Answer. He did not.

Question. Did you know the day of sale when the lands were to be sold.

Answer. She had no notice of the day of sale.

Question by the Purchasers.

When was the land first advertised for sale to your knowledge

Answer. She does not recollect

Question. How long before the land was sold did you hear of the first advertisement

Answer. She does not recollect.

Question. Do you know that the land was advertised more than once before it was sold.

Answer. She does not know. She had been informed the land was advertised but never saw the advertisement.

Question. Do you know that said Stone ever got from you house an advertisement to sell the land before the land was sold.

Answer. She does not recollect.

Question. Did or did not said Stone tell you, and if so at what time, that the land could not be saved.

Answer. She does not recollect. Said Stone told this deponent about twelve months ago the claim of John McMatthews must first be paid, then to have the lands finally brought into market to suit purchasers, and advised deponent to sell the personal property to pay said McMatthews claim.

Question. Did you not ask said Stone to try and save part of the land.

Answer. She does not recollect.

Question. Did or did not Mr. Stone inform you the amount of the judgments.

Answer. She does not recollect. He told her there was a large amount. Mr. Stone spoke of McClanys judgment, but the deponent does not recollect that he told her the amount thereof. The deponent knew that Mr. Everall had a judgment. Mr. Stone mentioned it to her. He also told the deponent that Doctor Haines and Mr. George Smoot had judgments, but does not recollect that he told her the amount thereof: he also mentioned Miss Nancy Hawkins claim, but not the amount.

Question. Do you recollect that Mr. Stone informed you that all judgments were to be paid in the proportion.

Answer. She does not recollect that he so informed her.

Question. Did or did not Mr. Stone inform you, that the amount of the judgments was much larger than the personal estate.

Answer. The deponent does not recollect that he did, nor does she know the amount of the personal estate.

Question. Did you ever inform Mr. Stone of a judgment of Mrs. Fenwicks and a fifa thereon against you, and did you not inform him of your liability, together with your late husband for Hawkins Smoots land.

Answer. The deponent does not recollect that she had any conversation with Mr. Stone, relative to these claims.

Question. Do you recollect to have asked Mr. Stone what amount of funds would be coming to you from all sources by which you might be enabled to pay your debts.

Answer. Deponent asked Mr. Stone some time last summer what part of the proceeds of her own property would be coming to her, for the purpose of paying off and discharging Mrs. Fenwicks claim against her.

Question. Did you tell Mr. Stone that you wanted your own private funds to pay Mrs. Fenwicks claim.

Answer. She did. The principal amount was about three hundred dollars, the interest she does not recollect. She does not recollect the amount which her property sold for. She thinks Mr. Stone did make a statement in his office, but does not recollect that statement embraced her own funds only or her and her infants. The aggregate amount was about $400. The deponent recollects that Mr. Stone mentioned a claim due from her to Edelen and Thompson, but does not recollect the amount. The principal she thinks was $100. The amount of interest she is not informed of.

Question. Did not you not inform Mr. Stone that it was of great importance to you and your child that the land of Hawkins Smoot should be saved.

Answer. It is of great importance that the land should be saved, but she does not know that she communicated it to Mr. Stone.

Question. Did you know the amount of the liabilities on your late brother William Hawkins Smoots land.

Answer. That she heard that the original sum was one thousand dollars, but does not know how much has been paid. She directed Mr. Stone to give up Dr. Cox's note of one hundred dollars and add for articles purchased at the sale of Henry S. Hawkins estate, and to reimburse the estate from her own private funds, which might come into his hands, and this is the same one hundred dollars of which she spoke in a previous part of her deposition.

Question. Do you know how a negro man spoken of as the property of her infant child was held

Answer. That Mr. John W. Smoot held him.

Question. How did Mr. John W. Smoot hold him.

Answer. Mr. John W. Smoot said he purchased him for the use of his brother, and at his death the negro was in the possession of John W. Smoot, and after the death of her brother, she called on John W. Smoot, who refused to deliver up the negro until certain claims of his against her brother should be paid. Mr. Stone said he would and did settle those claims and at that time Mr. Stone had no funds of hers in his hands.

Question. What amount was paid by Mr. Stone to redeem the negro

Answer. Mr. Stone paid upwards of $100. The amount not known, the deponent approved of the arrangement.

Question. Have you not in your possession an offset against the claim of George W. Smoot adm. of Wilson Smoot, an open account, and to what amount.

Answer. She has an open account, deponent thinks to the amount of about $1400.

Question. Do you or do you not know that Miss Nancy Hawkins has a claim against your deceased husbands estate.

Answer. Miss Nancy Hawkins herself has told me to day, that she had none.
