WHIG MEETING.

On Friday afternoon the 19th inst. immediately after the adjournment of the Court, which was then in session, a meeting of a number of the Whig party, then in town, was held at Mr. Lowes Hotel, the utmost harmony prevailed throughout the meeting, and afforded the most cheering evidence of success in the approaching contest. The meeting was organised by the appointment of Joseph Bruff, Esq as chairman and R. M. Willson, Secretary.

The object of the Meeting was then explained and a committee appointed to draught resolutions, and report them to the meeting for their consideration—after retiring for a short time they returned and reported the following resolutions which were adopted unanimously.

WHEREAS, By a Proclamation of the President of the United States, an Extra Session of the Congress of the United States has been called, on the first Monday of September next, and it is deemed proper and necessary in the existing crisis of our public affairs, that a timely provision should be made, by the Whigs of this Congressional district, for the selection of a suitable candidate for the House of Representatives.

Be it Resolved, That a meeting of the Whig Citizens of Talbot county, be held at the Court House in the Town of Easton on Tuesday the 30th inst. for the purpose of consulting together on this important duty and of co-operating with other parts of the district,

Further Resolved, That a committee of three persons, be appointed by the chair, to communicate with our approved Representative, the Hon. James A. Pearce, and to ascertain his views and pleasure, as to his continuance in the service of the people of this district, in the House of Representatives.

Further Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the Chairman and Secretary and published in the Easton Gazette

JOSEPH BRUFF, Ch'n.

R. M. WILSON, Sec'ty.

EXTRAORDINARY MEETING OF CONGRESS.

The following Proclamation, by the President, calling an extraordinary session of Congress on the first Monday in September next, was received by the mail on Thursday night last.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, great and weighty matters claiming the consideration of the Congress of the United States, form an extraordinary occasion for convening them, I do, by these presents, appoint the first Monday of September next, for their meeting at the City of Washington; hereby requiring the respective Senators and Representatives then and there to assemble in Congress, in order to receive such communications as may then be made to them, and to consult and determine on such measures as in their wisdom may be deemed meet for the welfare of the U. States.

In testimony whereof, I have caused [L. S.] the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed, and signed the same with my hand.

Done at the City of Washington, the fifteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty seven, and of the independence of the United States the sixty-first.

By the President:

M. VAN BUREN.

John Forsyth, Secretary of State,

TREASURY REGULATIONS DURING THE SUSPENSION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS.

The course which the Treasury Department has determined to pursue, under the existing suspension of specie payments, is thus officially declared:

NOTICE.

Information is hereby given, that, during the continuance of the present unfortunate suspension of specie payments by many of the banks, the Treasury Department will continue to issue warrants, for the payment of which drafts or checks will be given by the Treasurer on the banks or officers in the neigborhood where the creditor resides, or the debt was incurred. The checks will, according to former practice, be issued separately from the warrants, and in such amounts as may be convenient.

The treasurer will draw these checks only on such banks or officers as have heretofore received ample funds to meet them, and it is therefore hoped that they will be promptly paid in a manner satisfactory to the holders; but if they shall not be paid when presented, the collectors of customs, and the receivers of the public lands, will be instructed to redeem them in behalf of the Treasury, by receiving them for duties and lands.

If they are not in either of these modes and notice of the fact is communicated to the Department, no reasonable efforts will be spared to preserve the public faith inviolate, and to cause them to be otherwise discharged as soon as possible in specie or its equivalent, as the existing laws require; and if returned to the Department and remaining unpaid till the next session of Congress, it will feel bound earnestly to request authority for early means to satisfy them in a manner acceptable to the holders.

Circulars to the proper officers, containing particular instructions on this subject, will be prepared and published in a few days.

LEVI WOODBURY

Sec'ry of the Treasury.

Treasury Department, May 15, 1837.

MODERN PROPHETS.—Mr. Secretary Taney said of the deposite Banks in 1833.—'By agreements among themselves to honor each other's notes and drafts, they are providing a general currency at least as sound as that of the Bank of the United States.'

Gen. Jackson, in his message of 1834, observes:—The state banks are found fully adequate to the performance of all services which were required of the Bank of the U. S. quite as promptly, and with the same cheapness.

In his message of 1835, Gen. Jackson farther observes:

All the wans of the community in relation to exchange and CURRENCY, are supplied as well as they have ever been before. We shall soon gain in the place of the Bank of the United States, A PRACTICAL REFORM IN THE WHOLE PAPER SYSTEM OF THE COUNTRY.' 'The attainment of such a result will lighten the great tax which OUR PAPERS SYSTEM has so long collected from the earnings of labor.'

Mr. Secretary Woodbury, in his report of December, 1834, on the system of disbursing the public money, says that the 'GENERAL CURRENCY of the country has greatly IMPROVED instead of deteriorated.'

