their fortunes and their sacred honors" in the cause of Liberty. It will not, we suppose, be denied that a gentleman more perfectly negative in all the points of character, necessary for the statesman, could well have been selected from among the several respectable members of his party. But his name was Carroll, and argument was at an end. The study of heraldry and the search into pedigree had become a perfect passion with our modern democratic governor-makers.

The memory of the noble hearted and able-minded Carroll of Carrolton, is embalmed in the hearts of his countrymen; but it so happens, that there is no relationship whatever between "the last of the signers" and the present candidate.

It is somewhat of a labor to deduce a pedigree, when surnames are changed so as to obscure the truth of them; but we are safe in venturing the assertion. A grateful rememberance of the virtues of a relative gave rise, so early as 1783 to this change of name, and, with it, no inconsiderable fraction of a large fortune.

The early and uniform friend of Washington and a cherished son-in-law of "the political Patriarch of Maryland" Mr. Charles Carroll, Barrister, distinguished alike in mind aud manners, left a reputation not a whit behind that of his illustrious contemporary of Carrolton. His name and memory will long remain to be an example to men "Of churlish disposition;—Who little rest to find the way to Heaven By doing deeds of hospitality."

The democratic friends of Mr. James Carroll, may thus strain at political effect; but we can hardly do otherwise than acquit their candidate of any settled purpose to overshadow the name of that Carroll to whom he is bound by ties of gratitude.—Let us remind, however these vote-seeking friends of his, that were Charles Carroll, of Carolton, in full life and undimmed brightness of intellect, an advocate for an engine of corruption so foul and a precursor of despotism, so sure as a subtreasury, he would not receive the vote of Maryland, as Governor. Were HE before our people, declaring in the face of every step taken by his native state, that the millions upon millions from the Public Lands might under any pretence, be withheld from her sons, he would be defeated. Much more, then, when the call is made in favor of one, the advocate of such destructive measures, and whose chief merit it is to be a namesake of an illustrious patriot.

The people of Maryland cannot forget, that the state of New Jersey, whose blood-stained battle fields attest her devotion to the principles of Republicanism, was insulted and driven ignomeniously from the council chamber of the Nation in the persons of her legally constituted representatives by the helping vote of this Candidate; that the passage of the subtreasury bill was thus insured.

We desire that the candidates should stand before the people upon their individual worth and their public service. We have no fears for our Whig with his power of self-reliance to chalk his way.

"DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES."

We see by the late papers that the Hon. SILAS WRIGHT has accepted the Loco-Foco nomination for the Gubernatorial chair of the state of New York. Our readers will remember that the Hon. Silas was nominated by the Baltimore convention for the Vice Presidency, but had self-respect enough to decline playing second fiddle to Mr. Polk, and informed his Baltimore friends to that effect, as speedily as the Magnectic Telegragh could carry the news. It seems, however, that he has been whipped or coaxed into the traces once more, and is ready to move in single harness, wherever the democracy may drive. It is odd, nevertheless, to observe that this distinguished member of the spoils-party, is occupying his present position, for no purpose but the advancement of Mr. Polk's prospects, when he was actually ashamed or afraid to take chances with him on the same Ticket! Still more remarkable is it—that after having voted for the tariff of 1842, and against the Texas treaty, Mr. Wright should be devoting his energies to the success of an individual, pledged against that Tariff, and for "Immediate annexation."

Surely it is a great party—the Democracy! wise, patriotic, brim-full of principle, but above all, conspicuously consistent! Vote against one measure & advocate those who uphold it! Vote for another, and support those who have vowed its downfall! Democratic principles, like dreams, must go by contraries! So we think will Democratic Triumphs!

MR. GRAHAM,

When Mr. P. F. Thomas was delivering at the Trappe on Saturday evening last, such a glowing eulogium on the time-honoured and war-worn Soldiers of the Revolution, and the necessity of pensions for them out of the Public Lands, why did he not tell the people James K. Polk had uniformly voted against Pensions to these veterans, as appears by the following extracts from the Journals of Congress. I think the Locos here would have opened their eyes.

