EASTON GAZETTE

EASTON, (Md.)

Saturday Morning, October 7.

Mr. Williams of this county presented us a Sweet Potatoe, measuring 26 inches in length and 9¼ in circumference, weighing 3 lbs

We publish to-day the returns of the election in this county on Monday last. We have much greater right to claim the result as a victory than the press over the way—as a triumph—we certainly do claim it, though at the same time we admit that the Whig majority has been considerably diminished. We have elected our entire Whig ticket by an average of 47 majority; and how a "glorious triumph" out of this can remain for the opposite party, we cannot tell—but they no doubt can. Every exertion was made by the Vanites—and having but one man in the field, the opposition was of the most insidious, annoying and vexations character. Had a full Van Buren ticket been in the field, the Whigs would have triumphed by their usual majority. This has been repeatedly proven by the results in this county when full tickets were offered to the people.

We present, by the Steam Boat of last evening, a full account of the result throughout the State—at least sufficient to stamp the political complexion of the next House of Delegates.

THE ELECTION

Baltimore, October 3.

It will be seen by the returns of the Election for Delegates to the General Assembly, which took place yesterday, that Messrs. Hillen, Giles, McKinnell and Gallagher, the Van Buren candidates for the House of Delegates, have been chosen by an average majority of 108 votes. The election was conducted with but little excitement—less than we have ever known to prevail upon a similar occasion, and the result, if unexpected to us, is only unexpected because the Van Buren majority is not half so large as we had calculated it would be. The strength of that party, as usual, is fully polled—whilst the whigs, as is also, we are sorry to say, usual with them, refrained many of them, from exercising their right of suffrage, through an apathy and indifference, which, we take leave to say, is highly discreditable, not to say criminal. But, whilst we have our regrets upon this as upon all other occasions when our party fails to succeed, we have no excuses to offer. Conscious that we did our own part, in our professional capacity, and in our personal relations we leave to those who failed to do theirs, all the consolation they may be able to extract from their omission.

It is now apparent that if, as we predicted yesterday, the 5794 Whigs who voted in July had done their duty in the contest, we should have elected our whole ticket by a large majority of votes. But, we have no ifs or buts to offer. Our opponents are elected and that is enough. In the Councils of the State, they will be harmless, for there without the least doubt, the strength of the Whig will be still unimpaired.

WHIG.		VAN BUREN.
Pitts	5452	Gallagher	5496
Cole	5433	Giles	5503
Walsh	5306	McKinnell	5486
Adams	5379	Hillen	5502

Average majority for Van Buren ticket 104 votes

The highest Van Buren vote (Gilles, 5503 over highest Whig vote (Pitts, 5452) is 51.

The lowest Van Buren vote (Mr. McKinnell 5486) over highest Whig vote (Pitts, 5452) is 34

It will be seen by the above table that Mr. Pitts and Mr. Cole are beaten by less than 50 votes. We do not envy the feelings of those whose criminal indifference led to this result.

MARYLAND STILL ERECT!

The results of the election for members of the House of Delegates have been ascertained and show the choice of 50 Whigs and 36 Van Buren men to that body. The Senate consists of 15 Whigs, and the Whig majority, on joint ballot, is therefore, 29 votes. This is enough.

We do not regret in the least, that our Van Buren friends made a powerful exertion to secure the State, and that they came nearer to success, than for several years past. Indeed, it is very well, since the elections under the new constitution are to come on next year, that the Whigs should have an opportunity of seeing how possible it will be to them to lose the State; through supineness and inactivity. Next year they will destin themselves, all the battle for it. The following is the present state of the representation in the House of Delegates.

THE FOURTH INSTALMENT.

It will be seen by our report of the proceedings of Congress, that the bill for withholding from the States the fourth instalment due under the distribution act has been passed, in both houses. The important amendment of Mr. PICKENS however prevailed in both houses, which relieved the bill from one of the strongest objections against it. The payment of the instalment is now only postponed—under the original bill it was to have been withheld altogether.—Balt Chron.

THE LITTLE FOX.—The delegation of Fox Indians now in Washington, have given our Van Buren an appropriate designation. On being presented to him as their Great Father they said it was necessary he should, in his capacity, have a suitable title—and after examining his physiognomy and person with some care, they unanimously agreed that he must be styled the 'Little Fox,' pronouncing, with their usual emphasis the Indian term synonimous therewith. It is needless to remark upon the aptness of this cognomen. Never was Aboriginal sagacity more signally displayed. The by standers were convulsed, and Mr. Van Buren himself could not resist the impulse to laugh outright.—Richmond Whig

'We will get the truth out of Mr. Van Buren yet.'—Buffalo Whig.

'No you won't. It isn't in him.—Prentice.

What was the political character of the members of the last Congress from Tennessee?—New York Paper

Eleven White men, and two that were not white.—Wheeling Times.

