FRESH WATER FOR NEW YORK.—The pipes in New York city, for the main trunk of the Croton aqueduct, are now being laid down in Broadway. The pipes are two and a half feet in diameter; that is, as large as the bulge of a hogshead.

The New York Correspondent of the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette states that the Joan was taken at 98.

The New York American says—

The Secretary of the Treasury has returned to Washington, having succeeded in obtaining here about two millions of dollars, at something below par, as is supposed; for the terms have not transpired.

This sum will keep the Secretary out of the market until 1st July.

Letters from England by the Acadia, do not give much encouragement for the sale of American stocks. To direct questions, at what a United States loan of 6 per cent. might be disposed of in the London market, the answers, by this arrival, are not encouraging. The highest rate named as probable is 90.

☞There was a great Sunday School celebration in Philadelphia, on Sunday last. It is estimated that there were in Washington Square and around it, fifty thousand individuals.—Balt. Sun.

BISHOP ELECTED.—The Balt. Amer. learns that the Rev. Dr. Johns, rector of Christ church in this city, has been unanimously elected assistant Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Virginia.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The Baltimore American of yesterday says:—

The Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church re-assembled in St. Paul's Church yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock. The usual morning service having been read, the annual address of the Right Reverend Bishop of the Diocese was delivered; after which St. Paul's Parish, a new congregation in Calvert County, and Grace Church, recently formed at Ellicott's Mills, were received into union with the Convention—A number of the Clergy and Laity, who were not present on Wednesday, appeared and took their seats. There is no subject of special interest before the Convention, and the best feeling pervades the body.

EMIGRANTS.—There have arrived at New York, from foreign ports, during the week ending Saturday, 21st inst. 6,295 passengers—1 566 of which number arrived on Saturday last; making the sum total of 22 203 since the 1st of January [Sun.

THE NORTHEASTERN BOUNDARY.

We received yesterday, in an extra from the Boston Atlas, the following gratifying intelligence:

Correspondence of the Boston Atlas.

HOLLOWELL, May 19, 1842.

"The Legislature of Main met yesterday. The members manifested a good spirit. A committee of nine on the part of the Senate, and thirteen on the part of the House, were appointed to take into consideration the Governor's message.—The committee voted unanimously to choose commissioners; and by a vote of 19 to 3 adopted a resolve, offered by Col. John Otis, of the Senate, to give them full powers. The doings of the committee will be ratified by the Legislature.—Four Commissioners are to be designated—two from each of the political parties. Every thing is as it should be."

MR. CLAY.

In response to a recent invitation to a public dinner from his neighbors and friends the Hon. HENRY CLAY returned the following answer:

ASHLAND, May 6, 1842

GENTLEMEN:—I have had the pleasure, to receive your note, transmitting the resolutions adopted at a meeting of the citizens of Lexington and Fayette county, convened for the purpose of making arrangements connected with my return home, in consequence of my resignation of the office of a Senator of the United States from the State of Kentucky: in conformity with which you have done me the honor to invite me to a public entertainment, directed by one of the resolutions to be tendered to me.

I receive, gentlemen, these testimonial of approbation, confidence, and affection with great and grateful sensibility. Such proofs, emanating from any portion of my fellow citizens of the U. States, however remote from my residence, would be entitled to my particular and respectful acknowledgments; but proceeding, as these do, from my neighbors, from the eyewitnesses of my conduct both in private and public life, and who, or whose ancestors, during a period of upwards of forty years have remained firm and steadfast in their attachment and friendship to me, they fill me with the most agreeable and touching emotions, and have made a deep and ineffaceable impression on my heart They will, united with the testimony in my own bosom; serve, in the retirement which I have voluntarily sought, to cheer and console me during the remnant of my days.

I am happy that my quitting the public councils of our country, at this time is not disapproved. I deeply regret the state of general embarrassment and distress which exists. Although conscious that I have not contributed to produce it, no one would have sought more eagerly to restore the common prosperity than I should, if it had been in my power. But seeing no prospect of accomplishing any good corresponding with my wishes, I thought that I might, without just censure, now execute my long delayed purpose of retiring into the shades of private life.

From these your partiality and friendship for me prompt you to desire me to issue at some future day I have seen enough of the uncertainty of public affairs and of the vicissitudes of human life to restrain me from placing any sanguine hopes upon such an event as that to which you kindly alluded. But whilst I admit that self-ostracism is incompatible with the duties which a citizen ever lies under to the Republic, I trust that I shall be always allowed, at proper times, to decide whether I ought to give my consent or not to the use of my name in any connexion which may be proposed for it with any public office, whatever it may be. When a suitable time arrives for decision, it ought to be governed by all existing circumstances, of which the most important would be the probable wishes of a majority of those who have the power to bestow the office. That time, I think, has not yet arrived.

I accept, gentlemen, with great pleasure, the tender which you have been authorized to make to me of a public entertainment; and I request you, also, to accept my cordial thanks for the feeling and friendly manner in which you have communicated the invitation.

