POETRY.

From the St. Louis Reveille.

SENTIMENTAL VERSES,

BY JOHN BROWN.

"Fare the well—and if forever,
Still forever fare the well!"
E'en tho' parted, thou shalt never
Cease in my fond heart to dwell!

Fare the well!—pride almost—
Vain affection's another's
Yet I wish joys I may not share!
Cou—
Fare the well! the word is spoken—
Far to other scenes I go;
Yet the mangled heart thus broken—
Can it joys or comfort know?

Yes—farewell! I couldn't win her—
Why the mournful strain prolong?
Morsland! ai'nt it time for dinner?
Yes, by jingo! there's the gong!

Now—farewell! For ducks & ven'son.
Turkeys, hams and roasted beef—
These will bring to injur'd man, soon,
Lasting comfort and relief!

"OH! FATHER LET ME IN."

BY MRS. CAROLINE LEE HENTZ.

The dark clouds gathered in the sky,
Loud rose the thunder's din,
When, hark! a sweet imploring cry,
"Oh! father, let me in!"

And still, as louder swelled the gale,
And heavy fell the rain,
That soft, intense and plaintive wail,
Thrilled to the heart again.

I know that sweet imploring tone,
Fair child! I saw the stray,
When bright the morning sunbeams shone,
On the green slope to play.

And there amid the light and dew;
'Mid fragrance, song and mirth,
A living sunbeam, on ye flew,
Young gladdener of the earth!

Ye recked not of a father's care,
Nor of thy sheltering home;
This world seemed made so green and fair,
For thy young feet to roam.

But now in danger's hour, the world
Shows but one place of rest
Poor dove! thy fluttering wings are furl'd
Within thine own dear nest.

So, children of a larger growth,
When pleasure's pulse beat high,
We spring with bounding footsteps forth,
'Neath hope's cerulean sky.

But when the clouds of darkness low'r,
When life's sad woes begin—
We cry at heavenly mercy's door,
"Oh! father, let me in!"

Four copies	5

In all cases payment to be made in Advance and in notes of specie paying banks. Postmasters and agents, allowed One copy as, Commission on for every Five dollers they remit

☞The Second volume of the Philadelphia Saturday Inquirer, is about to commence. The paper is one of the largest, cheapest and best, published in the United States, and is especially suited to persons residing in the Country, who desire to obtain all the news of the times, foreign and domestic, together with a liberal supply of choice literature, in a convenient form, and at a moderate price. The Inquirer contains a little of every thing adapted to the columns of a family newspaper—Stories, Sketches, Travels, Markets, Agriculture, Statistics, Poetry, Anecdotes, Essays, Gleanings, Scraps, Oddities, Documents, Speeches, Biography and Science. It is printed on a large and handsome sheet, and each number contains 36 columns of well arranged matter—something to suit every taste, grave or gay, lively or severe." Persons who do not subscribe to a large daily sheet will find this weekly an admirable substitute. It contains the pith and marrow of the daily journals it notices or discusses all the prominent topics before the public—is bold, manly, yet courteous in its tone, the great object of its Publisher being to instruct and entertain without offending modesty, or uttering a sentiment that does not harmonise with pure and elevated morals A few of its departments may be briefly noticed

Stories.—The best are given from the pens of the most distinguished authors. Often as many as five appear in a single number, the aggregate amounting to more than Two Hundred per annum. Quite a Library of Romance, and of the most unexceptionable character.

Biography—Brief sketches of the lives of the just, the wise, the virtuous and the patriotic drawn from the most authentic sources.

Travels—Outlines and descriptions of prominent men, buildings and objects throughout the world.

Poetry—Gem passages from the best productions of the gifted children of genius.

Gleanings.—Interesting articles culled from late European publications, early copies of which are received by the steamers.

Documents.—All the reports of importance by Committees of Congress and our State Legislature, together with the great speeches of leading statesmen.

Markets—A detailed account weekly of the Philadelphia and other markets.

Local Items, Washington Letters, Proceedings of Congress, European News, Scenes in Philadelphia, &c. also form features of the Saturday Inquirer, and commend it to the notice of the Merchant, the Storekeeper, the Politician as well as all who delight to gather around the Family Fireside. The paper for the past year is confidently referred to as to the nature and character of its contents.—Thousands of topics have been noticed, and volumes of agreeable information have been published in its pages. It is therefore with confidence that we appeal to the public, to come forward, and add to the list of its patrons. We promise to give to all who subscribe the full worth of their money.

Now is the time to Subscribe, now while full Files for the New Year may be obtained.

☞The paper is carefully packed directed and forwarded by the earliest Mails.

☞Postmasters are authorized to act as agents. Address,

JESPER HARDING,
No. 57 South Third St. Philadelphia.

☞As payments are invariably to be made in Advance, subscribers whose terms are about to expire, will be good enough to forward their subscriptions for the new year.

