POETRY.

HYMN FOR THE NATIVITY.
(Dec. 25)

BY. N. LANESFORD FOSTER.

I sing the exalted Saviour's birth:—
What loftier theme exists on earth,
Or wakes the song in heaven:
Let ransomed man take up the song,
And swell the chorus loud and long.—
For Death's strong bars are riven.

Infinite Mercy formed the plan,
Thus to redeem apostate man;
For this was JESUS born;
His Heavenly Father to obey,
He left the radiant realms of day,
On this auspicious morn.

Oh, could we catch the thrilling strain,
That, floating o'er Judea's plain.
Announced IMMANUEL's birth;
When the blest star o'er Bethlehem stood,
And poured in living light its flood,
To bless the sons of earth.

Let the loud anthem pierce the sky—
"All glory be to God on high,
And peace pervade the earth:"
Let our glad voices join the strain,
Which echoed through that seraph train,
Who sang the Saviour's birth.

O may this consecrated hour
Breathe in our souls devotion's power;
And oh, thou heavenly Dove,
Eternal Spirit! fire each heart,
To bear an humble fervent part,
In hymning JESUS' love!

ADDRESS
CARRIER,
TO THE PATRONS OF THE
EASTON GAZETTE
January 1, 1841.

'Tis done!—'THE SOBER SECOND THOUGHT' is spoken;
The Tyrant's shackles—and his forge—are broken!
* * * * * * *
"Tyrant?—Eh!—Who?—that little oily man,
The perfumed prince of beaux—egregious Van?
Him call ye tyrant, who would fitter seem
Lord of pomatum, pastry, and ice-cream?
Whose favorite war-tool is—a silver fork!
Whose missile most to dread—a champagne cork!
Think ye, from stuff like this are furnished forth
Man's fellest foes, the despots of the earth?
Pooh!—nonsense, Carrier," * * *
* * * * * * *
Nay, Patron,—what a "green-horn" must you be,
(Excuse me,)—that you can't more clearly see!
"Satan," says Pope, "grown wiser than of yore,
"Now tempts by making rich, not making poor:"
And had he lived in our queer juggling times,
Smug Van, no doubt, had flourished in his rhymes,
A sample of Old Nick's improving skill
To manufacture despots at his will,
In mould unlike to all in which he cast
The Syllas and the Cromwells of the past.
The sword, that hewed of yore the tyrant's way,
Is not the weapon of our wiser day:
What once rough steel achieved with thundering din:
Soft Soder now can more securely win.
All hail, SOFT SODER! sovereign—slick—and free—
Hail to the day the devil invented thee!
What conquests hath thy magic power achieved;
What thousands have thy witching tones received,
With ears more willing than the Gulls of yore,
Deluded to the Syren's fatal shore.
Hail powerful Engine! which no mortal man
E'er better understood than our sweet Van.
"THE PEOPLE!—the dear people" was his cry.—
"(The laws—ah?—the militia bill—I?—I?)—
"But the dear people!!—workies—Dutch—or Irish—
"No matter how hard-fisted, or how fire-ish;—
"(Beshrew the Laws—all such old-fashioned stuff!)—
"To love the dear, dear people is enough.—
"The People! bless their hearts! what throats they have;
"The more soft soder's given, the more they crave!
"Dose 'em—no fear—they'll swear, and swear it still,
"The only genuine freedom is—MY WILL!
"Dear wool dyed "democrats!" I have ye now;
"The diadems firmly fixed upon my brow!"

Thus mused sage Martin, some few moons ago;
Amos and Frank averred, "The thing would do!"
Bluff Benton and Buchanan cried "Amen!"
And Satan chuckled o'er the game again.
* * * * * * *
"How are the Mighty fallen!"—the struggle's o'er—
Not e'en Soft Soder can avail thee more,
Poor prostrate Van!—nor Amos' venal quill,
Nor blustering Benton, Blair, nor Isaac Hill,—
All, all embarked with thee, to shake and shiver
Up the long, dreary windings of Salt River!
So, "fare ye well," the people gladly cry,
"A long and last farewell!"—and so do I.
* * * * * * * *
* * * * * * * *
Patrons, the strife is o'er—the work is done,—
Thrice glorious is the battle-field ye've won!
Freedom yet lives—she breathes—she smiles again.—
And grateful millions welcome back her reign!
Proudly she points to her bold, favorite son,
The pure, the uncorrupted HARRISON!
The noble Patriot of North Bend, whose aim
Was o'er—oblivion—or an HONEST fame!
In him, we firmly trust, will be renewed
The golden days of Washington the Good:
The people's President, the people's friend,
The people's happiness his aim and end,
Our second FARMER CHIEF we hail with joy;
And none more truly than—
THE CARRIER BOY.

