MILITARY GLORY.

The bones of the soldiers who fell at Waterloo have been dug up and transported to Hull, in England, to be ground into manure and sold to the farmers.—Eng. Paper.

Alas! what a picture is here,
And what shadows we vainly pursue!
Ye lovers of Glory! come near—
Lo, the field where in triumph the British flag flew!
The great Aceldama! the far-famed Waterloo!

Behold what of Glory survives!
Here the wretches, exhuming the bones
Of Heroes, who yarill'd their lives,
And who fell amidst carnage, commingling their groans
That the Scourgers of Earth might be seated on thrones.

To England they bear them to grind
Unto powder, to fertilize land—
To her who hath borne them, consign'd,
And the dust of the son, who died wielding his brand,
To be scatter'd on earth by a parent's own hand!

Ambition! sit then on this plain,
Like the prophet Ezekiel, of yore,
'Dry bones' are here 'shaking' again—
'Will the flesh and the sinews come on them once more?'
'Or the breath come again, when they hear the winds roar?'*

Ah, yes, when that Trumpet shall sound,
At whose summons the boldest heart faints!
But will they with laurels be crown'd?
No—the glory no tarnish from earth ever taints
Shall be theirs—'the great army of Martyrs and Saints.'

The soldiers of Christ shall be crown'd
When that trumpet shall rouse them from sleep,
Where then will Earth's Heroes be found?
O'er this field and the fallen what heart but must weep?
For 'who soweth the wind, he the whirlwind must reap.'†

From the Maryland Colonization Journal.

We republish the following document from the United States Gazette. It will be seen that the larger portion of the vessels reported to be engaged in the foreign slave trade in the year 1839, are Baltimore built vessels; this all may be the case, and yet our city cannot be justly censured as being engaged in this nefarious traffic more than any other city in the Union. We have looked over the names of the different commanders of these vessels, and find but one or two only in directory of last year, bearing the same name. This may so have happened by chance, and captains engaged in this business may possibly bear the same name of Baltimore captains who would scorn the trade. Again, another one of these vessels, the Rebecca, said to have had on board instructions from her owner, J. Murphy, of Baltimore: we cannot find that we have such a citizen. These persons, for aught we know, may be all Englishmen. Be this as it may, there is one thing of which we are certain, and that is, that our sister cities to the eastward furnish as many facilities for this traffic as our own.

The most, if not all of these vessels no doubt, were built for a very different trade. The greater number of them, doubtless, were chartered in the Havana, to convey trade goods, such as tobacco, cloth, &c. from that place to a consignee in Africa, and the vessel having been sold by her captain, or supercargo, on account of the enormous price given by these Spanish traders, for clipper built vessels, have in this manner, bearing their Baltimore character, got into this trade frequently in a very indirect manner. Doubtless the former captain's name, as a matter of convenience, is very often assumed by his successor. We have known the American name, and port to remain on the stern of vessel, after the said vessel has been sold and re-sold several different times, on this coast. If we have citizens engaged in this nefarious and piratical business, we have no objection to see them marked out by the finger of scorn, and if possible, brought to punishment, but let us be careful not to confound the innocent with the guilty. Let the case be as it may, there is one thing we fearlessly assert, and that is, although one of these vessels bears the name of one of our most respected merchants, he never in his life has had any connection or agency in this traffic. Furthermore, we are assured that he has never seen the vessel that his name is coupled with.

SLAVE TRADE.

American vessels engaged in the slave trade on the west coast of Africa, during the spring and summer of 1839, whose names have been communicated to the Secretary of the Navy by Thos. Buchanan, Governor of Liberia, and agent of the United States for recaptured Africans:

The Venus, of Baltimore, a ship of 466 tons, sailed in April with 860 slaves on board for Havana, Wm. Philips, master. She is now, in November, reported to be back on the coast, fully armed and prepared for resistance. On her last voyage, she cleared, after paying all expenses, $200,000.

The Traveller, a Baltimore schooner, after coasting here for some weeks, collecting rice, &c., for the factories, sailed in May with a full cargo of slaves for the Havana. She is reported to be again on the coast.

The Wyoming, captured by H. B. M. brig Buzzard, and sent to the United States.

The Eagle, of Baltimore, sent home by a British cruiser.

In April, two American schooners were sent into Sierra Leone by H. B. M. brigs Lyle and Saracen, completely fitted for the slave trade—The court would not receive them on account of their be-Americans.

The 'Hugh Boyle,' of Baltimore, a schooner of 120 tons, sailed in the spring with 160 slaves on board. She returned a short time since from Havana, and about the middle of October, sailed again from the Gallinas, with a full cargo of slaves.

