HILLSBOROUGH, Feb. 7th 1844.

Pursuant to public notice the Whigs of Hillsborough and vicinity, convened at the Seminary, in said village, on Wednesday evening the 7th inst. for the purpose of forming a Clay Club.

On motion the meeting was organized by appointing Dr. William H. Hackett Chairman, and Jas. W. Welch Secretary; where upon Dr. Hacket arose and in a brief but eloquent appeal portrayed the object of the meeting.

On motion, the following gentlemen were elected to serve as officers of the "Club," viz: John Jump Esq. of E President; Dr. Wm. H. Hackett 1st Vice President; John Nicols Esq. 2nd Vice President; Jas. Welch, Secretary, and Jas. H. Barwick, Treasurer.

On motion of Mr. Nicols, a Committee consisting of three was appointed to draught a Constitution for the government of the "Club."

On motion of Capt. Thos. Smith, a corresponding Committee, consisting of seven members was elected.

On motion, it was proposed to register the names of those wishing to become members, when all present had their names entered.

On motion of Mr. Nicols, resolved that the members of this 'Club' pledge themselves to each other to use all dignified and honorable means in their power, to secure the election of Dr. Jacob A. Preston, our worthy and distinguished candidate for Congress.

On motion, resolved, that the proceedings of this evening, be published in the Easton Gazette & Centreville Times.

WILLIAM H. HACKETT, Chairman.
JAS. W. WELCH Secretary.

THE TRUE SPIRIT—Professor Longfellow, in one of his beautiful compositions, in speaking of the human heart says: "What I have seen of the world, and known of the history of mankind, teaches me to look upon the errors of others in sorrow not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart, that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggle and temptations it has passed through; the feverish inquietude of hope and fear; the pressure of want; the desertion of friends; the scorn of the world that hath little charity; the desolation of the Soul's sanctuary, and threatning vices within, health gone, happiness —even hope, that remains longest, gone; I would fain leave the erring Soul of my fellow man with Him from whose hands it came."

☞We learn that the Hon. John C. Legrand has been nominated by the Governor as Associate Judge of the Sixth Judicial District of Maryland. Vice the Hon. R. B. Magruder, deceased.

FATAL DUEL.—A letter from a Washington correspondent dated Friday 16th, says—This morning a duel was fought by Mr. Julian May and Mr. J Cochrane, both young men of Washington City, some where near the boundary of the District. Mr. Cochrane, who was the challanged party was shot in the right temple at the first fire, and killed on the spot. They fought at fifty paces with rifles.

From the various rumors and reasons afloat in the city to day in relation to this disastrous affair, we learn that it originated in a quarrel between a Mr. Ash of Philadelphia, and a Mr. Poole of Georgia, in which Cochrane and May acted the part of friends of either party, and that they settled it without much difficulty. Growing out of this, discussion arose as to the bravery of each; and, in the rashness and heat of youth without pausing to reflect upon consequences, a challenge was passed, a meeting arranged, & above is its lamentable termination.

THE MISSION TO BRAZIL.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Express, after stating the confirmation of Mr. Wise as Mini-ter to Brazil, says—

This mission at Brazil has quite eclipsed the St. Petersburgh mission The Emperor solicited a few years since that Mr. Hunter, a most faithful and acceptable officer at Rio, in the capacity of Charge d'Affaires, should be promoted to a Minister Plenipotentiary. The Executive recommended, and Congress, from respect to the high source whence it emanated, complied with the recommendation. Mr. Hunter keeps his place under the present Administration until it is necessary to give it to one of his most zealous partizans and defenders of the House of Representatives,—since when, in the space of a year or less the following is the financial history of the mision to Brazil:—

Recall of Mr Hunter	$2 250
Outfit of Mr. Proffit	9,000
One year'ssalary for Mr. Proffit	9,000
Return allowance for Mr. Proffit	2 250
Outfit of Mr. Wise	9,000
Total	$31,500!

Between thirty-one and two thousand dollars this mission will have cost in less than a dozen months, in consequence of the removal of a very efficient and experienced public officer. What is true of this Brazilian mission would probably be true of some others, if President Tyler had carried out his inclinations, or if the Democratic party had clung to him with the tenacity he had expected.

Abandoned by the Whigs, betrayed by the Democrats, the President can hardly have additional inducements to change our foreign missions further. There is a vacancy at Paris, which must be filled anon, and as some of Mr. Tyler's very particular friends must have this post perhaps it is better that John C. Spencer should receive it than any body else.—Some of the reasons, that make the new Brazilian mission gratifying, would make this equally acceptable.

