POETRY

CHILDHOOD AND ITS VISITORS.

BY E. L. BULWER.

Once on a time when sunny May,
Was kissing up the April showers,
I saw fair childhood hard at play,
Before a bank of blushing flowers,
Happy—he knew not whence or how,
And smiling who could choose but love him?
For not more glad that childhood's brow,
Was the gay heaven that laughed above him.

Old Time came hobbling in his wrath,
And that green valley's calm invaded;
Then brooks grew dry beneath his path,
The birds were mute, the lilies faded:
A Grecian tomb stood full in sight,
And that Old Time began to batter;
But childhood watch'd his paper kite,
Nor heeded he one whit the matter.

With curling lip and eye askance,
Guilt glared upon the scene a minute:
But Childhood's arch'd by simple glance,
Had such a holy spell within it,
That the dark demon to the air
Again spread forth his baffled pinion,
And hid his envy and despair,
Self-tortured in his own dominion.

Then stepped a gloomy phantom up,
Pale, cypress crowned, night's awful daughter,
And proffered him a fearful cup,
Full to the brim of bitter water;
Says Childhood—'Pardon, what's your name?'
And when the hell-one uttered 'Sorrow,'
Then cried 'O! don't interrupt my game;
I pr'ithee, call again to-morrow.'

The muse of Pindus hither came,
And wooed him with the sweetest numbers,
That ever scattered wealth and fame
Upon a youthful poet's slumbers,
Though sweet the lyre and sweet the lay,
To childhood it was all a riddle:
'Good gracious!' cried he, 'send away
That noisy woman with a fiddle!'

Then Wisdom stole his hat and bell,
And taught him with most sage endeavor,
Why bubbles rise and comets fly,
And why no toy may last forever;
She talked of all the world's strange laws,
Which nature's open book discloses:
But Childhood, when she made a pause,
Was fast asleep among the roses.

Sleep on, sleep on!—Pale manhood's dreams
Are all of earthly pain or pleasure;
Of glory's toil, ambition's schemes,
Or cherish'd love or hoarded treasure;
But in the couch where childhood lies,
A pure unsullied trance is given,
Lit up the ray from angel eyes,
And glimpses of remembered heaven.

As it should be.—The Secretary of War has joined the Temperance Society, and he seems determined to make every one connected with the Army 'follow in his footsteps.' By his temperance orders recently issued, he has not only forbidden the Cadets at West Point to use spirituous liquors, but even the Board of Visitors!

EASTERN SHORE AND LUMINARE,

Will stand the ensuing season, ending 4th July, at the subscriber's farm, known as SECALE HALL, opposite Chestertown, in Queen Ann's county

EASTERN SHORE,

Will stand at $7 the season which may be discharged by $5 cash, before the service is rendered.

LUMINIRE,

Will stand at $6 the season which may be discharged by $4 before the service is rendered. Any gentleman having three or more mares, will be visited at his farm, if within 10 or 12 miles, upon the same terms; and where five mares are insured to either stallion, they will visit any part of either county provided the groom and stallion are accommodated.

EasternShore,

Was got by imported Lexington, whose blood is of the best to be obtained, whose dam and sire's dam, boy and pony sold for fifteen hundred dollars as for the mares of Virginia and Carolina then most of the recent importations with this additional recommendation that he was a long winner on the turf—With some of the long legged mares of the Valley stock he will get good runners.—See Sketch vol. 1 turf Reg. p. 253. What has been the result? compare the progress with the performances—look at his progeny, Petersburg, &c. &c. Lexington is now standing at $200 in town, being $50 higher than any other horse in America. Eastern Shore's dam was Equa—Equa (now dead) ch m. foaled 1815 sired by the late Isaac Decatur, was got by imported Comet, her dam a race mare by Republican President, son of Craggy Highflyer out of a thorough bred Venetian mare, which was also the dam of Decatur's running horse Duke of York's Dragon, grandson by Dr. Hamilton's imp Dove; g. g. g. grandam Sally, by Gohanna son of Craig's g. g. g. grandson Fisher's Selima, by the Godolphin Arabian.

The full pedigree of Equa as above is to be seen and verified by the minute upon deposit with the late Dr. P. Thornton, of Rose Dockets notes. These papers are now in the possession of Thomas P. Peter esq. of Georgetown.

Signed,

T. P. ANDREWS.
THOMAS PETER

Washington, October 10 1838.

