will be the result of this already extraordinary session of Congress. The present condition of things are peculiar in every aspect in which they may be considered. What the President will do to harmonise with Congress no one can foresee. He has now resisted Congress upon the ground of Constitutional scruples, and upon no higher ground than the mere expediency of a law. He has vetoed a bill to create an old fashioned Bank, amended and improved, and he has vetoed a Fiscal Corporation bill which proposed the establishment of a Bank with branches in the States, with the assent of the States. This for the extra session of Congress; and now at a later period he has returned a bill with his objections which proposed the raising of revenue for the support of the Government, and that only for a limited period of three months to operate during the time that a general bill could be framed. The President, too, if his last veto message affords any exposition of his views, is equally opposed to the distribution of the lands, and the departure of the Compromise Act of '33. Per contra it is well known that he has signed the Land bill, and recommended a Tariff with discriminating duties.—But this was an opinion, and how far it may conform with the existing notions of the Executive is exceedingly doubtful. No dependence can be placed upon the declarations of Mr. Tyler for the reason that his past action has been so contrary. His actions not only do not correspond with each, but his opinions compared with his action are as fickle as the winds. It may be, and in Heaven I trust it will be, that he will not again refuse his assent to a law intended to give revenue to the Government. The bill before the Senate will in all probability, be submitted to him in all this week, and if sanctioned and signed, there will be an end to bickering, and the Executive and legislative branches will exibit more of harmony than has been manifested since the meeting of the present Congress. It is the wish of every Whig in Congress to escape from the prison house which has confined them here with a brief interruption since May, 1841, and none abroad would rejoice more than those in authority in Congress to see an end to the vexed question which agitate the country.

What will be the fate of the Revenue bill when placed in the hands of the President is a matter of doubt. What Congress will do if the bill is vetoed is a matter of much more doubt. Congress may and may not consent to make one more effort for the reason that none can tell what may be done to satisfy the Executive. If a bill is vetoed, the Loco Focos will insist for adjournment, and aided by many of the Whigs who will despair of doing anything in the event of another veto. When the veto comes we shall be fairly at sea again, and until then, if it comes at all is but doubt and darkness. The best wish we can have is that there may be no veto, in which case Congress will adjourn by the 15th. There is also some apprehension that there may be an adjournment of Congress without further efforts to pass a law. M. C. C.

From the Philadelphia Gaz. of Monday.

SERIOUS RIOT.—This morning, between ten & eleven o'clock, a most alarming riot and fight, attended with much personal injury and bloodshed, took place between white and black persons in the vicinity of South and Seventh. All ages and sizes and colored persons of both sexes were engaged in it.

The affray began in Shippen street, between Fourth, and Fifth, in consequnce of an attack made by several white boys upon a procession of temperance colored men and boys who were marching through the streets, intending to participate during the day in a temperance festival over Schuylkill.

Soon after the onset the fight became general and missiles of every descripuon were thrown: clubs, brickbats, stones were thrown and numbers severely hurt. The procession dispersed and the crowd highly incensed proceeded to the neighborhood of South and Sixth to Seventh and through St. Mary's street, where for a time the melee was of the most violent character. All the houses in the vicinity occupied by black persons were attacked and in a few moments thousands of brickbats hurled through the air, back and forth with the greatest profusion and violence.

A large number of white and black persons were seriously injured—one white man was stabbed in the eye and one of his arms broken; another was cut in the abdomen; others of both colors were knocked down with clubs and stones, and awfully cut and mangled.—The houses and stores in the vicinity were closed, and the inmates sought refuge within doors.

The City police officers with the mayor, soon arrived, and the combatants were dispersed. A number of the ringleaders were arrested and put in confinement.—Officer Whisner, of Moyamensing, arrested one desperate character who it is believed stabbed one of the white men Between 12 a 1 o'clock although the throng was immense, the rioters had dispersed and partial quiet was restored.

The houses in the neighborhood were more or less injured by brick-bats thrown into the windows. A small church in St. Mary street suffered somewhat in the breaking of the windows.

It was rumored that in the fight a colored child was killed. We did not ascertain it to be a fact, and have some doubts as to its truth.

Correspondence of the American.

Philadelphia, August 2, 4 P. M.

The particulars of the riots of Monday you no doubt have found in the papers of this morning. I regret to state that about noon to day another disturbance commenced on the Schulkill, which has continued to increase to such an extent that the first brigade of Volunteers have been ordered out, and are now under arms. The rioters are almost all of them men. and are very numerous, and the aspect of affairs is more threatening than yesterday. The number of the rioters is between 800 and 900 persons. At a special meeting of the City Council today, the sum of $5000 was placed at the disposition of the Mayor to quell the disturbance. We fear great additional troubles to night.

