POETRY.

The remains of the late Commodore Porter were privately conveyed, week before last, from their late resting place, at the Naval Asylum, to the Woodlands Cemetery, on the Schuylkill, just above Gray's Ferry, where a beautiful spot of ground has been chosen.

The following lines on the occasion, from Rev. Walter Colton, are published in the North American:

Now lift the sods from off his breast—
  Ye will not break his sleep;
And spread his couch beneath the oak,
  That crowns yon woodland steep,
He loved the oak—the very keel
  Cleft from that noble tree.
And trusted to its rock-ribb'd strength,
  In storms that shook the sea.

He held, with eagle's speed, his course,
  Where swept the hostile sail;
And where the tide of conflict rushed,
  Unlinked the iron hail;
His stout ship trembled to the shock,
  As Hecla's rocky steep,
When out her wild volcanic pile
  The living thunders leap.

But he is now in that eclipse
  Which death's dim shadows spread,
Till, at the voice of Gabriel's trump,
  The grave shall yield its dead;
Then on those features, dark and cold,
  Seraphic light shall play,
As o'er the night-cloud warmly melts
  The blush of breaking day.

THE ROAD OF LIFE.

BY SAMUEL LOVER.

This is a charming song, and as the subject of it is the same as that which inspired Shakspeare, we will quote the words as a sort of appendix in the "Seven Ages."

"Oh! youth, happy youth, what a blessing,
  In thy freshness of dawn and of dew,
  While the young heart is caressing,
  Griefs are but light and but few;
  Time swiftly flies o'er us,
  Nor sadness, we find;
  Troubles before us,
  Care behind.

  Time that drives us,
  Flies us,

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—fetid breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr R. F. Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

Having examined MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

There is no authelmimtic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.

From DR W. HEMSLEY

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D.
Easton March 23 1844

Having examined MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

There is no authelmimtic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

From DR W. HEMSLEY

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
