credible, or an ill advised obstinancy almost unparalleled. The will of the people is declared; let all good patriots bow in acknowledgement to its supremacy.

NEW JERSEY ELECTION.

From the New Ark Advertiser, Oct. 17.

NEW JERSEY COMPLETE.

Having this morning received the returns from Atlantic and Cape May, the only counties about whose votes we have had no information before, we are enabled to-day to complete our tables of the election and give an entire list of the members of the Legislature. It will be seen that the Administration party has been reduced to five of the 18 counties in the State, being a loss of two counties since last year: that our majority in the joint meeting of the Legislature has been increased from 16 to 37! and that we have a clear majority of 1249 in the popular vote, which shews a gain of 1334 since the last great contest in 1838.—Surely nothing could more conclusively shew the progress of the great cause of Reform. In November, we are assured by our friends in all the counties, the Whig vote will be greatly increased.—The majority of that great struggle will be doubled at least.

OHIO ELECTION.

Cortespondence of the American.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 16th, 1840.

We have a satisfactory majority in the State Legislature, notwithstanding the exceedingly unjust apportionment of representation to the counties, and have gained certainly five, perhaps six, members of Congress.

This preliminary effort having terminated thus, you need not be surprised to hear that Harrison carries the State on the 30th inst. by thirty to forty thousand.

9 o'clock, P. M.

We have five other counties as follows—

Granga, Corwin's maj.		1336
Ashtabula,	"	2637
Portage,	"	425
Trumbull,	"	616
Tuscarawas,	"	590
		5598
Add 67 counties before heard from		13337
Whig majority		18845

The six remaining counties are small, and will not under any probable contingency reduce the Whig majority below 18000

☞A letter from Columbus, under date of 16th instant, states that Campbell (Whig) is elected over Weller, (V. B.) in the 2d Congressional District by 51 votes

The New York Express of Monday morning, by an extraordinary effort, was enabled to publish all the Ohio returns except from 8 counties. The editors say—

We have performed, as we promised on Saturday one of the most extraordinary feats in the way of an express ever achieved in this, or any other country.—The Election in Ohio closed on Tuesday night, and here, in New York on Sunday we have two-thirds of the State, and on Monday we are able to publish all but 8 counties which are chiefly in the most distant corners of Ohio to express which would have delayed us another day. Our last Express-Messenger arrived last night at 11, P. M., quite exhausted with his extraordinary efforts but freighted with the most glorious news, which he spread far and wide. He sent the news to the Editors of the National Intelligencer, and spread it by mail in Maryland and Pennsylvania and throughout the South. It electrifies the land.

THE CRY OF DESPAIR.—The Tennessee Sentinel, a Van Buren organ, says:

"The fact is not to be disguised, that the Democratic (Loco) party is but the shadow of what it was even one year ago. Many of our strong holds have lately surrendered to the enemy, and where the Harrison mania will stop God knows better than we do"

From the Balt. American of Monday.

SUICIDE.—We regret to state that Mr. WILLIAM S. RAMSAY, of Carlisle Pennsylvania, put an end to his existance yesterday evening at Barnum's Hotel in this city, by shooting himself in the right eye. Mr. R. was a member of the present, and recently elected to the next Congress, from the thirteenth Congressional district of Pennsylvania.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The following extract of a Letter from Hon. James Cooper, of Pennsylvania, which we find in the Boston Atlas, written before the election in that State, teaches us how to estimate rightly the value of the Whig gains in the late election, and promises a glorious result to the Electoral Election in the same State:

"We have to contend against fearful odds. The whole of the State patronage is being brought to bear upon the election The Governor is traversing the State, attending county and township meetings; and the public works are swarming with thousands of hands. I have a letter now before me from an intelligent gentleman, a contractor on one of the State works, which estimates the number of hands now in the employment of the Commonwealth at 17,000—the great majority of whom have been engaged within the last two or three weeks. Of these, there are, not three thousand legal voters; and, if not more than six thousand should vote, the state is safe! The design, however, is, that all of them shall vote, and certificates of naturalization have been provided for all, though thousands of them have not been a year in the country! Being FORE-WARNED, we are in some degree FORE-ARMED

"The contest on the 13th inst for Members of Congress, State Senate, and Legislature, will be fiercely disputed; but the result of the Presidential election, which is to take place on the 30th inst. must not be judged of by the result of our first election. In this State, General Harrison has a popularity far greater than that of any our local candidates; besides this, our great majorities in the city of Philadelphia, the counties of Lancaster, Somerset, Alleghany, Beaver, Mercer, Erie, Huntingdon, Union, Dauphin, and Lebanon, cannot be brought out at the first election; and, if brought out, would avail nothing in county and district contests, beyond the influence which such majorities would have on the aggregate vote. These counties will all be carried by respectable majorities, but scarcely by one third of what they CAN AND WILL GIVE when their votes can be made to tell on the general result in the State.—I think, however, we shall do well on the 13th I have strong hopes that we shall gain two, perhaps three, Members of Congress, (we should certainly have gained five but for the hands on the public works.) We may lose one in the 3d District. We shall have 45 members in the Legislature, and may have 53: and we shall gain one member, at least, in the Senate. If the majority against us at the first election should not exceed 7000 the electoral vote of the State will be given to Harrison. This I feel assured of: first, from the fact that a large portion of the hands upon the public works will be discharged before the Presidential election, the State administration, having a much deeper interest at stake in the first than in the second election, & besides being short of money; & in the second place, General Harrison has a popularity in the State several thousands greater than the local candidates. I believe however, that the majority against us at the first election will not exceed four thousand, and may not reach that number.

"P. S. Warn our friends not to be discouraged by the result of our election on the 13th."
