POETRY.

The following is from the Opal for 1845; it was written by the author of two admirable pieces which we recently copied from the Newark Daily Advertiser. It happens to us when reading good poetry to be a little like Oliver Twist, we are tempted to ask for more.—U. S. Gazette.

TO CHILDREN.

Sweet things! blest things! to look on you—
Eyes that are in their wane
Grow bright—and hearts at ebb of age
Fill with life's tides again.

And you, not age, nor death should touch,
If human love might save;
But stronger is the love which blights
And gathers to the grave.

We know that you the angels love—
(They love all gentle things,)
And often o'er you fondly stoop
And spread their viewless wings.

And tenderly their starry eyes
Watch you by night and day,
And sweetly as they smile on you,
So you, on us, alway.

And oh! should he who smiles on all,
And loves both young and old—
Should the dear shepherd take his lambs,
And bear them to his fold;

Should he who gave these buds of love—
Who gives—and maketh torn—
Leave us like withered stems till eve,
And take them in the morn;

We still, oh! God, would trust his love
Who once, in form like them,
Slept on a woman's yearning breast,
A babe in Bethlehem;

Who writes, in flowers, upon the earth,
And stars in heav'n above,
And smiles and tears in human souls,
Blest characters of love;

Who Hope hath given to Death—as dawn
To thickets dark he gave;
And caused that still the new year's flowers
Grow on the old year's grave;

Who joy can bring from grief, as calm
Succeeds the wind's fierce wars—
As winter's tears bring summer leaves,
And night the joy of stars!

Who from these children's steps the thorns
Of grief, and doubt, and care,
Can kindly take—or for their peace
As kindly plant them there;

Thro' regions sad with weeping storms,
Dark wood, and frowning hill,
Or valley bright as angel dreams,
Can guide them at his will.

And lead them on in peace, with joy
And singing on their way;
Till at the last, their shining path
Is lost in perfect day.

From the U. S. Gazette.

HE STANDS ERECT.

BY THOMAS G. SPEAR.

He stands erect! the fiercely tried—
The shadow'd—but the purified
From every venom'd wrong:—
Erect in that majestic grace
Unborrow'd from the pomp of place,
Above, yet of the throng;
Where wisest natures only know
The pleasures that from virtue flow,
And in release from action find
The love and homage of mankind.

He stands erect, and shines alone
In eloquence of thought and tone,
The orator and sage—
The great—the gifted—and the good,
Whose triumphs live unstain'd with blood
The landmarks of his age;
And standing thus he cannot fall,
But rise majestic over all
The croaking flock whose throats would pour
Their raven cries where eagles soar.

He bore the tempest and the shock
Like ocean's surge encumber'd rock,
And back the billows flung
That rag'd around his stately form,
When bravely breasting strife and storm,
He rose, with fearless tongue,
And standing forth, with soul elate,
For truth, for freedom, and the state,
Was heard to hail each straggling band,
Or silence faction's phrenzied band.

Friend of his race! his name is borne.
Where'er a badge of freedom's worn,
Or rules a patriot hand:—
It floats on the Ægean breeze,
And o'er the fervid Carib seas,
To far Pacific's strand—
And where the Andes pierce the skies,
As up the gorge the condor flies,
And flaps his wings from peak to peak,
It echoes in his mountain shriek.

The Suliote, when Bozzaris fell,
And Byron bade the world farewell,
Threw not his arms away,
But rallying to prolong the fight,
Felt in his soul a new delight,
To hear the name of Clay—
And, with a glad and grateful heart,
Confess'd the champion's cheering part,
Whose voices arose, o'er isle and wave,
For Greece, the bleeding and the brave.

He stands erect, with soaring view,
In all his nature's promptings true,
Like Gabriel with his front to God,—
Without a stain—without a fear—
While hosts celestial shining near
Approve the way he trod;
And as the flaming Hierarch's place
Is borne with heaven's serenest grace,
His soul enjoys the fate that brought
The sweets of tranquillizing thought.

Erect and just, and firm and fast,
He stands a pillar of the past,
Not Cato-like to bleed,
Or when defection would appal,
As Cicero to fly and fall,
And cease for Rome to plead;
But with a soul above despair,
Unshaken by the gloom or glare
O'Fortune's hour, or Fate's decree,
To live, a Solon of the free.