In his report of 1835, the secretary farther observes, 'In Mississippi and Illinois it is understood that bills under $5 have not recently been issued. The GREAT BENEFITS which have already resulted to the general condition of the currency.' &c. &c.

In the report of 1836, of the same sagacious secretary, it is stated that—'The prospect on the subject of the currency is therefore on the whole becoming more satisfactory, even without farther legislation.'

A few years ago, immediately after the passage of the gold bill, the Government, through its organ, the Globe, issued, the following alluring prediction:

'In seven months from this time Bank rags will be abolished, and the whole country will be overspread with gold. Every Farmer and Merchant of the West will have a long silk purse of open net-work, through the interstiches of which the yellow gold will shine and Glitter.

For the Easton Gazette.

The Banks in the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, having suspended specie payments, it was proper and necessary, that the Farmers' Bank of Maryland, at Annapolis, & the Branch Bank at Easton, in self defence should follow the example. The two last mentioned Banks, are in a perfectly sound state, and the notes issued by them are as valuable as ever, and will be redeemed by specie, as heretofore, as soon as the other Banks shall commence the redemption of their notes by the payment of specie. Those, who hold the notes of the Farmers' Bank, or its Branch, at Easton, are cautioned against parting with the same, at a discount, or under par. The writer of this has knowledge on the subject.

CIVIS.

17th May, 1837

For the Easton Gazette.

It appears to me Mr. Editor, that in the present deranged and confused state of the money market, the country banks of established reputation will command the confidence of the community in the different states far more than those of the Atlantic cities, for the plain and obvious reason, that their accommodations are confined to men of property and landed security, while it is too evident from late developements, that many of the City Banks have extended them to the mere speculator, and thereby hazarded the means of those, who had made investments in them. And yet it was strange to observe some weeks since, with what facility the banks of Baltimore, one and all, rejected the notes of the Farmers' Bank of Maryland (carrying on business at Annapolis and Easton) and this at a time, when to my certain knowledge the very officers of those institutions expressed the greatest confidence in her, and their managers had gone so far as to flatter her that she had no need of that portion of the U. States deposite intended for her by the Legislature, which they themselves however would be most happy to receive. Can it be, Sir, that the banks in Baltimore have an understanding with the Brokers and play into their hands, or in what other way shall we account for the fact that while the notes of the Farmers' Bank of Maryland are always well received at the banks in Philadelphia and pass currently through that City, they are frequently quoted at a discount by the Brokers of Baltimore, & sometimes a distinction made in favor of Annapolis, sometimes of Easton notes, though they constitute the circulation of one & the same Bank. I think it is time for the Banks & the people of Baltimore to look to this matter for the charracter of their city, when it is well known that the Farmers' Bank notes a week since in their own city commanded a high premium, & no longer suffer a serious injury in the alienation of the good wishes of the people of the lower counties of the State, for the sake of the brokers, who would shave the devil himself, but from a fear that the result would be like that of the former shaving of pigs at Bartholomew fair, "great cry and little wool." B.

The Collector of the Port of Baltimore, has received a Treasury Circular requiring the payment of money accruing on Bonds and Customs, to be made in Specie, and the Notes of specie paying banks, that are at par, at the Custom House.

MARYLANDERS TO THE FRONT!

☞ The convocation of an extraordinary session of Congress imposes upon the citizens this state the necessity of an immediate attention to the great, and at this time, peculiarly solemn and important task of selecting persons to represent them in the House of Representatives.—The following extract from the general election law will show how the people of the state will be summoned to this duty.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That if at any time hereafter, a special or extra session of Congress should be called, to commence at such period as to make it necessary, in the opinion of the Governor and Council, that the representatives in Congress from this state should be chosen before the time fixed by law for such election, then it shall be the duty of the Governor, by proclamation, published in the newspapers throughout the state, and otherwise, at least thirty days before the time to be appointed for the election by said proclamation, to appoint a day for the election as aforesaid of said representatives in Congress; on which day said election shall accordingly be held to the same effect and in the same manner, and under the same regulations as in case elections of said representatives on the days fixed by law.

There can be no doubt that Governor Veazey will immediately put in exercise the power vested in him by this law. Maryland will send into the councils of the nation a delegation which will present an undivided front in favor of the REGENERATION OF THE CURRENCY.—Balt. Chron.

TEXAS—MEXICO—AND THE U. STATES.

The Mexican Government has made, says the Philadelphia Saturday News, a formal protest against the recognition of the independence of Texas by the United States. Although the intelligence of the fact of the recognition had not officially reached Mexico, its publication in the New Orleans Bee left no room for doubt on the subject in the minds of the Mexican authorities. The following is a translated extract from the Protest.

