Translated from the German.

THE WORTH OF WOMAN.

Honored be woman! she beams on the sight,
Graceful and fair, like a being of light;
Scatters around her, wherever she strays,
Roses of Bliss o'er our thorn covered ways;
Roses of Paradise, sent from above,
To be gathered and twined in a garland of love.

Man on Passion's stormy ocean,
Tossed by surges mountains high,
Court's the hurricane's commotion,
Springs at Reason's feeble cry.
Loud the tempest roars around him,
Louder still it roars within;
Flashing lights of hope confound him,
Stuns him life's incessant din.

Woman invites him, with bliss in her smile,
To cease from his toil, and be happy awhile,
Whispering wooingly—come to my bower;
Go not in search of the phantom of power;
Honor and wealth are illusory—come!
Happiness dwells in the temples of Home.

Man, with fury stern and savage,
Persecutes his brother man,
Reckless if he bless or ravage,
Action—action—still his plan,
Now creating—now destroying—
Ceaseless wishes tear his breast;
Ever seeking—ne'er enjoying—
Still to be—but never blest.

Woman, contented in silent repose,
Enjoys in its beauty life's flower as it blows,
And waters and tends it with innocent heart;
Far richer than man with his treasures of art,
And wiser by far in her circle confined,
Than he with his science, and flights of the mind,

Coldly to himself sufficing,
Man disdains the gentler arts,
Knoweth not the bliss arising,
From the interchange of hearts.
Slowly through his bosom stealing,
Flows the genial current on,
Till by age's frost congealing,
It is hardened into stone.

She, like the harp that instinctively rings,
As the night breathing zephyr soft sighs on the strings,
Responds on each impulse with ready reply,
Whether sorrow or pleasure her sympathy try
And tear-drops and smile on her countenance play,
Like sunshine and showers of a morning in May.

Through the range of man's dominion,
Terror is the ruling word.
And the standard of opinion,
Is the temper of the sword.
Strife exults, and pity, blushing,
From the scene desparing flies,
Where to battle madly rushing,
Brother upon brother dies!

Woman commands with a milder control,
She rules by enchantment the realm of the soul;
As she glances around in the light of her smile,
The war of the Passions is hushed for a while,
And discord, content from his fury to cease,
Reposes entranced on the pillows of peace.

PHILOSOPHY.—Political editors are great philosophers—they make every event—every election—whether defeated or triumphant, a subject of rejoicing. The democratic scribblers affect to be glad on the whole, that their party were defeated in the election of Marcy, as Governor, because if they had not been, something else would have been 'to pay.' In like manner the whig editors rejoice over their defeat in Massachusetts. It was just so with old Mr. Hodge, a Vermont farmer. His son Ben came in one day and said:—

'Father, that old black sheep has got two lambs.'

'Good,' says the old man, that's the most profitable sheep on the farm.'

'But one on 'em's dead,' added Ben.

'Im glad on't,' says the father, 'it'll be better for the old sheep.'

'But 'tother's dead too,' says Ben.

'So much the better,' rejoins the old man, 'she'll make a grand piece of mutton in the fall.'

'Yes—but the old sheep's dead too,' exclaims Ben.

'Dead! dead!—what, the old sheep dead!' cries old Hodge, 'that's good, darn her!—she always was an ugly old scamp!'

RUNNING AWAY WITH AN HEIRRESS.—The New York Whig gives the following romantic incident: On Monday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, a one horse carriage containing a lady and gentleman, was observed in the Third Avenue, proceeding outwards but at such a pace as to excite no curiosity. Scarcely, however, had the carriage time to leave Tenth street—than a gentleman, in a high state of excitement, and mounted on a powerful bay horse, came up, riding furiously, and having made a brief enquiry relative to the party in the carriage, and learned they were a short distance in advance of him, dashed off at full speed. Two gentlemen in surprise followed until they reached Seventieth street, where they found the dismounted horseman lying on the road side, in a state of insensibility, and a man and a woman chafing his temples, and rubbing his hands, in order to restore him. The unfortunate gentleman had received a severe wound with a heavy blunt instrument, on the side of the head, and the thumb of his right hand was broken—a heavy club was lying on the ground. The man and woman were questioned and said they had perceived the carriage driving on at a rapid rate, and the single man in pursuit—and the moment the latter came up with the vehicle, he struck at one of the parties within with a club.

