come before the House. The vote which prevailed on Wednesday to strike out the enacting clause was reconsidered, and the bill was recommitted. When again reported it will probably be somewhat modified from its original shape.

Correspondence of the American.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 15, 1844.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

On motion of Mr. Reeder, the committee on colored population were directed to inquire into the propriety of repealing the law imposing a penalty for bringing slaves from any foreign State into this.

On motion of Mr. Waters, of Som., leave was granted to report a bill relative to the abatement of suits.

On motion, it was ordered that the Treasurer report the amount paid out to the School fund, the Tobacco fund, and the Judges of Baltimore city court, under the Act No 390, of 1830.

On Motion of Mr. Thomas leave was granted to the Talbot delegation to report a bill separating the collection of the state and county taxes of that county. Mr. Johnson remarked that as similar leaves had been granted he should not object but when they were reported, he moved their reference to the Committee on Ways and Means, who would provide for it in a bill to be reported.

On motion of Mr. Yellott, leave was granted to report a bill to provide suitable offices in the several counties for surveyors.

On Motion of Mr. Bateler, leave was granted to report a bill providing for the more speedy paying over of monies coming into the possession of county clerks

A report was received from the Treasurer exhibiting a list of State debtors.—Ordered to be printed.

A bill incorporating a Hebrew Benevolent Society of Baltimore, and

A bill incorporating the town of New Windsor, Carroll county, was passed, and sent to the Senate

In the SENATE, Mr. Sellman presented a petition adverse to the passage of a law authorising the borrowing of money to complete public buildings in Howard District, which was referred. The sitting was occupied in the transaction of local business.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan 16, 1844.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

On motion of Mr. Semmes the proposition submitted by him some days since as an additional rule, providing that all bills and resolutions contemplating taking money out of the Treasury shall first be submitted to the Committee on claims or some other appropriate standing committee, before final action shall be had thereon.

Mr. Stewart submitted a substitute directing the Committee on Ways and Means to inquire into the propriety of so amending the Constitution as to provide that no money shall be paid out of the Treasury except by law.

The question was taken upon the substitute, and it was adopted.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Mr. Waters, reported a bill providing for a separation of the collection of the State and County taxes, so far as regarded Somerset county.

Mr. Johnson moved that it be referred to the committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Waters moved as an amendment, 'and that said committee be instructed to report, at some early day, a general bill, carrying out the object of the bill.'

Mr Johnson objected to any instruction, in so definite a form, upon the isolated question of repeal, as the committee were assiduously engaged in devising a plan which, while it contemplated a separation of the collection, also provided for effectually securing the State against any contingency.

Mr. Thomas of Talbot, spoke in favor of the instruction.

Mr. Waters, of Somerset, considered the law of the last session as perfectly absurd. Its gross injustice to the local institutions of the county to bid any hope of its ever being carried into effect.

Mr. Calvert thought that gentlemen in their action here, looked rather to the tax payer's than the bondholder's benefit; while the reverse should be the fact

Mr. Stewart considered the question as likely to be the most important that probably would be presented for the consideration of the present Legislature; and hoped it would be met at once. He argued in favor of the object contemplated by the instructions, as best calculated to secure the successful operation of any measure. The people were opposed to the present act, as its operation was grossly unjust to themselves and unequal in its general bearing.

Mr. Kilgour spoke in opposition to the instruction.

Mr. Shriver advocated it; and was followed by Mr Thomas, on the same side

Mr. Causin and Mr. Johnson spoke at length, in opposition.

Messrs. Weber, Thomas, & Stewart followed in favor of instructions.

Mr. Yellot submitted as a substitute 'that the committee be instructed to report a bill repealing the fourth section of the Act last session, and to provide for the more effectual collection of the direct tax,' which, after some discussion; was adopted and the House adjourned.

Correspondence of the Balt. Pat.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1844.

MY DEAR SIR:— The election of Mr. Pearce to the Senate of the United States gives the greatest satisfaction to our friends here. Cannot Maryland follow up this good work by sending us five or six sound Whigs to the House of Representatives? I trust you all realise the importance of doing so. The Whigs in the House do not constitute, at this moment, even one third of the body — The consequence is, that the majority can obtain a vote of two thirds to suspend the rules at their pleasure. Four or five more Whig members would change this unfortunate state of things, and would give the minority some power to maintain the order of business & arrest the progress of mischief. But there are other views in which your approaching election is still more important. It will be the first election in the new year—the first fire, is the great campaign of 1844. If the Whigs of Maryland will only fire well and give us a good lead, the influence will be felt, and the example followed, by their friends in other States. But if they fail of doing their duty, they will throw a deep shade over the hearts and hopes of the Whig Party throughout the country.

