EASTON GAZETTE

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, June 11.

The Court of Appeals for the Eastern Shore met on Monday last, present Judges Buchanan, Dorsey, Chambers and Spence. Adjourned till Tuesday morning.

Tuesday morning the Court met.—M. T. Goldsborough and wife, vs. Jeremiah Nicols, J. B. Eccleston adm'r. of W. Barroll, Peregrine Wroth and Edward Tilghman. Appeal from Kent County Court.

Peregrine Wroth and wife vs. Jeremiah Nicols. Same.

It was agreed between the counsel that both the above cases should be argued at the same time.

The argument was commenced by Geo. Vickers, Esq. for appellants and followed on the same side by Henry Page, Esq.

S. Teackle Wallis, Esq. was on motion of H. Page, Esq. admitted as an Attorney of this Court. Court adjourned till to-morrow morning 9 o'clock.

Wednesday morning, Court met.—The argument for the appellee, was commenced by W. A. Spencer, Esq. and continued by R B. Carmichael, Esq. and concluded by James A. Pearce, Esq. for appellants.

Court Adjourned till the day of the Court in course.

T. C. NICOLS, C'lk.

CLARK ARRESTED.—Joshua Clark, who murdered Edward Sweedlin, in January 1841, in Denton, Caroline County, has been arrested, and lodged in the Denton jail, to await his trial—He was apprehended at Grand Gulf, Mississippi, at his own request, by his friend, who will receive from the State, the five hundred dollars reward offered for his apprehension.

The Richmond Whig announces the death of Gov. Barbour, at his residence on the 8th inst. in the 67th year of his age.

HOLD DOWN YOUR HEAD, MR GAZETTE. The Easton Gazette brags strong on half a dozen strawberries given to the editor by some pretty girl of the neighborhood, one of which he says was 3 inches in circumference! Pshaw, man, that was a trifle. We know of several persons in the neighborhood of Centreville, who can feast you, and the pretty girl together, on 3½ inchers; and we ourselves have seen them within the fortnight past, measure 3¾ inches in circumference. The kind was the Brewer and Scarlet mixed. Do you hear that.—Centreville Times.

Yes, Mr. Times, we hear that you only seen them and think we should stand a poor chance for a repast--(by the bye we forgot to boast of an invitation to a feast received with the specimen)—3¾ inches was certainly a wonderful growth for your neighborhood.

The Extra Session of the Pennsylvania Legislature commenced on Thursday last.

MEMBER OF CONGRESS ROBBED.—The National Intelligencer states that the Hon. J. D. Jones, Maryland, of the House of Representatives, had his pocket book abstracted from his pocket at the railroad depot at Washington, on Saturday evening, the 4th instant, about the time of the starting of the four o'clock train for Baltimore. Besides about seventy dollars in Bank notes, it contained a draft of Mr. Speaker White in favor of Mr. Jones for $350 on the Bank of the Metropolis, dated 11th May last. Notice has been given to the Bank not to pay it, and the public are requested to be on their guard and not to purchase said draft.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR—The following gentlemen have been appointed Aids de Camp to his Excellency the Governor of Maryland, with the rank of Colonel, Edward Shriver, of Frederick county; James Lloyd Martin, of Talbot county; John C. Legrand, of Baltimore city; Hon. John Thomson Mason, of Washington county; John Hanson Thomas Magrunder, of Anne Arundel county; Carroll Spence, of Baltimore city.

TRIAL OF COL. MONROE EDWARDS—The trial of this accomplished financier is now in progress before the Court of Oyer and Terminer in the city of New York.

DEAR FUN.—A verdict of manslaughter has been given by a coroner's jury, against four individuals at Sawtrey, Mass. for causing the death of Daniel Cox, by putting Epsom salts in his beer, which acted so violently upon a constitution enfeebled by habitual drunkenness, as to occasion death on the following night.

About eight hundred hands have been discharged from the different Navy Yards within a week past, by the powers that be, at not more than an houre notice.

The correspondent of the Baltimore American of yesterday says:—From Providence we have this morning a proclamation of Gov. King, offering $1000 reward for the delivery of Dorr, within the State in one year. The reward is offered in consequence of the refusal of Gov. Cleaveland of Connecticut, to surrender Dorr to Gov. King. The Woonsocket encampment has been abandoned.

The steamer British Queen, which sailed from New York on Tuesday, took out upwards of $5 000 collected by the citizens of New York, in aid of the sufferers by the recent disastrous fire in Hamburg. A further remittance will be made by the Great Western.

From the Baltimore Sun of yesterday

IMPORTANT FROM BUENOS AYRES—SEVERAL HUNDRED ASSASSINATIONS.—The Journal of Commerce has received Buenos Ayres intelligence to the 20th of April. It gives accounts of the success of the Buenos Ayrean forces in the North, in consequence of which, a great number of assassinations estimated at 200 or 300, had taken place in the city of Buenos Ayres.

