the ability we have to supply our wants without importing goods from abroad, as we have done, and especially when we consider the encouragement given to our own countrymen in every employment, whether farmers, mechanics, merchants, navigators, &c. it cannot but be admitted that the protective system is the true system and that it ought to be cherished by all patriots and honest thinking men.

But what will be thought of the practises and operations of these manufacturers and capitalists of England, to destroy our manufactures and uproot our whole Tariff policy? An association has been formed by them called the "Home League," the open and avowed object of which is to raise a fund to circulate Free Trade tracts in foreign countries; this they do by means of agents sent abroad expressly for the purpose and according to the assertion of one of the London papers, no doubt every way intelligent on this subject, New York is designated as one of the posts of distribution. This fund, however, will not be devoted solely to the publishing of "tracts;", a more touching exercise of it, it is said, has already been made during the election in the State of Maine, where British Gold was handled in great abundance. If with all this aid, the Locofoco party could do no better than they have done in the late elections of that state, then may every true American say, in the honest pride of his heart, that there is a redeeming principle in the bosoms of his fellow-countrymen which can never yield to the base and sordid allurements of vicious and selfish partizans.

Citizens of Talbot you have an election at hand for State officers of high import—the result of this election will have a material bearing upon the Presidential election of November—it is not unnatural to suppose, that the practices already began will be continued in every State where elections are to be held from this time until November—You too are likely to be insulted and degraded by this exercise of foreign influence and this terror of British Gold—and can you, we ask, look upon a business like this with composure and unconcern? Let every man who has an American heart, rise in his own majesty and resist to his last breath the barefaced, execrable and abandoned acts of a party which in seeking aid of this sort, show themselves capable of resorting to any means to obtain their end, while the welfare, honor and reputation of their countrymen enters not into their views.

We call the attention of our readers to an article taken from the Baltimore Clipper and extracts from the New York Tribune, on our first page, wherein will be seen, with all the indignation that we ourselves have experienced, a statement of the foul deeds that have been and still are to be committed against the integrity, the good sense and the best interests of the American people.

We learn says the National Intelligencer that the President has appointed Andrew Jackson Donelson, of Tennessee, to be Charge d'Affaires of the United States to Texas, to succeed Mr. Howard, deceased.

Mr. Gibbon, editor of the Bee, in Smithland, Kentucky, was deliberately shot and killed by Dr Snyder, while walking in the street with his little daughter. An article had appeared in the Bee against Snyder, which probably caused the commission of the crime. The murderer was immediately arrested. The deceased was formerly editor of the Louisville Dime.

The Rev. Mr. Buscom.—Neither the purity of this gentleman's character, the uprightness of his walk as a Christian, nor the eminent position he occupies in the community, can save him from the virulent attacks of the Locofocos, since he has ventured to declare their aspersions of Mr. Clay to be false and unfounded. With an implied charge of giving false testimony, they charitably (?) infer that he was ignorant of Mr. Clay's moral character, when he expressly speaks from a personal and intimate acquaintance of more than 20 years standing! But

'Black-hearted calumny dare bite the best'

And he who interposed between Mr. Clay and the poisoned shafts that are thrown at him, will find that purity, piety, and an unimpeachable character, are no shield in the eyes of Locofocos.—Cincinnati Gaz.

A farmer living in Kent County, Delaware, writes that the good lands in that county gave this year, as usual, fair crops of Wheat, but below it is believed, an average quantity. The Oat crop has been short of an average, at least one fourth to one-third. The Corn, now at maturity, is very small, and it is the opinion of judicious farmers that not more than half an average crop will be realized; and the Potatoes (with very partial exceptions in particular neighbourhoods) are utterly worthless.—American.

DESPATCH FROM TEXAS.—The Alexandria (Red River) Republican of the 31st ult. says: We understand that a courier extraordinary arrived at Fort Jesup on Wednesday with a communication from President Houston to the commander of that post. It was deemed of sufficient importance to be forwarded to Washington by express. The nature of the communication we did not learn. This despatch in all probability relates to the threatened Mexican invasion of the Territory of Texas.

ALLEGANY IN MOTION.

Correspondence of the Balt. American.

Cumberland, Sept. 17th, 1844.

