THE LAST LOCO FOCO'S LAMENT

FROM A CORRESPONDENT IN NEW YORK STATE.

The men of New York, so it seemeth of late,
Quite distracted have grown all over the State.
What with Harrison dinners, Harrison songs,
Harrison speeches and Harrison throngs,
Harrison meetings and Harrison toys,
I'm wearied to death by the din and the noise.
For early and late, naught else do I hear
But the songs of the Whigs, and their log cabin cheer.
In the morning from slumber I'm rudely aroused
By the song of the maid while milking the cows;
My children and wife are dinning my ears—
They hurrah for old Tip, she joins in their cheers!
If I fly to the woods, in a fit of despair,
Alas! I find nothing but log cabins there!
My friends and companions of 'Hickory' days,
All too are singing these new-fangled lays;
Turn-coats are plenty, not an old one is seen,
E'en the postmaster's clerk sports a 'Harrison-green.'

I'll remove to the West, for I cannot remain
Where the men are all Whigs, and the women the same,
I'll remove to the West, for indeed I can't stay
Where the people are ruled by this Harrison sway.
To the West, did I say? Alas! if I go
Where the newspapers rave about Harrison so,
My wife o'er their columns will constantly pore,
And me with their gleanings incessantly bore,
At home and abroad, 'tis the same all around,
Scarce one Loco Foco remains to be found.
What on earth shall I do? O where can I fly
To escape from the sound of this Harrison cry?
For the West should I leave, I very well know
The distraction awaits me as sure as I go.
If I stay in New York, I'm as bad off as ever,
For our party is bound for the head of 'Salt river'
So I'll off to the tailor's as fast as I can,
Buy a log-cabin coat—turn a Harrison man—
And I'll join the Whig shout and loudly halloo,
And throw in my vote for 'Old Tippecanoe.'

DENTISTRY.

GEORGE W. HUMPHREYS,

OF VIRGINIA,

DENTAL SURGEON,

Invites the attention of the public to one of the most valuable improvements ever introduced to their notice, being an extremely simple mode of extracting Teeth, by which the patient is saved the greater part of the pain usually attendant on the ordinary method of extracting, whilst its safety is so remarkable that no injury can be inflicted on the jaw bone or gums. The advertiser assures the public that he can extract teeth by this system, no matter if they be of the largest size or decayed fangs, with the application of one third the power ordinarily employed in such operations and he invites the citizens of Easton and the surrounding country, to call and examine his proof in favor of what is here asserted.

He also offers his services to the public; as being, in most cases, able to save entirely such decayed and aching teeth, as they now fear must be extracted. His success in soothing and finally saving many valuable teeth in an extensive practice in some of the principal Northern and Southern cities, has been so decided, that he invites the public to call, confident that he can, under his skill as a Dentist, be useful to them.

He will also Cleanse, Plug, and Insert Teeth upon springs or fangs, on the most approved plan, and cure inflammation and soreness of the gums, giving them a healthy action which will improve the breath and taste.

For testimonials and prices for operating. see bills which he will furnish.

☞ Having procured comfortable rooms at Mrs. Donovan's, he may be consulted at all hours of the day.

He refers to Dr. T. Thomas and Dr. Solomon M. Jenkins.

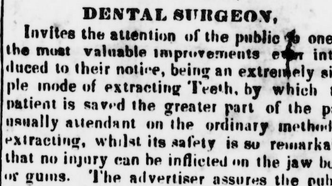

☞ He will remain in Easton only a few days.