WALDIE'S

SELECT CIRCULATING LIBRARY & MONTHLY JOURNAL OF POLITE LITERATURE.—The proprietor of this popular and well known periodical has the gratification of replying to the many affectionate inquiries after its resumption, and announces to his kind friends and patrons—friends and patrons in the true meaning of the words—that he will resume the publication next January. Restored by a beneficient Providence once more to active life, he hopes again to be able to give that superintendence to the publication which was his pride and pleasure for seven years. He anticipates, with inexpressible satisfaction, the renewal of associations with thousands of families, with either of which an acquaintance is an honor. During his protracted indisposition, the intensity of suffering was greatly mitigated by the generous expression of sympathy and regard received from his kind-hearted patrons; and the gloom and tedium of a sick room were much lightened by the rays of genuine friendship emitted from every quarter. This egotism, he hopes, will be judged of mildly—he certainly has no wish to make a display—but the impulse of grateful acknowledgment for such disinterested kindness was irresponsible, and he could not announce the re-appearance of the work without yielding to it.

To these friends he addresses himself, solicitous for their continued support, and hopes to have the Library once more introduced among their families, see it honored again with a place on their centre tables, and become a welcome weekly visiter. He is at the same time very desirous to extend his acquaintance and form new friends.

From the arrangements made, dictated by experience, the Library, it is believed, will in every respect, be improved. The type will be more distinct, the monthly sheet continued, and a weekly cover beside. The cover will be made so as to avoid the extra postage.—The monthly Journal he hopes to make a sheet of abiding interest, so combining original and selected articles, of foreign and domestic literature, science and art, and from such resources of respectability, as to make it a work of authority and reference.

The regularity of its former publication, not a failure in seven years, will be taken as a guarantee for the future punctuality of the Library; but there is only one way to make that permanent, viz: by payment in advance. This is an indispensable pre-requisite from all at a distance. The losses by deviating from this rule formerly, are too heavy to be forgotten soon and a little reflection may satisfy any one of the reasonableness of the request. The reasons are too obvious indeed, to require much discussion. Five dollars are all that a subscriber risks, but the publisher risks thousands by crediting. The publisher is in the city and can be reached without trouble. A subscriber lives perhaps a thousand miles off; and how is he to be reached? It might cost six times the amount to collect the trifle. Payment in advance, then, as all may perceive is a reasonable request, and sad experience compels the proprietor to make it absolute. The few who paid in advance for 1840, will be supplied for 1841, unless otherwise ordered.

An early remittance of names is respectfully urged, so as to enable the proprietor to make proper calculations about the quantity to be printed, as he will print very few over the number absolutely subscribed for. To this he would call particular attention.

To his brethren of the press, throughout the country, the proprietor returns grateful thanks for former favors, and hopes the work will be again so conducted as to warrant a renewal of their friendly assistance. A few copies of the Port Folio are still on hand, a year of which will be forwarded in payment for advertising as much of this announcement as they may think an equivalent; or two years will be sent for publishing the whole.

TERMS.—The Library will be published weekly, on a double royal sheet, sixteen pages quarto each, on new type, and printed in the best style of book work. Each number enveloped with a neat cover.

2. Price Five Dollars a year, if paid at or remitted to the office. Six Dollars if collected by an agent.

3. A Monthly Journal of Polite Literature, consisting of original communications and selections from foreign and domestic periodicals, printed uniformly with the Library.—This will be a valuable addition to the original plan.

4. Subscriptions commence with January, and no subscriptions taken for less than a year.

☞ A few complete sets of the Library, and odd years to perfect subscribers' sets, on hand and for sale.

We would trust the people of Caroline county as far as any people, and farther, provided we were disposed to do a credit business, but knowing as we do our limited circumstances, is one of the principal causes of our selling for cash and cash only. We would most respectfully remind our friends and customers who have made small bills with us for the present year, as also for the last, to come forward and pay them off, those bills too by the by, have been made with the promises to be paid off the next week, and it appears next week has not yet come, we would therefore in a friendly way, inform them that they must come forward by the last day of June next, and pay them off, otherwise they will be placed in the hands of an officer for collection.
