[From the Knickerbocker]

A LEGAL BALLAD.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

An attorney was 'taking a turn,'
In shabby habiliments drest;
His coat was shockingly worn,
And the rust had invested his vest.

His breeches had suffered a breach,
His linen and worsted were worse;
He had scarce a whole crown in his hat,
And not half a-crown in his purse.

And thus as he wandered along,
A cheerless and comfortless elf,
He sought for relief in a song,
Or complainingly talked to himself:

'Most unfortunate man that I am,
My only client is Grief:
The case is, I've no 'case' at all,
And in brief, I have ne'er had a 'brief.'

'The profession's already so full
Of lawyers so full of profession,
That a modest young man like myself
Can't make the smallest impression.

'They grant I'm acquainted with 'grants,'
Can devise a 'devise' or a plea,
Can make a good deed in 'fee simple,'
But I can't get the simplest 'fee.'

'I've waited, and waited in vain,
Expecting an 'opening' to find,
Where an honest young lawyer might gain
Some reward for the toil of his mind.'

While thus he was wandering along,
His eye accidentally fell
On a very deep hole in the ground,
And he sighed to himself 'It is well!'

To curb his emotion, he sat
On the curb-stone the space of a minute,
Then cried, 'Here's an opening at last!'
And in less than a jiffy was in it.

Next day twelve citizens came,
The 'coroner's 'quest,' to attend.
To the end that it might be determined
How that man had determined his end.

'The man was a lawyer, it seems,'
Said the foreman who 'opened' of course;
'A lawyer! alas!' sigh'd another,
'He undoubtedly died of remorse!'

A third said he knew the deceas'd—
An attorney, well versed in the laws;
And as to the cause of his death,
'Twas no doubt for the want of a 'cause.'

'The crowners' at length gave a verdict,
Which finally settled the matter;
'That the young man was drown-ded, because
He could not keep his head above water.'

St. Albans (Vt.) August, 1844.

PENNSYLVANIA—Great Whig Mass Meeting at Lancaster.—More than twenty thousand Whigs assembled in the city of Lancaster on Thursday; 'and seldom,' remarks the editor of the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette, 'has such a tremendous and cheering display taken place or one better calculated to insure the belief of the triumph & popularity of Henry Clay. Thousands on thousands,' he adds 'were joined in one united mass—united in one purpose, and for the expression of the same sentiments. The shouts that rent the air were like the noise of heavy artillery, and the magnificent display of Banners and devices which adorned the spectacle attested the deep rooted feeling of enthusiasm and determination that now possesses every whig heart.'

Delegations were present from the adjoining counties, from Philadelphia, Delaware & Baltimore. About mid-day a procession was formed & moved off to a spacious field in the vicinity of the city.—Here the meeting was duly organized by calling WM. HEISTER, Esq to the chair, a series of spirited and appropriate resolutions having been offered by Thomas E Franklin, Esq. and adopted, the Hon John M. Clayton, of Delaware, was loudly called for. On making his appearance he was hailed with deafening cheers.

Mr. Clayton's address is said to have been a masterly effort every way worthy of its distinguished author. Whilst Mr. Clayton was addressing the immense concourse in front and around about him temporary platforms were erected in other parts of the field, from which the people were addressed by Gen Irvin, the Hon. Garret Davis, of Massachusetts, and others.

BEFORE THE ELECTION

From the Richmond Enq. July 16, 1844.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Extract of a letter from one of the best informed Republicans of North Carolina:

RALEIGH, July 16, 1844.

'Our cause is prospering. We are fully organized. We are in the midst of the canvass. The party is entirely united and all of our friends at their posts. Our prospects brighten daily, and I hazard but little in expressing the most confident expectation of carrying the old North State.'

AFTER THE ELECTION.

From the Richmond Enq. Aug. 6, 1844.

'Sometime before the election we received a letter from North Carolina which informed us there was great want of organization among the Democrats. In several counties which we could have carried, we had no candidates. Hence our legislature.'

So, so. Before the election when the party was sure of success, they were fully organized;' but after the election when their defeat is ascertained, then the lament is put up, there was 'great want of organization!' In this way do these Locofoco editors blow hot and cold, and hope to retain their influence over the minds of their deceived followers.

From the Torch, Herald and Star.

NO CHANGES.

