The Convention closed its session at 6 o'clock last evening, with the usual prayers, and having passed a resolution to hold its next annual session at the same place, adjourned sine die.

EASTON GAZETTE

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, June 4.

EASTERN SHORE BEAT—ROSES AND STRAWBERRIES.—We received last evening, says the Baltimore Patriot, from the garden of Mr. Samuel Feast, a splendid bouquet of the choicest flowers, of almost every colour and kind, accompanied by a basket of Stawberries of an unusually large size and fine flavor, none of them measuring less than four inches round. A finer specimen of this most delicious fruit, we have seldom if ever had the pleasure of beholding.—The bouquet was arrayed in the most tasteful style, and whilst its oderous perfume delighted one sense, its exquisite beauty could not but be welcome to the sight. Gifts so rare and delicate are seldom to be met with, and for the selection of a bouquet of these "angel alphabets," we know of no place more suitable to recommend than the Nursery of Mr. Feast.

A HAIL STORM.—A severe hail storm passed over Wilmington on Friday 27th ult.—The Baltimore Farmer says: We had a very heavy fall of rain on Friday last, accompanied by hail as large as cherries, but as the latter was of short continuance we trust it passed off without injury to the growing crops.

HAS ACCEPTED.—The American of Thursday morning states that the Rev. Dr. Johns has accepted the appointment of Assistant Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Virginia, which was unanimously conferred upon him by the Convention a fortnight since. He will however, continue to officiate as Rector of Christ Church until the first of October next.

Mr. VAN BUREN, with Mr. Paulding, was at Ashland with Mr. Clay, at the last dates.

☞A destructive tornado visited Raytown, Georgia, on the 17th ult., by which a number of houses were unroofed, &c. Hail fell in immense quantities. A negro man was killed by a stroke of lightning.

Mr. Stanly, (of N. C.) was on Wednesday, before the U S. Circuit, Washington, on an information that he designed a breach of the peace. It having been established to the satisfaction of the Judge that the cause of quarrel between himself and Mr. Wise, had been adjusted, peacefully, the Judge refused to recognise Mr. S. to give security, and was discharged.

MAINE AND THE BOUNDARY.

Our readers are already apprized that the Resolutions of the Committee of both branches of the Legislature of Maine, recommending the selection of Commissioners, to treat with the General Government in relation to our Northeastern Boundary, were accepted in the Senate of that State by a vote of 30 to 1. We are happy now to be able to state that the same Resolutions passed the House of Representatives with some immaterial amendments, on Tuesday last, by a vote of 177 yeas to 11 nays; and that the Legislature of Maine, on the day following, made choice of Edward Kent, William P. Preble, John Otis, and Edward Kavanagh, as Commissioners on the part of Maine.

So far, very well.

THE NORTH EASTERN BOUNDARY.—The board of commissioners appointed by Maine and Massachusetts is full, and is composed of the following gentlemen: On the part of Maine, Edward Kavanagh, Edward Kent, William P. Preble, John Otis; on the part of Massachusetts, Abbot Lawrence, John Mills, Chas. Allen. They are to proceed to Washington immediately and are vested with full powers, untrammelled by instructions to adjust this vexed question. They are all gentlemen of undoubted ability and probity, and may safely be trusted with the honor of the country. It will suffer no compromise in their hands.—Sun.

WHOLE DAY TEMPERANCE MEETING IN THE WOODS.

The friends of Temperance in Queen Ann's county design to hold a Temperance Meeting in the woods near the Three Bridge branch, in the neighborhood of Centreville, on Tuesday the 14th day of June inst., if fair, if not, the next fair day. A dinner will be provided, and the whole day be spent in speaking, except during the recess for dinner. The speaking to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M. and conclude about 6 o'clock, P. M.

Able speakers from a distance are invited, and some of them have already agreed to be present The friends of temperance from other counties, and the public generally are invited to attend.—It is expected that the people of the neighborhood will contribute cooked provisions for the dinner, and that there will be an ample supply for all who may come. The committee of arrangement will give further notice. Ministers of the gospel in this County will please give out the meeting from their pulpits. It is expected that the meeting will be fully attended and that many of those citizens who have hitherto withheld their countenance and support, will, on that occasion, be convinced of the propriety of their participating in the great effort now being made to extirpate drunkenness with its thousands of evils from our land. We particularly invite such and hope they will give the advocates of our cause a fair, patient, and impartial hearing; and then decide according to the dictates of their judgments, and their convictions of duty as Patriots, Philanthropists and christians. [Correspondence of the Balt. Sun.]

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1842.

This morning Mr. Underwood, from the District Committee, reported a bill to appoint a city guard, instead of keeping in office the numerous watchman attached to the public buildings.

