EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, (MD.)

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 5, 1838.

ATTENTION WHIGS.

Recollect you have been requested to meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock, P. M. in the several districts of this county.—Be punctual—Maryland expects every man to do his duty. So we say earnestly, attend one and all.

We congratulate our Whig friends on the glorious returns of the success of our party in the "Ancient Dominion".—They give the flattering assurance that Virginia, high minded, noble Virginia, the mother of States as well as Statesmen, will indignantly throw off her allegiance to the "powers that be."—We have always believed that Loco focoism would be too much for her chivalrous tone. The event is fast developing, which will prove her still true to the principles of the Revolution, to the genuine Whig doctrine.

We publish the following evidence of the enthusiastic feeling with which a toast given to the President of the United States was received by our own countrymen—Indeed little Van has the power, it seems, even to take from the office the dignity which always belonged to it—It was not the toast to the President of the United States, but the connexion with the present incumbent which produced the withering silence—and that too in the city of New York.

THE REAL FEELING.

Every toast except one, given on board the Sirius, on Tuesday, was received with nine cheers; and that one, was the health of the President of the United States! The health of the Queen was received with the greatest enthusiasm. The British Consul immediately rose to return the compliment, and offered the health of our President. The foreign strangers led by Captain Roberts, called for nine cheers, but the company were silent. We should have been glad to have heard the cheers on account of the respects we have for the office, but the people have been too much abused—too much despised and maltreated by Mr. Van Buren to cheer even the office.

The gallant Captain and gentlemanly Consul, did all in their power to return the compliment to their young mistress, but the wounds of our people gaped too wide to join in any praise of our heartless tyrant.

What a sad spectacle did this present to the Englishmen, and what a sight must it give the whole world? It spoke louder than words can, that Mr. Van Buren was not the President of the people. He is but the servant of the people, and has neglected their wishes and his own duty. The present circumstances should make him tremble in his seat.

[New York Whig.

We have received intelligence of another appalling bursting of a Steam Boat's boilers—the Morselle on the Ohio—Not less than 180 lives lost.—It is believed to be owing to the imprudence of the Captain.

Is there no remedy for this horrid havoc of human life? If there be not, the distinguishing invention of the age will be converted into a curse instead of a blessing.

ALBANY CHARTER ELECTION.

From the Evening Journal of Wednesday 7 P. M.

GREAT AND GLORIOUS WHIG VICTORY

EVERY WARD CARRIED!!

EVERY WHIG CANDIDATE ELECTED!!!

The City of Albany is purified and redeemed! Loco Focoism is prostrate!—We have come out of a most desperately contested election with a triumphant majority in every ward. Our aggregate majority in the city, is within a fraction of SIX HUNDRED. We have only time to render our thanks to the indomitable Whigs who have achieved this triumph, to congratulate our friends throughout the Union upon a result so auspicious, and to proclaim aloud the unerring assurance that "AS GOES THE FOURTH WARD SO GOES THE STATE."

The average Whig majority in the Wards is as follows—

1st Ward	217
2d "	41
3d "	196
4th "	83
5th "	60

SPECIE PAYMENTS.—The banks in Boston, as well as those in New York, have resumed payment, and the very heavy arrivals of specie from Europe, especially within the last ten days, enables them now to sustain the crisis.—Upwards of five millions of dollars, have reached New York in gold and silver, within a few days.

The banks of the city of New York have by a joint resolution, decided, that after the 16th of May next, no notes or bills of the banks of the state will be received by them except such as shall be redeemed daily in the city.

CONGRESS.—Both houses of Congress adjourned yesterday until Monday next at an early hour, without transacting any business of consequence. The carpets are in the meantime to be taken up, matting laid down and the houses put in a condition for the summer session.—[Balt. Chron. May 4.

GEORGE WOLF, Esq., formerly Governor of Pennsylvania, since comptroller in the U. States Treasury, and late Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, is deceased.

The Honorable H. A. MUHLENBERG, sailed on Wednesday last from New York, our first Minister to Austria. JOHN RANDOLPH CLAY, accompanied him as secretary of legation.

M. BODISCOE, the minister of Russia, to the United States, arrived at New York, the same day.

MR. CLAY'S RESOLUTION.—It will, we imagine, be a matter of surprise to honest men of all parties, to learn that the Senate, on Wednesday, by a party vote, got rid of Mr. Clay's resolution in reference to the receivability of bank notes in payments to the Government, by referring it to the Committee on Finance. It will there, of course be smothered. The determination of the Senate to do nothing at all in aid of the banks is now apparent, and it is the plain duty of the Whigs in the lower House, to meet their obstinacy with equal resolution and to put the Government to its trumps by utterly refusing to aid it with the supplies it has asked for. To stop the supplies is the English mode of bringing tyrants to their senses. It may be imitated, in a Republic, with perfect success. The administration is now supplicating for leave to issue a new batch of Treasury Notes. Refuse it. Let them have the full benefit of their experiment. Starve them out, and we shall soon see them on their knees.—[Balt. Chronicle 4th inst.

