The Miners' (Pa.) Journal says that four Locofocos last week joined the Clay Club. Schuylkill county will be redeemed!

MORE CHANGES IN THE NORTH WEST.

Mr. M. M. Randall Marion County, Va., in a letter to the Fairmount Pioneer renounces Loco Focoism, and goes with a rush for Whig men and Whig measures. His letter thus concludes:

'That I was so infatuated as to risk fifty dollars and so unfortunate as to lose it, on the election of Mr. Van Buren in 1840, I candidly acknowledge. I was not correctly informed as to the tendency of his principles or the disastrous effects of his extravagant administration. I was in common with many other of his friends in this section of the country, and perhaps throughout the United States, misled and duped by the fascinating cries of 'Democracy' and 'Republicanism' which the leaders of the Van Buren party so loudly and earnestly arrogated to themselves during that memorable campaign. After the excitement of 1840 passed away, I was led to examine minutely into the nature and policy of Whig principals. After much reading reflection & hearing numerous discussions of party policies it seemed evident to my mind that the great resources of our country could never be fully developed without the efficient aid of a protective Tariff—that without the salutary operation of this measure, we should always continue in a condition of more servile dependence upon Great Britian than our colonial subservience prior to the revolutionary war. I was also convinced that without a National Bank we could never have a permanent and stable currency, and the authority of Washington, Chief Justice Marshall, Madison and Jackson, I considered sufficient evidence of its constitutionality.

With the remaining great measures of the Democratic Whig party, I formed sufficient acquaintance, so secure my most unqualified approval, but it would occupy too much space in your paper, to enter into their details or my reasons for their support.

If I am spared until the Presidential election, I shall vote for Clay and Frelinghuysen, and I rejoice to find that many of my friends in this county who voted with me in 1840, for Mr. Van Buren intend persuing the same course.

Yours, respectfully,

M. M. RANDALL.

Lindsay Boggess, Esq., Ed. Pioneer.

The 'Pioneer' in reference to public sentiment in that region, holds the following language:

'Polk & Dallas.—With these candidates before the people, the Locos will secure to themselves an unparalleled defeat.—Nothing can save them. The great mass of the people know nothing about these candidates, & notwithstanding the predilections of the Locofocos for the success of their party, yet a great many of them will never vote for men, whose names have not been known beyond the limits of their own counties, or at least their own State.

In Western Virginia and more particularly in Marion county, the nomination is strongly reprobated. Numbers we could name, who would have voted for Old Tecumseh, Benton, Van Buren, Calhoun, or Cass will never vote for Polk & Dallas—They say they never support men however orthodox their principles without knowing something about their private history and their political career. Others, however, who would support a dog if he were called a 'Democrat' of course will swallow the nomination without the least hesitation.'

A POWERFUL ALLY.—Thomas Loring Esq. for many years the editor of the N. Carolina Standard,' then, and now the mouth piece of the Locofoco party in that State disgusted with the doubledealing & hypocrisy of professions of his party, gives notice in the last number of his 'Independent,' that he will next week, run up the Clay and Frelinghuysen flag.—We cordially welcome our old political opponent into the Whig ranks confident if he displays the same ability and vigor in defence of Whig principles, as he has displayed heretofore in support of their opposite that his efforts will tell with effect, in the great contest now going on for the maintenance of popular rights.—We consider his change of tenets as a most remarkable illustration of the soundness of the aphorism that 'truth is mighty and will prevail.' It will take the public, we have no doubt, as it has taken the Whigs here, entirely by surprise; as we are confident his new position has been assumed without consultation, invitation, or any knowledge on the part of the Whigs, that such would be the case, until the editor had made up his mind in view of the alarming crisis to which our political interests have arrived.

Raleigh Register.

From the Cambridge (Md.) Chronicle.

