EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, July 20.

MARYLAND ELECTION.

WHIG NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS

SECOND DISTRICT.

JAMES A. PEARCE.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first No. of the Saturday Evening Post, published at Naples, Illinois—Mark W. Dellahay, Esq. Editor—S. G. Furguson, Printer, both gentlemen formerly of this town. In politics, the paper will be opposed to the present administration.—We wish it success.

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW YORK.—The New York correspondent of the Baltimore Chronicle, says:—"It is probable that the Yellow Fever exists in the city and at the quarantine ground."

IMPORTATION OF YELLOW FEVER INTO PORTLAND, (Maine.)—The Eastern Argus says that the West India Yellow fever is making sad havoc with New England sailors. "We have recorded the death of several within a few weeks, of our own townsmen, and of those who reside in our vicinity. The brig Charles Miller, which arrived here yesterday, lost by this terrible disease, before she sailed from Havana, one of her mates, John Powell, of this city—also William Cox, a seaman; and on the passage, Mr. John Cook, of Wakefield, N. H., (a passenger,) died July 6th."

For the Easton Gazette.

Mr. Graham, Sir: You will confer a great favor on many of your readers if you will inform the public through the medium of your paper, how many pounds there is, by the laws of this State, in a Ton. Disputes constantly arise between sellers and buyers of such articles as are sold by the Ton, in consequence of not being correctly informed on this subject.

T.

In answer to the queries of our subscriber, we have to state, that upon examination, we are able to discover no other Law on the subject of his communication, than one passed at December Session, 1829, for the City of Baltimore. We know of no other enactment on the subject and presume the City Law prevails now in the Counties of the State.

The following is the Law.

A further supplement to the act entitled an act, respecting Hay and Straw brought for sale to the city of Baltimore, passed at December session eighteen hundred and eighteen, chapter one hundred and twenty five.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the first day of May next, it shall be the duty of the Weighers of Hay and Straw, their deputies or agents, in the city of Baltimore, weighing Hay or Straw, to make out their certificates for every hundred pounds weight, instead of one hundred and twelve, as they now do; and every twenty hundred pounds nett weight, shall be considered a ton, and so in proportion for any greater or smaller quantity which they shall weigh; and they shall be entitled to receive two cents, and no more, for every nett hundred of hay or straw thus weighed until the weight of the load amounts to twenty hundred: and in no case shall they demand or receive more than forty cents for any load of hay or straw thus weighed by them, and they shall be governed by the same rules and regulations as are now in force, except such as are inconsistent with, or repugnant to, the provisions of this act.

For the Easton Gazette.

CECIL COUNTY, July 18th, 1839.

Mr. Graham, Sir:—

Having observed a communication over the signature of 'an old Democrat,' in the opposition paper published in your town, I would simply say, our friends need not be frightened by such balderdash.

Cecil may give a small majority for Mr. Thomas, but if any, it will be extremely small. That gentleman's fortunes are on the wane here. The further the election is off the better for us. We are gaining ground every hour. The broken confidence and violated pledges of the present administration to the PEOPLE, in regard to RETRENCHMENT, ECONOMY AND REFORM, are being developed every day; and many of those who heretofore supported the administration, will assuredly support Mr. Pearce, in preference to Mr. Thomas.

Besides, Mr P. is decidedly personally popular here, and can command a larger vote than any Whig in the district. I am one of the people, and without resorting to high sounding names of yore, take the responsibility to say, that the magic of names is past. Cecil will go for principle, and principle only, to the utter confusion of the would-be democrats of the present day. How very pleasant must be the sound of democracy, to many of the leaders of the Van Buren party of Maryland! and particularly to the high priest of the State, his excellency William Grason!!

ONE OF THE PEOPLE OF CECIL.

Louis M'Lane, Esq., is to proceed to Europe to dispose of the sterling bonds issued by the State of Maryland as subscription to the stock of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road.

GEN. HARRISON.—The Columbus, (Ohio,) State Journal of Friday last, says: General Harrison arrived here on Saturday, to attend the U. S. District Court as a witness in an important law suit now pending. He was in excellent health, & received the cordial but unostentatious greeting of his friends with all the active frankness of his youth.