From the Centreville Times of Saturday last.

THE OYSTERMEN.

The way of the transgressor is said to be hard, and we suppose the Philadelphia Oystermen find it so. Deputy Sheriff Reese, of our goodly town, a few days ago, with his posse, pounced down upon the marauders again, and took three or four more boats, oysters, men, &c.

Our worthy Deputy had hardly got home and warm in his seat before our vigilant squire Tucker, with his posse, also, made a bounce upon the violators of the law—some of them took to their small boats and pulled for the shore—some got off and some were taken by the squire with his men all being pretty dashing fellows.

There are now 7 or 8 Boats at the wharf at this place, all of which will be sold in the course of two weeks.

[From the Balt. Patriot of Saturday last.]

SUSQUEHANNA TRADE.

As a fact tending in some degree to illustrate the magnitude of the Susquehanna trade, and its growing value to Baltimore, we may state that, on Wednesday last the steam tow boat Relief reached this city, from Port Deposite, having in tow sir arks laden with produce and thirty rafts of lumber, containing upwards of fifteen hundred thousand feet of lumber of the various kinds. This enormous freight was towed by the Relief alone, and without difficulty, although the wind was sometimes adverse; and this also serves to show the facility with which the trade of the Susquehanna region, the lumber of its hills and the rich products of its valleys, will find their way to the "nearest market," when the Canal to tide shall be completed.

[From the Cincinnati Post April 27.)

We are informed that the ORONOCO, captain Young, collasped a flue near Vicksburg, on her passage to New Orleans, and scalded from forty to fifty persons, eight of whom are since dead.—Several of the passengers on board at the time, arrived here this forenoon, on the MONARCH, which boat has been absent from here but seventeen days and a half to New Orleans and back.

Correspondence of the Balt. Chronicle.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 28, 1838, 5 o'clock, P. M.

DESTRUCTIVE AND AWFUL CONFLAGRATION AND LOSS OF LIVES.

N. POE, Esq.—With feelings so harrowed that my pen almost drops from my hand, I hasten to inform you of a conflagration that for its extent, its unutterable horrors and misfortune has no parallel in this country. A long period of drought producing a scarcity of water and much combustible material for the devouring element gave it such an intensity, that it spread over near one-third of the city with a rapidity never equalled by any thing I ever witnessed. Square after square was demolished with a speed almost electrical—the conflagration appeared to defy all contrivance and paralize all energy for its extinguishment. The misfortune appears to be almost irreparable.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock last night the wind blowing from the south west, the alarm was given and the fire proved to be in a wooden building at the corner of King and Beresford street in the occupation of Mrs. Babson. It quickly communicated to the dwelling and store of Mr. Simmons on the opposite corner of Beresford street, and was not arrested until it reached Liberty street, sweeping both sides of King street,—it then proceeded in a north easterly direction and was not extinguished until it reached the water's edge on Cooper river.

It is a subject of intense regret that buildings both ornamental and useful to the city should have been involved in this immense destruction. Among others the Charleston Hotel which had been reared by the public spirit of some of our fellow-citizens and was almost completed and splendidly furnished has to be enumerated—this is the building which Col. J. Small, formerly of your city, has been engaged in erecting for the last 18 months—but it with its splendid furniture is now one heap of ruins. Cost said to be about $200,000. There was also destroyed the Masonic Hall, one Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Protestant Church, the Roman Catholic Chapel, and the Hebrew Synagogue. The flames were visible about 20 miles from Charleston. It is impossible to estimate the extent of the loss on any but imperfect data. It is thought, however, that it cannot be short of five or six millions of dollars, and the buildings destroyed at about 12 or 1300. The amount insured in Charleston is about $1,500,000 of which is supposed the offices here will be able to pay from 40 to 50 per cent.; a considerable amount was insured on goods in New York. The fire was arrested in all at about one o'clock this day, having burned 16 hours.

The most melancholy circumstance is the death of Col. C. J. Steadman, Mr. F. Schnierle, Mr. Picot. Many were seriously injured some of whom are despaired of. The great distress of the unfortunate families who have been thrown out of homes and even a shelter for some of them, is beyond description. The number of families estimated under the above head are from twelve to fifteen hundred.