We have but little to say about business. The receipts of Flour are light, but new Wheat comes in more freely and sells at $1.23 for good reds; Corn dull at 54 for yellow, and 52 for white. Oats, new, 20 a 21 cts.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A fire broke out on Monday, says the Baltimore Patriot about a quarter past 4 o'clock, in the warehouse No. 67 S. Calvert street, owned by J. B. Morris, esq. and occupied as a bacon store by Messrs. L. & G. Cassard, which destroyed the whole interior of the building with its contents. The amount of damage sustained by the Messrs. Cassard is estimated at about $7,000, upon which there was an insurance in the Firemen's Insurance Company of $5,000. The books and some other valuable papers were fortunately saved in a small vault where they had been placed, partially under the pavement. There was a full insurance on the warehouse in the Equitable Society. This we are told, makes the third time within a year past that these gentleman have been burnt out. No later than a week ago yesterday morning, it will be remembered that their store in Pratt street, opposite the American Hotel, was partially destroyed, and about a year since the store in Old Town, kept by the father, was also destroyed by fire. There appears to be very little doubt but the fire this morning was the work of an incendiary, who it is supposed made his way into the premises by climbing up a rope that had been left suspended from an adjoining warehouse; and thence descended through the trap door. Before the alarm was given, the fire had made considerable progress. It broke out at an hour of the morning when the night watch had retired from duty, and when but very few persons are up and out, and those who were asleep were most difficult to be awakened. The firemen however, were on the spot as soon as possible but in time only to protect, which they did effectually, the adjoining property.

DIED

In this town on Thursday last, Mrs Susan Anderson, wife of Mr. James P. Anderson.

At Wheatland the residence of Mrs Anne White, on Thursday the 28th ult. Miss Almira Derochbrome in the nineteenth year of her age.

Miss Derochbrome's illness was of a tedious and most painful character, yet so far from rendering her fretful and impatient this only served to bring more prominently in view the patience and quiet resignation of this interesting young lady. Her deportment through life has shown her to have been possessed of a "meek and quiet spirit" and since her profession of religion she has given evidence of its purifying and heavenly influence by a most orderly and conscientious course of conduct. It had been impressed upon her mind from early life that she would die young, and upon the approach of Death she only looked upon it as a long expected visiter for whose coming she was fully and entirely prepared. It is natural when we see youth and loveliness fall around us to mourn and regret its loss—but we dry up our tears upon reflecting that they fade away on earth to be renewed again in heaven only exchanging temporary for eternal beauty! A NOTHER EVIDENCE OF THE WONDERFUL CURES PERFORMED BY DR SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

Dr. Swayne:—Dear Sir:—When I was at Pittsburg last August, I purchased of your Agent Six Bottles of your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. I had for many years been troubled with a Cough, often very violent, with other indications of Consumption, or disease of the Lungs, of a very serious nature. I had very little faith in medicine, as it was thought my disease was hopeless and beyond its reach.—I had applied to several Physicians for relief, and also used some highly puffed medicines which I had seen in the newspapers, but hearing that you had much experience in the practice of medicine, and had treated many cases of Consumption, I concluded to try yours; and from that time I am happy to say, I found relief.—I write this in hopes you will publish it, so that if any human being has suffered as I have done, they may know where to find a medicine the virtues of which may be relied on.

PROPOSALS

FOR PUBLISHING A CHEAP WEEKLY PAPER

TO BE CALLED

THE BALTIMORE WHIG.

To be principally composed of the choicest and most valuable reading matter of the Baltimore Daily Whig.

The Subscribers, proprietors of the Baltimore Daily Whig, grateful for the extensive and liberal patronage which has been bestowed upon that paper—desirous to further, by every means in their power, the cause in which they are engaged—and willing to contribute as much as possible to the support of the great and devoted Statesman of the West as the candidate for the suffrages of the American People at the next presidential election—propose to publish, in connection with their daily, a weekly paper for the country.

In endeavoring to advance the interests of the Whig party, by the publication of a cheap and efficient paper, so centrally located as to communicate promptly with all parts of the union; devoted to the correction of existing abuses, and advocating the most proper measures for conducting the Government, that the purposes for which it was established—the promotion of the prosperity and happiness of the nation—may be accomplished; the Subscribers believe that their design will be generally approved of, and accorded by the public a liberal support.

The Subscribers do not belong to the class of non-committal politicians That equivocal position, denominated "on the fence," which gives to a man's professions of patriotism so dubious a character, they trust they may never be found so far astray from the path of honesty as to occupy. They are thoroughly Whig, and that there may be no misunderstanding with regard to their principles they deem it proper to state them here, briefly and distinctly:

They are for HENRY CLAY, as the candidate of the Whig party for President in 1844; for the PROTECTION OF DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES, and for a SOUND and UNIFORM CURRENCY.

The advantages which the Subscribers possess as publishers of a daily paper, will enable them to furnish the patrons of the weekly WHIG with as valuable and efficient a journal, at a very moderate price, as the country can produce. It will contain, in addition to the editorial and other original essays, a carefully compiled summary of all the important and interesting news of the day, the earliest foreign intelligence, a correct report of Congressional proceedings, interesting correspondences from various sections of the country, diligent note of the progress of the Whig cause, a true and careful statement of the markets, and a record of commercial intelligence—so that persons desiring a comprehensive business and political paper will find the weekly Baltimore Whig a useful and cheap one.

TERMS.

The weekly Baltimore Whig will be printed on good paper, imperial size, and sent by mail to any part of the country, at One Dollar per annum, invariably in advance. One object in making the paper so extremely cheap is the convenience of the subscription price for remittance by mail. Another object is, to place it within the reach of every Whig in the country.

Address, post paid,

SPERRY, GALLUP & ROGERS,

Proprietors of the Daily Whig,

No. 27 Second street, Baltimore.