We the undersigned having acted with the so called Democratic party, for a number of years for the sake of having the names of Democrats, were pursuaded we were doing what was right but having examined for ourselves, and finding that the Whig party with Clay and Frelinghuysen now at their head, are now & always have been, the advocates of the real Democratic creed as handed down to us by Thomas Jefferson, we therefore hereby renounce all claim to said party.—Knowing that Henry Clay is the father of Protection to Home industry—we being Mechanics know and feel the use of Protection, against pauper labor of Europe,—and by this we earnestly request all of our brother Mechanics and Labourers to pause & reflect before casting their votes in this important Election. It has been and is now the creed of the so called Democratic party to array the poor man against the rich. But by investigation we have found that the Whigs as a party are the poor man's friend, which the present Whig Tariff clearly proves, by protecting home labour, we therefore say to all brother Mechanics and Labourers to examine what party is for protection, and we are sure by an impartial Investigation you will conclude with us to go heart and hand for Clay, Frelinghuysen, Pratt and the whole Whig ticket.

CHAS. A. FLETCHER.

Leitersburg, Sep. 3, 1844.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—ARE THESE OMENS?—A sad mishap befel a portion of our Locofoco friends of this place on Saturday and yesterday. A good Locofoco living opposite Mr. Charlton, a Whig Blacksmith, who raised a noble Ash pole a few days since, determined to manifest his devotion to the Hero of a Tennessee flight and the descendent of a Mecklenburg protectionist, by annexing to Old Hickory a scion of the Polk stalk, and running up both with the lone star far above the flaunting Whig streamer with its stars & stipes of our own beloved Union. The pole designed for elevation was not a very tall one, but all day Saturday was spent in fruitless efforts to give it a stand perpendicular. Night put an end to operations Monday Morning dawned auspiciously. Once more the polkes came to the rescue. Slowly progressed the 'progressives.' At length the word was given, 'now then, my hearties.' Slowly and solemnly ascended Old and Young Hickory. The crisis was at hand the difficulty was almost over, at this juncture, the ominous signal of dissolution was heard, and in an instant the polk stalk came thundering to the ground Old Hickory himself having given out, just below Annexation. The solid, massive pole had actually been sundered at a point where danger was not dreamed of. In its fall, the top struck the Ash pole opposite, and broke off, leaving the Ash proudly erect, unscathed and unshorn of its fair proportions. Had its course not been changed, and its force measurably broken, by falling against the Whig pole, several persons must have been dangerously, if not fatally, injured. Their escape, as it was, seemed almost miraculous. At the foot of the ash, prostrate and forlorn, lay Young Hickory saying as plainly as Hickory ever said—'Those who trade on borrowed capital ought to break!' What a theme for the pen of some omen-loving Amos! How full of dark and mysterious import the event, from beginning to end! Just imagine how Amos, would gloat over and dilate on each minute particular of this attempt at pole raising.—Columbus (Ohio) Journal.

FARMERS

FOUNDRY.

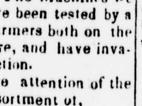

THE SUBSCRIBERS grateful for the patronage heretofore received, begs leave respectfully to inform their friends and the public generally, that they now have on hand & are daily manufacturing the most approved ever offered to the public on this Shore. Their superiority over other machines consists in simplicity and strength, which will enable us to warrant them with perfect safety Notwithstanding there are numerous Machines used in this county, it is a well known fact that they are too liable to become injured and broken from trivial causes, arising from their complicated construction. The Machines we now offer to the public have been tested by a number of experienced Farmers both on the Western and Eastern Shore, and have invariably given general satisfaction.

WHEAT MACHINES,

They would also call the attention of the public to their extensive assortment of,

PLOUGHS, Plough Castings,—

Mill Castings, &c. &c.

Their assortment of Ploughs embraces a great variety, viz:

WINAN's Self Sharpner	BEACH Improved ...
DAVIS	BERNARD .....
SINCLAIR & MOOR	WILEY.....
CHENOWITH	PATENT CYCLOIDAL
BEACH	Plough &c .....

The merits of most of the above Ploughs are already well known; but the Wiley and Patent Cycloidal have been recently introduced by us on this Shore, as a valuable acquisition to the Farmer. The Patent Cycloidal, in 1842 took the first premium at the agricultural Exhibition, near Govanstown, Baltimore county Md. over numerous competitors, composing some of the most celebrated Ploughs of Pennsylvania. New York and Maryland. All our Ploughs are stocked of the best timber, and warranted to run well. We are also prepared to do of every description at the shortest notice, and at City prices. We respectfully solicit the patronage of the public and invite them to an examination of our stock.

CASTINGS
AND WROUGHT WORK

HEMSLEY'S WORM
DESTROYING SYRUP.
Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish, nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice. I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—feted breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr. R. F. Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F. Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D,

Easton March 23d 1844

Having examined MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.

Easton March 7 1844

There is no authelmimtic preparation from he use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M. WHITE, M. D.

Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR. W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms MR R F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.