MR. CLAY.—The same paper says: We expected to see Mr. Clay here on Monday, as we heard that he was on his way from Cincinnati to this city.—He, however, directed his route to Logan county, where he has some business to transact. From there he will shortly proceed to Niagara Falls and Canada.

ACCIDENT TO MR. CLAY.—The Cincinnati Gazette of the 9th instant says: We learn that the stage in which Mr. Clay was passenger upset on Saturday, near Palmyra O., and that he was slightly injured. Another passenger had his leg broken." Mr. Clay is peculiarly unfortunate in his travels. He has several times narrowly escaped with his life from the upsetting of stage coaches.

From the Baltimore Chronicle.

MR. CLAY IN THE SOUTH.

We have carefully scanned the proceedings of the celebrations of the Fourth of July throughout the entire South, and we must confess our surprise at the great cordialty with which the name of Mr. Clay seems every where to have been received. We might fill our paper with toasts complimentary to him, which were given in Virginia, North Carolina, S. Carolina, Georgia, and indeed all the southern States. His name is looked upon as the rallying point of the opponents of the administration, and the fact that he is the most feared by the powers that be, may be inferred from the circumstance that in the toasts condemnatory of the Whig party, no name of the Whig candidates for the Presidency, is mentioned in that connection, but Mr. Clay's. The Charleston Courier publishes that portion of the address of the Whig Central Committee of Virginia which refers to Mr. Clay, and appends to it, through a correspondent, the following remarks:—

'The voice of Virginia is the voice of the South. Look at the spontaneous outbreakings of popular feeling on the 4th! Van Buren has had his turn. Retained in office, and a term of years for the Presidency—the democratic rule Laid down by Jackson and Van Buren. The country has called for Clay in its time of trouble; it now seeks to honor him in its day of prosperity. The nation seeks to reward its oldest servant, who has worked most and longest without pay."

The Torronto Colonist states, on the authority of private letters received in that city, that the British Queen is not to leave England until the first of August.

THE BOUNDARY.

The following is an extract from a London letter in the Quebec Gazette, dated June 12:—

"I think you may take it as certain, that a special convention has either left this country, or will speedily be sent to America, for arranging the basis of a settlement of the disputes with the Government of the United States, relauve to the boundary question.

Her Majesty's advocate, Sir John Dodson, has, for some time, been engaged in drawing up this convention: which I am told, is in strict conformity with the instructions sent to the American minister at our Court. The other mentioned facts I am not at liberty, at present, to communicate: But I think the knotty point is in a fair train of arrangement.

THE SIXTH DISTRICT.

The Cumberland Civilian, on behalf of the Whigs of Allegany, unites in the call upon Mr. Price to become a candidate for Congress. It says—"We have the political strength to elect an opposition candidate to Congress in this district; and if all who are of the opinion that the present incumbent is unfit for numerous reasons, to represent us in Congress any longer, would unite and rally on some man of known strength and influence in the district, we believe there could be no doubt of our success by a handsome majority. We think that we know enough of the public sentiment of our county at least, if not of the whole district, to be justified in saying that if William Price, Esq., could be prevailed on to run as the opposing candidate, he could be elected with ease." We learn from a gentleman direct from Hagerstown that there is a prospect that Mr Price will accede to the wishes of his friends, and enter the canvass. We hope he may.—If he be not elected, he can give the leader of the rebellion of the nineteen a very close run. Mr. P. is personally popular with the people, and the whigs of that district, individually and collectively, never desert a friend. He would obtain the full strength of the party and get many votes which no other opposition candidate can.—Balt. Citron.

MR. VAN BUREN AT HOME.—A call of a public meeting was made at Hudson, containing 7000 inhabitants, to receive Mr. Van Buren. Not more than 50 persons attended, some Whigs. A committee of two was appointed to request the Mayor to call the Common Council together, which the Mayor did and the following resolution was adopted:

'Resolved, By the Mayor and Commonalty of the city of Hudson, in Common Council assembled, that we do not feel bound by any consideration of justice, prudence or hospitality to expend the people's money, or descend from the dignity of our official stations, for the purpose of aiding political partizans to carry out their favorite schemes.

This was cruel—but the parties know each other.

Correspondence of the Balt. Chronicle.