TRAPPE.

Polk against Revolutionary Patriots.

On the passage of the bills, March 13, 1828, for the relief of the surviving officers of the revolutionary war, Mr. Polk voted IN THE NEGATIVE.—Cong. Deb. vol. 4, part 2, page 2,670.

March 18, 1830, he voted against the revolutionary pension bill.—Same, vol. 5, part 1, page 629.

March 19, "Mr. Polk spoke some time against the bill," and voted against it.—Same, page 635.

February 17, 1831, he voted against the bill for the relief of revolutionary soldiers.—Same, vol. 7, page 730.

May, 3, 1832, he voted against the revolutionary pension bill.—Same, vol. 8, part 2, page 2,713.

To the Editor of Easton Gazette:

Without giving it that reflection, which is every freeman's solemn duty, I have suffered myself for many years to claim the loco foco party, as mine. Party spirit united me closely to it, and I persevered in its support without caring to listen to the warning voices of many excellent neighbors around me. The beneficial operation of the Tariff, with the distribution of the public lands and other Whig measures, has been fully and satisfactory explained to me on some recent occasions. I am now constrained to throw off Locofoco associations and unite myself with that party, whose principles must restore our country to a more prosperous condition, and shower down benefits equally upon all classes of our community.—I now believe that the money concerns of the nation, if let alone by Gen. Jackson and Martin Van Buren, would never have reached the low ebb they did some years back, and I am resolved to give my vote in aid of a sound national currency, regulated by the will and authority of the nation. I now think, that as an adequate revenue must be had to meet the expenses of government, the best way is to secure it with a fair protection to American Industry, and I must to bring these results about, vote for a Tariff such as is proposed by the Whigs throughout the country.

Contrast the objects of the two parties and the merits of the two candidates for the Presidency, Henry Clay and James K. Polk—A sacred regard for truth bids me declare that I never heard Mr. Polk's name mentioned in my life until his recent nomination over Mr. Van Buren at Baltimore; while there is no voter, young or old, in Caroline county, who has not had at his tongue's end, years gone by, the name of Henry Clay—He has proved himself throughout a whole life the untiring champion of every interest essentially American.

Some of my Loco Foco comrades will, no doubt, be surprised at my course; but let me assure them, that this is no hasty conclusion, and entreat each of them "to go and do likewise."

BEACHAM EATON.

N. B.—Loco Foco partiality and choice singled me out to be one of a select committee this fall for nominating candidates for the Legislature; but what is such an honor to the privilege of exercising a freeman's will, with a single eye to the good of my native state, amid a host of patriotic Whigs.

MR. GRAHAM,

Below you have the certificate of Capt. James I. Harrison, a strenuous member of the Loco Foco party, of Broad Creek Neck, in Talbot county, charging Capt. John H. Caulk with open and avowed hostility to the whole Primary School system as established in Talbot county. Now, I do suppose, that those who made so much noise and so groundlessly, against J. B. Kerr for merely amending the system, will surely not vote for a man whose powerful influence, if elected, will be used to defeat the whole scheme of public instruction as now established.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

Broad Creek Neck.

BROAD CREEK NECK, Sept. 16, 1844.

I, James I. Harrison, do hereby certify, that Capt. John H. Caulk, is an avowed opponent of the present "Primary School System," in operation in Talbot county, as well as all systems of education supported by taxation upon the landed interests of the County, and has so declared himself to me in conversations upon the subject; and when asked what system he would substitute by which the children of the poor, and those unable to pay the high rates of Academies could be educated; he asserted, most unequivocally, that those children whose parents were unable to educate them, should remain in ignorance, as he, nor none situated like himself, had any right to assist in supporting schools for their benefit.

Signed, JAS. I. HARRISON.

WHO ARE THE DEMOCRACY? WHO THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND?