The 'Mary Ann Cassard,' was taken fitted for the slave trade, and sent into Sierra Leone by Lieut. Kellett, of H. B. M. brig Brisk. The court would not receive her and Lieut. Kellett was amerced in damages for violating the American flag. Two weeks afterwards she was taken with more than 200 slaves.

The Lago was taken by the 'Termagant' and carried into Sierra Leone, completely fitted for slaves. The court refused to receive her. Not long afterwards she was taken by the Saracen just as she was about to receive her slaves on board. She had made away with the American flag and papers, and had the Spanish up at the time; consequently she was condemned and cut up.

The Euphrates of Baltimore, taken by Lord F. J. Russell, delivered to me in July and sent to Philadelphia in August.

The 'Jak Wilking,' of Baltimore, schooner, Wm. Young, commander, taken in British Acra, full cargo and 1100 doucloons—H. B. M. brig Dolphin.

The Wakun, captured at New Costors in July, then under Spanish, but a short time before under American colours, (of New Orleans.)

The 'Victoria,' of New Orleans, on the coast during most of the summer, under American colours, doing business for the slaves. She sailed from here with about 400 slaves, and was captured under Spanish colours at St. Jago de Cuba, with 270 on board, the rest having perished.

The 'Rebecca,' of Baltimore, taken under Spanish colours, and carried into Sierra Leone and condemned. Her American papers and flag were found on board of her, with a letter from her owner, J. Murphy, of Baltimore, directing the captain how to proceed—to destroy the American colours and papers when the slaves should be received, &c.

The 'George Cook' of Baltimore Wm Weems, master, sailed in September from Kobenhe, with 320 slaves.

The Butterfly, American brigantine, captured in English waters and carried into Sierra Leone.

My Boy, a schooner of New Orleans Last year she sailed from the coast with a full cargo of slaves. In October last she was captured at British Acra, fitted for the slave trade—J. Harvey, master.

Charleston, of Charleston, sailed from Gallinas in January last, with 300 slaves.

Hyperion, of Baltimore, Wm. Hackland, master, some time on the coast under American colours—November '38, she was taken under Spanish colours and condemned.

'Mary Cushing,' of Baltimore, once taken and brought into Sierra Leone, and cleared on account of her American character. A few months afterwards on the 21st of October, 1839, she was brought in with 427 slaves on board—Captain an American.

The Mary, of Baltimore, taken at Gallinas completely fitted for the slave trade, carried into Sierra Leone, cleared on account of her American character.

'The Sarah and Priscilla,' schooner of Baltimore now on the coast, all prepared for slaves.

The St. Michaels Academy,

Incorporated at the last session of the General Assembly of Maryland, will be open for the reception of Students on Monday the 6th day of April next, under the direction of M. Spencer, recently of the Beverly Seminary. The course of studies will embrace all the branches usually taught in such institutions, to wit: the Latin and Greek languages, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, use of the Globes, Algebra, Geometry, Plane and Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Mensuration, Heights and Distances, &c. &c. together with History, Chronology, Declamation, Composition, Grecian and Roman Antiquities, Logic and the elements of Moral and Natural Philosophy.

With the view to furnish facilities to persons of every grade of fortune, for the education of their children, this institution has been established under legislative authority upon the cheapest plan possible. The charge for Tuition will not exceed $6 25 a quarter, or $25 00 a year, and boarding can be had in the village and neighborhood at various prices, never exceeding $2 00 a week. St. Michaels is as healthful as any town in the United States, and as beautifully located as any on the Eastern Shore of Maryland—it being on an isthmus of 300 yards in width between the waters of Choptank and Miles Rivers. Besides the advantage of health the village possesses a very great one as a site for a literary institution in the absence of all the demoralizing allurements which render towns generally objectionable in the estimation of parents having children to educate. The notice and patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

JOSEPH BRUFF, Pres't.

P. S. In consequence of the severity of the winter it has been impossible to make preparations for opening the Academy as proposed. It is therefore postponed to the first Monday in April.

SHARPE'S NEW VARIETY OF MULBERRY.

The undersigned, being General Agent for George W. Benson & Co., the present Proprietors of this celebrated species of Mulberry, would respectfully call the attention of his fellow Citizens, interested in the culture of trees and the growing of silk, to the superior excellence of this variety over all others, as proved by experiments actually made by the responsible individuals whose names are attached to the following certificates.

To guard the public against deception, all agents for their sale will have a certificate of agency, signed by one of the proprietors or the subscriber. To those who wish to bring them forward in fair houses this winter, a few choice setions are offered, at five dollars each. The proprietors wish to have a few grown this season in each state in the Union that the country generally may become acquainted with their superior excellence. Orders will therefore be received from any section, and as practicable will be supplied on the following terms viz, where ten or more buds are ordered, the company will engraft and warrant to live, at five dollars each, or they will furnish roots already engrafted, and warranted, at five dollars each.