The atrocities committed by the Federaliste against the Unitarian or Central party, are almost incredible. On the night of the 11th of April, the anniversary of General Rosas' installation, they commenced the work of butchery, and cut the throats of all they met in the streets of the Unitarians, and threw their bodies in a cart to be taken out of the city.

On the morning of the 13th, the heads of two persons were found hanging in the principal public beef market having had blue ribbons drawn through the nostrils.

Many of these assassinations were acts of private vengeance; and it was not till others had been killed besides Federalits that the authorities interfered.

These proceedings have been entirely among the natives themselves. The rights and property of foreigners have been respected.

The Unitarians were escaping to Montevideo and elsewhere, as many of them as could. Others were seeking such protection as they could get, from foreigners in the city, by secreting themselves in their houses. Rosa has issued a decree disapproving of these atrocities.

The Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of North Carolina was in session at Oxford last week. There was a full attendance, and the best spirit pervaded the assembly.

ECCLESIASTICAL DECISION.—We learn from the Philadelphia Ledger that the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church decided that it was incest for a man to marry his deceased wife's sister. The vote was 11 to 67, and was upon the appeal of the Rev. Archibald Mc Queen from the sentence of the Presbytery of Fayetteville, N. C., suspending him from the Gospel ministry for marrying Mary McCloud, the sister of his deceased wife.

Episcopal Ordinations.—On Trinity Sunday, 22d inst. in Christ Church in this city, the Right Rev. Jackson Kemper, D D. admitted to the holy order of Priests, the Rev. E. Carter Hutchingson, President of Kemper College, the Rev A. D Corbin, Professor of Languages in the same, and the Rev. Whiting Griswold, rector of St. Johns Church in this city.

Morning prayer was read by the Rev. P. Minard, Rector of St. Paul's Church, and the lessons by the Rev. C. S. Hedges, Chaplain at Jefferson Barracks

The sermon was preached by the Rt. Rev. Bishop, who also administered the communion, assisted by the Rev. Messrs Peake and Hutchingson.

In the afternoon of the same day the Bishop confirmed ten person at Christ Church, and in the evening eight persons at St. Paul's Church.—St. Louis Era. May 26.

The Baltimore Patriot, says:—Capt. Sawyer, of schr. Racer, at this port, from Eleuthera brings accounts of the loss of one of the British mail steamers, (name not known) on her passage from Liverpool to the West Indies. She ran aground near Turk's Island and report says, she would be a perfect wreck. Small crafts had been despatched to save whatever they could from her.

If you'd not be thought utterly, hopeless, and irreclaimably abandoned and depraved—beyond the pale of society—pay your printers's bill.

TO WAGONNERS.—Take Hogs' Lard, melt it over a gentle fire, and then stir it in flour until it becomes a paste. Grease your wagons or carriages with it—and you will never use tar again.—Try it.

A destructive hail storm swept over parts of Connecticut on Wednesday afternoon. A correspondent of the New Haven Herald, at Startford, says that "at 6 o'clock, P. M., May 11th, occurred here the most tremendous hail storm I ever witnessed. It commenced from a heavy black cloud from the west, bringing several claps of thunder, with rain, but soon after was changed into hail stones, an inch in diameter! Window glass appeared to exhibit little or no protection, and though the storm was directly in the rear of my house, and three window shutters previously closed, yet the hail broke 37 squares, and 30 of them were 6 by 12, and stout glass. I placed six hail stones brought in from the rain after the hail ceased, upon a scale, which measured full six inches. Each one was an inch in diameter, and about as solid as a musket ball. Thousands of the same size might have been gathered, and doubtless many larger, if gathered sooner."

CROPS IN VIRGINIA. The Richmond Whig of Wednesday says:—

We understand from the country, that the dry, cool weather has kept back the corn and oats; the latter particularly, look very badly, and are beginning to head very low, and unless we have rain shortly the crop will be seriously affected. It is too early to form any opinion of the tobacco crop. The wheat, the early being ripe and mostly reaped—is remarkably fine. There is but one account from all sections of the State, and that is — hat never before was there such a prospect for the wheat crop in this State. The Tobacco and wheat crop will go very far to relieve the money pressure in Virginia, and the habits of economy that now seem to pervade all classes. will very speedily put our money matters in a healthful condition.

CROPS.—The Richmond Whig says:—Accounts from every quarter of the country represent the growing crop of Wheat as very promising. The crop is very fine in all lower Virginia—but it is not a large one; the failure for two or three years having deterred farmers from seeding as much as usual. The other growing crops are also promising. No idea can yet be formed of the Tobacco crop. The season has been, and is, favorable to planting

The Richmond Enquirer says:—During our late excursion to the country, we had an opportunity of seeing some of the best cultivated lands in Virginia. We never saw the country more sweet in verdure and flowers—or the productions of the soil more luxuriant and promising. The wheat is uncommonly fine—and the harvest is at hand. At Ampthill, near Richmond, they will commence cutting the early wheat to-morrow, or Monday and the latter wheat will be rife for the Scythesman, in two or three weeks.

