EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, Jan. 14.

FOR PRESIDENT
HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL.—On the first page of our paper to day will be found a report on the subject of raising funds to complete the canal, which was made at the last general meeting of the stockholders, by General Tilghman who is one of the agents to represent the State in all Joint stock Companies in which the State has an interest.

Since the publication of this report we have received the annual message of the Governor, in which he recommends an increase of the capital stock of the company; and proposes to raise funds by the sale of this stock to complete the canal. The Legislature have therefore before them two propositions, either of which, would, in our opinion prove highly beneficial if carried into effect. In either case the work would remain under the control of the agents of the State; who would regulate the tolls and elect the President and Directors as they now do. Both plans have a decided advantange over the old mode of borrowing money, as the principal would not have to be paid by the state in any event.

The Governor recommends an addition to the capital stock of the company, but does not say whether it has been ascertained that the stock can be sold at this time on any terms.

This stock would be sold in shares of $100 each and is recommended on the ground that it could not be used as money and therefore the currency would not be effected by any depreciation it might undergo. The interest on the stock would have to be paid by the state until the tolls of the canal became sufficient for that purpose and this would of course render it necessary to increase the direct tax.—The stockholders, on the contrary, ask the Legislature to authorize the company to issue its own bonds, for the payment of which the state would be in no way responsible; they also say they have ascertained that the bonds can now be sold and on good terms. These bonds would be issued in sums of $100 and upwards and would therefore have to be sold in the stock market and could not become a part of the currency or effect it in any manner. The interest on these bonds would not have to be paid until the tolls became sufficient for that purpose and the completion of the work would thus be effected without any increase of the direct tax.

For this latter reason we should much prefer the plan proposed by the stockholders; but we are decidedly of the opinion that it would be better to adopt any measure for completing the work (except that of making a further loan by the state) than to suffer it to go to ruin when so small an amount would be sufficient to complete it, and even that could be raised by the company without the risk of increasing the debt of the state. If nothing is done we shall lose all that has been already expended and throw away the only chance of effecting a reduction of the tax. Whereas if we suffer the company to complete the canal by merely authorizing them to use the tolls for the payment of the bonds, which they propose to issue; the state will incur no responsibility for the payment of either the principal or interest of these bonds. And if the tolls should amount to even $200,000 per annum as Gov. Thomas says they will, the state would in two years receive a portion of the tolls and the direct tax be diminished by that amount.

The Baltimore papers mention the death of Dr. N. Potter, Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine in the Universisy of Maryland.

The Patriot says:

"He died suddenly this morning by strangulation, brought on by severe coughing, to which he has been subject for some time. Yesterday he seemingly enjoyed his usual health, and was attending to the duties of his profession. His loss cannot but be seriously felt by the institution to which he was attached, and of which he was one of the founders, and especially regretted by the members of the profession of which he was alike a devotee and an ornament."

LOSS OF THE U. S. STEAMER POINSETT.—The U. S. Steamer Poinsett was lost off the bar of St. Johns, (Florida,) at 10 o' clock, on the 27th, in consequence of mistaking the signals of the pilot of the harbor. All hands were saved. The steamer is a total loss.

[FOR THE EASTON GAZETTE]

Mr. Editor:—

I attended the annual meeting of the citizens Fire Company last night at Mr. Roszell's and it was a source of great pleasure to me to see so much interest felt by the members as was manifested on the occasion. They seemed to enter upon the business before them with a zeal and spirit that was truly gratifying, and among other resolutions passed was one authorising the purchase of an additional quantity of hose for the use of the Company and appointing a Committee to wait on the citizens generally for the purpose of soliciting and to carry out said resolution.

The committee will in a few days be ready to enter upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon them, and I hope when they make the call there will not be one member of our community unwilling and unprepared to contribute their portion for an object so laudable and praiseworthy.

The company is now much in need of additional hose owing to a portion of those now on hand being sentenced unfit for service from natural decay, and it will now require from 250 to 300 feet more to render the company efficient, and the present state of the finances will not justify such an outlay without assistance from other sources than the members of the company, who alone have borne the necessary expenses of the Company for a long time without any assistance.

Often has the good old "LYON," saved our Town from the jaws of the devouring element when aided by the liberal support of the community; and now that she has become a good and worthy "CITIZEN" can they withhold their aid when it is so much needed? I think not, when they come to reflect that is only through their assistance that she can be rendered really serviceable, and that by refusing they may perhaps be called upon to mourn the loss of a large portion of our town, and regret, when too late, that they did not dispense the blessings they then enjoyed with a more bountiful hand.