'The Mexican Government estimates too highly the justice of that of the United States to suppose that unworthy views, or those of aggrandizement could have induced it to take in advance the step in question; but since the fact seems unquestionable, seeing that it has been promulgated in the official journals of the United States, like the 'Bee of New Orleans,' the underwriter has received express orders from his Excellency the President ad interim of the Mexican Republic, to protest in the most solemn manner, before all civilized nations, against the recognition of the independence of the so called republic of Texas, made by the United States of America, that it cannot in any manner, neither now or at any time hereafter, diminish or invalidate the least of the rights of the Mexican Republic, over the territory of Texas, or of those which it unquestionably possesses, to take all necessary measures in its power to recover it.

'The undersigned suggests to the honorable Secretary of Foreign Relations of the U. S. to bring to the notice of the President of the United States the contents of this note and protest.

(Signed)

'JOSE MARIA ORTIZ DE MONASTERIOS.'

SMALL BILLS.—Councils last evening passed an ordinance to issue bills to the amount of $130,000, of small denominations, such as 25 cents, 50 cents, 75 cents, $1, $3, $7, $9. This will furnish our citizens with the needful change for marketing, &c.—Again we say, let no man take a 'shin plaster,' issued by an individual. There is no necessity for individuals to issue their notes for the sake of change, and they should not be countenanced in doing it.—Philadelphia Paper.

Failures in Boston.—According to the directory, there as in this city 585 large mercantile houses and wholesale stores, 529 retail, and 223 petty shops, in all 1307. Of this number, there have failed, since Nov. last, 78 among the larger establishments, 60 among the retailers, and about 80 among the shops—making an aggregate of 168.—Mercantile Journal.

Gen. Thomas Emory enters chesnut filly Lady Clifden, 4 years old by Sussex, out of Betsy Wilson by Ratler, weight 97 lbs. riders dress red and green.

KENDALL COURSE RACES.

The races on this course last week were witnessed by thousands, and the sport was excellent. The race on the last day (Friday) was one of the best contested that has been seen for many a year, and the result was doubtful almost to the moment the horses passed the stand. The time in which the eight miles was run, has seldom been beaten. The first heat was taken in fine style by Col. Thompson's Charles colt, he having taken the lead and maintained it to the end. After the horses had started for the second heat, it soon became apparent that the Charles colt could not win, and from the manner in which Master Harry took the lead, the sharp-eyed predicted he would not be passed. A vain effort was first made by Broker, then by Mary Selden, and then by the Charles colt, but they soon tired of the pace, and Miss Phillips, with unfaltering stride, passed one and another, and taking her station just behind the Charles colt resigned to him the second post of honor, and made no effort to win the heat, which Master Harry took in 3m. 49s A few moments settled the bets on Master Harry against all others, though a few were willing to risk some Wisconsin or Mississippi money on the field against him, and these relied upon Miss Phillipe. They got a beautiful start for the third heat, and ere they had left the pickets Miss Phillips had taken her station in front. Master Harry was evidently terrified at the way in which she put it down, and although the steel and timber were tried on him, he never could get out of the dust of her heels. Amid the shouts of her admirers, she passed the stand ahead, and when the judges announced that she she had run the heat in 3m. 49s., the stable boys turned up the whites of their eyes in wonder, and well they might—it was enough to kill any other horse than one raised on Pine knots, as was Miss Phillips, according to the story told of her when she grazed among the piney woods of Anne Arundel.—Three horses were distanced this heat, and Broker, who is unquestionably a 'good 'un,' was ruled out, he not having won either of the three heats.

Fourth Heat—both horses came to the stand 'calm as a summer's morning' A new rider had been put on Master Harry, and it was evident from the determination expressed in each rider's eyes, that the victory would not be a bloodless one. They went off very handsomely, Miss Phillips in front and both set to work as hard as they could. There was to be no breathing this time. Now Master Harry would close on her, and the welkin would ring with shouts—now she would break from him and you would think she was going to put miles between them,' and her friends would scream with joy.—The first mile was run in 1m. 52s. Both horses received the spur as they passed the stand, and a close observer could detect that Master Harry was slowly gaining on the filly. As they entered on the back stretch he had her by the saddle girth! A dead silence prevailed among the spectators, and every eye was fixed upon them. A few more jumps and you could see but one horse running—and for a hundred yards they were side and side. The rally was too much for the filly, and the boy took a pull on her, let the colt pass, as pass he would, and resigned the track to him. The contest appeared for a moment to be over, and just as the friends of Miss Phillips were about to turn away in despair she seemed to gather new life—every jump she decreased the distance between her and the colt, and when they swung round the corner for the run home she was at his throat latch! Master Harry, you're gone you made your run too soon,—had you reserved yourself for the last quarter, you might have won. There! Miss Phillips is ahead; the bridle rein is loose, and the boy is shaking her head as if he thought by that to keep her ahead! Master Harry is under whip and spur, and so is she—they enter the pickets with just room enough between them for Master Harry to catch the dust from her heels—Miss Phillips passes the stand, the winner of the purse, 'Blood has been shed,' and neither rider could avert 'thou canst not say I did it!' Time, 3m. 50s., which, for a fourth two mile heat, is 'glory enough' for both.