CROPS.—The Charlottesville (Va.) Advocate of the 28th May says that the harvest of the early wheats was commenced near that place on the previous day.

CANADA.—Within the last few months a very extensive emigration has taken place from the United States to Canada of persons, natives of Great Britain, but who have resided for many years in the United States. Several thousands of these individuals have reached Canada since the opening of the navigation The corn and flour trade with England, by the way of the river St. Lawrence, last year amounted to $4 000,000. Fifteen hundred emigrants arrived in Montreal on the 1st and 2d inst. The prospect for grain crops this year in Canada is unusually good.

MAINE.—The Legislature of Maine has agreed on the districting of the State for Representatives, in anticipation of the passing of the Apportionment Law by Congress, assuming that it will pass in such form as to give Maine ten Representatives. There was some difficulty in framing a bill for this purpose to meet the views of the two branches of the Legislature, but the object was accomplished on Saturday last, and the Houses resolved to adjourn on Monday.

LATEST NEWS

ARRIVAL OF THE COLUMBIA.

The steamship Columbia arrived at Cunard wharf, on Wednesday morning, at six o'clock, with the mail from Liverpool of the 19th May.

The proceedings of the British Parliament appears to have been of the usual importance,—uninteresting generally to the American reader. The third reading of the income tax bill was fixed for the 23d May.

The French Chambers were also going along quietly with business of a local nature.

From Spain we have the usual accounts of internal troubles, but generally the country is more quiet than we have heard of for some time.

From Portugal there is nothing of importance, and of little interest.

A few failures for large amounts had occurred at Oporto.

It is reported that another conspiracy to assassinate Louis Philippe, the King of the French, has been discovered at Paris owing to the confessions of the mistress of one of the conspirators, who herself has since been murdered. The parties are said to be persons connected with former culprits, Quenissets Considere, &c.

There has been little business in the Cotton Market, at Liverpool, and prices are not altered, except for low qualities, which have declined a little.

Mr. Washington Irving delayed his departure for Spain in consequence of a special invitation to the Queen's ball.

Money was abundant in England, and business dull.

The European says, in reference to the money market—

Money is abundant Good bills can be discounted at three per cent, and many of the first merchants, instead of employing their capital in the ordinary way of business, are seeking for its investment on loan—fortunate if they can obtain 4½ per cent.

On Tuesday afternoon, the pressure for money on the Stock Exchange became so severe for a short time that some of the jobbers had to pay as high as at the rate of ten per cent per annum for accommodation for a few days, but the market soon recovered. The intent was to prevent the jobbers from being compelled to sell stock, or rather to decline buying more. Advances were made on Wednesday at four per cent.

The transactions in public securities have not been extensive (Wednesday, 18th.) Consols have been done at 9½, the price being the same for money and account. Exchequer Bills are 2s lower, the quotation now being 37 39 premium.

Mexican Bonds have declined to 36⅞, whilst Colombian are rather improved, the quotation now being 27¼. No other change worth notice has occurred in foreign bonds.

The French papers are still talking about the Right of Search treaty, and the opposition boasting that M. Guizot dare not sign it.

The late rains have produced the most beneficial effects in all parts of England.

The Dowager Duchess of Richmond died on the 12th May.

From the United States Gazette.

HOW TO RAISE THE WIND.

The U. S. can borrow 100 millions of dollars in Holland and other parts of Europe at this time, on a three per cent stock—we were in worse credit than we are in at present, when we borrowed the former three per cent loan,—which was always a popular loan in Europe—(above the true par—although below the nominal par value) if Congress would pledge the nett proceeds of the public lands as security for the interest and eventually the principal, it would be sought after by the Capitalists of Europe, especially such as held our former loans and were paid off in full.

This amount so obtained, would pay all the debts of the nation and leave a large surplus which might be given to such of the States as are embarrassed, in lieu of that amount of their share of the Public Lands.

This amount thus paid out (in money) would enable every solvent man in the nation to pay his debts. We have heard of a certain bank note which paid fifteen debts in less than five hours. So this money received and paid by the government, would pass from debtor to creditor until it had paid ten times its original amount before it would rest in the Coffers of the wealthy. This would soon change the times; individuals and State would thus become released from their responsibilities by payment; the general government would become the debtor, and would meet the loan at or before maturity by money received from foreigners for the purchase of our lands, on which they would become settlers and citizens, so that in reality foreigners, would pay the money which it is proposed to borrow from foreigners. EXPERIENCE.