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish, nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—fetid breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—pufiiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr. R. F. Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

TRIST. THOMAS, M. D.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,
JAS. A. MUSE, M. D,
Easton March 20 1844

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F. Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D.
Easton March 23 1844

Having examined MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.
Easton March 7 1844

There is no authelmimtic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confilently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.
Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR. W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.

The Pioneer Magazine of America.

GODEY'S MAGAZINE AND LADY'S BOOK, FOR 1845.

The best earnest a publisher can give of what he can and will do next year is a reference to what he has done last year, or at ANY TIME FOR THE LAST FIFTEEN YEARS. Under this view of the case it would be quite sufficient for ordinary purposes for us to say that the high character of this magazine for literary and artistical merit will be properly sustained. But we are aware that the rapid and dazzling succession of novelties which we have brought forward within the last few years naturally excites a lively curiosity, and every subscriber is saying to himself what will Godey do next?

It is merely with a view to gratify this curiosity on the part of our friends that we now proceed to enumerate some of the features of our next year's plan, premising, however, that the enumeration must necessarily be partial and incomplete, from our invariable practice of seizing upon every new and brilliant form of embellishment the moment it presents itself as well as securing the services of all the Popular, Lively and Piquant Writers the moment their characters are distinctly developed and pronounced. The honour of bringing forward first rate genius into public notice and favour, and serving as a sort of prime conductor to ELECTRIC FLASHES which send their light through the whole Union, has become quite habitual to the Lady's Book.

Our original idea of illustrating American history by views of Battle Grounds we are still calmly pursuing in a style that defies all competition. The not less brilliant idea of illustrating the Heroism of American Ladies by a series of ENGRAVINGS & NARRATIVES which will serve to place in their true light the patriotism, devotion and self-sacrifice of our female ancestors in the revolutionary war, emphatically called the Heroic age of America, is also original with us. Other incidents of revolutionary history will also furnish subjects for the embelishments of the coming year.—Among the subjects already executed are the Reception of the news of Lexington Fight, by Darley.
Marion's Entertainment of the British Officer, by White
Female Gallantry, by Hubatt.
The Storming of Red Bank Fort, by Hamilton.
Count Donop's Monument, by Hamilton
The Battle of Concord Bridge, by Frankenstein
The Germantown Battle-ground, by Russel Smith.
Trenton Battle Ground, by Hamilton

with a large number of others, engaged but not yet sent in by the artists. Another new and striking feature we now propose for the first time in public, having had artists engaged for twelve months in working it out Our readers will please to note the date of the announcement of this feature. it will consist of characteristic state views, in which the peculiarities of Scenery, Costume and Customs of every State and Territory of the Union will be presented in succession. This idea will of course be claimed by others, but our readers will not forget to make dates.

Our proffered premium of $200 for the best painting of a subject illustrative of American Female Patriotism has already brought a splendid array of talent into the field. The award has been postponed for another month out of courtesy to artists who have pictures still upon their easel.

The premium of $250 for the best engraving will of course bring forward a series of first rate steel plates.

In addition to all these advantages, the privilege of engraving the premium pictures of of the Apollo Association will serve to form a Keystone to our splendid system of Embellishments

The public know our literary contributors well for they have long been in the habit of recognizing them as the leading writers of America in Magazine Literature—the literature which exacts from the ablest pens their most piquant and brilliant contributions, at the same time that it condenses into a compact and pleasing form the Moral, the useful and the solid in narrative, sketch and essay writing.

MEZZOTINTS, MEZZOTINTS.

It is only necessary to say that in this department we have Sartain, Sadd and Warner and each of them has several plates in hand We shall, we think, have one in each number next year.

AUTHENTIC FASHION PLATES

Godey's Lady's Book is the only Magazine that can be relied upon for the real fashions.

Our translators suffer nothing of merit and interest, which is suited to the design of the Lady's Book, in the Literature of Germany, France, Italy, and other nations of the European continent to escape them.

Among many novel features in the literary way which are now in the course of preparation, for well known reasons we choose to announce but one in this connection, viz:

The Border Legends of America, many of which have just reached us from the distant regions where were formerly the scene of border wars and hunting expeditions, and where the exploits of the famous Indian killers and hunters still furnish themes for purely national, Ballads, Songs and Stories to their children and grandchildren by the winter's fireside.

It is not necessary for us to give the names of our writers—previous numbers will show that they are the best in America.

TERMS OF GODEY'S MAGAZINE

1 copy, 1 year, $3; 2 copies, 1 year, 5, 5 copies, 1 year; $10; 11 copies. 1 yer, 20.

Any person ordering a copy 1 year for $3 or two copies one year for $5, will be presented with a copy of the novelette of The Prime Donna, by W. G Simme, and Robert Rueful by T. S. Fay.
