FOR PRESIDENT

HENRY CLAY,

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

THEO. FRELINGHUYSEN.

FOR GOVERNOR

THOMAS G. PRATT.

The May term of Talbot County Court adjourned on Friday, to Tuesday the 5th of June.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

DEATH OF HON. JOHN LEEDS KERR: LATE SENATOR IN CONGRESS FROM MARYLAND.

The death of this distinguished member of the Eastern Shore bar, so well known and so universally esteemed for his public services & private virtues was announced on Monday last, the 20th May 1844, by T. R. Loockerman Esq. in a feeling and appropriate manner, who concluded by a motion for an immediate adjournment of the court.

This motion was seconded by S. Hambleton Jr. and accompanied by some brief and touching remarks to which the Hon. E. F Chambers, responded in terms expressive of the sincere regret of himself and his associates, at the loss of so eminent a Lawyer and so useful a Citizen, whereupon the Court immediately adjourned.

A meeting of the Court and Bar, was in pursuance of the above proceedings held at the Court room on the afternoon of the same day, for the purpose of adopting resolutions, testifying their profound respect for his memory and their sympathy with his bereaved relations.

On motion, the Hon. E. F Chambers, was appointed Chairman and Henry H Goldsborough, Secretary.

The object of the meeting was then briefly stated by T. R. Loockerman who moved the appointment of a committee of three members of the bar to prepare resolutions, expressive of the feelings of the meeting whereupon the chair announced the following gentlemen as constituting this committee, T. R Loockerman, S. Hambleton Jr and P F. Thomas, Esqrs

The committee after a short absence reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted.

Resolved. That the Members of the Court and Bar of Talbot county, sincerely lament the death of the late Hon. J. Leeds Kerr, by which the bar has been deprived of a member long and eminently distinguished and for very many years enjoying a large share of public confidence.

Resolved, That they cordially sympathize with this community in the death of a valuable citizen to whom they were signally endeared by the exercise of the finest social qualities and the indulgence of the kindliest charities.

Resolved, That they tender to the family of the deceased their heart felt condolence at the said bereavement: which tears from them a tender and affectionate husband and a kind and indulgent parent.

Resolved, That the members of the Court and Bar of Talbot county will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days as a tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased and in token of the loss which they feel they have suffered by his death.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be attested by the signatures of the Chairman and Secretary, and published in the newspapers of this place and a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

On motion P. F. Thomas, Esq:

Resolved, That T. R. Loockerman, Esq. be requested to move the Court to order, the proceedings of this meeting to be placed on the Records of the Court — Which resolution was unanimously adopted. E. F. CHAMBERS, Chr.

HENRY H. GOLDSBOROUGH, Sec.

It is stated officially, in the Madisonian of yesterday afternoon, that, at the instance of Mr. Everett, our Minister at London, her Britanic Majesty's Government has recently pardoned ten of the American citizens sentenced, with many others, to transportation to one of the British penal settlements, for having participated in the political disturbances in Cannada in the year 1838; & that orders have accordingly been despatched to the Governor of Van Daman's Land for the liberation of the prisoners whose names are contained in the annexed list, on the usual condition of good behaviour during their residence there:

LIST.—Hiram Sharp, John Gillman, Ira Polly, Orrin W. Smith, Bemis Woodberry, George T. Brown, Daniel Liskum, Robert Q. Collins, John Thomas, and Edward A. Wilson.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM MR. CLAY.

—The subjoined letter from Mr. CLAY is in answer to an invitation from a Committee of the Central Clay Club of Dauphin County, Pa., to visit Harrisburg on his way to the West.

In allusion to the calumnies which have been heaped upon him during his course of public service, and the equanimity with which he bore them, under the conviction that justice would at last be done to him and to his motives, Mr. Clay says:—'I have not been disappointed. I stand vindicated in the hearts and by the spontaneous acclamations of my fellow citizens,'—a noble declaration of honest triumph, which the country will still further make good.

The late vote in the House of Representatives on the Tariff, to which Mr. Clay refers as an involuntary concession of our political opponents to the wisdom and beneficence of Whig policy, stands as a significant fact which cannot be construed away by any ingenuity of construction.

It will be seen that Mr Clay adheres to the resolution announced by him some time since to make no visits nor attend any public meeting of a political nature during the pendency of the Presidential canvass: —Balt Amer.

WASHINGTON, May 11, 1844.

