ON CHRISTIAN LOVE.

Hast thou, reader, felt that flame divine?
Which, all intense, doth cause to shine
Life's dullest scene, and sepeet drear—
Doth lighten hearts o'erwhelmed with fear—
Passions calm—darkness turn to day,
So rife on Pilgrim's lonely way;
That firm tie which makes two Spirits one,
Seals their bliss till time his course has run;
That binding chain in humble spheres,
'Midst social scenes that know no tears.
Methinks, in turn, I hear thee say
I in gentle tones, I own its sway.
What a chaos were life of man
Without this ray to bless its span!
Its magic spell doth turn to Eden
The moments calm of winter's even —
The soul exalt, each thought refine—
Uplift the heart,—whilst all combine,
Fitting us for ne'er ending joys,
When soar'd aloof all worldly toys.
Let worldlings hurl the deadly lance,
Let brainless heads enjoy the dance;
The hour shall come when piercing darts
Shall be their curse as time departs,
And the giddy round lay down
Their richness at Jehovah's frown.
If just my song of Christian love—
The gift of Him—a heav'nly dove,
Then 'way with cold formality,
Let's make friends with reality.
Let each mental act appear undrest,
Or clothed in nature's loveliest vest;
Each action bear th' impress of reason,
And let our times be each in season,
Now mark the whole—see what joy
Crowns the man without alloy;
Who thinks, speaks, acts by Christian love—
The gift of Him—a heav'nly dove.

WEST-END.

From the Baltimore Patriot.

JOHN C. CALHOUN MY JO.

A COMIC POLITICAL SONG.

Tune—'John Anderson my Jo.'

John C. Calhoun my Jo John, I'm sorry, for your fate.
You've nullify'd the Tariff laws, you've nullify'd your State;
You've nullify'd your party, John, and principles, you know,
And now you've nullify'd yourself, John C Calhoun my Jo.

Oh! John, how could you look into the face of Henry Clay?
The glory of the Western World and of the World away;
You call'd yourself his 'master,' John, but that can ne'er be so,
For he 'would not own you for a slave,' John C. Calhoun my Jo.

The Father of the Tariff, John, and Patron of the Arts,
He seeks to build his country up in spite of foreign parts;
And Harrison will soon upset the little Van & Co.
And renovate the Ship of State, John C. Calhoun my Jo,

John C. Calhoun my Jo John, ambition in despair
Once made you nullify the whole, the half of it to share;
The 'whole hog now you've gone,' John, with Kendall, Blair & Co.
But 'you've got the wrong sow by the ear,' John C. Calhoun my Jo.

American mechanics, John, will never sell their votes
For Mint drops or for Treasury bills, or even British coats;
They want no English coaches, John, white servants they forego,
For their carriage is of Yankee stamp, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

Oh! John he is a slippery blade with whom you've got to deal,
He'll pass between your clutches too, just like a living eel;
You think he'll recommend you, John, but Van will ne'er do so,
For he wants the fishes for himself, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

John C. Calhoun my Jo John, if this you dare to doubt
Go ask the Living Skeleton, who deals his secret out;
His favorites are mark'd John, the mark you cannot toe,
And you'll soon repent the bargain made, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

This is a dirty business, John, go wash your little hands,
And never bow your knee again to cunning Van's commands;
'How are you off for soap,' John, I cannot say I know,
But 'your mother does not know you're out,' John C. Calhoun my Jo.

The brave sons of the South, John, will never own you more,
And Benton's Mint drops will not save—you're rotton to the core:
The people will no power, John, on such as you bestow,
And you've jumped your final somerset, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

John C. Calhoun my Jo John, you'll ride with little Van,
From yonder Whited Sepulchre, with all his motly clan;
The journey will be long, John, now mind I tell you so,
For they never can return again, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

Then better mess my Jo John, our sad affairs will fix,
Republicans in principle, the Whigs of Seventy-Six;
The offices they'll purge, John, Swartwouters all will go,
And sycophantic fellows too, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

The Farmer of North Bend, John, will plough the weeds away,
And the terror of Tecumseh then will gain another day;
America will flourish John, mechanics find employ,
And our merchants will rejoice indeed, John C. Calhoun my Jo.

John C. Calhoun my Jo John, when one term shall expire,
He'll drop the reins of power and with dignity retire,
To look upon a smiling land, that he has render'd so,
And every Whig will cry AMEN! John C. Calhoun my Jo.

SHARPE'S
NEW VARIETY

MULBERRY.

The undersigned, being General Agent for George W. Benson & Co., the present Proprietors of this celebrated species of Mulberry, would respectfully call the attention of his fellow Citizens, interested in the culture of trees and the growing of silk, to the superior excellence of this variety over all others, as proved by experiments actually made by the responsible individuals whose names are attached to the following certificates.

To guard the public against deception, all agents for their sale will have a certificate of agency, signed by one of the proprietors or the subscriber. To those who wish to bring them forward in hot houses this winter, a few choice scions are offered, at five dollars each. The proprietors wish to have a few grown this season in each state in the Union, that the country generally may become acquainted with their superior excellence. Orders, will therefore be received from any section, and as practicable will be supplied on the following terms: viz., where ten or more buds are ordered, the company will engraft and warrant to live, at five dollars each, or they will furnish roots already engrafted, and warranted, at five dollars each.

Any person who may procure and forward orders (and become responsible,) for twelve or more buds or engratted trees, shall be entitled to ten per cent. Orders from a distance should be forwarded early that the services of experienced nurserymen may be secured to deliver trees or buds and do the engrafting. All Editors who may give this with the following certificates, or their substance abridged, one insertion, and send two of the papers containing it, to the subscriber, shall be entitled either to one good scion, or an engrafted tree. All communications, POST PAID, will receive attention.

