POETRY.

(From the Cincinnati Daily Gazette.)

Air—'Anacreon in Heaven.'

The spirit of Freedom was cautiously nursed,
In the hearts of the heroes of our revolution,
'Till into expansion the embry first burst,
And found a snug cradle in our Constitution
Like an angel of light,
This beautiful sprite,
From the spiritual region of mind took her flight;
And armed as an eagle with beak and with claws,
Came down to preside o'er republican laws.

For forty odd years like a perfect machine,
This self-balanced government, charmingly clever,
Demonstrated clearly by all that was seen,
That it was constructed to move on forever.
But some how the cogs,
(Those rascally rogues!)
Got twisted and knocked the machine to the dogs,
Or rather for want of a nail or a screw,
Like an Irishman's wig, it is all of a hoo.

Before the first Andrew, or Martin the last,
Pray what Executioner ever attempted
To execute laws which had never been passed,
Or, who, but a despot could ever have dreamed it?
This Jackson once tried,
When he wanted to ride,
A people who bolstered him up in his pride;
And Martin, his little successor, would fain
Take a ride, like John Gilpin, by grasping the mane.

But Martin, less skilful than Jackson to ride
A mettlesome steed, when by spurring excited,
Few finds he begins from the saddle to slide.
And (notwithstanding reason) is hugely affrighted.
For the People now rear,
And kick and swear,
That Martin, the little, no longer shall dare
To prance like a Turk, or a Spanish Brigand,
O'er the heart of the country—the law of the land.

For blood, like that blood which in Washington's veins,
Indignantly scouted at all usurpation;
In the hearts of the Whigs, his descendants, remains
To avenge all the injuries heaped on the nation.
And Harrison now,
From his corn field and plow,
Is coming to kick up a terrible row;
And have with agrarians and tories a through,
And drive them, like Indians, at Tippecanoe.

AN ORDINANCE to prevent the parading Ungelded Horses on the public square or along the streets of Easton.

Whereas it has been represented to the board of Commissioners by Petition, that the citizens are desirous that an ordinance should be passed prohibiting persons from leading and parading ungelded horses along the streets, to the great danger and annoyance of persons in the streets, Therefore be it Enacted and Ordained by the Commissioners of Easton duly elected and qualified, that from and after the publication of this ordinance it shall not be lawful for any person or persons whatsoever, to lead and parade for show, any ungelded horse, in or along any of the streets, lanes or alleys of the town of Easton, or on the public square near the Court House and if any person or persons shall from and after the publication hereof, lead and parade for show any ungelded horse, contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, every person so offending shall forfeit and pay such sum, not to be less than five. nor more than fifteen dollars, as shall or may be imposed by the Commissioners for each and every offence.

And be it further enacted and ordained. that if any person so offending as aforesaid shall be a slave, the penalty or fine aforesaid, shall, and may be demanded, sued for, and recovered from or against the master, mistress, or employer of such slaves in like manner, as if the said master, mistress, or employer had been guilty of the offence.

A Supplement to the Ordinance, entitled an ordinance to prevent the parading ungelded horses on the public square or along the streets of Easton.

Whereas, it has been found by experience, that the original ordinance to which this is a supplement, is not sufficiently rigorous to prevent persons from parading ungelded horses for show within the limits of the town.

Be it therefore enacted and ordained by the Commissioners of the Town of Easton duly elected and qualified, that from and after the publication of this ordinance, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons whatsoever, to lead. ride, or parade any ungelded horse for show on the public square. or along any of the streets, lanes or alleys within the limits of the town.

And be it enacted and ordained by the authority aforesaid that if any person or persons, shall presume to lead, ride, or parade any ungelded horse, contrary to the provisions of this ordinance. every person or persons so offending, shall forfeit and pay all such fines and forfeitures as are imposed by the original ordinance, to which this is a supplement.

At a meeting of the Commissioners of the Town of Easton on Thursday April 23. 1840, the foregoing ordinance and supplement thereto, were ordered to be printed in both papers published in this town.
