POETRY.

AUTUMN IN AMERICA.

We trust that we shall find an excuse ready for us at the hands of every reader, for reviving in our columns the following exquisite bit of verse from the pen of Fanny Kemble. It is so peculiarly adapted to the time of the year, that we must place it before the readers of the Tattler and Jonathan.—[Eds. N. Y. Tattler.

AUTUMN.

Written after a ride by the Schulkill in October.

BY MISS FANNY KEMBLE.

Thou comest not in sober guise,
In mellow cloak of russet clad—
Thine are no melancholy skies,
Nor hueless flowers, pale and sad;
But, like an emperor, triumphing,
With gorgeous robes of Tyrian dyes;
Full flush of fragrant blossoming,
And glowing purple canopies.
How call ye this the season's fall,
That seems the pageant of the year?
Richer and brighter far than all
The pomp that Spring and Summer wear?
Red falls the western light of day
On rock and stream and winding shore;
Soft woody banks and granite gray
With amber clouds are curtained o'er;
The wide clear waters sleeping lie
Beneath the evening's wings of gold,
And on their glassy breast the sky
And banks their mingled hues unfold.
Far in the tangled woods, the ground
Is strewn with fallen leaves, that lie
Like crimson carpets all around
Beneath a crimson canopy.
The sloping sun with arrows bright
Pierces the forest's waving maize,
The universe seems wrapt in light,
A floating robe of rosy haze.
Oh Autumn! thou art here a king—
And round thy throne the smiling hours
A thousand fragrant tributes bring,
Of golden fruits and blushing flowers.

Oh! not upon the fading fields and fells
In such rich garb doth Autumn come to thee,
My home!—but o'er thy mountains and thy dells
His footsteps fall slowly and solemnly,
Nor flower nor bud remaineth there to him,
Save the faint breathing rose, that, round the year,
Its crimson buds and pale soft blossoms dim,
In lowly beauty constantly doth wear.
O'er yellow stubble lands in mantle brown
He wanders through the wan October light!
Still, as he goeth, slowly stripping down
The garlands green that were the Springs' delight
At morn and eve thin silver vapors rise
Around his path; but sometimes at mid-day
He looks along the hills with gentle eyes,
That make the sallow woods and fields seem gay.
Yet something of sad sovereignty he hath—
A sceptre crown'd with berries ruby red,
And the cold sobbing wind bestrews his path
With wither'd leaves, that rustle 'neath his tread;
And round him still, in melancholy state,
Sweet solemn thoughts of death and of decay,
In silow and hush'd attendance, ever wait,
Telling how all things fair must pass away.

WATER PROOF CLOTH.

The water proof cloth of various quality and texture, manufactured by the Lowell Water Proof Company, is exciting much attention—and will, we doubt not prove a valuable invention. If a piece of it is extended over a glass vessel, and hot water poured upon it—the steam will pass, and be condensed on the vessel—but not a drop of water will pass through the cloth—showing that it is porus, but water tight—and will admit the passage of air or steam. If a piece is placed beneath a trickling rill of water from a wrter-cock all night, the under side of the cloth will be found free from dampness. From this it wou'd seem that cartridges prepared of this cloth might be submerged a long time in water and then fired—and thus a magazine could be drowned in case of fire on ship board, without injuring the powder! With a pea-jacket of this prepared cloth, no sailor need "turn in wet, and turn out smoking," as has often been the lot of poor Pilgarlick, in days gone by.

Neither will moths trouble it.—and as they are wont to do with other kinds of cloths, puncture holes in it in summer, to let in water in winter. As an article for the manufacture of caps it must prove of great value—and we may now hope to see the awkward looking and inconvenient fur hat—which is not a fit covering for the head either in summer or winter, laid upon the shelf.

Such are a few of the advantages which the community will derive from this invention—and the water proof cloth can be furnished at a price but a little exceeding the price of cloth of similar texture, and of the ordinary character. Many other important advantages will at once occur to the mind of the reader.

150 Dollars REWARD.

Runaway from the subscriber on Wednesday night, the 23d inst. while at Easton, a mulatto boy named about 19 years of age and five feet, six inches high.

Joe Thomas,

He is rather stout made with a mouth somewhat prominent and particularly so when displeased.—He is well supplied with clothing, having among his other clothes two broad cloth coats, one much worn, with a velvet collar, and the other of some fancy color with bright buttons quite new and a fur hat; but it has not yet been ascertained whether he has taken any other clothes than those worn by him, when he left home, which consisted of a round jacket and trousers with a drab overcoat, and a hair cap. He can both read and write tolerably well, and having a mother now residing in Baltimore, it is probable that he will make his way to that place. His mother's name is SOPHY.

I will give the above reward for his apprehension if taken out of the State, or $100, if taken within the state and out of the county, and $50 if taken in Talbot county, in each case to be secured in the Jail at Easton.

SHINN & SELLERS'

CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS AGAIN TRIUMPHANT OVER DISEASE—SPASMODIC ASTHMA CURED BY THEIR USE!!

Messrs. SHINN & SELLERS.—You are aware that for the last six months I have been in the use of your Pills, though you may not know the complaint for which I have used them.

Some fifteen years ago, being sorely troubled with spasmodic asthma, I was relieved from it by lobelia Last summer the complaint returned upon me with increased violence, from which I received not the least relief by the use of lobelia.

A friend persuaded me to make trial of your Pills, though, to be candid, I had not much faith in them, for the reason that, from what I could discover, you had not recommended them in asthma. I was however, relieved by them. Still I had a relapse of the complaint. Again I had recourse to the Pills—and now, after a patient and persevering use of them, I feel that I am cured of 'spasmodic asthma.'

Last summer my eldest son, being at Louisville, Ky., was violently seized with the prevailing sickness, congestive fever. Having recovered from it so far to return home: here however he had a violent relapse of the fever. After recovering from it, he began to feel a pain in the region of the liver, which increasing daily seemed to demand prompt attention. Suffice it to say, he was cured by the use of your Pills.

As you have requested of me a 'statement of facts' with respect to the benefit I and my son have received from your Pills, I have given it with a scrupulous regard to accuracy.

Your's, with esteem,

N. RUGGLES SMITH.

A FARM For Sale.

Will be sold at private sale, a farm containing about 800 acres of land, situated on the New London road, two miles above the Village of Newark, and about the same distance from the lime quarries. About one half of the farm is arable land, which though somewhat exhausted, could easily be put into a good state of cultivation, being of a clay soil. The rest of the land is finely timbered with black oak, hickory, poplar, &c., except about 40 acres of low ground, which, at a small expense, could be made good meadow land. The farm is well watered, the Christiana Creek running through it, and besides, there is a spring of excellent water in every field. The timber on the farm, if sold, would be more than sufficient pay to the purchase money. Also, a SMALL FARM, containing 150 acres, in Chester County, Pa., known as the Price property. If they are not sold at private sale by the 1st day of November next, they will, on that day, be exposed to public sale at the house of Richard Jones, Innkeeper, in the Village of Newark.

For further particulars and terms apply to HENRY WHITELY, in Wilmington, or the subscriber in Newark.
