POETRY.

FLORENCE VANE.

BY PHILIP P. COOKE, OF WINCHESTER, VA

I loved thee long and dearly,
Florence Vane!
My life's bright dream and early
Hath come again.
I renew in my fond vision
My heart's dear pain—
My hopes and thy derision,
Florence Vane.

The ruin lone and hoary,
The ruin old
Where thou didst hark my story,
At even told—
That spot—the hues Elysian
Of sky and plain
I treasure in my vision,
Florence Vane.

Thou wast lovelier than the roses
In their prime;
Thy voice excelled the closes
Of sweetest rhyme;
Thy heart was as a river
Without a main—
Would I had loved thee never,
Florence Vane.

But fairest, coldest, wonder,
Thy glorious clay
Lieth the green sod under,
Alas the day!
And it boots not to remember
Thy disdain,
To quicken love's pale ember,
Florence Vane

The lilies of the valley
By young graves weep;
The pansies love to dally
Where maidens sleep—
May their bloom, in beauty vieing,
Never wane
Where thine earthly part is lying,
Florence Vane.

From the Reveille.

HOW TO MARRY.

When you get married, don't marry a pet,
A jilt, or a vixen, or yet a coquette.
But marry a maid—that is, if you can—
More fit for the wife of a sensible man.

Look out for a girl, that is healthy and young.
With more in her eye than you hear from her tongue,
And though she be freckled, or burt to a tan,
Yet she is the girl for a sensible man.

With riches will wretchedness often in life
Go linked, when your riches are got with a wife;
But marry, and make all the riches you can,
Like a bold, independent, and sensible man.

Look for a girl who is gentle and kind.
And modest, and silent, and tell her your mind;
If she's wise, as bewitching, she'll welcome the plan,
And soon be the wife of a sensible man.

Then cherish her excellence wisely and kind,
And be to small foibles indulgingly blind.
For so you make happy, if any thing can,
The wife of a sober, and sensible man.

PHAZMA.

NAPOLEON CROSSING THE ALPS.

Our friends who have paid high prices for copies of David's great picture of Napoleon crossing the Alps, in which a splendid horse seems to "share with his lord the pleasure & the pride."

will feel a little mortified when they learn that the great man crossed, first, a mule, and then crossed the Alps upon that unpoetical animal. Had it been an Ass it would have been better. We copy the following from Thiers' History of the Consulate:—U. S. Gazette.

"Artists have delineated him crossing the Alpine heights mounted on a fiery steed. The plain truth is, that he ascended the St. Bernard in that gray surtout which he usually wore, upon a mule, led by a guide, belonging to the country, evincing even in the difficult passes, the abstraction of a mind occupied elsewhere conversing with the officers scattered on the road, and then at intervals, questioning the guide who attended him, making him relate the particulars of his life, his pleasures his pains, like an idle traveller who has nothing better to do. This guide, who was quite young, gave him a simple recital of the details of his obscure existence, and especially the vexation he felt, because for want of a little money, he could not marry one of the girls of his valley. The First Consul, sometimes listening, sometimes questioning the passengers with whom the mountain was covered, arrived at the Hospice, where the worthy monks gave him a warm reception. No sooner had he alighted from his mule than he wrote a note which he handed to his guide, desiring him to be sure and deliver it to the quartermaster of the army, who had been left on the other side of the St. Bernard.—In the evening, the young man, on returning to St. Pierre, learned with surprise what powerful traveller it was whom he had guided in the morning, and that General Bonaparte had ordered that a house and a piece of ground should be given to him immediately and that he should be supplied, in short, with the means requisite for marrying and for realizing all the dreams of his modest ambition. This mountaineer died not long since, in his own country, the owner of land given to him by the ruler of the world. This singular act of benificence, at a moment when his mind was engaged by such mighty interests is worthy of attention. If there were nothing in it but a mere conqueror's caprice, dispensing at random good or evil, alternately overthrowing empires or rearing a cottage it may be useful to record such caprices, if only to tempt the masters of the earth to imitation; but such an act reveals something more. The human soul, in those moments when it is filled with ardent desires, is disposed to kindness; it does good by way of meriting that which it is soliciting of Providence."

HEMSLEY'S WORM DESTROYING SYRUP.

Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the nomeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—fetid breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr. R. F. Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

THIST. THOMAS, M. D.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,
JAS. A. MUSE, M. D,

Easton March 20 1844

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H THOMAS, M. D,

Easton March 23d 1844

Having examined Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.

Easton March 7 1844

There is no anthelmimtic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from Mr R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.

Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR. W. HEMSLEY

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
