WHIG MEETING IN BROAD CREEK NECK.

The Whigs of Broad Creek Neck held a large meeting, in Celebration of the Victory in our County and State, on Thursday last. Early in the day the people assembled on the spot designated, and a large number of Ladies honored the meeting with their presence. An excellent dinner was prepared for the occasion and served up with great taste.—After the repast the people gathered round the stand and several Clay songs were sung with much animation. The meeting was organized by appointing JOHN HARRINGTON, Esq. President, and Mr. HENRY F. BYRN, Secretary. Samuel Hambleton, Jr. Esq. addressed the assemblage in an eloquent and effective manner,—and at the close of the day, the crowd dispersed in the utmost quiet and order.

—— Oct. 23d, 1844.

MR. EDITOR,

I am just home from the most enthusiastic meeting it has ever been my good fortune to attend—This has been a great day for the Whigs of old Dorchester—We assembled in Mass Meeting to the number of 8 or 900 at Broad Cove, a delightfully romantic spot, near Church Creek—A sumptuous dinner was served up at 2 o'clock and the exercises, consisting of speeches, and songs from the Cambridge Glee Club, were continued until night.

Your talented townsman Dr. C. C. Cox, who was present upon special invitation, delivered a brilliant speech, discussing the leading points of Whig policy with unequalled ability and eloquence—he retired amid thunders of applause from his delighted auditors.

We were favored with an admirable speech from Somerset's favorite son, (now a resident of this county,) the accomplished Governor Carroll, and E. Richardson Hooper, Esq. also addressed the meeting in an able and eloquent manner.

It is impossible, my dear sir, for my pen to do justice to this spirited affair, a more minute account of which I suppose will be reported for the Chronicle.

Another Whig meeting is to come off in Lake's district on Saturday next and continue through the day, the particulars of which I will forward you if I am able to attend.—The Whigs of old Dorset are wide awake and intend to give Clay and Frelinghuysen the largest vote ever polled in the county. S.

General Convention of the Episcopal Church, closed its session on Tuesday last—The case of the Rev. Dr. Hawks, by an almost unanimous vote, was referred back to the diocesan Convention of Mississippi. The resignation of Bishop Onderdonck was excepted, and he is no longer Bishop of Pennsylvania. A new Canon was passed for the ordination of Lay Deacons with power to read portions of the service, teach, &c., without being considered as belonging to the regular Clergy.—The Convention were in session three weeks, and a great amount of important business was transacted.

From the Balt. American of Tuesday last.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

The Election held in this city yesterday was for a Mayor, to serve two years; and for Members to represent each Ward in the two Branches of the City Council. Good order and quiet were prevalent throughout the day, at all the polls. It will be seen by the returns below that the Locofoco majority of 1222, at the State election on the 2d instant, has fallen down to 498.—LAW, W. 7970.—DAVIES, L. F. 8468.—Davies maj. 498.

Col. DAVIES is thus elected by the diminished majority of 498. At the Gubernatorial election on the 2d inst., the Locofoco majority in this city was 1222. The Whig gain on the election of the 2d inst., is therefore, 724.

The following question is presented in the Georgetown Advocate:

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.—It is stated that the day before the election in Maryland 168 aliens were naturalised in Allegany county, also, that 800 citizens were similarly naturalised in Baltimore city. On these statements the question arises whether, according to the election law of Maryland, it is not required that every citizen entitled to vote should have resided, as a citizen, the twelve months preceding within the State. If this be the case, and we believe it is so, then it follows that the election in Allegany county, is either null and void, or that the Whig ticket there is elected. The same principle would sheer the Locofoco majority in Baltimore of two-thirds of its glory, and keep away from the polls at the presidential election 800 persons who have no right to vote.

Major A. J. Donaldson has accepted the appointment as Charge to Texas.

ARKANSAS.—A letter was received in Nashville, Tenn. on the 17th instant announcing the election of Gibson, the Whig candidate for governor.

A steamboat arrived at New Orleans on the 16th instant direct from Little Rock, the Captain of which reported that every county in the State had been heard from and that Gibson was elected by 259 majority. He also stated that the Whig candidate for Congress, David Walker, Esq. was probably elected. A gentleman who arrived in the steamboat corroborated the Captain's statement.

JUDICIOUS ADVICE.—The Philadelphia U. S. Gazette gives the following advice, which is as applicable here as in Pennsylvania:

DUTIES OF THE CLAY MEN.

We call upon the friends of Clay & Frelinghuysen to be vigilant and constant in their exertions. Let not the extraordinary success of the Markle ticket in Philadelphia, nor the unfavorable changes in a few counties around us, induce a moment's relaxation. Ward meetings should be held, and business entered upon at once. Small meetings may listen to harangues, arguments or discussions, and individuals may promote the good cause, by occasional conversations & timely remarks. These, & all else that promises direct & permanent good, should be resorted to. The success of our candidate is sure, if we are true to ourselves. Let us not be led off by any parades or processions—the time for these has passed; but let all with heart and hand, labor for the good work, nor give pause to efforts, until after the first day of November.

FIRE.—The dwelling house occupied by Rev. John Bayne, and the dwelling of Mrs. Jackson, in Greensborough, Caroline county, were consumed by fire on Saturday last.—Pearl.

