POETRY.

LAY OF THE LABORER.

Hood's (Lodon) Magazine for November opens with a prose picture as masterly as Crabbe, or the discontented sullen task of a set of starving laborers, in a miserable hedge alehouse. "I only wish (says one of the poor creatures,) a doctor could come at this minute, and listen with his telescope on my stomach, and he would hear it a-talkin' as plain as our magpie, and saying, I wants wittles."

At the close of the scene, which for grim mirth and a rugged desperate pathos has been seldom surpassed, one of the elders of the party chaunts a rude song to a slow sad air. We take some of the verses: well worthy of the writer of the Song of a Shirt.

A spade! a rake' a hoe!
A pickaxe, or a bill!
A hook to reap, or a scythe to mow,
A flail, or what ye will!
And here's a ready hand
To ply the needful tool,
And skilled enough, by lessons rough
In Labor's rugged school.

To a flaming barn or farm
My fancies never roam;
The fire I yearn to kindle and burn
Is on the hearth of Home!
Where children huddle and crouch
Through dark long winter days,
Where starving children huddle & crouch
To see the cheerful rays,
A glowing on the haggard cheek,
And not in the haggard's blaze!

To Him who sends a drought
To parch the fields forlorn,
The rain to flood the meadows with mud,
The blight to blast the corn,
To him I leave to guide
The bolt in its crooked path,
To strike the miser's rick, and show
The skies blood-red with wrath.

A spade! a rake! a hoe!
A pickaxe, or a bill!
A hook to reap, or a scythe to mow,
A flail, or what ye will—
The corn to thrash, or the hedge to plash
The market team to drive,
Or mend the fence by the cover side,
And leave the game alive.

Ah only give me work,
And then you need not fear,
That I shall snare his lordship's hare,
Or kill his grace's deer;
Break into his lordship's house,
To steal the plate so rich;
Or leave the yeoman that had a purse
To welter in a ditch.

Wherever Nature needs,
Wherever Labor calls,
No job I'll shirk of the hardest work,
To shun the workhouse walls;
Where savage laws begrudge
The pauper babe its breath,
And doom a wife to a widow's life,
Before her partner's death.

My only claim is this,
With labor stiff and stark,
By lawful turn, my living to earn,
Between the light and the dark;
My daily bread, and nightly bed,
My bacon and drop of beer—
But all from the hand that holds the land,
And none from the overseer?

No parish money, or loaf,
No paper badges for me,
A son of the soil, by right of toil
Entitled to my fee.
No alms I ask give me my task:
Here are the arm, the leg,
The strength and sinews of a Man
To work, and not to beg.

Still one of Adam's heirs,
Though doom'd by chance or birth
To dress so mean, and to eat the lean,
Instead of the fat of the earth,
To make such humble meals,
As honest labor can,
A bone and a crust, with a grace to God,
And a little thanks to man!

A spade! a rake! a hoe!
A pickaxe, or a bill!
A hook to reap, or a scythe to mow,
A flail, or what ye will!
Whatever the tool to ply,
Here's a willing drudge,
With muscle and limb—and woe to him
Who does his pay begrudge!

More Executive Pardons.—Harvey Hevener and Thomas Stubbins, tried in Baltimore City Court some days ago and found guilty of a most outrageous and murderous assault upon Capt. Joseph Willey and a City police officer, for which offence they were sentenced to fine and imprisonment, have been pardoned by Gov. Thomas. It would be almost as well to abandon the trial of persons for any criminal offence as long as the present Executive remains in office, as many of the most desperate and guilty offenders are no sooner proven to be guilty before the tribunal of justice, than they are made the recipients of his misguided clemency.—*Pat. MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.—The New York correspondent of the National Intelligencer writes—

You have seen it stated in the papers that it is in contemplation to establish a telegraphic communication, after Morse's plan, between this city and Boston. The report is true. Messrs. Leonard and Gale and the Hon. F. O. J. Smith are the parties by whom the enterprise is undertaken, they having purchased the privilege from Professor Morse. The electrical wires will be carried through Westchester county and along the Connecticut shore, passing through Hartford, New Haven, Springfield, and Worcester, to the capital of Massachusetts.

A communication between Albany and Buffalo is also to be established during the next year by Professor Morse and another party.

FARMERS

FOUNDRY.

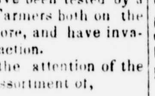

THE SUBSCRIBERS grateful for the patronage heretofore received, begs leave respectfully to inform their friends and the public generally, that they now have on hand & are daily manufacturing the most approved ever offered to the public on this Shore. Their superiority over other machines consists in simplicity and strength, which will enable us to warrant them with perfect safety. Notwithstanding there are numerous Machines used in this county it is a well known fact that they are too liable to become injured and broken from trivial causes, arising from their complicated construction. The Machines we now offer to the public have been tested by a number of experienced Farmers both on the Western and Eastern Shore, and have invariably given general satisfaction.

WHEAT MACHINES,

They would also call the attention of the public to their extensive assortment of,

PLOUGHS,

Plough Castings,—
Mill Castings, &c. &c.

Their assortment of Ploughs embraces a great variety, viz:

EMAN'S Self-sharpening	BEACH Improved
DAVIS	BEAN RD
SINCLAIR & MOCK	WILEY
CHESNUTH	PATENT CYCLODAL
BYAR	Plough Sc

The merits of most of these Ploughs are already well known; but the Wiley and Patent Cyclodal have been recently introduced by us on this Shore, as a valuable acquisition to the Farmer. The Patent Cyclodal, in 1842 took the first premium at the agricultural Exhibition, near Govanstown, Baltimore county, over numerous competitors, composing some of the most celebrated Ploughs of Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland. All our Ploughs are stocked of the best timber, and warranted to run well. We are also prepared to do of every description at the shortest notice, and at City prices. We respectfully solicit the patronage of the public and invite them to an examination of our stock.

CASTINGS

WROUGHT WORK

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish, nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice. I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—fetid breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr. R. F. Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

TRIST. THOMAS, M. D.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,

JAS. A. MUSE, M. D,

Easton March 20 1844

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D,

Easton March 23d 1844

Having examined MR. R F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.

Easton March 7 1844

There is no anthelmintic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it not only as a vermafuge but as a good tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.

Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