Messrs. Editors:— Our mass meeting, which came off in this place to-day, was the largest ever held in the County. It has been a proud day for old Allegany, and her Whig enthusiasm rivals even her surrounding mountains in height. Delegations both from the Key-stone and Old Dominion were present, and a Mechanical Procession, which was gotten up with much taste, added great interest to the occasion. Of the banners I cannot speak in detail, but in the delegation from Frostburg, were twenty-six ladies in full dress, seated in a car, each holding a flag bearing the name of a State.—In the Cumberland delegation there was a similar company, all casting their sweet smiles upon our cause. A most excellent band of Music from your city was present, and also one from Martinsburg, Va. Vast numbers of persons came to town last evening, and the crowd was addressed in the public square by M. T. Evans and J. P. Roman, Esquires—and to-day the meeting was addressed by the Hon. Andrew Stewart and Mr. Ogle of Penn. and Wm. Price and Thos. J. McKaig, Esqs. the candidates for the Legislature. The Whigs here are in fine spirits, and our delegate ticket, with Price and McKaig at its head can't be beat.

A WHIG.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—Wm. Graham residing in Straits Hundred, in this county, came to his death on Tuesday last in a manner calculated to excite considerable excitement and suspicion. He and Mr. Wm. Tyler set out on the aforesaid day to make a search, but before reaching their place of destination Mr. Graham was killed. His head was dreadfully fractured behind, a large gash upon the top part of it, and his thigh broken. The statement of Mr. Tyler is, that he was thrown from his horse. There are many circumstances however connected with the matter, calculated to throw doubt and suspicion on the whole affair.—Cambridge Chronicle of Saturday last.

An extensive combination to defraud Messrs. Alexander T. Stewart & Co. dry goods dealers, of Broadway New York, has just been discovered. Seven of their clerks are the guilty parties, and $700 worth of goods, the property of the firm, were found at the residence of one of the clerks, named John Gillis, who was immediately sent to prison. Property was found on the premises of other clerks implicated in the matter, but their employers refuse to prosecute them. Messrs. Stewart & Co. employ from forty to fifty clerks in their establishment.

COMPLIMENT FROM AN OPPONENT.—The Norwich Courier states that the Hon. Noyes Billings of New London, in the course of his remarks at the late Locco Convention in that place, thus spoke of our great leader:—"Henry Clay, a name of which America and every American, may well be proud—a name which I honor—a man which, more than any other of which I ever read, awoke my youthful enthusiasm my profound admiration. Should he be elected, the honor of the country, at home and abroad, will be safe. In making him their candidate for the Presidency, the Whig party are paying a debt of gratitude long since due, and which ought to have been discharged in 1840. A man of unsurpassed executive talents, he will rally around him a splendid Government—and indeed, Sir," concluded Mr. B. "this is just what I fear—I fear a Government too splendid for our Republican simplicity."

"FACE THE MUSIC."

The following unequivocal statement will put to rest the hundred idle reports on the subject of Mr. Taylor's course. Every person who knows this gentleman, knows that when his well-balanced mind brings him to a conclusion on any subject, he is not the man to "back out" from that conclusion. Let those who are sanguine, since the result in Maine; "face the music," if their pulses beat to any new tune.—Winchester (Va) Repub.

Winchester, Sept. 19, 1844.

To the Editor of the Republican:

Having received several letters from the District of Columbia and elsewhere, saying that it was publically stated that Mr. Rives, of the Globe office, had offered to take the bet of $10,000 to $8,000 that Henry Clay would be elected President of the United States, and that I had "backed out," and further, that I could raise but $2,500, I beg leave through your paper to deny the correctness of the statement.

Mr. Rives was in this place on the 30th of August, and we made the following bets: $650 on the general result; $650 on Pennsylvania; and $500 that James K. Polk would not get the votes of eleven States.—After making these bets, I proposed to Mr. Rives to make additional bets, of $1,000 on Pennsylvania, and $1,000 on the general result, which Mr. Rives declined, saying he had betted as much as he wanted.—He made no offer to take up the bet of $10,000 to $8,000 on the general result, which bet I am still willing to make.

BUSHROD TAYLOR.

☞I hope this may be regarded as an explicit answer to all inquiries on the subject.

The undersigned know, of their own personal knowledge, that Bushrod Taylor was prepared on the 30th day of August, the date above referred to, to stake $10,000 if the bet had been taken by Mr. Rives or any other person.

THE COTTON CROP—MORE UNFAVORABLE NEWS.—The Washington (Ga.) News and Planters' Gazette of the 5th inst says:—"The prospects for a large crop, which were very fair some weeks since, are destroyed by the long continued drought. There has been no rain of consequence in the last six weeks, and the consequence is that the growth and production of the crop has entirely stopped. Some planters tell us their crops will not be more than half of what they had reason to expect a short time ago. What there is, however is said to be of excellent color and quality.'