GENTLEMEN.—I received the letter which you did me the honor to address to me, inviting me, prior to my return home, to visit the capitol of Pennsylvania. Subsequent to its date, I thought it right to announce to the public my determination to make no visits, nor attend any public meetings which might be deemed political, until the Presidential Election was decided. To that determination I shall adhere. It deprives me of the pleasure of accepting your friendly invitation.

Gentlemen I agree with you—'No State in this Union would be benefitted more by the permanent establishment of a sound Whig policy than Pennsylvania.' I have had the great satisfaction, always to agree with Pennsylvania in regard to public measures, whenever the genuine feelings of Pennsylvania have been fairly expressed. There was not merely a cordial concurrence, but an intimate friendship between her Finlay, Smilie Lacock, Roberts, Brown, and other distinguished sons, and me in the Congress which declared the last war. I united also with the survivors of them, or other eminent citizens of that State, in laying the foundation of the National prosperity, after a return of peace. I have no recollection of any important public measure respecting which I have differed from Pennsylvania. I was perfectly aware that the time was when the people of Pennsylvania were made to believe that you were not their friend.' Acting under the maxim that honesty was the best policy, and upon the conviction that truth is omnipotent and public justice certain I bore the unmerited reproaches cast upon me, as became me. I have not been disappointed. I stand vindicated, in the hearts, and by the spontaneous acclamations of my fellow citizens. The industry and malignity of my enemies will no doubt prompt perseverance in these attacks. Perversions of my language, misrepresentations of my course, old scraps from tattered and obsolete newspapers—even fabrication and forgery are and will continue to be employed to vituperate and villify me. But like all preceeding assaults, they will be unavailable and I shall remain invulnerable to them all.

In the meantime I congratulate you on the bright and cheering prospects of the establishment of that Whig Policy so essential, I believe, not only to the prosperity of Pennsylvania, but to that of the whole Union.

I happened to be in the House of Representatives when an important part of that policy signally triumphed. The Tariff of 1842 has been bitterly denounced, and gross epithets applied to it. Its repeal was pronounced to be a favorite object of our political opponents. They have a majority of some fifty or sixty in the House. A bill to repeal that Tariff has been pending a great part of the present session of Congress And yet, yesterday on a test vote, a majority of the House decided against the repealing bill, leaving the Tariff of 1842 in full and salutary operation! This decison was an involuntary concession of our political opponents to the wisdom & beneficence of Whig policy, produced by the returning prosperity of the country and the enlightened opinion of the people.

But, gentlemen I have a much higher gratification than any which could be derived from the decision of the House of Representatives. It is that the People of the United States, from the St Johns to the Sabine, who have been so long divided and agitated on the question of the encouragement of Domestic Industry, are about to settle down in union and harmony, upon the equitable basis of raising, in time of peace, the amount of revenue requisite to an economical administration of the Government exclusively from foreign import, by a Tariff so adjusted as that, by proper discriminations, just and reasonable encouragement shall be extended to American Industry May this happy union and harmony pervade all other great measures of public policy, and nothing occur to disturb the peace, to sully the character, or check the onward and glorious march of our country.

I am your friend
And obedient servant,
H. CLAY.

Messrs. Samuel H. Clark, A. J. Jones, David Fleming, J. C. Kundle, C. M'Curdy, Thomas Foster, Jr. Aaron Bombaugh, J. C. Wallace, Samuel Alleman Henry Peffer, Daniel Reichard, P. C. Sedwick and Geo. Trullinger.

HOT BETH.—The Baltimore Sun has this advertisement:—'Wanted, three strong men to carry the Sun.'

MR. FRELINGHUYSEN.

We have not says the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette said much about the nomination of Mr. Frelinghuysen, as the Whig candidate for the Vice Presidency, partly because we really did not think it worth while to speak of a ticket, which seemed to be received with acclamation by every Whig in the Union, and to be regarded by the 'Democrats' as one of the best ever presented to the people, and partly because we did not suppose that any one could find aught against Mr. F. But it seems that he is not invulnerable. He may be assailed if not in the head, at least in the heel; and an arrow has, it appears, been hurled at the very 'tendon Achilles.' It has been discovered that Mr. Frelinghuysen is a slaveholder.—Hear it, ye who are fastidious in that particular, hear it, and mourn or rejoice accordingy as your political views may be injuriously or favorable affected by the fact.

