Poetry.

"WHY DONT YOU TAKE THE PAPERS?"

BY GEO. P. WILLIS.

Why don't you take the papers?
They are the "life of my delight,"
Except about election times,
And then I read for spite.

Subscribe, you cannot lose a cent,
Depend the advice is good;
For cash thus spent is money lent
On interest four-fold paid.

My grandad used to make his brags
Of living at a day
When papers sold as cheap as rags,
And trust was took for pay.

My grandma, when she had the blues,
Would thank her gracious stars
That papers filled with wholesome news
Were scattered every WHERE.

I knew two friends, as much alike
As e'r you saw two stumps;
And no phrenologist could find
A difference in their bumps.

Each had a farm of equal worth,
A pretty wife to keep—
Three boys, three horses and a cow,
A dog and twenty sheep.

One took the papers, and his life
Is happier than a king's;
His children all can read and write,
And talk of men and things.

The other took no papers, and
While strolling through the wood,
A tree fell down upon his crown,
And killed him, as it should.

Had he been reading of the "newe,"
At home, like brother Jim,
I'll bet a cent that accident
Would not have happened him.

Go then, and take the papers,
And pay to-day, nor pay delay,
And work hard it is inferred,
You live till you are grey.

An old newsmonger friend of mine,
While dying from enough,
Desired to hear latest news,
While he was going off.

I took the paper, and I read
Of some new pills in force:
He bought a box—and is he dead?
No! hearty as a horse.

I knew a printer's debtor once,
Rack'd with a scorching fever,
Who swore to pay her bill next day.
If her disease would leave her

Next morning she was at her work,
Divested of her pain;
But did forget to pay her debt,
Till taken down again.

"Here, Jesse, take these silver wheels,
Go pay the printer now!"
She spoke, she slept, and then awoke,
With health upon her brow.

Why don't you take the papers?
Nor from the printer's visage sneak,
Because you borrow of his boy,
A paper every week.

For he who takes the papers,
And pays his bill when it is due,
Can live at peace with God and men,
And with the printer too.

J. M. FAULKNER, has removed his office to the old stand next door to Mr. Solomon Barrott's Tavern, where he may be found to attend to any business in his line—viz: the settlement of Officers' Fees in his hands as late Deputy Shff., Executions in his hands as late Constable, and Town Taxes as Collector. He will also as heretofore attend to business as agent and private collector; drawing of Deeds, Mortgages, Bills of Sale, Powers of Attorneys, Indentures of Apprentices, Bonds, Insolvent Petitions Leases, Agreements and other instruments of writing.—He again renews his obligations to a generous public for the liberal encouragement he has received—and still hopes to merit a share of their patronage.

PROSPECTUS.

THE EASTON GAZETTE.

A. GRAHAM, Editor and Proprietor.
E. R. HOOPER, Assistant Editor.

The Proprietor of the Gazette having engaged the assistance of E. Richardson Hooper, Esq., of Cambridge, Md., and recently Editor of the 'Chronicle' of that place, in the management of the editorial department of the paper, proposes to increase the circulation of the Gazette in the Counties of Dorchester, Somerset and Worcester, with the view of promoting the interest of the Whig party in the approaching Gubernatorial canvass. That canvass will doubtless be warmly contested, and the advantages to be gained from having a paper reflecting the sentiments of the Whigs freely circulated among the people, are too obvious to need enforcement from me. The opposition party will undoubtedly make every exertion to increase the circulation of papers friendly to their cause, and should be met by a corresponding effort on the part of the Whigs.

The Gazette is printed every Saturday Morning, on fine imperial paper, with plain type, and, in addition to politics, is devoted to agriculture, literature, and general news. The facilities for obtaining the latest and most interesting items of information are unequalled by any Journal on the Shore.

The papers will be sent to Mr. Hooper's office, in Cambridge, every Saturday morning for distribution.