Mr. Andrews upon enclosing the above certificate of Equa's pedigree to me observed, She is truly a relique as to blood or other merits of the best sort. Equa was the dam of Lee & Rosa, a winner granddam of Lady Alabama, a winner; grandam of Mahomet, a winner. In fine, his owner may challenge contradiction when he asserts that there is not a higher bred stallion in the U. States—one whose blood is more fashionable, purer or better.

LUMINARE,

Was got by Maryland Eclipse, out of Algerine, the dam of Mahomet "he is a horse of great speed but being very large for a 3 year old last season his maturity was not equal to sustaining his speed.

The performance of E. Shore in three heat of three miles over Kendall Course, establishes the fact that he was a horse of incredible game in the opinion of Gen. Emory and other old Turfites, although a little too slow to win against the elect of the Napoleon of the Turf.

The owner of E. Shore will enter into a Sadlers sweepstakes of from 3 to $500, to run over some track on the E. Shore of Maryland, next fall, against the stallions now covering on the Peninsula, weight for age and inches—mile or more to make a race, the forfeit to be half the amount of the sweepstakes.

The subscriber has incurred a great expense than any one in Maryland in procuring the pure wind from the best horse domestic or foreign, and he now offers gold at the price per pennyweight of copper'—If he is patronized in the 'expectation' he will continue to furnish the very best blood to the breeder, upon cheaper terms than it has ever been done in Maryland—yes, every variety of the best blood; therefore let the breeders make their calculations accordingly.

The patrons of E. Shore and Luminare sending from a distance will be supplied with food for their mares and board for their grooms upon the following cash terms, viz Board per day for groom 25 cts, do per meal 12½ cts. Corn per gallon 12½ cts., Fodder per bundle 6 1-4 cts.

Corn at 90 cents per bushel, Fodder at $1 per hundred, Oats at 50 cts per bushel, and Bacon at 12 cts per lb. will be received in payment for the services of Luminare and E. Shore, if delivered at Secale Hall before the service is rendered. Persons in Kent wishing the services of either stallion will apply to my overseer, Mr. Kirby and they will attend in Chestertown or at Hackett's Fancy.

JOURNAL OF THE American Silk Society AND RURAL ECONOMIST.

At a Convention which met at Baltimore in the 11th of December last, composed of a great number of gentlemen from various parts of the Union, distinguished for their public services, patriotism & practical intelligence, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted after full discussion, to the course of which a great mass of facts and valuable information was elicited.

Resolved, That it is the deliberate opinion of this Convention that Silk may be grown in all the United States not only for domestic purposes, but as a valuable article of commercial export—thereby giving an active employment to American labour, and retaining millions of dollars in our country that are now annually sent out of it for the purchase of silken goods.

Resolved That a National Silk Journal ought to be established under the auspices of the Executive Committee and all the facts now and above the support of said paper ought to be devoted to the advancement of its sole cause in the United States.

Under this last resolution the subscriber is proposing to assume the entire and superintendence of the Journal to be published in New York, with not the least abatement of that fondness (not to say passion) for rural life, and its pursuits which for nearly half eighteen years since to issue the first number of the old American Farmer, in Baltimore, he has endeavored to inculcate among his fellow countrymen by the most assiduous researches, (not to say partiality with strict attention to his official duties) to accelerate the growth and progress of what he is convinced is destined to become a great rural occupation of industry, bringing into active exercise much of the now unproductive laboring power of the country, giving employment to the widow and the orphan, by affording them suitable and encouraging employment, and making, in the aggregate, a large addition to the wealth and prosperity of our beloved Union.

Though Silk and every thing connected with its production and all improvements in machinery for its preparation and manufacture, will constitute the chief design and aim of the Journal, for the sake of the agreeable and useful variety, a considerable portion of its pages will be devoted to the posly pursuits and kindred subjects of agriculture horticulture, and rural and domestic economy—hence, the adjunctive title 'RURAL ECONOMIST.'

J. S SKINNER.

The Journal of the American Silk Society will be published monthly, in pamphlet form, each number will contain thirty-two pages, printed on new type and handsome paper, with a printed colored cover

All persons friendly to the objects of the Journal will please collect at once and transmit the names and subscription money of those who may feel disposed to patronize it.

TERMS.

Two Dollars a year, or six copies for Ten Dollars, always to be paid before the work is sent. All subscriptions to begin with the first number of the year, and in no case will the work be sent to any subscriber longer than it shall have been paid for.

All communications to be addressed, post paid, to GIDEON B. SMITH, Corresponding Secretary of the Society

All Editors of papers who may desire to see Silk added to the list of American Staples; and who will have the kindness to give this prospectus a few insertions, will be entitled to a copy of the Journal.
