POETRY.

From the Baltimore Clipper.

NEW ENGLAND,

'There is no other land like thee,
No dearer shore.' PERCIVAL.

Chill are thy winds, and the proud sea
Lashes thy rock-bound strand,
But nought can turn my heart from thee,
'My own—my native land!'

Shrine of the Pilgrims—ever fair!
Each dale, and snow-clad hill,
Each stream, that rolls its waters there,
Is fondly cherished still.

What tho', in beauty, o'er my head
Are hung these Southern skies;
What tho', with boundless verdue spread,
The green hills glad my eyes;

I'd rather look for one short hour,
On bleak New England's shore;
And hear, beneath her humblest bower,
The songs I heard of yore.

Oh, who would vainly strive to wrest
Earth's sweetest links apart?
Would tear all feeling from the breast,
Remembrance from the heart?

Yet oft, some lonely hour to wile,
Will fancy wildly soar,
And wake, beneath her magic smile,
Joys that are mine no more;

And o'er me steals the blissful thought
Of happiness and home;
A voice, with melting kindness fraught,
That bids the wand'rer come.

Away! away! it may not be:
My flag is now unfurled,
My bark is on life's troubled sea,
My home—the wide, wide world.

LOMBARD.

A WISH.

I wish, but oh! I dare not say
The warmest wish I feel for thee;
I wish thine hours may float as gay
As sun beams on the dark blue sea.

I need not ask thy form more fair,
Thine eye more full of sympathy,
Thine own sweet smile that lingers there,
Forbids the heedless wish for thee.

I only wish thee brighter years,
A bosom free from every sorrow,
A cheek unblanch'd by dark'ning tears,
A smile for every future morrow. I.

HOUSE AND LOT IN OXFORD

FOR SALE.

The subscriber will dispose of, on reasonable terms, the above property, situated in Talbot county, near the junction of Third Haven Creek, with Choptank River. The House is large and commodious, and most conveniently planned. It has been thoroughly repaired, is now in complete order, and has attached to it, entirely new, all the necessary out buildings for a family, viz: a Carriage house, Corn house, Hay house, Granary and Stable—the fencing with a Pump is also new.

It is perhaps, one of the most delightful country residences on this Shore, as it is believed not to be excelled by any for beauty of health, and is surrounded by a fine country—added to which, the Steam Boat Maryland, in her passages to and from Baltimore, twice in every week, stops almost at the door, and not only affords a convenient means of travelling but also produces an agreeable variety.—The situation, is likewise well calculated for a Seminary of Learning, either Male or Female and might be most advantageously used for that purpose, by any one calculated to manage it.

Persons wishing to purchase, or examine the property will please call on the subscriber.