MR. EDITOR:—I learn that various opinions are held and expressed in relation to my position as a party man at this time; in order to remove all doubts upon this subject, I now say that my political opinions have undergone a thorough change, and though for many years a consistent Jackson and Van Buren man I am now a Democratic Whig, and am so for the reason that I have been deluded by the self styled Democrats.—While I never wavered in casting my vote for the Loco Foco party, I often had doubts as to the correctness of their policy; but these were always met by the promise that if I would have patience these things would all work out right, and thus I kept on until I find our currency ruined, a determination to break down the labouring classes of our people (of which I am one) by putting down the Tariff and a refusal to distribute the proceeds of the public lands among the States.—These with many other things persisted in by the party to which I long adhered have determined me, at the ensuing elections, to vote for Pratt, Clay and Frelinghuysen, and all the rest of the Whig candidates to be supported in the county at the coming elections, for County, State and National officers.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.

The New Orleans Bee of the 2d inst thus notices the election held in that city on Monday, the 1st inst:

VICTORY!—Although incomplete, the Whigs of New Orleans have triumphed handsomely. But for outrages, noticed elsewhere, the vote yesterday would have been overwhelming. The Whigs would have elected every member of their ticket by tremendous majorities. Had the elections proceeded legally in any one of the wards in which it was disturbed, every Whig would have been returned. As it is a majority of our legislative tickect is elected and nearly the whole of the convention candidates. Be of good cheer, Whigs of the Union. Louisiana will do her duty in November.

The Bulletin, a neutral paper, gives the Whigs all that is claimed by the Bee and makes the following remarks—'In several wards, both of the First and Second Municipalities, owing to differences between the judges of election with reguard to the sufficiency of the certificates of naturalization issued from the City Court of Lafayette, commonly known as Elliott' certificates, the polls were closed at an early hour of the day, and votes of undoubtedly legality refused.

COMMUNICATED.

Mr. Editor,

In your last [29th ult.] I noticed a communication on the subject of SMUT in Wheat. Without entering into speculations as to the manner in which it is propagated, I will prescribe a simple and cheap preventive, which when carefully applied, is thoroughly efficient.

For every four bushels of wheat desolve five and a quarter pounds of Glauber Salts, in six gallons and a quart of pure water and pour it on the pile with a common watering pot, constantly stiring it with shovels, until all the grains are wetted and the liquid begins to flow away from it. Take sixteen pounds and a quarter of unslacked lime and pour water on it, until it is slacked to powder; then sprinkle it over and mix it with the Wheat, which may be sowed immediately or kept for several days, taking care not to let it heat.

T. R. HOLLYDAY.

MORE TYLER PROSCRIPTION.—If there was any thing in the power of John Tyler to accomplish that would sink him still lower in the estimation of our community, that thing has been done in the recent change of Post Master in our town. We look upon it as a gross outrage upon our town. Mr. Francis J. Henry was appointed by Mr. Tyler himself; was known at the time of his appointment to be as uncompromisingly in favor of Henry Clay as he is now—has discharged the duties off his office faithfully and without censure, and is now hurled from his office against the wish of the community to give place to a man who has just about the same opinion of Mr. Tyler as Mr Henry has, (for we believe upon that point there is a universal harmony.) & is as uncompromising a Polk Loco Foco as Mr. H. is a Clay Whig. But as much as our citizens are provoked at losing an officer who gave universal satisfaction, they condemn the change still more on account of the inconvenience they will suffer in the change of location of the Post Office. It has been kept by Mr. H. in the heart of the town, and at the centre of business. Now it will be removed some two thirds of a mile from its former location, to a portion of the town where comparatively speaking, there are few letters written or received and few papers taken.—We always thought that offices were created for the benefit of the people but they are used by Mr. Tyler as a means of punishing the people because they would not sustain him in his shameless treachery and his willingness to sacrifice the whole interests of the country in the vain & fruitless attempts to gain that station by the voice of the people which accident had thrown in his way. But there is one great consolation that sustains the people that this reign of treachery, imbecility and curruption is near its close. And when the voice of millions shall rend the air with their shouts of victory at the elevation of Henry Clay to the Presidency, that shout will be doubly increased because John Tyler and his few sycophantic followers are to be ejected from the places which they have disgraced.

Cambridge Chronicle.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—Mr. Atwood has taken his seat as Surveyor, and made nearly a clean sweep of the few clerks in his department. The throng of Tyler men at the Custom House pressing for office, look as if they might be the extra gang seen at work in Dea. Giles distillery.—N. Y. Jour. Com.
