the last season, from one ounce of eggs, will it is presumed, be so to your subscribers.

In the month of May last, I purchased of Mr. Terhoeven, one ounce of eggs. About the 16 th of the same month, I put them in a paste-board box about 20 inches square, and spread the eggs evenly over the bottom of the box, and placed it in a third story room, where the temperature was about 70 Farrenheit—the sun not being permitted to shine on them. On the 21st and 22d, some thousands came out, which were kept by themselves; and on the 23d, the remainder, being seven days from the time they were placed on the paper. Should it be rainy and cold, it will take longer for the eggs to hatch. The time of coming out is between seven and nine o'clock, A. M.—very few make their appearance after that time till the next day at the same hours. When they begin to hatch, lay a thin piece of paper over the eggs, punctured full of small holes with a pin, and put the leaves on the top: the worms will come up through these holes and attach themselves to the leaves, when they can be removed to another piece of paper.

They are of a dark color, about one-fourth of an inch in length, very active and extremely voracious. Care must now be taken in removing them from the old leaves; otherwise a great number of them will be lost; as their habits are to secrete themselves as much from the light as possible, particularly in their first and second stages. When fresh leaves are put on, they will immediately leave the old ones and take hold of the new with avidity. Remove the new leaves and carefully examine the old ones; as many remain partially folded up in the old leaves. The first age many thousands may be kept together. After the first moulting, they require about double the space. Those that came out on 21st, went into their moulten state on the 29 th, and continued about two days dormant; during all this time they should not be disturbed, and very few leaves given them. On the 1st June, they were roused, having moulted—being eight days from the eggs. Be particular in keeping the worms of the same age together. The space for the first age, for one ounce of eggs, should be about seven or eight square feet; but the more room they have the better they eat, and their breathing and perspiration are more free. The unstable and irregular climate of Pennsylvania, will have a great effect on the nerves and fibres of
