POETRY.

TO VICTORIA.

BY L. E. L.

Violet, grace of the vernal year!
Offer'd be thou to this spring like reign!
Is not thy tint to that ladye dear,
Whose banner of blue is the lord of the main?

Ivy, we twine of changeless green,
Constant for ever in leaf and bough;
So may the heart of our maiden queen
Be always verdant and fresh as now.

Carnation, laced with many a streak
Of blooming red on its leaflets bright,
May be a type of her mantling cheek,
Blent with a brow of pearly white.

Tansy, though humble an herb it be,
Look not upon it with scornful eye;
On virtue, that lurks in low degree,
A glance should fall kind from those on high.

Olive, thy branch, dove-borne o'er the foam,
Was a sign for the surges of death to cease;
So, from the lips of our dove should come
The soft but the sure command of peace.

Rose of England, ceasing from fight,
Twine round her brow in whose veins are met
The princely blood those races unite
In the veins of the noblest Plantagenet.

Iris, to the maid of the bow,
That promises hope, her name has given;
Join, then, the wreath at her feet we throw,
Who beams as a symbol of hope from heaven.

Anemone, flower of the wind! is the last
We call,—and our garland is now complete
Gentle the current, and soft be the blast,
Which Victoria, the queen of the ocean, shall meet!

THE HARRISONIAN.

It is proposed to publish in the course of the ensuing Spring, either in this city or New York, a NEW WEEKLY PAPER, on an imperial sheet, by the above title, at the price of $2 per annum, payable in advance.

The object of this publication is to bring forward the claims of WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON to the next Presidency, subject to the sanction of the People. As the State of New York was sufficiently patriotic to hold two conventions for the purpose of giving him its support at the recent Presidential Election, and as it was universally admitted that his claims were second to none others at that time; there is no good reason why he should now be driven from the field, by the headstrong measures, or the secret intrigues of self-constituted leaders, when a cordial union in his favour will insure us a glorious victory over our political oppressors.

☞Editors of papers please publish this notice. Corresponding Committees appointed at the Harrison State Convention, will please act in behalf of the Proprietors, to whom all letters may be addressed on the subject. Prospectuses will be forwarded in a few days.

Albany, Jan. 15th, 1838.—2t.

THE IMPORTED ASS,

CORTEZ,

Will stand for Mares, at the farm of Mr John N. Hambleton, near St. Michaels, at SIX DOLLARS the Spring's Chance and 25 cents to the groom for each mare;—the season will commence on the 26th of March inst., and end on the 20th of June next. He will not be moved off the farm—nor will he cover on any other terms.

This fine animal was bred in Spain, and is said to be of an excellent strain.—He will be three years old next month—is stout and handsome.