May the smouldering ashes of one of our sister towns appeal to the heart of every member of our community to profit by her fate, and may the Company, through their means be rendered so efficient as to adopt for their motto,

NUNQUAM NON PARATUS.

Friday, Jan. 5th.

ARRIVAL OF MR. CLAY AT NEW ORLEANS.

A Brilliant Reception.

Mr. Clay arrived at New Orleans on the 22d.—He was received by thousands in the most enthusiastic manner. The city was alive with busy multitudes throughout the day, while the appearance of the military, the roar of cannon, and the shouts of the vast multitude, indicated the feelings of the people. The New Orleans Tropic says:

"We feel that we are wholly incapable of presenting any thing like a correct view of this great and enthusiastic outpouring of the entire population of a whole city, and we would fain confide the duty to abler hands. But from the moment the procession moved from the landing, up to the time when Mr. Clay was set down at his lodgings, the route presented a scene such as is rarely witnessed in an ordinary lifetime. Every street through which the procession passed, was crowded to suffocation, literally crammed and choked up by a dense mass of people anxious to do honor to the talents, genius and patriotism, of one whose name and fame, is part and parcel of the common glory of the country. Every window and belcony within the range of the route of Mr. Clay, was filled with the beauty of New Orleans and thousands of the lovely maids and matrons of the city showered with their smiles, blessings and benedictions upon him whom a whole people delight to honor."

Mr. CLAY.—We received New Orleans dates of the 27th, 28th and 29th ult. on Saturday morning. We observe that the presence of Mr. Clay, at that capital, continues the occasion of much stir among the people.

On the 26 ult. the Ball Room of the St. Louis Exchange was thronged with an uninterrupted stream of visiters to exchange greetings with the distinguished guest. No political differences were allowed to restrain gentlemen of the opposite party from taking Mr. Clay by the hand, a large number of whom were present on the occasion.

The following day Mr. Clay received his friends at the Saloon of the St. Charles Theatre.

At a meeting of the members of the New Orleans Bar, on the 26th ult. it was resolved to tender Mr. Clay a dinner, as a distinguished member of the profession. A committee, selected from some of the oldest and most respectable members was appointed to notify Mr. Clay of the passage of the resolution.

The Tropic relates the following pleasing incident in connexion with its account of Mr. Clay's late enthusiastic reception by the people of New Orleans.

THE WREATH.—A beautiful and most touching incident occurred yesterday, which, pressed as we are for time and space, we must notice. As the procession passed down Charles street, a young and beautiful deaf and dumb girl, standing upon a balcony, threw a most exquisite and delicate wreath of flowers into the Barouche, at the feet of Mr. Clay. He took it up and bowed to the fair donor his thanks, while she, abashed with the novelty of her situation, was suffused with blushes. It was a touching compliment from one denied the sense of hearing and the power of speech, but who had grown familar with the name and fame of one of her country's noblest sons, and who longed to burst the fetters which nature had cast upon her, and speak her praises. We doubt if any incident connected with Mr. Clay's reception in this city has afforded him so much pleasure. No compliment, in language however graceful, elegant and eloquent, could go so directly to the heart as this meek offering from the fair young being who gave it.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION.

The Anahuac, Captain Wilson, arrived last night from Vera Cruz. She has had nineteen days passage. The news she brings is as important as news can be from that country.

Another revolution has broken out—It seems that the Federal party in Congress was too strong for Santa Anna so he sent orders to break them up. They stood firmly, however.

Our Commodore on the Western coast of Mexico, hearing that war had begun between the Americans and Mexicans, took possession of Monterey, much to the astonishment of its inhabitants.

For further intelligence see the following important letter from our correspondent at Vera Cruz.—N. Y. Herald.

[Correspondence of the Herald]

Vera Cruz, Dec 19, 1842.

Another Revolution in Mexico—Movements of Santa Anna—Capture of Monterey by the American Squadron—The War against Yucatan—American Prisoners—Texas, &c. &c.

News from the city of Mexico received to day, is very interesting and important. General Gustarrey of the department of San Luis, has declared the dissolution of Congress, and announced the convocation of a new one by Santa Anna to form a constitution for the Republic. General Canilligo, of Puebla, has made the same declaration for his department. These movements created a great sensation. The news reached Mexico by express, and was committed to General Tornel, the Minister of War, who immediately made it known to Congress. That body at once took a dignified stand, and replied that they would not listen to threats from any military chieftain, and would continue to sit till driven from the hall by force of arms. This is purely a military movement which has been in embryo for some time.

