POETRY.

[From the Western (N. Y.) State Journal.]

The following beautiful Hymn, (written for the occasion, by the Rev. Mr. Pierpont.) was sung with great feeling and effect, at the installation of Rev. J. P. R. Storer over the Unitarian Congregational Society, in Syracuse, June 20.

MINISTER.—Solo.

To thine altar, Holy ONE,
Who dost now this temple fill,
As a servant of thy son,
'Lo, I come to do thy will'

PEOPLE.—Full Choir.

Father, let thy servant's prayer
From thine altar rise to thee!
Make his body's health thy care;
Keep his spirit pure and free.

MINISTER.

To this people would I give
What of strength and light is mine;
But, Lord, that their souls may live,
Give them strength and light divine.

PEOPLE.

Ever on our Pastor's head
Let thy holy spirit fall;
Send thy blessings with the bread
That he breaketh for us all.

MINISTER.

When my hands that bread shall break,
In thy sight may they be clean!
When my lips for thee shall speak,
Let their truth by thee be seen!

PEOPLE.

And when truth, from lips sincere,
To our listening ears shall come;
May it meet a welcome here,
Give it in our hearts a home.

MINISTER.

When my hands no more are spread,
For this people towards thy throne;
Place a worthier in my stead!
Father, leave them not alone!

PEOPLE.

Father, in that solemn hour,
When his spirit leaves its clay,
Take him by the Gospel's power,
To his rest in endless day.

TO THE READERS OF THE AMERICAN FARMER.

MANY years since, the undersigned established the old American Farmer. Without waiting for a single subscriber it was thrown before the public, in the confidence that the greatest interest of the country needed and would give support to a journal honestly devoted to its benefit. That confidence was fully justified by the result. The paper soon obtained a wide circulation, and became the vehicle for disseminating the discoveries of scientific research, and the results of practical experience: Men of the most careful observation and the highest order of talents, made it the medium for communicating their knowledge on every branch of agriculture and rural economy. No periodical that ever was published, could shew among its contributors a more honorable array of names illustrious for every thing that can confer enviable distinction.

Practical Agriculture, heretofore too much regarded as an unintellectual if not vulgar employment, soon took its just rank at the head of honorable pursuits. A thirst for dissertations on its various branches was quickly engendered, and success in any one of them was esteemed a high honor. Even the gallant Chauncey was made President of an Agricultural Society, and was proud to come in for the premium for the second best soil!

To gratify the appetite for agricultural reading, which increased by what it fed upon, other and more able periodicals sprung up and grew apace in various parts of the country, until at present they are to be found pouring light and knowledge, and leading to practical improvements, in every state in the Union. Many of them are conducted with an industry that never tires, and with consummate ability, and at a price to excite wonder how they can live. Under these circumstances the reader will naturally inquire, what motive could lead me to resume the conduct of the American Farmer, lately in such competent and able hands? The answer is a plain one, and the only difficulty in giving it is to obviate the appearance of egotism and of obtruding private concerns and views on the public ear.

On the first of June I shall be relieved by the pleasure of the President, of an important public trust, confided to me it may be, longer than may have comported with my deserts but surrendered thank God, without any charge against my honor or punctuality. The want of employment is of all things the most irksome, not to say dangerous; it being said that an idle man's head is the devil's workshop. Something must be done, therefore, as well from necessity as choice, and whether under adverse or prosperous fortune, no employment of the mind is so congenial to mine, as when it is engaged in enterprises and studies of general utility embracing the interest and promoting the happiness of all classes—and especially as those enterprises and pursuits may be connected with Agriculture, and the sciences and internal improvements which may be made necessary to the dignity and profit of that preeminent calling; and hence my renewed connection with the AMERICAN FARMER and Spirit of the Agricultural Journals of the day.

Mr Roberts who is one of the best men and best writers of his day, has been, more for amusement than profit, for some years past conducting this paper. He has become engaged in pursuits which will be equally useful, and it may be hoped, for his own good sake, more profitable. The printer and proprietor Mr Sands—finding me leaving on my own has applied to me to take the work in hand and as it will bring with it Mr Roberts' good will. I have consented to do it pro tempore and for the Use of the thing. It is with better grace, therefore that I can solicit the patronage of my friends and the public, for it will be bestowed not on one but on a worthier man, and a cause, which is the cause of the country.

I have recommended the proprietor to enlarge the paper, and to give it somewhat more the appearance and character of a miscellaneous and newspaper, without abridging the agricultural matter. Under my advice and arrangement it will be devoted most especially to the dissemination of information on Agriculture generally—and especially on the various Silk the culture of the Beet with view to the manufacture of sugar, and of the Vine for the sake of the grape and wine (what a source these alone, if certain of ultimate success, would be to our country) and from abroad as to the prices of cotton and tobacco and statistics of the trade in these commodities. All improvements in Agricultural Implements, and in the breed and rearing of Domestic Animals will have their full share of attention. When these subjects have been taken care of, the state and politics of our Integral Improvements will be noticed and essays on the general principles of Political Economy will be admitted—but party politics, in which all distinguishing and fundamental principles have been too much lost sight of, will be carefully eschewed.