Any person who may procure and forward orders, (and become responsible) for twelve or more buds or engrafted trees, shall be entitled to ten per cent. Orders from a distance should be forwarded early that the services of experienced nurserymen may be secured to deliver trees or buds and do the engrafting. All Editors who may give this with the following certificates, or their substance abridged, one insertion, and send two of the papers containing it, to the subscriber, shall be entitled either to one good scion, or an engraftion free. All communications, POST PAID, will receive attention.

ELIAS SHARPE.
Windham, Conn.

Jan. 22, 1840.

BELCHERTOWN, Oct. 31, 1839.

Whereas considerable interest is manifested by the public, respecting a new and extraordinary kind of Mulberry, called Sharpe's new variety—and we, the subscribers, being father and son, having raised the original tree, make the following statement of facts concerning its origin and history. Nine years ago, last spring we sowed some imported mulberry seed, among which this tree came up, and the second year from the seed it grew in one season twelve feet eight inches, and bore a leaf about the size of the morus multicaulis, but much thicker and heavier. After the second season the tree was transplanted, and has never been cultivated; yet it exceeds in rapid growth any thing of the wood kind we ever saw, measuring at this time twenty three inches around the trunk, tapering but little till it branches. It has never been sheltered, or in the least defended from storms or frost, and endures the weather equally as well as apple or forest trees. Last spring it was critically examined, when not the tip of a limb, or bud, could be found in the least injured by the winter. We should think it puts forth leaves from one to two weeks earlier in the spring than the white mulberry. The leaves never have been spotted, or any way defective, like other kinds, but remain fresh and perfect until killed by the frost. The other trees standing in the nursery with it, grew but 4 or 5 feet in two seasons, and resembled the white mulberry.

Having fed the leaves, together with other varieties, to worms for some years past, and it being evident, by several experiments, that they preferred this leaf to any other, this fact induced us, last season, to feed a number exclusively on the new variety, and an equal number on the multicaulis. Accordingly, we hatched our worms early in the month of August last, equally divided them, kept them in the same room, fed and tended them as nearly alike as possible. Each appeared to be healthy and did well. Those fed on the new variety wound about three days the first. After all had wound, we selected forty of the best cocoons from each parcel, and by weighing each, found that twenty seven cocoons of the new variety were as heavy as forty of the best made from the multicaulis.

In our opinion, the above mentioned tree in all important qualities, is preferable to any other kind, and must prove a valuable acquisition to the silk-producing interests of our country, and give entire satisfaction to the grower.

It is proper to say, we have now no interest whatever in the tree, and therefore no inducements to make the above statements, but justice to the public and the proprietors.

THE CASKET AND PHILADELPHIA MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

PROSPECTUS OF A NEW VOLUME.

The unparalleled success which has attended The Casket since it came into the hands of the new proprietors, induces them to begin a volume with

Still Further Attractions,

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY NEXT.

ITS LITERARY CHARACTER,

Which has called forth so many comments, will undergo no change; as the Magazine will still continue under the control of the same editors. Several however, have been engaged beside those who have already been enlisted in its favor.

NEW CONTRIBUTORS OF HIGH TALENT,

The Magazine will be enlarged and will contain a greater quantity of reading matter than any periodical published at the same price in this country. The work will appear in

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL TYPE,

Cast expressly for the purpose, and will be printed on the finest paper.

It will also be ornamented with

Fine Steel Engravings,

provided at a heavy expense, and executed from the choicest designs. To vary the style of these illustrations, the services of distinguished artists have been engaged to furnish at intervals

MEZZOTINTS FOR THE ENSUING VOLUME.

The Heads of Several Distinguished American Writers

Will appear in the course of the year. The publishers determined to leave nothing undone to merit the patronage of a liberal public, have resolved, after much solicitation from many of their fair readers, to publish quarterly, as an extra,

Correct Plates of the Latest Fashions, Highly Colored,

and executed in the first style of the art. This department will be under the control of a French gentlemen, of much taste and experience, and will be found to excel ANY THING EVER ATTEMPTED IN THIS LINE IN AMERICA. The extra in the present (November) number, may be considered a fair specimen of what these fashion plates will be. The music department, as heretofore, will be under the charge of Messrs. G. W. Hewitt & Co. and the fine pieces of Copy right Music, which they have hitherto furnished are a sufficient guarantee for the future.

The flattering terms in which the Casket has been noticed by the journals in every section of the Union, establish beyond a doubt its claims to support generally—It will surpass any other work in the return it gives for the reader's money.

TERMS—$3 per annum, invariably in advance, or two copies for five dollars.
