EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, Dec. 23.

FOR PRESIDENT
HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

The Legislature of Maryland will meet at Annapolis on Monday next, the 25th instant. Among the first acts will be to lay the State off into Congressional districts and fixing an early day for the election of members of the House of Representatives—the next important duty will be the election of U. States Senator to fill the vacancy that now exists.

The Address of the State Whig Central Committee, held in Baltimore on the 15th inst. to the Whigs of the State of Maryland, will be found in our pape. .f to day—the Committee say,

'It is desirable that the canvass for the election of the Governor should be opened contemporaneously with that for the President of the United States.

The presidential nomination will be made in the city of Baltimore, by a National Convention, which is to assemble on the first day of May.

The Committee propose that the State Convention be appointed to assemble in the city of Baltimore, on Tuesday the 30th of April—being the day before that selected for the National Convention:

That it be composed of as many representatives from each county as such county is entitled to in the two Houses of the General Assembly—

That it be duly authorised and required to nominate the Candidate for Governor.

That it be empowered to appoint a State Central Committee which shall serve until superseded by a new Committee; and

That it be directed to make all needful provisions for the welfare of the Whig Party, and for the promotion of its success in the several elections which are to occur during the next year.

The Committee further propose that the several counties and the city of Baltimore direct their attention to the duty of organizing the State Convention on the above plan, at such times as may be found most convenient to the Whigs residing in the different districts; making this organization at as early a day as may be compatable with a full notice and such deliberation as the business may require.

The Committee would take the liberty very strenuously to recommend the establishment of Clay Clubs, in every county and election district, and connected with these, the creation of some Central Committee in each county, for the purpose of holding correspondence, with the State Central Committee, and of ensuring rapid and certain communication with the great mass of Whig voters in every district.

The Address will be read with pleasure by every whig in the state.

We have inserted on our first page the Prospectus of two of the Philadelphia weeklies, viz.—The Enquirer and Museum; Also that of Campbell's Foreign Semi-Monthly Magazine. They are well conducted, neatly printed and the subscriptions are set down at very low rates.

We had already placed the piece on 'Pulpit Eloquence' in our sheet and afterwards, received the following communication.—

For the Easton Gazette.

Mr. Graham, you will confer a special favor by publishing the enclosed lines by Mrs. Amelia B. Welby, of Kentucky.—Though the beauty and harmony of this piece will at once commend it to the admiration of every true lover of poetry; yet there is a peculiar interest attached to it, as being the production of a lady raised and Educated in the village of St. Michael's in this county, & the scene of the enchanting verse being also laid in that native village—the sweet tones of this delightful Poetess's lyre have reached the distant shores of England already, and the reviewers of that country have placed her in the same catagory with Mrs Sigourney and others of our most gifted writers—the career of this Lady is but just commenced and much may be yet expected from her gifted pen.

BAY SIDE.

Mr. Clarke, late Clerk of the House of Representatives, has been nominated to the Senate, as Auditor of the Post office Department; and Isaac Hill, of Hill's New Hampshire Patriot,' has been nominated as Head of the Bureau of Provisions, under Henshaw, in the Navy Department. These, and others heretofore announced, have been refered to the Committee of the Senate on Executive nominations.

Mr. Webster's Position. The New York True Sun states, on undoubted authority that D. Webster does not wish to be a candidate for the Vice Presidency, that he will not be, and that he intends to go THE ENTIRE for Mr. Clay!

The bill passed by the Senate of the Legislature of Tennessee, at its present session, securing to married women the use and enjoyment of their own property, has been negatived in the Lower House.

Another Whig Elected to Congress.—Upon canvassing the official return of votes taken at the late election for a Representative to Congress in Lincoln and Oxford district in the State of Maine it has been ascertained that Freeman H. Morse, the Whig candidate, is chosen by a majority of thirteen votes, over all persons voted for; showing a Whig gain of about three thousand votes in this district from the September election. This and other evidences of public sentiment leave little doubt that Maine will take rank with the galaxy of Whig States in the Presidential election.

