POETRY.

PRAYER.

Go, when the morning shineth,
Go, when the moon is bright,
Go, when the eve declineth,
Go, in the hush of night,
Go, with pure mind and feeling,
Fling earthly thoughts away,
And, in thy chamber kneeling,
Do thou in secret pray.

Remember all who love thee,
All who are loved by thee;
Pray for those who hate thee,
If any such there be;
Then for thyself in meekness,
A blessing humbly claim,
And link with each petition,
Thy great Redeemer's name.

Or, if 'tis e'er denied thee
In solitude to pray,
Should holy thoughts come o'er thee,
When friends are round thy way;
E'en the silent breathing
Of thy spirit raised above,
Will reach his throne of glory,
Who is Mercy, Truth and Love.

Oh! not a joy or blessing,
With this can we compare,
The power that he has given us
To pour our souls in prayer,
Whene'er thou pin'st in sadness,
Before his footstool fall,
And remember in thy gladness,
His Grace, who gave thee all.

From the New Hampshire Courier,

THE LOCO FOCO LULLABY.—One of the speakers, on the evening of the late Baltimore election, referred to a beautiful custom of the Swiss who live upon the towering Alps. When the last glistening rays of the sun's golden beams are lingering upon the highest peaks, are so beautifully reflected by the glaziers, the peasant below, upon the side next the sun, steps out of his cottage and sings, "Good night!" to his neighbor, who says, "Good night!" to the next; and when the highest peak is closing its gilding, the cheerful "Good night!" has resounded to the lowest cottage upon the other side. And so the American yeomanry have bade "Good night!" to loco foco rulers, the song began in Maine—New Hampshire heard it—Rhode Island, Connecticut, and New York echoed it—Baltimore has now given her response—and it was hoped to hear it re-echoed from Virginia—and a long, hearty "Good night!" from Mississippi, would sing the lullaby of loco focoism that forever.

Good night to 'THE PARTY!' good night!
To 'Tom, Dick and Harry' adieu!
To Tom Benton Dick Johnson, I write,
And Harry, surnam'd Hubbard, too.

Your game is all up—no dispute—
To the Hermitage Andrew has fled—
And Martin will soon follow suit,
As pledg'd 'in his footsteps' to tread.

'Good night' to the party! good night!
Mississippi has 'gone by the board'—
Her Walker and Trotter take flight,
As sure as she's spoken the Word.

Her 'Prentiss han' she has just tried anew,
And turn'd off her work most complete;
She has sent back her good men and true,
Who were Polk'd from Congressional seat.

The song was begun in the Maine—
O'er her Parks the 'Kent bugle' was blown—
And will soon claim the song as their own
The Whigs of New Hampshire re-echoed the strain
'Over Hills and awa',' the glad music will peal,
'Till its notes rend in triumph the air—
And the 'dead march in Saul' its low notes will reveal,
In the Van of dismay and despair.

'Old Virgin'a ne'er tires' in the race,
Under guide of her Wise men and true—
'Sic semper tyrannis,' her motto, has place,
And its light she will ever pursue.
The key-note has Baltimore struck,
Of victory full and entire—
In the 'slough of despond' Loco Foco is struk—
As deep in the mud as the mire.

Rhode Island her Dutee discharg'd,
Has join'd the loud chorus of joy;
Connecticut too, from her bondage enlarg'd,
Unites in the honor'd employ.
New York swells the triumphal sound,
And wails the death-dirge of the clan—
No Marcy for them will hereafter be found—
Into rear will be turn'd all their Van.

MARL FOR SALE.

The subscriber having made arrangements for disposing of the valuable shell marl, which exists on his estate in Talbot County, in forms the Agricultural community, that he is now ready to deliver, of the above article, any quantity that may be required, by giving him timely notice.

The Marl may be taken from the banks at the price of one cent per bushel cash.

The fertalizing properties of calcareous marl are now so well known, that it is unnecessary to advert to the subject—in reference to this deposite it may be stated that it consists of Sea shells, with very little admixture of earth, and contains from 2 to 4 times the quantity of lime that is contained in the best English Marl.—Those wishing to purchase will please address William H. Smyth, Easton, Md. Vessels going for it will pass up the Great Choptank until the Dover Bridge appears in sight—they will then come to Barker's landing where they will find the lands of the undersigned on the west bank of the river.

WILLIAM B. SMYTH.

April 7, 1838

The following is an extract from the report of the Geologist appointed by the state of Maryland to make a minute geological survey of the State.

'But perhaps the most valuable beds of shell marl in this part of Talbot county, inasmuch as they may be made extensively available to the public demands for the article, are those which were fully described in the preceding report. They occur three miles below Dover bridge, forming the high bank from fifteen to twenty feet above tide, being one compact mass of fossil shells, and extending nearly a mile along the river, on the farms of the late Col. Smyth and Mr. Atkinson. These beds are in contiguous strata, apparently successive and consist of vast accumulations principally, in the ascending order, of oyster shells succeeded by clam shells intermixed with other marine shells, scollop, clam and scollop, and uppermost principally of scollop. Endeavor was made to bring these beds into notice, with a view of enlisting them into public service, by giving to their proprietors what was deemed proper directions for extracting the materials, and salutary advice as to a just estimate of its value in order to secure a constant and permanent disposal of it. The subject is now in progress of experiment. South of these banks on the Choptank, no other deposite of marl is known to occur.'

The Cachbridge Chronicle, Centreville Times, Kent Bugle, and Delaware Journal will copy the above, 3 times and send their accounts to this office for collection.