The administration men have a mortal aversion to their new and well earned appellation of the 'sain plaster party.'

When they come to support Col Benton for the Presidency, we promise to call them the neck-plaster party.—Prentice.

EXTRA SESSION OF THE TWENTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of Yesterday:

REPORTED FOR THE CHRONICLE.

IN SENATE,

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1837.

SUB TREASURY SYSTEM.

The Senate having resumed the consideration of the Bill imposing additional duties as depositories in certain cases on public officers,

Mr Calhoun spoke at some length in support of his amendment. In the course of his argument he asserted the malevolent influence which the banking system exercised over the literature the morals, the liberty of the country. He gave an elaborate view of the origin and growth of the banking system, of the history of the operations of banks in Great Britain as well as in this country; and concluded that unless the government annulled the alliance between it and the banks, the metalic currency would be banished, the minds of the people would be entirely engrossed by the pursuit of gain, and the intellect would only be sharpened and kept in exercise for the purpose of speculation.

Mr. Webster replied to the argument of Mr. Calhoun, as well as to those which were brought forward by Mr. Buchanan on a former day.

Mr Buchanan replied, in order to remove the impression which might be left from the reply of Mr. Webster.

The question was taken on the amendment of Mr. Calhoun, which was decided in the affirmative as follows:—Yeas 24.—Nays 23.

The question was then taken on the amendment offered by Mr. Rives, which was decided in the negative as follows:—Yeas 22.—Nays 26.

Mr. Preston moved to amend the bill by striking out the whole and inserting a substitute, which requires of the Secretary of the Treasury to invest the public revenue in the most convenient incorporated banks, as special deposites.

Mr. Niles asked the Yeas and Nays on this amendment, and they were ordered.

The question was then taken on the amendment of Mr. Preston, and it was decided in the negative, as follows:—Yeas 22.—Nays 26.

Mr. Buchanan moved an amendment, requiring that a mode be prescribed for the payment of Treasury drafts, which was agreed to.

Mr. Morris moved an amendment excluding the receipt of the notes of Banks, which emit notes of a less denomination than five dollars.

Mr. Strange moved to amend by making the proposition read not less than ten dollars.

The amendment of Mr. Strange was agreed to; yeas 24—nays 20.

The amendment as amended was then agreed to. No further amendment being offered, the bill was reported to the Senate.

The question being then on the amendments, it was taken, and they were agreed to.

The question was then taken on ordering the bill to a third reading, and it was decided in the affirmative. Yeas 25. Nays 23. as follows.

Yeas.—Messrs. Allen, Benton, Brown, Buchanan, Calhoun, Clay of Ala. Fulton, Grundy, Hubbard, King of Ala. Linn, Lyon, Niles, Norvell, Pierce, Roane, Robinson, Sevier, Smith of Conn. Strange, Walker, Wall, Williams, Wright, Young—25.

Nays.—Messrs. Bayard, Black, Clay of Ky. Clayton, Crittenden, Davis, Kent, King of Geo. Knight, McKean, Nicolas, Prentiss, Preston, Rives, Robbins, Smith of Is Southard, Spence, Swift, Tallmadge, Tipton, Webster, White—23.

The whole vote of the opposition with the exception of Mr. Calhoun, was thrown against the bill, and six, who rank as Van Burenites, also voted against it. The names of these are given in italics. The Virginia Senators, it will be seen, were divided and there were four Van Buren Senators absent, viz. Messrs. Morris, of Ohio Cuthbert of Geo. Ruggles of Maine, and Mouton of Louisiana. The small majority given to the bill in Senate, inspires us with a strong hope that it will fail in the House. The following is the section proposed by Mr. Calhoun, and which was adopted.

Sec. 1. And be it further enacted, That from and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and thirty-eight, the resolution of eighteen hundred and sixteen, authorizing the receiving of notes of specie paying banks in dues to the Government, shall be so modified that only three-fourths of the amount due to the Government for duties, taxes, sales of public lands, or other debts, may be received in the notes of specie-paying banks; and that from and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and thirty nine, one-half may be so received; and from and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and forty, one-fourth; and from and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and forty-one, all sums due for duties, sales of public lands, and other debts to the Government, and all payments to the General Post Office, shall be paid in gold and silver coin only, or in such notes, bills, or paper, issued under the authority of the United States, as may be directed to be received by law; and from and after the said first day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and forty-one, every officer or agent engaged in making disbursements on account of the United States, or of the General Post Office, shall make payments in gold and silver only, or in such notes, bills, or paper issued as aforesaid, when authorized by law; and any receiving or disbursing officer, or agent, who shall neglect, evade, or violate the provisions of this section, shall be dismissed the service, and shall forfeit all compensation which may then be due him.

Both Houses of Congress have agreed to adjourn on the 16th inst.