Death of Mr. Goldsborough.

Mr. Oldschool, in a private letter, mentions to us that Charles W. Goldsborough, Esq head of the Bureau of Provisions and Clothing of the Navy Department died on Thursday.—U. S. Gazette Dec. 14.

From the Cambridge Chronicle.

Mr. Editor: Will you permit one who feels a deep interest in the prosperity of Old Maryland, and believes that her destiny, either for weal or woe, is closely interwoven with Whig principles, to say a word upon an important subject. In the year 1844 the Great Whig Banner of the Union is destined to wave triumphantly over the land. The whole atmosphere of freedom will be filled with songs of rejoicing and shouts of victory, upon the election of Henry Clay to the first office in the people's gift,—not alone because it will be the means of hurling from high places sycophants and traitors—not alone because the 'spoils of victory belong to the conquerors,' but because in his election, through his principles and measures, the country will arise from her paralysis, recover her energies, and return to her former greatness. But shall not Maryland share in the glory of electing Henry Clay? If the Whigs of Maryland are true to their own principles, her voice will swell the victorious choir as it rolls over this vast Republic. But Maryland has another important work to perform.—She has to select a man to preside over her own destiny. And although I am thoroughly convinced of the impolicy of agitating this question at this early period, yet I think the name which I shall propose to the voters of Maryland, will produce harmony instead of discord in the Whig ranks. It is a name that will rally around it more strength and unanimity than any other in the State. When short sighted politicans were exerting all their energy and zeal in measures which have heaped debt, embarrassment and almost dishonor on our State, Thos G. Pratt, of Prince George's county, with an eloquence and a force of argument and an untiring zeal which merited success, predicted the necessary tendency of these measures, and warned the members of the legislature and the people against their adoption Had his voice been listened to and his counsel followed, the people of Maryland would not now be taxed, nor repudiation raise its loathsome form in our State. But he failed, and we all feel and lament the sad consequences. Let Maryland then look to him for her redemption.—Col. Pratt is a true and unwavering Whig, a gentleman of sound and well cultivated mind, courteous and polite to all, yet firm and unflinching in the performance of what he believes his duty. With such a leader, the Whigs would march to victory; and with such a Governor, Maryland would have a sure guarantee that her honor would be preserved inviolate and the dearest interests of her people advanced.

The Voice of Old Dorset.

THE SECOND WEEK of the Session of Congress is ended without ending any thing else except the election of its officers, the last of whom the Chaplain on the part of the House of Represenitves was chosen, after three tedious votings on Saturday.

Appearances are not auspicious, at present, for the accomplishment of much good by the present Congress. The majority seem to have come to the seat of Government prepared to determine almost every question by a stern and remorseless party rule. Nothing short of the force of such a predetermination could have so far overpowered the habitual deference of our countrymen for the law and for the rights of the minority as to induce, in the House of Representatives, the total disregard of right in admitting to seats Members not chosen according to law followed by the refusal to suffer a protest against the alleged violation of law to be placed on the Journal, & what is a more arbitrary stretch of power the striking from the Journal the record of every description. The case of the undeniable fact that such a protest had been offered and refused. The same spirit has prevailed, as our readers have seen, in the choice of officers of the House of every description. The case of the Clerk of the House we have already noticed; against the choice of Printers to the House we say nothing, having really nothing to say: nor do we say any thing of the other officers eligible by the vote of the House though the changes made therein could find no justification except in mere blind party zeal. But the proscription and persecution, by the personthus preferred to the old officers, which has followed, has been such as was never before witnessed within the walls of the Capitol, and begining with the highest and best qualified, has descended so low as will hardly be believed, even down to the little boys, (pages, or runners in the House, of from ten to fifteen years of age) several of whom have, we are informed been driven out of employ, because their fathers or mothers, or uncles or aunts, are suspected of being Whigs! The case to which we have alluded of the highest & best qualified subordinate officer removed from employment, is that of Samuel Burche, the old, well known and most efficient Clerk in the office of the clerk of the House of Representatives, whose removal was the first act of the new Clerk of the House. This gentleman had been for thirty nine years a servant of the House, and during twenty nine of these years with the exception of a furlough of eight months granted to him by Mr. Clerk Garland in 1840-41. had discharged the duties of Chief Clerk in the Clerk's office. There is perhaps no other individual in the United States so well versed at the same time in Parliamentary Law and in the pratice of Congress; and for the sake of Members themselves it is unfortunate that they have lost the benefit of his intelligence, his experience and his peculiar qualifications for the station which he filled. Not the least of the objections, indeed, to the radical charges which departing from usage, the House has thought fit to make in its ministerial officers and attendants, is, that the new officers necessarily want the qualification and facility for discharging their duties which are acquired by some experience in them.