I am, with affectionate esteem and regard, faithfully your friend and obedient servant,

H. CLAY.

FOUL DEED.—The steamer Thames, just from Missouri river, brought us a handbill, offering a reward of $500 for the person who assassinated LILBURN W. BOGGS, late Governor of this State, at Independence, on the night of the 6th inst. Gov. Boggs, it is stated, in a written memorandum, was not dead, but mortally wounded.

Since the above was written, we received a note from the clerk of the Thames, giving the following particulars:

Gov. Boggs was shot by some villain on Friday 6th, in the evening while sitting in a room in his own house in Independence. His son, a boy, hearing a report, ran into the room, and found the Governor sitting in his chair, with his joy fallen down, and his head leaning back; on discovering the injury done his father he gave the alarm. Foot tracks were found in the garden below the window, and a pistol picked up, supposed to have been overloaded and thrown from the hand of the scoundrel who fired it.

Three buck shot, of a heavy load, took effect; one going through his mouth—one into the brain, and another probably in or near the brain—all going in, in the back part of the neck and head. The Governor was still alive on the morning of the 7th, but no hopes of his recovery by his friends, and but slight hopes by his physicians.

A man was suspected, and the sheriff most probably has possession of him by his time.

The pistol was one of a pair stolen some days previous from a baker in Independence, and the legal authorities have the description of the other.

MESSRS. WISE AND STANLY.—The public has been already apprised that the difficulty between these two gentlemen has been settled, by the intervention of friends. We have learned some particulars of the settlement, which it may be interesting to state. In the challenge which was sent by Mr. Stanly to Mr. Wise, the former stated that the collision between them on the race course was occasioned by the unmanageableness of his horse and not by design. The friend of Mr. Wise, the Hon. Wm. Cost Johnson, accepted the challenge on behalf of his principal, but, in doing so, with a commendable desire of restoring a good understanding between the parties, took leave to suggest that, as Mr. Stanly's challenge was prefaced by an explanation of the occurrence on the Race Course, if it could be withdrawn, an explanation might be given on the part of Mr. Wise, which would render further hostile proceeding unnecessary, or something to that effect.—The challenge was accordingly withdrawn for that purpose, and Mr. Wise, in a written communication, expressed his regret at the occurrence and apologised for it. In this state of things, the friends of the parties respectively did not think that either of them was bound to prosecute the affair further.—Balt. Amer.

VESSELS IN THE PORT OF NEW YORK.—There were one hundred and twenty-eight ships and barques, one hundred and five brigs, three men-of-war, and two English steamships in the port of New York on Tuesday. Thirty ships and barques, and thirty-three brigs are laid up, and ninety-eight ships and barques, and seventy-two brigs taken in cargo and discharging.

NOT BAD.—The report that Encke's Comet can be seen with "good glasses," is contradicted by a man who says he took six good stiff "glasses," on purpose to see it, and only saw stars.

"Pray, can you tell me the way to the Penitentiary?" asked a stranger.—"Yes, sir—pick the first man's pocket that you meet."

If you are desperately enamored of a pretty face, be sure to see it at the breakfast table. This remedy has been often taken with success.

A QUEER ERROR.—An editor, speaking of Mr. Robert Tyler, wished to say that he "successfully courted the muses."—The compositor made him say, he "successfully courted the nurses."

"I see the villain in your face," said a western judge to an Irish prisoner at the bar. "May't please your worship," replied Pat, "that must be a personal reflection, sure."

A Farm on the Salt Water FOR SALE.

The subscriber, as agent for the proprietor, will sell at private sale, a snug farm on Miles River, immediately adjoining the residence of Mr. Andrew Skinner and nearly opposite the town of St. Michaels. The neighbourhood is remarkably pleasant and healthy and the adjacent waters afford the finest oysters and other delicacies The farm contains about two hundred acres of land, in a very compact form; about 120 acres of which are in cultivation and 80 acres in good timber The cleared land is laid off in four fields of 60,000 corn hills each, under good enclosures, and is separated from the adjoining farms by the water, with the exception of a short division fence of about one hundred pannels in length.

There are abundant resources of sea ooze, salt marsh, and swamp-mud from the woods, & a small quantity of Indian shell bank. Marl has been discovered in a single place from which it is inferred that there is more on the farm. The convenience of getting oyster shells, however is so great, as to make them nearly, if not quite as cheap as marl. The improvements consist of a one story dwelling, almost new, located near the water and in the centre of the farm; and an excellent barn containing a stable and corn crib which was built last year, at a cost of five hundred dollars.—There is a spring of good water not far from the dwelling.

Terms—One fourth in cash—the remainder of the purchase money to be paid in three equal annual instalments

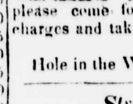

The property will be shown to any one desirous to purchase by Mr. Gannon, who has rented it for the present year.