As to Baltimore, we can have no doubt. After the pledge she has twice, so recently, given—it cannot be imagined that she will disappoint us now. The idea of the great Whig Convention in May, being held in any thing but a Whig city, is not to be entertained for a moment.—The Whigs of Baltimore, I am sure, will bear in mind that the best preparation they can make for receiving their guests on that occasion will be the performance of their own duty in the election of a good Whig Representative to Congress.

We are all glad to hear that Mr. Kennedy is likely to be your candidate. No man will be welcomed back here more cordially, by those whose welcome is worth having. He has done excellent service in past years, exhibiting not merely ability and eloquence but great information and industry, and these latter qualities you know, are not the most common in the National councils. His report on commerce and navigation, last year, is among the most valuable documents on the files of Congress, and is constantly referred to, as exhausting the subjects to which it relates.

But I have already detained you too long about matters with which a stranger perhaps, has no right to meddle. My apology must be found in the deep interest we all take in the prospects of the Whig party at the present moment.

EASTON GAZETTE.

EASTON, MD.

Saturday Morning, Jan. 20.

FOR PRESIDENT
HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

The Hon. William Cost Johnson has declined being a candidate for Congress from the Second District in this State.

MR CLAY'S ROUTE.

A correspondent of the Richmond Whig who descended the Mississippi with Mr. Clay, designates his route to be from New Orleans to Mobile—thence through Macon Milledgeville, and Augusta in Georgia to Charleston—thence to visit Col. Preston, at Columbia—thence by Raleigh and Wilmington, N C, to Norfolk and Portsmouth—thence by the Peninsula of the Eastern Shore of Virginia (Northampton and Accomac) to Wilmington, Delaware.

REJECTION.—The nomination of Mr. Henshaw, to be Secretary of the Navy, was rejected by the U. S. Senate on Monday afternoon, by, the Globe says, 'a very heavy vote.' The office is therefore now vacant.

DR. DENNIS CLAUDE.—The Annapolis Republican, in noticing the electing of Dr. Claude to the office of Treasurer, says:

Of the qualifications of Dr. Claude we cannot speak in too high terms Long experience as a Legislator, and many years passed in the capacity of Executive counsellor and State Senator, and a constant attention to and interest in, public measures and matters, afford him intimacy with the present condition and what is not immaterial with the past history, of the Finances of Maryland, which combine with the most sterling integrity and an uncommon degree of prudence and keenness of foresight to render him peculiarly fit for the office to which he is elected.

IOWA.—Gov. Chambers, in his Message says, that there are sufficient inhabitants in that territory to make it a State

TEXAS.— Advices have been received at New Orleans from Galveston up to the 4th instant.

Letters from Washington, the capital of Texas, represent the members of Congress (as it is well understood the country is) to be nearly unanimous in favor of annexation to the United States.

It appears that President Houston has refused to comply with a resolution adopted by the Senate calling on him for information relative to negotiations with England. France and the United States, touching the independence of Texas as a nation, and her affairs with Mexico. This refusal had created great excitement and a resolution of a similar character, calling for copies of all correspondence between the Government and any foreign ministers near the Government, was adopted by the House of Representatives, by a vote of 21 to 14.

IMPEACHMENT OF GOV. PORTER, OF PENNSYLVANIA.—In the Pennsylvania Legislature on Saturday, a Message was received from the Governor, returning a bill passed at the last session, directing William M. Meredith and others to institute proceedings against certain persons implicated in the 'Handy' transactions in relation to the Banks, with information that the same has become a law without the Executive sanction, and containing his reasons for not signing it.

Mr. McManus moved that it be not entered on the journals. Mr. Roumfort, (L. F.) moved to amend the motion, by providing for the appointment of a select committee to prepare articles of impeachment against the Governor; and after a short, but animated discussion, the subject was postponed for the present.

DREADFUL DISASTER

The St Louis Republican of Friday the 12 inst. brings to us a most distressing account of the loss of the steamboat Sheperdess, at Cahokia Bend, about 3 miles below St. Louis, about eleven o'clock on the night of the 3d inst. The editor of the Republican went down on the morning of the 4th inst. to the scene of the disaster, and the account he gives is harrowing.

The passengers had nearly all retired to rest, but were soon startled by the severe concussion of the boat against a snag. Several planks were torn out and the boat filled so rapidly that it was up to the door of the upper cabin The captain was on duty at the time the concussion took place, and rushed into the Ladies cabin to say there was no danger. He has not been heard of since and is no doubt lost. There were about sixty persons in the cabin, all of whom reached the roof of the Hurricane deck. After the boat struck she drifted down the stream a short distance and struck another snag, which threw her on her larboard beam end; she lurched over again on the opposite side a short time after and at each lurch several persons were washed off, some of whom reached the shore but others were drowned. Other passengers escaped on shore in the yawl.

