PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS AND MARYLAND POLITICS.

We read the Pennsylvania country papers with but little pleasure. The gross and violent abuse which both parties lavish upon each other is discreditable to them all. If the papers are to be believed, neither Mr. Ritner nor Mr. Porter is fit for any public office. The charges against Governor Ritner, particularly are most gross and ridiculous. There is scarcely an offence with which he is not charged, and, to read the Porter papers, you would really take him to be but little short of an idiot.

We sincerely rejoice that we have nothing of this sort in Maryland. It is true, one or two of the country papers have disgraced themselves by the most atrocious attacks upon gentlemen known to be friendly to the election of Mr. Steele, but, so far as we have observed, not a word has been said against the character of that eminent and estimable citizen.—Indeed his character sets calumny at defiance. He is beyond the reach of slander. His pure, upright and blameless life—passed, for the most part, in the midst of the most innocent of all employments—the pursuits of agriculture—has furnished no incident for even party animadversion. It is delightful to be represented by such a candidate. Party politics lose the bitterness which renders them the bane of social harmony and good feeling, and may be prosecuted without a surrender of all the endearing ties of personal friendship. Confident of the election of Mr. Steele, we most sincerely rejoice that he will go into office amid the kindest feelings of both political friends and opponents.

OUR CANADIAN RELATIONS.—Whilst Mr. Van Buren is pleasuring at the Springs, it is evident that very serious troubles are brewing on our North Eastern Frontier. The Governor of Maine has announced his positive intention to run the line between the British territory and that of Maine, and there can be little doubt that the attempt will be resisted by the British armed force, now stationed in that neighborhood. The Quebec Gazette intimates, very distinctly, that this will certainly be the case—Ib.

[For the Easton Gazette.]

Mr. Graham:—

Sir—I congratulate you upon the receipt and publication, of the communication, signed, "Equal Rights." Like the author, I for some time past have thought, that it would be much more in keeping with our republican institutions, to do away life offices. First, because their existence, has a tendency to generate in the mind of the occupant, such a feeling of independence, that he from caprice in discharging his official duties, might not exercise the civilities due from one gentleman to another, and yet without subjecting himself to the penalues of the Law. Secondly; if for example, a Judge (whom I believe now to be about the only life officer in the State,) were guilty of malpractice in the discharge of his official duty, the process of impeachment and trial, is generally so very tardy, that the liberty of the citizen, might be most seriously affected before redress could be had. I not only agree with "Equal Rights," as regards the tenure of office, but go for an express limitation of the powers to be exercised by judges, and for the most summary process against them, for any undue exercise of those powers. Sir, I would have the liberty of the citizen, so guarded and entrenched by the CONSTITUTION that it could not be touched without incurring the most fearful responsibility, and that in no case, should it ever be tampered with, upon a mere matter of construction. In cases where the Court, in the exercise of those arbitrary and discretionary powers, touching their own dignity, shall imprison, bail should be allowed, and the judge, and the adjudged, should appear before their Peers, whose duty it should be to decide between the parties, imposing either upon the one hand or the other, the proper penalties or punishment. The case of young Bayley, before the Court in Baltimore, shows the most undue and wanton exercise, of those arbitrary and discretionary powers, of which I have spoken. An appeal to the citizens of Baltimore, to suppress as far as possible, all excitement in the case of Stewart, was construed into contempt of Court, when nothing that was done or said by the counsel could have been so interpreted by any honest and intelligent man. If the appeal made to the people, had been in contravention of the Court's authority, then, would Bayley's conduct had been reprehensible.

But how stands the case? The Court forsooth, inferred contempt by misconstruction, when the words and acts of Bayley, were the very antipodes to such a conclusion and he must answer at their bar, for the misgivings of their own consciences. He must declare publicly no disrespect, to pamper their vanity and dignity, or, subject himself to imprisonment. I have seen and heard myself, an intelligent audience, lectured like so many slaves, by a judge, simply, because it suited his notions to construe, a slight but simultaneous exclamation of astonishment, at the imposition of a heavy fine, into contempt of the court. Nay, more than lectured! Never did master, talk more imperiously to his slaves, than did that self same Judge, "clothed in a little brief authority;" to the free and sovereign people!!

TO THE PUBLIC.

It is not perhaps very generally understood that I have commenced suit against a certain William Powell of Talbot county (of Patty Cannon memory) for an infamous libel uttered against me by said Powell on account of my having joined the Electoral College, contrary to the wishes of himself and many other crack brain'd fanatics, and having understood that said Powell is trying to induce the people to believe that I am anxious to compromise the matter. I therefore take this method to inform the public, that he is a base liar, scoundrel and coward, and so far from a compromise that in justice to myself, and to that portion of our citizens who was also implicated in his infamous libel I intend to prosecute the suit to the end.

EDITED BY

WARD CHENEY & BROTHERS, Burlington, N. J.

AND PUBLISHED BY

CHARLES ALEXANDER, Philadelphia.

The First Number of this highly important and Valuable Work, is now ready for delivery to subscribers. We beg leave respectfully to call the attention of our citizens to the praiseworthy objects it has in view, and for the promotion of which it has been put into operation.

There has not probably heretofore been a time when the attention of the people of this country was as much engaged on the subject of the Silk Culture as at present nor a time when those who have already embarked in this business felt such entire confidence, not only that liberal profits may be derived from it, but also in their ability to produce as good Silk as can be procured in any part of the world.—It is believed that all that is now wanting to fully establish this great interest in this country, with all its vast advantages, is but the dissemination of plain practical information concerning it; and to convince our citizens of what we know to be true, viz: that there is no more difficulty about raising a crop of silk, than there is in procuring a crop of grain. The capital thus bestowed yields a far greater return than can be obtained from any other branch of husbandry. The editors have long been engaged in the silk culture, and intend hereafter to give it their entire attention. They have made extensive arrangements for feeding the silk worm, and cultivating that invaluable species of mulberry tree the Morus Multicaulis. And, from their long experience in the occupation and extensive correspondence with silk growers, they believe they may say without ostentation, that they shall be able to make the AMERICAN SILK GROWER, useful and entertaining, and to communicate through its pages information as valuable respecting every branch of the silk business, as can be elsewhere obtained in the United States. A portion of the work will be devoted to noting the modern improvements of Agriculture, and such matters as are generally useful to the cultivators of the soil.

The Proprietors respectfully solicit contributions on Agricultural subjects generally—and also the Silk Growing Business in particular. Address the Editors, WARD CHENEY, AND BROTHERS, Burlington, N. J.

The work will be published monthly—every number comprising twenty-four large octavo pages, with the addition of a cover for advertisements, &c. and at the end of each volume, a complete table of contents will be furnished to subscribers. Terms one dollar a year; payable in advance, for single subscribers. Twenty subscriptions will be supplied for a whole year by forwarding a current ten dollar bill, free of postage.

All orders for the work, postage paid, will be promptly attended to, if addressed to the Publisher, C. ALEXANDER, Athenian Buildings, Franklin Place, Philadelphia.