A London correspondent of the New York Republic writes—

Whilst speaking of France, I have a fact to state which I think will afford your readers an evidence of Louis Phillippe's cordial feeling toward your country. He has had a new branch organized in the Foreign Department, which is to be exclusively occupied with American affairs, at the head of which M. Lavergne, well known in the literary and political world, has been placed.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser writes from London under date of 3d instant—

An awful system of depravity has lately been brought to light, in connection with what are called "burial societies"—a sort of subscription club, where, by the payment of a small sum, weekly, an individual can insure means of burying himself or any member of his family, in the event of death. These "burial societies" are very numerous, and the horrible fact has transpired that, on the birth of a child, its parents have frequently entered its name on the books of ten or twenty different societies, & then, by allowing the poor infant to die from neglect, have realized large sums from those societies, for the apparent purpose of giving the child decent burial. It is asserted that the sums realized in this way have in some instances amounted to £40 and £50—thus literally making murder a trade, and one's own flesh and blood mere stock for the shambles.

What would the London papers say if such occurrences as are here described had taken place in this country?

The London correspondent of the Boston Atlas writes under date of September 3d:—

The weather during the last two weeks has been really delightful—indeed, during a residence at different times, of five years in London, I never knew a continuation of such fine weather. It has, of course, been most favorable for the harvest and the growing crops. It is said, however, that there is quite a panic in the Corn Exchange created by the immense shipments at corn from abroad. The shipments from the beginning of the season to the 1st of August, of flour alone from Canada, were upwards of 350,000 barrels, which are admitted for home consumption, on the payment of less than eight pence duty per barrel. This, it is said, is chiefly the produce of the United States, and 100,000 barrels more are expected to arrive from the same source.—There are at the present time upwards of 1,200,000 quarters of foreign wheat in bond in this country, which amount will soon be greatly increased. These facts have created alarm amongst farmers, corn factors, and dealers in agricultural produce.

The New York packet ships, recently arrived at this port, have brought large quantities of American wares. Amongst the principal articles may be mentioned Yankee Clocks, in mahogany frames, which, after paying duty and freight, are retailed on the Strand at twenty five shillings sterling. Also, rocking chairs—plain and richly covered with stamped velvet, the latter command twenty pounds sterling! Hingham buckets, tubs, brooms, augers, chisels and hacks are now regularly sent to this market and the low prices at which they are offered, command for them a ready sale.

More of it.—The Baltimore Patriot of the 20th says, This morning George C. Veazey, son of the late patriotic Governor Veazey, was removed from the office of Inspector in the Baltimore Custom House, and a man named Culley appointed in his stead.

In this town on Monday morning last, Mr. JAMES KERSEY, Printer.

In this town on Tuesday morning last, Miss Mary G Nicols.

On the 15th inst. Francis Asbury, son of Joseph Turner, in the 16th year of his age, after a painful illness of 10 days, which he bore with Christian patience—he was beloved by all who knew him.

On the 6th inst., George Henry, eldest son of Elizabeth Davis, aged 6 years & 1 month.

On Thursday the 19th inst., Mr. Jas. Pratt, in the 40th year of his age, after a painful illness of 10 days which he bore with Christian patience and resignation.

Died at Easton, Maryland, on Friday (20th inst.) WILLIAM PERCY, youngest son of Christopher C. and Amanda Cox, aged three years and seven months.

It is the melancholy pleasure of one to whose coming hours the memory of this dear little boy will often be revealed in many green and fond and affecting recollections, to add these few words to the sad announcement already made.

The subject of this obituary was indeed a child of rare attractions. Of manly and noble appearance—a disposition open, confiding and generous to a fault—& an order of intelligence far transcending his tender years, he was at once the object of admiration to all who knew him, as he could not fail to be of the deepest and most affectionate interest to the family circle from which he has been so suddenly, mysteriously and ruthlessly taken. The bud that promised so fair a flower & such perfect puritage has been transplanted from this wintry soil to a garden of endless bloom in the land of the pure & the blessed? The departing sunbeam has deepened the shadow of a hearth already darkened by recent affliction, but to add another ray to the glory of that upper & brighter world? Short was an existence which had few even of the privations and sufferings of childhood. The bloom of apparent health was found upon his cheek when the invador came to imprint his own pale signet there—and the voice of a happy heart almost echoed the silence of the death hour?

His golden locks have been laid upon his expanded brow of light—his little limbs have been disposed gently and peacefully to rest—and the coffin lid covers all that remains of the gentle and placid dreamer. The seal of eterninty hath been set upon him, and the lovely hath been made permanent? 'Tis the hand of God? C.