The gentleman in the carriage then snapped a pistol in the face of the rider but missed fire, whereupon he jumped out of the carriage, and at the same instant, the horseman sprang to the ground and grappled with him. The parties then struggled fiercely with each other for about half a minute, but the single rider, being by much the largest and most powerful man, flung his opponent to the ground, and put his knee upon his breast, and was commencing to beat him violently upon the face with clenched hands, when suddenly the lady threw herself out of the carriage—and, having seized the club which had fallen from the horseman's hand, she dealt his horse a tremendous blow, which caused it to dash off like mad in the direction of the city.—She then advanced upon the struggling parties and struck at the head of her late pursuer but he parried the blow with his right hand, thereby received the injury in his thumb. In the following instant, however, the lady effected her apparent purpose, for her second blow took effect on the side of the wounded man's head, and caused him to loose his hold, and fall over quite senseless. The heroine of the scene than assisted her companion, who appeared to be considerably hurt, into the carriage—and then drove off as fast as the horses could carry them. When sufficiently recovered, the wounded man said that the lady who had injured him was his own niece, who had lived with him from childhood—that they were but three weeks in this city, during which time she had become acquainted with the person she was running away with—who he believes is a young lawyer—and further that she is worth in her own right upwards of three hundred thousand dollars when she comes of age, which will be in a few months. The name of the wounded gentleman is George F. Ledwith, of Augusta, Georgia, who, with his niece, had recently arrived from Europe—and the lady's name is Evaline Hamilton, but we have not been able to discover the name of the fortunate lawyer. Mr. Ledwith also informed Mr. Osborn that the lady is very beautiful, and that she had treated him with the most devoted tenderness and affection until the period of the occurrence related above.

"SISTER NANCE AND THE AGER.—We were travelling not long since, in Illinois and called at a house near the road side to solicit a drink of water when the following conversation occurred:

'Well my boy, how long have you lived here?'

'I don't know, sir, but mother says ever since I was born.'

'Have you any brothers or sisters?'

'Yes, a few.'

'How many?'

'Ten or eleven, I reckon.'

'Pretty healthy here, isn't it?'

'Yes, but sometimes we have a little ager.'

'Any of you got it now?'

'Yes, a few on us goin' to have the shakes this afternoon.'

'How many?'

'Why all on us, 'cept sister Nance, and she's sich a darnation cross critter, the ager wont take on her; and if it did, she is so cussed contrary she would'nt shake, no how you could fix her!'

AN EXTENSIVE SWINDLER.

The last Iberville Gazette has the following letter from a notorious scamp, named Wm. C. Thayer, whose mal-practices in the neighborhood of Plaquemine some time since, drove him from the place. If his account of his own transactions be true, he must be as finished a rascal as runs loose. The letter is written to a gentleman at Plaquemine. Hear him.

Mobile, Dec. 9, 1839.

"Sir:—

As I am about to Leave the Land and take to the Seas I thought to drop you a few lines I am aware that the Whole world is against me but I asked them no boot the Giraff came from Vicksburg to your town to look for me for a draft of a thousand and Sixty dollars I sold him I saw this world was a Swindling Concern and I thought I might Come in for my Share he Reported that Some Gentleman in Nathez was concerned with me it is false I am a Jackson man I Gow the Whole Hog by myself no man Knows my business But should any more Giraffs come to look for me tell them they had better save their time and the balance of their money I Left them With I showd no partiahality I have given them all a turn with my checks from Vicksburg N. Orleans, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Wheeling, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, New York, the Broakers on Wall Street in New York are very Smart but I sold them nine thousand dollars I was Philadelphia the morning after the Suspension I sold a Broker a check on New York for five thousand he Jumpt at it like a dog at a boan he thought of the specie he should Get but I think he could bring it in his pocket I also gave the Broakers a turn in Baltimore, Charleston, Augusta, Ga. then I came to the Small Broakers in Huntsville, Montgomery, Florence and Tuscaloosa I have made only seventy three Thousand dollars since august last I sale this afternoon for the Island of Cuba and then on the Coast of Africa they have not negroes in Texas to Work the Land and I shall Import some for them I have been here Seventeen days fitting up my Vessel for the Business they need not send their John Bulls or any other Bull after her for I can out sail a Streak of Lightning I spared no Pains nor expense on her she cost me the Ris of Forty Thousand dollars. Respectfully Yours.