MR. EDITOR,

In looking over the nominations of the "Democracy" (for the Legislature) in "Old Talbot," the questions at the head of this article, naturally suggested themselves to my mind, and from the fact of hearing exagerated statements, most industriously circulated for years back, of John B. Kerr's School Bill, by all the Locofoco stump orators and brawling demagogues, as an odious measure, germinated and propagated by the "Whigs" and these statements garnished by all the transcendentatism of loco foco stump oratory, imposing upon the good people of Talbot, or at least that portion of them who do not choose to read for themselves, and, Sir, one might have supposed they were the genuine ebullition of honest indignation at this high handed attempt, on the part of an individual to meddle with the Primary School System. But, Sir, there is an old adage of "whatever passes over old Satan's back, is sure to return under his abdominal regions," which, is in this case, about to be as veritable an one as ever fell from the lips of the sage "Sanca Panza;" their version of that story has pretty well worn out and now they think we are tired of school questions, and dare not agitate the public mind on that subject, how far have they carried out their professions of love to the "dear people" in their recent nominations? Why, as John Gilfillen says, "would ye belave it," they have nominated one candidate who is not only an uncompromising enemy to all systems of Education, where the common property of the state is taxed for the common education of all classes; but who avows, unqualifiedly, as his sentiments, that those who are unable to educate their children themselves, should allow them to remain in ignorance and grow up subject to all the train of evils which uneducated men are subject to. These, Sir, are the principles of one of the candidates of the "Patent Progressive Democracy" of this day, who would make the poor believe that they are so full of love for them that they are running over; that if they dont put them in power, to legislate for them soon, "their bilers will burst, so chock full of go a head high-pressure love are they;" but as the Cockneys say "that's all gammon." Strip off the flimsy veil and all within is rottenness and hediousness. I know what I say, Sir, in relation to the candidate's opinion in question.—I have seen a certificate from a gentleman of his own party, who disgusted with the shallow artifices used to blind the public as to the real sentiments gives, freely gives a certificate of a conversation which passed between himself and the honorable candidate in question on the subject of Public Scools, and now, Mr. Editor, keep this "Democratic" candidates name before the people. Capt. John H. Caulk, of Broad Creek Neck; candidate for the Legislature, from the 2d Election district of Old Talbot, on the part of the "Progressives." But, Mr. Editor, he does not, like the "great Missourian," stand "solitary and alone," another shares alike his "glory and his toils," and one whose acts and votes struck a more deadly blow at the system than ever did the opinions of the former gentleman—I allude to Richard Arringdale of the Chapel district. He came out openly and reduced the salaries of the teachers of the country schools to rates that he knew would effectually drive off competent men as Teachers, and knowing that people would not send their children to school to idle their time away and receive no instruction, this eventually and effectually crush the whole system.

I might here justly be asked why this party are opposed to education, as I seem to charge them; far from it. Sir, if any think so, I beg them to pause, nor judge too harshly of me. I believe the mass of the Locofocos to be at par as the Whigs in this respect; but, Sir, they will not read what evidences we place in their hands, but are blindly led by the demagogues who wish to ride to the places of trust and profit by their votes, and as we well know old prejudices are hard to overcome, and they (the leaders) know if the growing generations are educated, they will read and think for themselves, and that is all we ask of them, to read and reflect calmly the facts we place in the public's hands and we do not fear the result. What, sir, has caused the great change that has taken place in the political prospects of our country since 1828, when the whole country declared for Gen. A. Jackson, almost unanimously? Education—education begat inquiry, inquiry political tracts and documents, stating in plain matter of fact language, the principles of parties; they were seized and read with avidity—the scales fell from the eyes of the deluded and the political verdict rendered by the people in 1840, was the result. Thus education, like the deadly Upas, has blighted their political prospects and spread ruin and dismay among those who mal-administered the people's government and they FEAR it—they know well the rock on which they split, and as the worst hatred that can fill the human breast, is the hate produced by fear, it accounts for their opposition to Education. They Fear, and fearing hate it. Yours,