When New Jersey became a free State, the slaves of Mr. F.'s family shared the fate of the rest of the blacks.—They were made free—free to come and free to go—excepting one old woman, who being unable to earn her living, would have been sent to the almshouse, a burthen upon the people, had she been thrust forth like Hagar the old bond woman, and told to look out for herself.—But instead of this treatment, Aunty was installed in the old chimney corner; with the stump of a tobacco pipe, and left to meditate upon the difference between slavery and freedom, called probably to share in the family devotion, and then sent back to her bench and pipe, till the grave should receive her old form, and her spirit return to God who gave it

Those who remember Boston, and other parts of Massachusetts, nearly fifty years ago, will bear in mind some curious remnants of other times, in the form of old worn out servants, who seemed only to live to wear out their master's old coats and grumble at the 'young folks,' who were not half as grand as were their grand fathers.

HON. J. M. NILES.—We learn from our exchanges, that the Hon. J. M. Niles, of Connecticut, was on Tuesday last qualified as an United States Senator, the committee appointed for the purpose of enquiring into his physical ability to discharge the duties of the station, having reported in his favor, which report was unanimously adopted.—Republican.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT. A bill passed the House of Represetatives on Wednesday last; by a vote of 141 to 34, requiring the election of Electors of President and Vice President, to be held on the same day' in the several States.

We regret to learn from the Somerset (Princess Anne) Herald that John R. Rider, Esq. of that place, was killed instantly during the gust on Monday last by the falling of a chimney of his dwelling. The deceased was a member of the Maryland House of Delegates in 1842, and enjoyed the entire confidence and esteem of the community in which he lived. Mr. R was a delegate from Somerset to the Whig Gubernatorial Convention held in Baltimore on the 30th ult.

Lamentable Marine Disaster.—We regret to learn that a schooner recently built on the Eastern Shore of this State, and on her first voyage up the bay, bound for Baltimore, was capsized in a strong gale of wind on Thursday night last, off the mouth of the Patuxent river. There were, it is said, nine persons on board and melancholy to relate seven of them met a watery grave, viz: The Wife and two daughters of the owner, two young lady passengers, and two deck hands.—The captain and one of his deck hands fortunately escaped, by holding on to the capsized vessel until they were taken off by the captain of a vessel that chanced to pass in time

The bodies of those drowned were after some search, picked up and taken to their late home for burial. Such is the particulars of this lamentable disaster, so far as we have been able to ascertain them. The names neither of the surviving or perished have yet been learned.

Death of another Member of Congress from Ohio.

The Morrisfield Shield says:

Departed this life, on the 30th ult., at his residence in New Haven, Huron county, Ohio, the Hon. Henry R. Brinkerhoff, Member of Congress from the district composed of the counties of Huron, Erie, Lorain and Medina, aged 57 years Mr. Brinkerhoff was born in Adams county, Pa. in the year 1787, from whence his father removed with his family in the year 1791 to Owasco, Cayuga county, N. Y., which at that time was nearly an unbroken wilderness.

He was a firm believer in the Christian religion, a man of a discriminating mind, sterling integrity; untiring perseverance in whatever he engaged, whether of a civil, religious or political nature.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.—The Pittsburg Post in noticing the death at that place of Adam Weiss, of that horrible disease, the hydrophobia, says about three weeks ago, he was bitten on the nose by a small dog, but owing to the wound being but a scratch, he took no notice of it, further than applying to a quack who was in the habit of selling pills for the cure of hydrophobia. Sunday last he was attacked by a violent head ache, and soon after the symtons of the disease made their appearance. Drs. Farnestock & Werneburg attended him but without having any hope of his recovery. His sufferings were most horrible and he prayed the bystanders to kill him. He was tied with ropes, and in his paroxysm the slaver was thrown up to the ceiling. The parents of the deceased, who have been in the habit of washing in the same bowl, and wiping on the same towel with him, are in a dangerous condition, but the physicians hope they will recover.

A WORD TO THE SEDENTARY.—This term includes all those who pass their time within doors: embracing clerks and students, the majority of mechanics and professional men, with almost the entire female population of all cities.

These persons cannot possibly enjoy health without using a vegetable purgative medicine of sufficient power to overcome that languor of the circulation, and inactivity of the stomach and bowels, which must necessarily result from want of exercise.

Stainburn's Vegetable Extract Pills, being a mild catharic, always acting harmoniously the system, will be found singularly effective in these cases; because they cleanse the blood from all impurities remove every cause of pain or weakness, and restore the constitution to perfect health and vigor.

Price 25 cents per. box. Office 338 Broadway, N. Y. next door below the Tabernacle.

Said pills are sold in Easton by the agent E. M. DAWSON & BROTHER, and by agents published in another part of our paper.
