Poetry.

From the Philadelphia Saturday Courier.

MY NATIVE LAND.

My native land—land of my heart,
Clime of the unbought brave;
First in fair freedom's shining zone,
Its cradle or its grave.
How turns the patriot's heart to thee,
Young giant of the West!
Sole spot amid the mighty world,
For freedom's wing to rest.

Clime of the unmatched pilgrim band,
Those dwellers of the rock,
Fearless alike of tyrant's word,
Of storm and ocean shock.
Fearless of heart, and firm of hand,
As is the forest oak,
They bowed not to the rude command,
Nor trembled at the yoke.

They scoff'd alike at act or word,
A despot's stern decree,
And flung their banner to the winds,
A nation will be free.
A sunbeam wrote it on their hearts
In words of living light;
And, phœnix-like, a nation burst
Upon the patriot's sight.

The stripes and stars were borne aloft,
The emblems of the brave;
And 'neath that eagle-mounted flag,
None feared to be a slave.
And loudly from the mountain tops
Rang out the cannon's voice;
Freedom or death was in that shout,
And that was freeman's choice.

And proudly o'er the ocean's tide
Our starry flag was seen;
Gaily it floated to the breeze,
Nor quailed to ocean's queen.
Stout hearts were there to bear it up
Amid the battle's strife,
They nailed it to the mast head high,
And sealed it with their life.

God bless the country of my birth,
My latest prayer for thee,
Is that thou mayst fore'er remain,
A homestead for the free.
A heritage for freedom's sons
Long may thy temples stand;
God bless thee and thy progeny,
My much loved native land. D. A.

PROSPECTUS.

THE EASTON GAZETTE.

A. GRAHAM, Editor and Proprietor.
E. R. HOOPER, Assistant Editor.

The Proprietor of the Gazette having engaged the assistance of E. Richardson Hooper, Esq., of Cambridge, Md., and recently Editor of the 'Chronicle' of that place, in the management of the editorial department of the paper, proposes to increase the circulation of the Gazette in the Counties of Dorchester, Somerset and Worcester, with the view of promoting the interest of the Whig party in the approaching Gubernatorial canvass. That canvass will doubtless be warmly contested, and the advantages to be gained from having a paper reflecting the sentiments of the Whigs freely circulated among the people, are too obvious to need enforcement from me. The opposition party will undoubtedly make every exertion to increase the circulation of papers friendly to their cause, and should be met by a corresponding effort on the part of the Whigs.

The Gazette is printed every Saturday Morning, on fine imperial paper, with plain type, and, in addition to politics, is devoted to agriculture, literature, and general news. The facilities for obtaining the latest and most interesting items of information are unequalled by any Journal on the Shore.

The papers will be sent to Mr. Hooper's office, in Cambridge, every Saturday morning for distribution.