JUDKIN'S PATENT SPECIFIC OINTMENT.

* The above Ointment is offered to the public as a safe and certain remedy for those obstinate diseases, some of which have so long baffled the skill of medical science

1st. White swellings of every description.
2d. Sore legs, and ulcers of long standing.
3d. Schirrus, or glandular tumours, particularly those hardened tumours in women's breast, which oftentimes, terminate in ulcerated cancers
4th. Felons, or what some people know by the name of Catarrhs, of every description.
5th. Rheumatic pains in the joints.
6th. Sprains and bruises of every description, or in whatever part situate 7th Tetters of all kinds. In this complaint the patient, in applying the ointment, must keep the part out of water.
8th. Chilblains, or parts effected by frost.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The following communication, addressed to the proprietor of Judkin's Ointment, from the Hon. John Taliaferro, member of Congress, is highly interesting. The gratuitous manner in which it is made, exhibits feelings of no ordinary character towards suffering humanity; and is certainly well deserving of public attention.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22, 1829

Sir.—It has been my wish for a considerable time, to communicate to you the good effect with which I have used the Ointment invented by a Mr. Judkins, and which I now understand is made and sold by agents appointed by yourself. I have applied this ointment during the last three years, to every species of tumour and wound, without failure to produce a cure in every instance. I consider it the most decided and efficient remedy in all cases of tumour, be the cause what it may, and I have found nothing so good for wounds of any description. It may be proper to add that the cure of a tumour called the white swelling, given over by the most distinguished physicians as incurrable, and which they have decided would, without amputation, prove fatal to the patient, was, under my immediate notice, effected by the use of Judkin's Ointment and the patient is in fine health; his limb affected by the tumour being restored to a perfect state of soundness. Also, that the leg of an aged man which had been wounded, and exhibited one dreadfully ulcerated surface from the knee to the foot, and which for more than two years had been considered incurable, was effectually cured by the application of Judkins' Ointment. I mention these two cases, which fell under my immediate notice and management, as a decided evidence of the efficacy of this remedy in cases of tumour and of ulcers—I have experienced as decidedly the good effect of this remedy in the cure of felons, and of every species of fresh wound. It seems to me that any one who will observe on the operation of this ointment, must, be satisfied as to its beneficial effect. I can with the utmost confidence recommend the use of this valuable remedy

I am, Sir, very respectfully,
JOHN TALIAFERO.

To Mr. Charles Herstons, Proprietor of Judkins' Ointment, near Fredericktown, Md

PILES.

Before leaving Boonsboro, I had heard much of an article in which you appear before the public as proprietor, named Herstons' Judkins Specific Ointment, made by C. Herstons near Frederick, Md. and of its decided efficacy in cures on persons with whom I am well acquainted, since my residence in Baltimore it has performed a cure on a friend of mine afflicted with piles. Having myself been a sufferer for some years with this distressing disease, I now unhesitatingly applied your Ointment in my own case, and am gratified that I can say it made a perfect cure

J. A BENTZ.

Counting Room, Lombard street.

A few weeks ago a case of woman's sore breast came under my notice, the breast greatly inflamed, the nipple scarcely to be seen—her appearance clearly spoke the great misery she was in; she told me she had been suffering three months with it, and was confined to her bed; she then had flaxseed poultice to it; other things had been tried. I advised Judkin's Ointment knowing it had often been successful in like cases. She got and applied it according to the directions accompanying it; in 24 hours all pain was gone; it broke and commenced discharging copiously and so continued some days; the relief from extreme pain to perfect ease excited the woman's astonishment; a few days reduced her breast to its usual state, & in eight days the cure was complete.

C. HERSTONS.

Frederick county, April 8 1825.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Messrs. L. & R. F. Lowndes, merchants-Cumberland.

Gentlemen,—I was afflicted with a sore leg—the fame of Judkins Ointment induced me to get a jug of it—but it happened not to be of Mr. Herston's make. I used it according to directions, but my leg kept getting worse. Mr. Herstons, travelling to the west stopped at my house; during the time, on looking at the ointment I had, he immediately pronounced it not of his make, and furnished me with one which was. On opening and smelling it I was sensible of the difference, although it looked like it. I then applied the ointment he gave me to my leg; it became in a state of amendment on using the first plaster and so continued until it got quite well.

This ointment is certainly very valuable, and it would be a pity it should be lost to the public by a counterfeit article bearing the name and being not genuine.

WILLIAM K. NEWMAN.

I have known Mr. C. Herstons to be the proprietor of Judkin's Ointment for several years during my residence in Maryland. and the Ointment made by him to have been in much repute. It has been frequently used in my own family while living in Maryland. & during my residence in this city with success.