BARRINGTON BRIDGE, R. I. }
July 13, 1839. }

The Rhode Islanders are getting excited by the approach of the Congressional Election; and both parties are making powerful preparations for the contest. This day the names of the administration candidates for Congress are to be announced; but, as I am some ten or fifteen miles from the 'great Metropolis of the State, Providence, I am not able to tell you who they are or what they are.

Ancient usage has dictated & ordained that the nominations for Congress shall be confined to the counties of Newport and Providence, the one at the northern; and the other at the southern section of the State; but, it is, supposed, that the administration party will, in this instance, break the old usage, and select candidates from the midland counties of Bristol and Kent. If they do this they will produce an effect the exact consequences of which may not be immediately correctly estimated.

As it cannot do any good to misrepresent or lay before you that which may not be found strictly true, I cannot prevail on myself to omit remarking, that I look on the contest that is approaching as exceedingly doubtful.

It is within the circle of my own knowledge, that a well organized scheme to produce effect on the Rhode Island Congressional Election has been in existence for some months past, and has been known and fostered in New York, and for aught I know, it may have reached Baltimore. To effect the ends of party, contributions have been made and exacted among the friends of the administration in New York, and a sum said to amount to some four or five thousand dollars had been collected on Saturday last. In a State where the suffrage is limited to a freehold estate, of the value of one hundred and thirty-four dollars, or of a revenue of 'seven pounds lawful tenor,' money is always found to act with singular address; and by its agency an election is often decided. Let it not be supposed, however, that I intend to charge that the good people of Rhode Island can be corrupted by gold, that for I certainly do not intend to intimate anything of the kind. But as the man in the play says, 'cash is cash, and cash is a tempter.'

Beyond the matter of this election, I do not know that the State of Rhode Island at this moment presents any thing of startling interest. Every thing is very quiet here; and as it is the land of industry, the clatter of the loom and 'hurly burly' of the spinning jenny, drown the complaints of those who would complain if the dared do so. Business with the manufacturers is getting somewhat slack and if the hard times which hang over the monetary affairs of New York are not speedily evaporated, it may be that some of our large Cotton Factories may find it necessary to suspend operations for a limited period.

Yours, &c.

FRENCH & MUSICAL

INSTITUTE,

For Young Ladies.

MR J. L. LAREINTRIE & DAUGH-TERS most respectfully thank their friends & the community at large, for the liberal patronage which they have hitherto received from them as professors of French and of Music.

The usefulness, the importance of acquiring a perfect knowledge, both of French and Music, is a thing too universally felt and admitted, to require any remarks from their feeble pens: it would indeed be too tedious to enumerate all the reasons for learning these two branches of a polite education: but relying nevertheless on the indulgence of the public, they will here repeat what has often been said.

Although many of the French books are translated into English, the far greater part are not; and, in every branch of knowledged great indeed is the number of these books, which it may be useful to read: but there is the speaking of French. It is something, and a great deal too, to be able to read French, it is more to be able to translate it into English; it is still more to be able to translate English into French: but there is still the speaking of French, which is, as to this matter, the great practical and desired attainment. In order to learn to speak French, to acquire this great accomplishment, you must have the assistance of good teachers, or better you must live among, or be a good deal among, those who speak that language correctly.

It may be something to drum a few tunes on an instrument but to feel, to transmit the beauties of the great masters of the art, you must be well taught, and have frequent opportunities of hearing good music.

Mr. J. L. LaReintrie and Daughters feeling themselves, from their long experience in teaching, fully competent to facilitate, to impart these great & desirable accomplishments, would respectfully announce to the public, their intention of receiving in their family, as boarders, such Young Ladies as may wish to complete their French and Musical education. This will not, in the least, interfere with such of them as may have to pursue their English studies; for the Institute will be in the immediate vicinity, of some of the best English Schools of the city.

It may not be improper here to state, for the information of parents and guardians living at a distance, that Baltimore is blessed with a geographical position which renders it at all times healthy, and that children sent hither for their education, will return to their homes, with both mind and body invigorated.

In order to enable Mr. L. and Daughters fully to attend to the intellectual and moral improvement of the pupils who may be entrusted to their charge, the number shall be restricted to twelve; immediate application should therefore be made for terms, &c. at No. 3 West Fayette street, opposite the Rev. Dr Duncan's Church.

N. B.—Classes at schools and private houses attended to, as heretofore.

The French Vaudeville will be resumed in October.