The committee in their report accompanying the bill, say:—"Under the system which has heretofore prevailed, the War, the Treasury, and the General Post Office Buildings, have been consumed by fire Under these facts it would seem that the watch provided was not very efficient. Your committee believe that the most favorable position to place a watch, with a view to guard against incendiaries is on the outside of the building, and to relieve them occasionally during the night. It is believed that the watchman at present employed, pass their nights within, instead of outside the buildings. It is well known that persons of illfame congregate in this city during the sessions of Congress, with a view to depredate on those assembled here at such times. Members of Congress, their constituents having business at the seat of government, executive officers, the representatives of foreign powers located here, and resident citizens, are liable to suffer from the crimes of thieves, incendiaries and burglars. The committee are of opinion that the safety of all may be secured in a very great degree by establishing a police for the city. The burden of such an establishment ought not to fall exclusively upon the citizens of Washington. Perhaps they would bear a portion of the expense, should a very large guard be provided to patrole nightly, the whole city. But burdened as the city now is with a large debt, the interest on which consumes half the annual revenue—a debt incurred in part for the improvement of the city thereby making it more convenient and comfortable for all those employed by, or having business with the government—your committee have not deemed it proper to require any contribution from the city.

"The total expense of superintending and watching the public buildings under the system now in operation is $12 965. The expense of the system which your committee recommend, only amounts to $12,850, to wit:—Annual sallary of captain of the guard $1000; do. lieutenant of the guard $750; five sergeants at $35 per month $2100; twenty five men at $30 per month $9000—Total $12 850." The bill for lighting the city, appropriates $2000.

MORNING BUSINESS.

The Senate Chamber was full before the hour of meeting this morning, it being understood that a letter was in the possession of the Secretary of the Senate from the Hon. S. L. Southard announcing his resignation.

At a quarter to one o'clock, the Secretary called the Senate to order.

The Chaplain of the House of Representatives made allusion in his prayer to the occurrence about to take place, and improved the circumstance, as he always does, by invoking the divine blessing upon the Senator the loss of whose health had compelled him to resign a post which the Senate had intended as a mark of favor, but which he had been unable to fill.

The Secretary then read the letter from Mr. Southard dated Fredericksburg, Va., and stating in a few words that he had long been indisposed, and that his indisposition would not suffer him to fulfil the duties of his position, as he would have wished. In order to prevent any additional inconveniences from his absence, he had concluded to resign his place.—For the uniform kindness and courtesy of the Senate, he expressed himself to be truly grateful, and closed with a kind wish individually and collectively to the Senators.

The letter having been read, Mr. Berrien of Georgia rose in his place and said that inasmuch as the unfinished business of the preceding session was in a measure under his charge, he trusted he should be excused for calling attention to the circumstance just made known, and which made some action upon the part of the Senate necessary. Addressing himself to the Senators he moved that they proceed to the election of a President pro tempore.

The Secretary of the Senate, (in his own seat in front of the Vice President's Chair,) entertained the motion; and asked the Senators to prepare their ballots. Ballots were prepared accordingly, and the following was the result of the

FIRST BALLOT.

There being no choice, Mr. Berrien made motion for the SECOND BALLOT.

The whole number of votes on this ballot was	45
Necessary to a choice,	23
Mr. Mangum had	23
Mr. Bayard	19
Mr. King	7
Mr. Walker	1

Mr. Mangum was conducted to his seat by Mr. Preston of S. C. and Mr. Miller of New Jersey.

He returned thanks in brief and appropriate terms for the honor conferred upon him, pledged himself to the greatest impartiality, and relied upon the intelligence, courtesy and kindness of the Senate. He knew, he said, but little of the technicalities of the laws and rules of the Senate, but relying upon the kindness of the members, and their known observance of the laws of order, he should hope to administer the duties of his office in such manner as would be acceptable to all.

The Journal of yesterday's proceedings was then read, when

Mr. Linn of Mo. presented a Resolution expressing the thanks of the Senate to the Hon, S. L. Southard for the ability and courtesy with which he has presided over the deliberations of the Senate and also, the regrets of the Senate at his continued indisposition. The Resolution was unanimously adopted.

AN ENIGMA.

I am a word of four letters, and my first appearance was made in the garden of Eden, I was likewise seen in the ark when on the mountain of Ararat, and if you will omit my first and substitute my third and transpose me, you will find I was found useful to Buonaparte when crossing the Alps; omit my second and third you will find I embrace many, but if you omit my second and transpose me, I shall be found very scarce with you, if you take my third, fourth and fourth you will find me useful to the high Sheriff, if you will take my fourth, first and fourth you will find I have changed much from my usual character, and am now used as a support of life, omit my first and fourth I am made a supposition and have saved many from getting into great difficulties, omit my first and transpose me you will find I appear very insignificant, and my whole proves a source of true happiness to man. DIED

At Bell-Air, the residence of her brother Dr. J. Barnett, on Monday morning 25th inst., in the fiftieth year of her age, Miss L. Barnett, after a long and protracted illness which she bore with that humility and meekness that characterize a true Christian. The hand should be pure—and the heart deeply imbued with the principles of religion, that would attempt to delineate her character, or appreciate the loss to society occasioned by her death. The shadows of the evening of life have been in the case of the deceased so relieved by the prospects of the eternal morning, that her numerous friends and relatives should not mourn, but rather rejoice with a chastened joy, that in the fulness of good deeds and in the ripeness of faith, she has at length been gathered home to Him who has said: There remaineth, therefore, a rest to the people of God.