It is thought the loss of life will not exceed thirty or forty.

The Republican makes the following appropriate mention of a young man to whose heroism many of the passengers owe their lives.

"A young man Robert Bullock, of of Maysville, Ky. was up at the time the boat struck. He seems to have abandoned all idea of himself, and turned his whole attention to saving the women and children. When every male person had deserted the cabin he went from state room to state room, wherever he heard a child cry, and took it out, and passed it up to the hurricane deck In this way he saved several women and children.—His last effort was to pass up the Ohio fat girl—240 pounds. With the assistance of one or two others on the hurricane deck he succeeded. A short time after getting on deck the boat made a lurch, and Bullock took to the water and swam to the Illinois shore. His coat he had given to a Lady on the wreck. When he reached the shore he found two young ladies who had been put ashore in a skiff, and who, benumbed with the cold, were determined to go to sleep. By great exertions, he succeeded in getting them to Cohokia.

THE RAIL ROAD OUTRAGE.

The Norfolk Beacon alludes to the injury done to the Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road & says it was committed by Mr F Rives who had purchased & had a mortgage on that portion of the road This gentleman, finding tha he could not dispose of his interest to the Company on terms which suited him has thought proper to adopt the magnanimous means of laying waste the whole of the Road to the above named place.

The Norfolk Herald of Tuesday says—A letter has been received from Major Gwynn written after he reached Garysburg on Sunday, from which we learn that F E. Rives was there with a large force, declaring his determination to destroy the remainder of the road on the whole 17 miles. Major Gwynn gave him a notice in writing, that he should repel by force any illegal attempt to outrage the rights and property of the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad Company and if he persisted in urging the application of such force, he should hold Mr. Rives responsible for the consequences Upon the receipt of this information a town meeting was held in Portsmouth yesterday afternoon and a further force left for the scene of action in the evening. The hardy mechanics and working men of Portsmouth who compose for the most part the several detachments of volunteers who have gone up to repair the road, have shown a noble spirit.

NEVER DESPAIR.—It is too often the case that a person who has long been prostrated with disease, and who has tried almost every thing which has been recommended without experiencing any relief, becomes disheartened and gives way at once to despondency and despair. He becomes sceptical in regard to the virtue of medicine, and declines making trial of any more, To such we would say, there is yet hope—there is one remedy for all that you suffer—there is something which can renovate your system & restore you to health and activity. Make trial of Stainburn's Vegetable Extract Pills, and sickness and disease will vanish like the dew before the morning sun This is the natural result of a medicine compounded by a scientific gentleman who has spent years in the study of the human system, and searched into the causes from which all disease emanates. Stainburn's Vegetable Pills, have proved efficacious when all other prescriptions have failed, and there are many, in our immediate vicinity, who are ready at any moment to testify to their wonderful power. Let the afflicted but give them a fair trial, and they will freely endorse the truth of our assertion.

Price 25 cents per. box. Office 338 Broadway, N. Y. next door below the Tabernacle.

Said pills are sold in Easton by the agent E. M. DAWSON & BROTHER, and by agents published in another part of our paper.

On the 18th inst. by the Rev. M. Hazel, Thomas Chaplain, to Mary E. Matthews, both of this county.

DIED.

At his residence near Oxford, in this county on Monday last, the 15th inst. JAMES LLOYD CHAMBERLAIN, Esq., in the 59th year of his age.

Though aloof from all public station, in which he was well qualified, from thorough early training and diligent research in subsequent life, to distinguish himself, this gentleman has earned, without seeking it, a reputation throughout our community that the most ambitious might do well to emulate

He united, in an eminent degree, the qualities of a strong mind with wit and social eloquence, and presented an example of a character that the younger men of our day are bound to transmit unimpaired, as a distinctive one—that of 'The Eastern Shore Gentleman.'

Mr. Chamberlain was a graduate of Princeton, and among his compeers and immediate associates, may be found not a few of the eminent men, whose names have since become familiar as household words.

Devotedly attached to the Protestant Episcopal Church, in strict communion with which he lived, and firm in his early formed political opinions—those of the WASHINGTON SCHOOL—with a sternness of integrity, characterizing his every action, no one from among us could have departed more generally respected and beloved.

His remains were deposited at the family burial place on Thursday the 18th inst. amid a concourse of his neighbors and friends.