One thing of real utility may be promised to every patron of the American Farmer—a real bona fide, not a stereotype, price current of the principal commodities which farmers and planters have to buy and sell, though this is a desideratum already supplied, on a scale much more extensive than we can or should think it necessary to do it, by our worthy friend Lyford, whose indefatigable industry in that line ought to be supported by all farmers as well as merchants.

J. S. SKINNER.

☞ THE AMERICAN FARMER, and Spirit of the Agricultural Journals of the day, will be published every Wednesday at $2.50 per annum if paid in advance, or $3 if not paid within six months, which will be strictly enforced—or $10 in advance for five subscribers. Publication office, North st. opposite the Franklin Bank. ☞ Postmasters are requested to act as agents. Letters on business of the office, to be addressed to S. SANDS publisher.

Agricultural Agency.

J. S SKINNER, late Postmaster of Baltimore, & now again Editor of the AMERICAN FARMER, and his son T. B SKINNER offer their services to the Agricultural community, as Agents for the sale or purchase of Real Estate, Domestic Animals of improved breeds, Garden and Field Seeds, and SEED grain of the best kinds and quality—Agricultural Implements, Fruit Trees, and Morus Multicaulis Trees—Silk worm Eggs, Machinery, and all things connected with the Silk Culture

They will use their anxious endeavors to the end that those who employ them shall not be imposed on by the spurious or ill made articles, seed grain, trees, machinery or implements. A moderate commission will be charged. All letters addressed, post paid, to either of the subscribers will be attended to, and answered with promptness and punctuality.

JOURNAL

OF THE

American Silk Society

AND

RURAL ECONOMIST.

At a Convention which met at Baltimore on the 11th of December last, composed of a great number of gentlemen from various parts of the Union, distinguished for their public services, patriotism & practical intelligence, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted after full discussion, in the course of which a great mass of facts and valuable information was elicited.

Resolved, That it is the deliberate opinion of this Convention that Silk may be grown in all the United States not only for domestic purposes, but as a valuable article of commercial export—thereby giving an active employment to American labour, and retaining millions of dollars in our country, that are annually sent out of it for the purchase of silken goods.

Resolved, That a National Silk Journal ought to be established under the auspices of the Executive Committee and all the funds over and above the support of said paper ought to be devoted to the advancement of the silk cause in the United States.

Under the latter resolution the subscriber has been solicited to assume the editorial superintendence of the Journal to be published by the Society, and now, with not the least interest of that fondness (not to say passion) for rural life, and all its pursuits, which tempted him eighteen years since to issue the first number of the old American Farmer, he is but too happy to salute once more his old friends and correspondents, promising to deserve new ones by the most assiduous endeavours, (not incompatible with strict attention to his official duties) to accelerate the growth and progress of what he is convinced is destined to become a great branch of national industry, bringing into active exercise much of the now unproductive laboring power of the country, giving comfort to the widow and the orphan, by offering them suitable and remunerating employment, and making, in the aggregate, a large addition to the wealth and prosperity of our beloved Union.

Though SILK and every thing connected with its production and all improvements in machinery for its preparation and manufacture, will constitute the chief design and aim of the Journal, for the sake of the agreeable and useful variety, a considerable portion of its pages will be dedicated to the justly popular and kindred subjects of agriculture horticulture, and rural and domestic economy—Hence, the adjunctive title 'RURAL ECONOMIST.'

J. S. SKINNER.

The Journal of the American Silk Society will be published monthly, in pamphlet form, each number will contain thirty-two pages, printed on new type and handsome paper with a printed coloured cover.

All persons friendly to the objects of the Journal will please collect at once and transmit the names and subscription money of those who may feel disposed to patronize it.

TERMS.

Two Dollars a year, or six copies for Ten Dollars, always to be paid before the work is sent. All subscriptions to begin with the first number of the year, and in no case will the work be sent to any subscriber longer than it shall have been paid for.

All communications to be addressed, post paid, to GIDEON B. SMITH, Corresponding Secretary of the Society.

All Editors of papers who may desire to see Silk added to the list of American Staples; and who will have the kindness to give this prospectus a few insertions, will be entitled to a copy of the Journal.

Jan. 26, 1839.

NOTICE.

The Vestry of St. Peters Parish, having obtained subscriptions to the amount specified, upon which they would commence (though very inadequate to its completion) the new Episcopal Church in Easton, requests the subscribers to make payment to Wm. H Groome, Treasurer, according to the terms of said subscription.—to wit; one fifth within sixty days from the date of this advertisement, and the remainder in equal installments of 60 days each; unless it should be equally agreeable to pay all at once, if so it will be thankfully received, as they now wish to commence the purchase of materials.