U S. STEAMSHIP PRINCETON.—The following official letter from Capt. Stockton to the Secretary of the Navy will be read with no less of interest than commendable pride. Sufficient time has been given and repeated occasions employed to test in various ways the powers and qualities of this new marine wonder, and in every particular she seems to have come up fully to the most sanguine expectations of her commander. Captain Stockton, it will be recollected, had a carte blanche from the Navy Department, and was left free to carry out his own plans & mode of construction. He boldly ventured his high reputation as a Naval officer on the result, and for the triumphant success which has attended his efforts he is richly entitled to the praise & gratitude of his fellow citizens. The high honor which this gallant officer has earned for himself in this achievement is reflected back upon his country, which, though his intelligence and genius is placed in advance of other nations in the important matter of a perfected naval steam armament.

United States Ship Princeton,
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5, 1844.

SIR: The United States ship Princeton having received her armament on board, and being nearly ready for sea, I have the honor to transmit to you the following account of her equipment, &c.

The Princeton is a 'full rigged ship,' of great speed & power, able to perform any service that can be expected of a ship of war. Constructed upon the most approved principles of naval architecture, she is believed to be at least equal to any ship of her class, with her sails. She has an auxiliary power of steam; and can make greater speed than any sea-going steamer or other vessel heretofore built. Her engines lie snug in the bottom of the vessel, out of reach of an enemy's shot, and do not at all interfere with the use of the sails, but can at any time be made auxiliary thereto. She shows no chimney, & makes no smoke, & there is nothing in her external appearance to indicate that she is propelled by steam.

The advantages of the Princeton over both sailing ships and steamers, propelled in the usual way; are great and obvious. She can go in and out of port at pleasure without regard to the force and direction of the wind or tide, or the thickness of the ice. She can ride safely with her anchors in the most open roadstead; and may lie to in the severest gale of wind with safety —She can not only save herself, but will be able to tow a squadron from the dangers of a lee shore. Using ordinarily the power of the wind, and reserving her fuel for emergencies, she can remain at sea the same length of time as other sailing ships Making no noise, smoke or agitation of the water, (and if she choses, showing no sail) she can surprise an enemy. She can at pleasure take her own position, and her own distance from the enemy. Her engines and water wheel being below the surface of the water, safe from an enemy's shot, she is in no danger of being disabled, even if her masts should be destroyed. She will not be at a daily expense for fuel, as other steam ships are. The engines being seldom used, will probably outlast two such ships.

These advantages make the Princeton, in my opinion, the cheapest, fastest and most certain ship of war in the world.—The equipments of this ship are of the plainest and most substantial kind: the furniture of the cabins being made of white pine boards painted white, with mahogany chairs table and sideboard, & an American manufactured oil-cloth on the floor. To economise room, and that the ship may be better ventilated, curtains of American manufactured linen are substituted for the usual, and more cumbrous & expensive wooden bulkhead, by which arrangement the appartments of the men and officers, may in an instant, be thrown into one, and a degree of spaciousness & comfort is attained unusual in a ship of her class. The Princeton is armed with two long 225 pound 'wrought iron guns, and twelve 42 pound carronades; all of which may be used at once on either side of the ship. She can consequently throw a greater weight of metal at one broadside than most frigates.—The big guns of the Princeton can be fired with an effect terrific, and almost incredible, and with a certainty heretofore unknown. The extraordinary effects of the shot were proved by firing at a target, which was made to represent a section of the two sides and deck of a 74 gun ship, and timbered, kneed, planked, and bolted in the same manner. This target was 500 yards from the gun. With the smaller charges of powder, the shot passed through these immense masses of timber, (being 57 inches thick,) tearing it away, and splintering it for several feet on each side, and covering the whole surface of the Ground for a hundred yards square, with fragments of wood and Iron. The accuracy with which these guns throw these immense shot, (which are three feet in circumference,) may be judged by this, that six shots fired in succession at the same elevation, struck the same horizontal plank in a target more than half a mile distant. By the application of the various arts to the purposes of war on board the Princeton, it is believed that the art of gunnery for sea service, has for the first time, been reduced to something like mathematical certainty.

The distance to which these guns can throw their shot at every necessary angle of elevation, has been ascertained by a series of careful experiments. The distance from the ship to any object is readily ascertained with an instrument on board contrived for that purpose, by an observation which it requires but an instant to make, and by an inspection without calculation. By self acting locks, the guns can be fired accurately at the necessary elevation, no matter what the motion of the ship may be. It is confidently believed that this small ship will be able to battle with any vessel, however large, if she is not invincible against any foe. The improvements in the arts of war adopted on board the Princeton, may be productive of more important results than any thing that has occurred since the invention of gunpowder. The numerical force of other navies, so long boasted, may be set at nought. The ocean may again become neutral ground, and the rights of the smallest as well as the greatest nations, may once more be respected.

All of which, for the honor and defence of every inch of our territory, is most respectfully submitted to the honorable Secretary of the Navy, for the information of the President and Congress of the United States,

By your ob't and faithful ser'vt,
R. F. STOCKTON.
Captain U. S. Navy.