ELIAS SHARPE.
Windham, Conn.

Jan. 22, 1840.

BELCHERTOWN Oct. 31, 1839.

Whereas considerable interest is manifested by the public, respecting a new and extraordinary kind of Mulberry, called Sharpe's new variety—and we, the subscribers being father and son, having raised the original tree, make the following statement of facts concerning its origin and history. Nine years ago, last spring we sowed some imported mulberry seed, among which this tree came up, and the second year from the seed it grew in one season twelve feet eight inches, and bore a leaf about the size of the morus multicaulis, but much thicker and heavier After the second season the tree was transplanted, and has never been cultivated; yet it exceeds in rapid growth any thing of the wood kind we ever saw, measuring at this time twenty three inches around the trunk, tapering but little till it branches. It has never been sheltered, or in the least defended from storms or frost, and endures the weather equally as well as apple or forest trees. Last spring it was critically examined, when not the tip of a limb, or bud, could be found in the least injured by the winter. We should think it puts forth leaves from one to two weeks earlier in the spring than the white mulberry The leaves never have been spotted, or any way defective, like other kinds, but remain fresh and perfect until killed by the frost The other trees standing in the nursery with it, grew but 4 or 5 feet in two seasons, and resembled the white mulberry

Having fed the leaves, together with other varieties, to worms for some years past, and it being evident, by several experiments, that they preferred this leaf to any other, this fact induced us, last season, to feed a number exclusively on the new variety, and an equal number on the multicaulis. Accordingly, we hatched our worms early in the month of August last, equally divided them, kept them in the same room, fed and tended them as nearly alike as possible. Each appeared to be healthy and did well. Those fed on the new variety wound about three days the first. After all had wound, we selected forty of the best cocoons from each parcel, and by weighing each, found that twenty seven cocoons of the new vatiety were as heavy as forty of the best made from the multicaulis.

In our opinion, the above mentioned tree, in all important qualities, is preferable to any other kind, and must prove a valuable acquisition to the silk-producing interests of our country, and give entire satisfaction to the grower.

It is proper to say, we have now no interest whatever in the tree, and therefore no inducements to make the above statements but justice to the public and the wrongfully

The Cambridge Chronicle, and Centreville Times, will confer a favor by copying the above.

The St. Michaels Academy,

Incorporated at the last session of the General Assembly of Maryland, will be open for the reception of Students on Monday the 6th day of April next, under the direction of M. Spencer, recently of the Beverly Seminary The course of studies will embrace all the branches usually taught in such institutions, to wit: the Latin and Greek languages, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, use of the Globes, Algebra, Geometry, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Mensuration, Heights and Distances, &c., &c, together with History, Chronology, Declamation, Composition, Grecian and Roman Antiquities, Logic and the elements of Moral and Natural Philosophy.

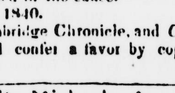

With the view to furnish facilities to persons of every grade of fortune, for the education of their children, this institution has been established under legislative authority upon the cheapest plan possible. The charge for Tuition will not exceed $6.25 a quarter, or $25.00 a year, and boarding can be had in the village and neighborhood at various prices, never exceeding $2 00 a week. St. Michaels is as healthful as any town in the United States, and as beautifully located as any on the Eastern Shore of Maryland—it being on an isthmus of 300 yards in width between the waters of Choptank and Miles Rivers. Besides the advantage of health the village possesses a very great one as a site for a literary institution in the absence of all the demoralizing allurements which render towns generally objectionable in the estimation of parents having children to educate. The notice and patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

By order of the Board of Trustees,
JOSEPH BRUFF, Pres't.

P. S. In consequence of the severity of the winter it has been impossible to make preparations for opening the Academy as proposed. It is therefore postponed to the first Monday in April.

AND

PHILADELPHIA MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

PROSPECTUS OF A NEW VOLUME.

The unparalleled success which has attended The Casket since it came into the hands of the new proprietors, induces them to begin a volume with

Still Further Attractions,

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY NEXT.

ITS LITERARY CHARACTER.

Which has called forth so many comments, will undergo no change; as the Magazine will still continue under the control of the same editors. Several

NEW CONTRIBUTORS OF HIGH TALENT, however, have been engaged, beside those who have already been enlisted in its favor.

The Magazine will be enlarged and will contain a greater quantity of reading matter than any periodical published at the same price in this country. The work will appear in

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL TYPE,

Cast expressly for the purpose, and will be printed on the finest paper.

It will also be ornamented with

Fine Steel Engravings,

provided at a heavy expense, and executed from the choicest designs. To vary the style of these illustrations, the services of distinguished artists have been engaged to furnish at intervals

MEZZOTINTS FOR THE ENSUING VOLUME.

The Heads of Several Distinguished American Writers

Will appear in the course of the year. The publishers determined to leave nothing undone to merit the patronage of a liberal public, have resolved, after much solicitation from many of their fair readers, to publish quarterly, as an extra,

Correct Plates of the Latest Fashions, Highly Colored,

and executed in the first style of the art. This department will be under the control of a French gentlemen, of much taste and experience, and will be found to excel ANY THING EVER ATTEMPTED IN THIS LINE IN AMERICA.—The extra in the present (November) number, may be considered a fair specimen of what these fashion plates will be. The music department, as heretofore, will be under the charge of Messrs. G. W. Hewitt & Co. and the fine pieces of Copy right Music which they have hitherto furnished are a sufficient guarantee for the future.

The flattering terms in which the Casket has been noticed by the journals in every section of the Union, establish beyond a doubt its claims to support generally—It will surpass any other work in the return it gives for the reader's money.

TERMS—$3 per annum, invariably in advance, or two copies for five dollars.