Notice.

Was taken as a stray on the 8th day of February, 1840, on the road, leading from Easton to Centreville, a Sorrell Horse, supposed to be 12 or 13 years old, about 14 hands high, small white star in his forehead and some small white spots on his back.—Shod, all-round, had on when taken up a saddle and bridle, nearly new, the stirrups made of wood.

The owner is requested to prove property pay charges and take him away.

The St. Michaels Academy,

Incorporated at the last session of the General Assembly of Maryland, will be open for the reception of Students on Monday the 6th day of April next, under the direction of M. Spencer, recently of the Beverly Seminary. The course of studies will embrace all the branches usually taught in such institutions, to wit: the Latin and Greek languages, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, use of the Globes, Algebra, Geometry, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Mensuration, Heights and Distances &c, &c, together with History, Chronology Declamation, Composition, Grecian and Roman Antiquities, Logic and the elements of Moral and Natural Philosophy.

With the view to furnish facilities to persons of every grade of fortune, for the education of their children, this institution has been established under legislative authority upon the cheapest plan possible. The charge for Tuition will not exceed $6.25 a quarter, or $25 00 a year, and boarding can be had in the village and neighborhood at various prices, never exceeding $2 00 a week. St. Michaels is as healthful as any town in the United States, and as beautifully located as any on the Eastern Shore of Maryland—it being on an isthmus of 300 yards in width between the waters of Choptank and Miles Rivers. Besides the advantage of health the village possesses a very great one as a site for a literary institution in the absence of all the demoralizing allurements which render towns generally objectionable in the estimation of parents having children to educate. The notice and patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

JOSEPH BRUFF, Pres't.

P. S. In consequence of the severity of the winter it has been impossible to make preparations for opening the Academy as proposed. It is therefore postponed to the first Monday in April.

THE CASKET

AND

PHILADELPHIA MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

PROSPECTUS OF A NEW VOLUME.

The unparalleled success which has attended The Casket since it came into the hands of the new proprietors, induces them to begin a volume with

Still Further Attractions,

ITS LITERARY CHARACTER.

Which has called forth so many comments, will undergo no change; as the Magazine will still continue under the control of the same editors. Several

NEW CONTRIBUTORS, OF HIGH TALENT, however, have been engaged, beside those who have already been enlisted in its favor.

The Magazine will be enlarged, and will contain a greater quantity of reading matter than any periodical published at the same price in this country. The work will appear in

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL TYPE,

Cast expressly for the purpose, and will be printed on the finest paper.

It will also be ornamented with

Fine Steel Engravings,

provided at a heavy expense, and executed from the choicest designs. To vary the style of these illustrations, the services of distinguished artists have been engaged to furnish at intervals

MEZZOTINTS FOR THE ENSUING VOLUME.

The Heads of Several Distinguished American Writers

Will appear in the course of the year. The publishers, determined to leave nothing undone to merit the patronage of a liberal public, have resolved, after much solicitation from many of their fair readers, to publish quarterly, as an extra,

Correct Plates of the Latest Fashions, Highly Colored,

and executed in the first style of the art. This department will be under the control of a French gentlemen, of much taste and experience, and will be found to excel ANY THING EVER ATTEMPTED IN THIS LINE IN AMERICA.—The extra in the present (November) number, may be considered a fair specimen of what these fashion plates will be. The music department, as heretofore, will be under the charge of Messrs. G. W. Hewitt & Co. and the fine pieces of Copy right Music which they have hitherto furnished are a sufficient guarantee for the future.

The flattering terms in which the Casket has been noticed by the journals in every section of the Union, establish beyond a doubt its claims to support generally—It will surpass any other work in the return it gives for the reader's money.

TERMS—$3 per annum, invariably in advance, or two copies for five dollars.