To Hon. DAVID HENSHAW,
Secretary of the Navy.

MARYLAND ELECTION.—The New York Tribune of Saturday thus speaks of the result of the recent election in Maryland:

HONOR TO THE GALLANT WHIGS OF MARYLAND! who have nobly started the ball for 1844! A clear Whig Delegation to Congress from that State is what was never carried by any party before. Maryland has for half a century been one of the most evenly balanced States in the Union, sometimes inclining one way, then the other. It has been ruled by Loco-Foco Governors steadily since 1838, had a Legislature of like faith last year; and has often sent against us six to two and and five to three Members of Congress. Now five if not all six Whigs! Even last Fall, the Loco-Focos figured up a majority for themselves in the popular vote. Now they are routed by thousands! Clear the way for the grand sweep of 1844!—CONNECTICUT comes next.

Philadelphia U. S. Gazette expresses himself as follows:—

DOWN WITH THE MONOPOLY.

Those wicked Whigs of Maryland have taken to themselves every Congressional Representative to which the State is entitled—not even a little one left for the Locos; &; what is worse, the Locos themselves, looking at the Third District, say that a charge of Gerrymandering would not avail to hide defeat, for when Baltimore county and Carrol county go, there is no hope of any thing else'

The Maryland election is a sign of the times. It denotes the tendency of the public feelings, and public views The people (we say not now the Wings) have recovered from the shock they received in 1841, by the conduct of Mr. Tyler, and are now rallying for Clay in a spirit and numbers altogether irresistible.

In Maryland 'Clay and the Tariff' was the rallying cry.

MEDICAL EXPERIENCE.—Among the many additions made from time to time, to the medical department of science, which having gained a lasting fame and reputation, may be enumerated the Vegetable Extract Pills from the laboratory of Stainburn. No formal eulogy is demanded to make their virtues still farther known to the world, the proprietor being willing to rest their merits on facts alone. Their preeminent qualities and their prominent action upon the human system, in the eradication of disease, is fully proved by the multitude of cures which have been performed through their instrumentality.

Stainburn's Vegetable Extract Pills

being prepared from the finer and purer parts of plants which are celebrated for their mild purgative qualities, and the utmost attention being paid to the judicious blending together of the different constituents, warrants us in asserting, that they are the best calculated for the sufferer, of any now before the public. They act like a charm, removing every vestage of disease and speedily restoring the system to a healthy tone of action. Let the afflicted give them a trial, and the truth of our assertion will be fully apparent.

Price 25 cents per. box. Office 338 Broadway, N. Y. next door below the Tabernacle.

Said pills are sold in Easton by the agent E. M. DAWSON & BROTHER, and by agents published in another part of our paper.

DIED

Departed this life at his late residence in Easton, the Hon. JOHN LEEDS KERR, on Wednesday evening the 21st inst. in the 65th year of his age, after a tedious and lingering illness.

Mr. KERR for many years occupied a prominent position at the Bar of the Eastern Shore of Maryland He commenced at an early age his professional career, which was distinguished by eminent success. For several years he represented this District in the House of Representatives of the United States, and on the 4th of March last, his term of service as a Senator of the United States, had expired.—Some time previous to this, Mr. Kerr had been assailed by the disease which finally terminated in his death. Mr Kerr was remarkably kind and amiable in all his domestic relations.

His relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral this morning at 11 o'clock at his late residence, and proceed thence to the family Burial Ground at Belle Ville in Oxford Neck.

At his residence in Oxford Neck, on Friday the 17th February 1844, Capt. Robert Delehay. The forty eight year of his age was anticipated, by a single day, when his mortal put on immotality. His protracted illness, endured with christian resignation, was spent in a close preparation for the great change which was to pass upon him. In the sublime but chastened language of the spiritual mother in whose bosom he lived and died, "the departed hence in the confidence of a certain faith, in the comfort of a reasonable, religious, and holy hope, in favour with GOD, and in perfect charity with all the world."

His remains, followed by sorrowing relatives and honoring friends, were deposited on Sunday the 18th, in the family burying ground, in Island Creek Neck.

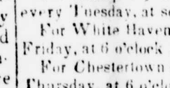

In Alexandria D. C. on Friday the 16th, of Scarlet fever, GEORGE, son of Robert and Ellen Young, aged 5 years.

FARMERS'

FOUNDRY.

THE SUBSCRIBERS grateful for the patronage heretofore received, begs leave respectfully to inform their friends and the public generally, that they now have on hand & are daily manufacturing the most approved ever offered to the public on this Shore. Their superiority over other machines consists in simplicity and strength, which will enable us to warrant them with perfect safety Notwithstanding there are numerous Machines used in this county, it is a well known fact that they are too liable to become injured and broken from trivial causes, arising from their complicated construction. The Machines we now offer to the public have been tested by a number of experienced Farmers both on the Western and Eastern Shore, and have invariably given general satisfaction.