WASHINGTON RACES.

The Great Match—The match race between Colonel Heth's ch h Decatur and Mr. O. P. Hare's ch m. Fanny Wyatt, both 5 years old, for $20,000, was run on Tuesday last, at Washington, and won by the former easily. The first heat was won in 7m. 45s.—and the three first miles of the second heat were run by Decatur in 5m 59s. when Fanny Wyatt pulled up and Decatur galloped round, and won the race.

JOHN BULL,

An Imported Stallion, will cover this season at UPPER MARLBORO', Prince George's county, Md. Terms for full bred mares $40 the season, payable by the first of August, when the season will expire, $60 insurance; and $15 for common mares for the season; $1 in each case to the groom.

To the agency of J. S. SKINNER, of Baltimore, and the liberality of Capt. Stockton, of the Navy, importer of John Bull, the public is indebted for the services of a Stallion whose blood, though he was never run himself, runs through the most distinguished ancestry to be found in the English Stud Book, going, as it may be clearly traced, not, only up to the White Turk the ne plus ultra of pedigrees, but to the Taffolet Barb, and the natural Barb mare. John Bull five years old this spring, is a dark bay, sixteen hands high, with no white except a very little on the coronet of his hind feet; in form he so nearly resembles the portraits we have seen of his great ancestor, Highflyer, (that was never beat and never paid forfeit) that he might be supposed to have stood for the likeness of that unrivalled racer and stallion, to be seen at Tulip Hill, the seat of the late Joseph Galloway, on West river. John Bull was selected and purchased in England expressly with reference to his perfectly pure blood, and the racing qualities of his stock on both sides of the house

PEDIGREE.

JOHN BULL is by Chateau Margaux, (now covering in Alabama at $100 the season,) his dam, as was the dam of Rowton, by Wiglit full brother to Whalebone, sire of Chateau, both being by Waxy, out of Penelope. Waxy was by Potsos, who was out of Sportsmistress, by Eclipse! Waxy's dam was Maria, (Lord Bolingbroke's,) by King Herrod, dam Lisette, by old Snap, he by Snip, and he by Flying Childers! Going back to Woful, sire of John Bull's dam his dam the famous Penelope, was by Trumpator, and out of the no less famous Prunella, and she again by old Snap! Prunella, says Darville, (author of a recent treatise on the care, treatment and training of the English racehorse,) 'was the dam of eleven first-rate horses, and she is said to have realized to the Grafton Family little short of 100,000 pounds. In fact, all breeders of racehorses try for a stain of the justly celebrated Prunella.'

John Bull's grandam was out of sister to Brandon by Beningbrough, and he by King Fergus, his dam by King Herrod, he by Tartar, an excellent racer, and sire of O'Kelly's dam of Mercury, Volunteer, &c.' John Bull's g. grandam, Miss Toadboy, was by Highflyer, of whom it is enough to say he was Highflyer! the great I AM of horses, that never was beat, and never paid forfeit. Go we back now to Penelope, John Bull's g. grandam, on his sire's side, she was by Trumpator, and who was he? he was by Conductor, who conducts us next to the famous Matchem, whose dam leads us again to old Snap! only one remove from the Matchless Childers! To come down to the dam of John Bull's sire Chateau, she was Wasp, by Gohanna, the best four mile horse of his day, and equally celebrated as a stallion; the dam of Wasp carries us again to the invincible Highflyer, the best son of Herod, and her dam again leads us up to Eclipse, and then through Rosebud directly again to old Snap, from whom the Sir Peter stock in England, and the old Medley stock in this country, are supposed to derive much of their excellence.

Those who prefer to have recourse to imported blood, combining the very best in England, to cross on their native mares, have here an opportunity at a comparatively moderate expense, to avail of the use of a stallion who, though he has himself never been starred, possesses the fine points of a racer, with ample size, and a pedigree equal in the performances and renown of his ancestors to any horse in the world!

If it be true, as it unquestionably is, that 'blood will tell' both in beast and man, then must the get of John Bull prove to be winners, for will they not unite the blood of the great luminaries of the English turf, Childers, Old Snap, Eclipse, King Fergus, King Herod, Highflyer, Potsos, Benningbrough, Prunella, Penelope, Waxy, down to, though last not least, Chateau Margaux, his sire, winner twenty-two times—fourteen of them 4 miles and upwards, 4 miles, or 4 mile heats.

Arrangements have been made to have all mares sent from a distance well grained and kept for thirty cents per day. In good care of them there shall be no mistake, but no liability for accidents or escapes.

Address to

T. F. BOWIE, Upper Marlboro'.