We shall be most happy if the auspices deceive us and the Members of the House of Representatives, renouncing party combinations and caucus determination, shall, in the course of the session be found consulting together amicably & co-operating heartily for the good of the country. Nobody will, in that case, more heartily than we, cheer them on their way and when they have finished their career, applaud their faithful service.—Nat. Int.

Correspondence of the Balt. American.

Washington, Dec. 18, 1843

The President of the United States sent to the Senate the nomination of Matthew St. Clair Clark, Esq as Auditor of the Post Office Department. Isaac Hill, Esq. has also received the nomination as Head of the Provision Bureau in the Navy department. The Senate acted upon the nominations so far as to refer them.

THE TARIFF.—Congress.—On Monday, movements were made in the House, by Mr. Rhett, and in the Senate, by Mr. McDuffie for the repeal or modification of the tariff law of 1842. Mr. McDuffie merely gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill on the subject. Mr. Rhett moved to suspend the rules, to allow him to offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means do inquire as soon as practicable into the expediency of reporting a bill repealing the tariff act passed in the year 1842, and in lieu thereof imposing a maximum rate of duty of twenty per cent. ad valorem on imports, discriminating between this maximum in the duties imposed, on the principle of producing revenue only.

The yeas and nays were called on the motion to suspend, and it was rejected—only 77 voting in favor of it and 107 against. This vote is decisive, we should suppose, of the fate of any proposition to alter the tariff in the manner proposed by Mr. Calhoun; and his friend Mr Van Buren may write letters to the South, declaring his opposition both to the principles and details of the present tariff,' but his friends in Congress dare not vote for any proposition to carry into effect such opposition

The Washington Spectator (Calhoun paper) furnishes the following analysis of the vote of the members on the proposition, by which it will be seen that nearly all the Northern Van Burenites opposed the motion—

Repeal of the Tariff—We deem the vote taken on Mr. Rhett's resolution of sufficient importance to give it a partial analysis. There voted against the resolution, all the Representatives from Pennsylvania and New Jersey and all from New York excepting two Mr. Murphy and Mr Strong. All from New England excepting the New Hampshire delegation, and Messrs. Dunlap and Herrick from Maine, and Mr. Seymour from Connecticut.—Also all the Whigs, Southern and Nothern, with the exception of Mr. Davis of Kentucky who although voting for it, is a tariff man.—In favor of the resolution, all the Southern Democrats voted, and all from Michigan, Indiana and Illinois; all but one from Missouri; and from Ohio, six of the Democrats for, and four against it In Virginia, all the Democrats except Mr. Hopkins In Louisiana three Democrats against the resolution—one absent.