They would also call the attention of the public to their extensive assortment of,

PLOUGHS,

Plough Castings,— Mill Castings, &c. &c.

Their assortment of Ploughs embraces a great variety, viz:

WINAN'S Self Sharpner	BEACH Improved ...
DAVIS	BERNARD .....
SINCLAIR & MOOR	WILEY.....
CH NOWITH	PATENT CYCLOIDAL
BEACH	Plough &c .....

The merits of most of the above Ploughs are already well known; but the Wiley and Patent Cycloidal have been recently introduced by us on this Shore, as a valuable acquisition to the Farmer. The Patent Cycloidal, in 1842 took the first premium at the agricultural Exhibition, near Govanstown, Baltimore county, Md. over numerous competitors, composing some of the most celebrated Ploughs of Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland. All our Ploughs are stocked of the best timber, and warranted to run well. We are also prepared to do of every description at the shortest notice, and at City prices. We respectfully solicit the patronage of the public and invite them to an examination of our stock.

AND

HUSSEY & HOPKINS.

N. B.—Persons having machines to repair will please bring them in as early in the spring as possible, so as to give full time to do the work in proper manner. H. & H.

A Splendid Farm near Easton,
FOR SALE

THE subscriber having determined to contract his Farming operations, offers for sale that highly improved and well known Farm within two miles of Easton, called and known by the name of "the Glebe" This farm is situated on the head waters of a branch of Miles River, and contains the quantity of 127 ACRES OF LAND.

This land is laid off in six fields, all under good plank fencing and enclosures The land is well adapted to the growth of wheat & corn, The proximity of this farm to the town of Easton, from whence manure can be forwarded on the most accommodating terms; its neatness to navigable water by which means lime can be procured, render it very desirable to purchasers. It may be laid off in two farms or more. There is an ample supply of TIMBER to this farm.

TERMS—One third of the purchase money in cash, balance in one and two years secured by bond and good security. For further particulars apply to the subscriber or to Saml. Hambleton, jr. his agent.

TAILORING.
REMOVAL.

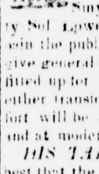

JAMES A. TARR most respectfully informs his customers and the public generally that he has removed to the shop recently occupied by Mr Josiah Clift, directly opposite the north end of the Court House, and next door to the Easton Hotel, where he may be found prepared to accommodate those who may feel disposed to favor him with their patronage. He receives the regularly from the city of Philadelphia, and from his knowledge of the business generally, and his disposition to please, he flatters himself that he will be able to give general satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call. His prices will be fixed to suit the times, and he will not hesitate to warrant his work, both as it respects durability and fit, equal to any tailor on the shore.

Easton, Jan 27, 1844

Easton Hotel.

THE SUBSCRIBER having taken that large and commodious Tavern stand in Easton (lately occupied by Smythe and Satterfield, and formerly by Sol Lowe) is now fully prepared to entertain the public in a manner that cannot fail to give general satisfaction. His house is well fitted up for the reception of BOARDERS, either transient or permanent, and every effort will be made to render them comfortable, and at moderate charges.

HIS TABLE will be furnished with the best that the market affords, and no pains spared to please in this respect.

HIS BAR will be kept supplied with the choicest Liquors, selected with great care by a competent judge ☞Attentive Ostlers are employed, and his stables will be superintended with proper care and attention.

He respectfully solicits a share of public patronage, and flatters himself that he will be able to please all who may give him a call.

TEMPERANCE HOTEL

THE subscriber respectfully informs his old customers and the public generally that he still continues to superintend the above establishment and is fully prepared for the reception and entertainment of either citizens or transient visiters, whose comfort and convenience he would be pleased to 'minister unto' at all times.—His as heretofore, will be plentifully supplied with the choice of the market, which will be served up in the best style, and in a manner calculated to please the taste & satisfy the appetites of the lovers of good living.' Active and attentive waiters will be in attendance to serve all who 'sup at his board,' and strict attention will be paid to the respective wishes of the citizens and strangers.

The Private Apartments

will be kept clean and comfortable, and every exertion made to render them pleasant and agreeable, and where all may feel 'at home.' This being an essential particular in tavern keeping, the duty will be attended to by those of his household who are best calculated to appreciate, and most willing to promote comfort and render satisfaction.

THE STABLE

will be well supplied with provender of all kinds, and care will be taken that horses are both well fed and attended to, and the stable kept in a cleanly and proper condition.

HACKS

will be in attendance at the steamboat to convey passengers to any part of the peninsula at a reasonable price.

He returns his sincere thanks to all who have heretofore favored him with their patronage, and humbly solicits a continuance of that support which he hopes to merit.

The publick's obedient servant,