THE SLANDERER.—The Louisville Journal states that Gen. J. M. McCalla, the author of the late foul slanders against Mr. Clay, "recently made application to the session of the First Presbyterian Church of Lexington, of which he was an Elder, for a certificate of good moral character. The session unhesitatingly refused to give him such a certificate. Thereupon he withdrew in all haste from the church, well knowing that he would otherwise be immediately expelled."

REMARKABLE PROPHECY.—In the Alexandria Gazette, of January 10, 1840, appeared the follow remarkable letter from Washington. Who was the author?

"Extract of letter dated
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9, 1840.

I have every reason to believe, whatever may be the movements of Benton and Calhoun for the Presidency that another person has been designated for the succession by General Jackson, and that Mr. Van Buren himself is inclined the same way. That other person is James K. Polk late Speaker of the House of Representatives, and now Governor of Tennessee.—Mr. Polk himself, has pretensions, which in due time, he will urge, and he has friends who are seconding these suggestions made by General Jackson. The party, of course will all rally upon Mr. Van Buren at the next election. But, if they succeed, in six months, the party will be broken up and scattered to the four winds of Heaven. We shall then have Benton men, and Calhoun men, and Buchanan men, and Polk men. I tell the Whigs, then to persevere. Their time will come at last. I firmly believe that Harrison will be elected, at the next election. But even if he fails, the game is up with the "Jackson Van Buren party."

"THE GALLED JADE WINCES."—Blair and Kendall are both thrown on the defensive about those Letters! They no longer reiterate their "Bargain" slander, but wish the world to believe that they have acted in good faith in regard to the Letters of Mr. Clay. It matters little.—"Curses, like chickens, still come home to roost," says the Spanish proverb. It should have been written slanders. Upon how many heads has this base lie recoiled! Carter Beverly died craving pardon for his agency in publishing it. James Buchanan blushed as he denied all knowledge of it and threw it back upon Jackson's hands—and even Blair and Amos Kendall deny the means by which they gave it currency.

As for Jackson, if he dies with the foul asseveration on his lips, his death will be consistent with his life, evincing the malignant hatred that has ever marked him, and a remorseless cruelty his domineering spirit and over-weaning self love have ever appeared to justify in his eyes.—The slander has fallen, and the slanderers recoil in shame and disgrace.—Public Index.

Three Bishops Consecrated.—Monday morning last, the ceremony of Consecration, according to the rights of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the U. States, was solemnized in Christ Church in this city, which was thronged to excess on the occasion. The scene was striking and impressive, nineteen Bishops being present, attired in their robes, and seated within the chancel; while there were probably at least one hundred clergymen in the church, many of whom wore their surplices. Morning Prayers were read by Bishop Dulancey of Western New York, assisted by Bishop McCroskey, of Michigan, who read the lessons of the day. An appropriate Psalm and Hymn were sung; and the Ante Communion service was read by Bishop Ives, of North Carolina. The Consecration Sermon was then preached by the venerable Bishop Chase, of Illinois—senior Bishop of the House. The reverend Prelate selected Matthew v. verse 17, for his text:

"Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets; I am not come to destroy but to fulfil."

The discourse was sound, practical, impressive, and appropriate.

The full service entitled "The Form of Ordaining or Consecrating a Bishop," was then read—some portions of which were necessarily repeated three times—the following three Bishops having been consecrated:

The Rev. Carlton Chase. D. D. to the Episcopate of New Hampshire.

The Rev. Nicholas H. Cobb, D. D. to the Episcopate of Alabama.

The Rev. Cicero S. Hawks, to the Episcopate of Missouri.

The Consecration service was performed by the presiding Bishop, assisted in the imposition of hands by twelve of the Bishops.

The Bishops elect were presented according to the prescribed form.

The official certificates and other documents were read by the Rev. Messrs. Wainwright, Mead, Sen., Mead, Jun., and Odenheimer.

The Consecration was completed—the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, and the Benediction, pronounced by the venerable Bishop Chase closed the solemn service of the day.—Phila. Inq.

The Misionary Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Rev. Mr. Boon, for China, Rev. Dr. Southgate, for Turkey and Rev. Dr. Freeman, for Arkansas & Texas, will be consecrated at St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia, to-morrow. The Rev. Alex. Glennie of South Carolina, Missionary Bishop elect to Cape Palmas on the Western Cost of Africa, will not be consecrated at the same time, as he has not yet been notified of his selection.—American of yesterday.

THIEF ESCAPED.—When the steamboat Ohio, from Baltimore arrived at Dock street wharf Friday morning, about daylight, it was discovered that a thief who was in charge of a police officer on board had made his escape. The officer had fallen asleep just before the boat reached the wharf, and the thief took advantage of this and walked, first however abstracting the officer's wallet, containing a sum of money as a means of facilitating his flight from justice.—Phila. Ledger.

SCHOONER CAPSIZED.—On Wednesday night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the schooner Martin Van Buren, Capt. John Philips, belonging to Annapolis, but employed for the use of the Government, in surveying the coast, under the direction of Mr. Wise, was capsized off Bear Creek between Hawkins' and Sollers Point, during the heavy blow about that time.—Some hours afterwards she was fallen in with by the schr. Dorcas, of Talbot county and was then righted and towed up by the Dorcas as far as Curtis' Creek. The steamer Ericsson afterwards took both in tow and brought them into this harbor. The charts and instruments belonging to the Government were all saved, with injury. Mr. Wise, Surveyor, and the crew lost most of their clothing.—American.