Intelligence has arrived from the West coast, of the occupation of Monterey, a town in California, by Commodore T. Ap. Catesby Jones, of the U. S. frigate Potomac, and corvette Cyane. He occupied the place two days, and then delivered it back to the Mexicans, with the explanation that he took the town in consequence of having heard that war had been declared between the United States and Mexico.

The Mexican General Woll, has given information that a body of three hundred Texans had marched from Texas towards the Rio Grande. He writes that he will meet them, and not let one escape!

Campeachy still holds out against the government. Six hundred men left here on the 15th inst. for that place, to reinforce the Mexicans already there. This war is very unpopular except with the party in favor of Santa Anna.

The garrison of this city is momentarily expected to declare itself in favor of the new revolution, and for the overthrow of the Federalists.

Seven American prisoners taken at Chechihua, have been released at the request of the American Minister.

MARRIAGES.

On the 13th December, Robert Rush Spedden, to Melcina E., youngest daughter of Gen. David Thomson, all of Pettis County, Missouri.

In St. Michaels on the 5th inst. by Rev. Mr. Williams, Mr James Cole, to Miss Caroline M. Jones, all of Bayside.

By the Rev John Henry, on the 5th inst. Mr. Isaac P. Cox, to Miss Elizabeth Catrup, all of this county.

Also on the same day, by the same, Mr. John F. Mullikin, to Miss Margaret Sherwood, all of this county.

On Thursday evening, the 5th inst. by the Rev. L. W. Bates, Mr. Wm. Harden, of Queen Ann's county, to Miss Hybert Sutton, of Kent.

On Tuesday, 10th inst. by Rev. Wm. H. Bordley, Charles W. Ridgely, Esq. of Baltimore, to Miss Mary Louisa Hopper, daughter of Daniel Hopper, Esq. of Queen Ann's county.

On the 12th inst. Mr. Joseph Russum, to Miss Emeline Shehan, all of this county.

DEATHS.

In this town on Monday morning 9th inst. Mrs Elizabeth Tilghman in the 88th year of her age.

In Easton, on Tuesday morning last, the 10th inst. Henrietta Matilda, daughter of James and Mary Matilda Benny; aged 11 months.

OBITUARY.

Died on the morning of the 13th inst. at Otwell, the seat of Nicholas Goldsborough Esq., and in the 87th year of her age, Mrs. Anna Maria Tilghman relict of Tench Tilghman an aid de camp of General Washington.

The death of this holy woman, a widow of more than four score years, who departed not from the temple of God, but served him day and night, has left a chasm in society which cannot well be filled. "When the ear heard her, then it blessed her and when the eye saw her, it gave witness to her, of a deep humility & fervent piety, her long & blameless life shone forth in a christian faith and practice. For half a century a regular and faithful communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church, she has left a name, than which there was none more venerable, none more pure. Among a community to whom she was widely known there were many who deeply loved her living, and therefore many who will deeply lament her dead. Her departure was calm, as her closing years had been peaceful and serene; in the communion of the Catholic Church, in the confidence of a certain faith, in a reasonable, religious, and holy hope, in favour with God, and in perfect charity with all the world.

Be't thine, sweet saint, before thy line to go,
As harbinger of heaven, the way to shew.
The way which thou so well hast learnt below.

Quis desiderio sit pudor aut modus,
Tam cari capitis?

Beware of a Swindler.

Something more than twelve months ago, a man calling himself Henry Sullivan, rather under the ordinary size, and thin, and negro in appearance, with swarthy complexion, high cheek bones, and dark and sunken eyes, came and settled with his wife in the town of Easton, sustensibly pursuing the shoe making business for a living, but in reality occupied in gambling and other devices.—Late in the past fall, he rented a room and cellar, under the pretext of keeping a tavern, or oyster house, where scenes of dissipation, drunkenness and midnight revelling were carried on to a most unheard of extent. He contracted debts with every body that would trust him, and finally eloped between two days, without paying any body—being taken down to Oxford, clandestinely, whence he embarked the next morning for the city of Baltimore, in the Steam Boat Maryland, for the purpose of locating himself in said city. But to close his infamous career, the night previous to his leaving the property he occupied he committed the most wanton destruction, by tearing down the shelves and breaking the windows and sash, &c.

This therefore, is intended, not only, to have a salutary corrective, but to warn the citizens of the above city, against the treachery and malevolent designs of such a superfine scoundrel.

N. B. If the Sun and Baltimore Clipper, will give the above an insertion, it will probably save many of the unsuspecting from imposition, loss and trouble.

Many Citizens of Easton.
