and Elicott send their respects to you and your family I myself wish you all well and if you should like to pay me a visit at any time I would pay your expences. A coming and returning back again.

Rachel Colvin

And on the 29th of March 1844 the letter of that date to the defendant.

Baltimore, March 29th 1844

Colvin Warford.

I thought you would have been here before this time if you want employment here it is high time that you were on the spot. There is a great many persons going into business here and some new names I see put the season is opened, and people are looking up with a great hope of doing a good business. Considering the times I think of you have any notion of coming this season you have no time to loose. I told Mary Ann to write to Rachel to Return and I would pay the expenses of jaunt if you cant get money then to pay the jaunt let tell me in what way and I would send it onto you and how much would — nessary to pay it I suppose you have enough to pay your own expenses if not tell me how much it would take and I would send it onto you that if you need it and want to come, and if not you may write and let me know you may stay at my house till you get a place but if Rachel dont want to come she need not, if she comes and wants to go to New Jersey to her Aunt then I will send her there, when Elisha comes down in June he says that he will come in June dont fail to write when you receive this letter my hand shakes so that I cant write even tolerably make my respects to your father and brother and Cornealia I suppos that she is married by this time

Colvin Warford.

Rachel Colvin.

And the same Witness also proved that at the request of Miss Colvin he wrote the letter of Nov. 14, 1843 to David Warford which was read in evidence (No 10½)

Baltimore Nov. 14th 1843

Cousin David Warford

I wrote to you some time since requesting you to pay a visit to me and to bring your daughter Rachel Jane with you, Since then I have not heard from you, and I cannot account for the delay of your writing or coming unless my letter should not have reached you. I have now again to request you to come with Rachel Jane and pay me a visit and if she chooses to stay here until next Spring I would be pleased for her to do so and then your son Colvin can come on to take her home, I will pay the travelling expenses incurred by so doing In the meantime I want you to write to me and inform me particularly and truly what Colvin is doing in the way of business, how he is coming on in whatever he may be engaged, and whether he is a sober and industrious young man, and I also want and request you to tell him to write to me and inform me what he is about, where he is living; and whatever he may deem interesting to me.

(Signed) Rachel Colvin

The Defendant then further proved by the same witness that at the time the Witness applied to the chancellor for the appointment of Receiver, Elisha Warford the Lessor of the Plaintiff made an affidavit & filed certificates in regard to his sufficiency as surity (No. 11)

State of Maryland

City of Baltimore To wit:

Be it remembered that on this 28th day of September in the year one Lord Eighteen hundred and fifty one before the subscriber a justice of the Peace, in and for said City personally appeared Elisha Warford one of the sureties in the annexed Bond of Hunterden County in the State of New Jersey and made oath in due form of law that the annexed list of his property in New Jersey and the value thereof is in his judgment correct. That he is not indebted in the whole beyond the sum of one thousand dollars. That what he possesses is the acquisition of forty six years of labor. That he is not engaged in any Mercantile business but his pursuit has been that of a farmer and that he verily believes that over and above all his debts he is worth the sum of sixty thousand dollars