Aloof he stands, in all the pride
Of wisdom to the state allied,
When manhood's bow was bent—
The first of Freedom's brotherhood,
Who liv'd but for his country's good,
Till life to age was spent.
And shall he then be said to fall,
Who gave his native land his all?
As well proclaim Missouri dry,
Because not lifted mountains high.

Sage of the West! his fame is bright,
And soars in an unborrow'd light,
To glory and renown—
And flashing thought's electric spark,
Through ages rightly rul'd or dark,
Shall go remotely down
The farthest stretch of human law,
Retriev'd from every slanderous flaw,—
The statesman's guide—the traitor's awe—
As that of one whose heart and mind,
Serv'd, with his country's cause, mankind.

EASTON ACADEMY.

The second or winter session of this Institution will commence on Monday the 14th day of October, and the board of Trustees announce to the public that the duties will be resumed under the continued superintendence of Mr. JOHN NEELY, favorably known for many years past, as an accomplished Scholar, and a most efficient Teacher.

The course of instruction will be of an extensive character, comprising all the branches of an English education, the Latin, Greek and French Languages, and in both departments of languages the literature of each, together with ancient and modern History.

The Mathematical course will include the mixed mathematics, and pupils will be prepared for admission to any class in the Colleges or Universities of the United States; for entering upon commercial pursuits or engaging directly in the studies preparatory to either of the learned professions.

During the ensuing session a full course of lectures will be delivered on natural Philosophy and Chemistry, illustrated by the ample and excellent apparatus belonging to the Institution.

The subject of natural Philosophy will be treated by the Principal, and that of Chemistry by C C Cox, A. M, M. D.

A future announcement will state the terms and time of commencement of these lectures

The Board respectfully refer to the Rt. Rev Bishop Whittingham; to the Rev Dr. Wyatt; to Walter Fernandis, Esq. and to John H. Alexander, Esq. of Baltimore, to Hon Stevenson Archer, of Harford county, to Thomas Hayward Esq. of Dorchester county, to William A. Ford, Esq. of Caroline county; and if required to many other reliable sources as to the personal and professional excellence of Mr. John Neely

This gentleman is a graduate of Trinity College, Dublin; but what is far more substantial, he has attracted to himself the sincere regard & entire confidence of all those who have entrusted to him the education of their sons.

The Board deem it a matter of much moment that youths from a distance should be placed under the immediate eye of the principal of the academy; but excellent accommodations may be had in respectable families in the town at the usual rate of $10 per month.

All applications, enquiries, &c. should be addressed to John Neely, Esq. Principal of the Easton Academy but any information will be cheerfully given by application to either of the undersigned in behalf of the Board of Trustees. THEO. R. LOOCKERMAN

FARMERS

FOUNDRY.

THE SUBSCRIBERS grateful for the patronage heretofore received, begs leave respectfully to inform their friends and the public generally, that they now have on hand & are daily manufacturing the most approved ever offered to the public on this Shore. Their superiority over other machines consists in simplicity and strength, which will enable us to warrant them with perfect safety. Notwithstanding there are numerous Machines used in this county, it is a well known fact that they are too liable to become injured and broken from trivial causes, arising from their complicated construction. The Machines we now offer to the public have been tested by a number of experienced Farmers both on the Western and Eastern Shore, and have invariably given general satisfaction.

They would also call the attention of the public to their extensive assortment of,

PLOUGHS,

Plough Castings,—

Mill Castings, &c. &c.

Their assortment of Ploughs embraces a great variety, viz:

WINAN'S Self Sharpner	BEACH Improved ...
DAVIS	BERNARD .....
SINCLAIR & MOOR	WILEY .....
CHENOWITH	PATENT CYCLOIDAL
BEACH	Plough &c .....

The merits of most of the above Ploughs are already well known; but the Wiley and Patent Cycloidal have been recently introduced by us on this Shore, as a valuable acquisition to the Farmer. The Patent Cycloidal, in 1842 took the first premium at the agricultural Exhibition, near Govanstown, Baltimore county Md. over numerous competitors, comprising some of the most celebrated Ploughs of Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland. All our Ploughs are stocked of the best timber, and warranted to run well. We are also prepared to do of every description at the shortest notice, and at City prices. We respectfully solicit the patronage of the public and invite them to an examination of our stock.

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish, nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—feted breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr. R. F. Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

TRIST. THOMAS, M. D.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,

JAS. A. MUSE, M. D,

Easton March 20 1844

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D,

Easton March 23 1844

Having examined MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.

Easton March 7 1844

There is no authelmintic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.

Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