Mr. Calhoun and the National Convention—The Convention Rapudiator. The Charleston Mercury (Mr. Calhoun's special organ) publishes some strictures upon the rumors started in the Van Buren papers of Mr. Calhoun having withdrawn, or intending to withdraw from the contest for President, and repudiates the National Convention as follows:

'If we cannot support the Democratic creed, the true creed, with Free Trade at its head, in supporting Mr Van Buren then will we never support him, though forty Conventions should unanimously nominate him. And if we can support that creed best by supporting him, we shall take good care not to allow the interests of any man to interfere. As to the National Convention we have never desired its existence and therefore care precious little whether it is composed of men or ofmonkeys. What is reasonable and good in itself is not made a particle more so by the sanction of such a body, and what is bad is not a whit worse for its approval and praise.'

Stainburn's Pills.—These Pills are so well known for a mild, yet effectual purgative, that it is almost useless to say any thing about their excellent qualities At the present season they will be found very valuable to all who wish to secure themselves against sickness. As a general family and anti-bilious medicine they are without a rival. The lowness of spirit acute headache, &c., to which all are more or less subject in this climate, are removed immediately by a dose of the Stainburn Vegetable Extract Pills.—They are alike safe for children as to every other period of life, and require no extra attention in diet or clothing Their virtues may be summed up as a medicine which strengthens the feeble an consolidates the muscles of the strong, and will be found of infinite value to females of all classes who wish to be secure from sickness.

Price 25 cents per. box. Office 338 Broadway, N. Y. next door below the Tabernacle.

Said pills are sold in Easton by the agent E. M. Dawson & Brother, and by agents published in another part of our paper.

VALUABLE
Real and Personal Property
FOR SALE.

IN virtue of the authority vested in us as executors of the last will and testament of Mrs. Deborah Bordley, late of Queen Ann's county, dec'd. we offer for sale all of her estate both real and personal, (except the farms on Corsica Creek and the several tracts included with them) consisting of a large farm in Talbot county well known by the names of

for many years before his death, the residence of the late John Fisher—where also the late Arthur Holt lived for many years, and upon which Mr. Joseph Callahan now resides as tenant.

This farm lies on the main road leading from Wye Mill to Hillsborough on the Talbot side—is about equidistant from either place, and is within 3 miles of the navigable waters of Wye River and Skipton creek.

There is a commodious

BRICK DWELLING

and suitable out houses—all in comfortable repair. The farm is large & valuable, containing about with good proportion in FINE WOOD AND TIMBER. It could be very readily divided into three farms of upwards of 360 acres in each, and will be so divided to suit the purchaser or purchasers provided the whole be sold.

—Also—

Another small Tract of Land in Caroline county of from more or less, on Tuckahoe creek, near Hillsborough, adjoining the land of Mr. Deroachbrome. A more minute description of these lands is deemed unnecessary as persons wishing to purchase will examine for themselves.

60 to 70 Acres,

The terms of sale, for the Hillsdon farm, will be 1000 dollars on the day of sale, and the balance in 4 equal half yearly instalments of 6, 12, 18 months and 2 years, with bond and security drawing interest from day of sale, such as the trustees under the will shall approve.

For the land in Caroline the terms will be two equal instalments of 6 and 12 months to be secured by bond with approved security drawing interest.

Should these lands not be sold before the last Saturday in January, they will, respectively on that day, between the hours of 11 A. M. and 2 o'clock P. M. be offered at public sale in the town of Centreville, and will be positively sold to the highest bidder on the foregoing terms.

—Also—

In virtue of an order from the Orphans' Court of Queen Ann's county, we as executors aforesaid, will sell at private sale, all of the negroes belonging to the estate of said deceased, consisting of men, women, boys and girls of all ages to the number of 34 or 35 among which are slaves for life, and terms of years, none to be sold out of the state. These servants are mostly young and valuable, including house servants and farm hands of all kinds. We invite persons wishing to purchase good servants to apply at once, as such are in great demand.

Should any of these servants remain unsold they will on the last Saturday in January, after the sale of the land be offered at public sale.

Among other personal property we will also sell on the same day if not before sold, one large family carriage, and harness in good order.
