POETRY.

BRING BACK MY FLOWERS.

A child sat by a limpid stream,
And gazed upon the tide beneath,
Upon her cheek was joy's bright beam
And on her brow, a blooming wreath;
Her lap was filled with blushing flowers,
And as the clear brook babbled by,
She scattered down the rosy showers,
With many a wild and joyous cry,
And laughed to see the mingling tide
Upon its onward progress glide.

And time flew on—and flower by flower
Was cast upon the sunny stream,
But when the shades of eve did low'r,
She woke up from her blissful dream;
"Bring back my flowers," she wildly cried,
"Bring back my flowers I flung to thee,"
But echo's voice alone replied,
As danced the streamlet down the lea;
And still amid night's gloomy hours,
In vain she cried—"bring back my flowers."

Oh, maiden! who on time's swift stream,
Dost gaily see thy moments flee,
In this poor child's delusive dream,
An emblem may be fond of thee!
Each moment is a perfumed rose,
Into thy hand by mercy given,
That thou its fragrance might dispose,
And let its incense rise to heaven;
Else when death's shadow o'er thee lowers;
Thy heart will wail—"bring back my flowers."

From the Brooklyn Advertiser.

A FAITHFUL DOG.—Some years since, a family residing in one of the Southern states possessed a Newfoundland dog, which conceived a strong friendship for the little daughter of its owner. This child he used to escort regularly too school carrying her satchel in his mouth, and was generally at the door when the hours of her penance were over, to trot along by her side homeward.

One day, the girl, having strayed away without the knowledge of her parents sauntered along to the water, and was amusing herself by walking upon the string pieces of a pier. The dog, as usual, was her only attendant, and seemed to watch her pranks with much attention and considerable uneasiness. Frequently warned by various persons upon the wharf to keep farther from the edge, she nevertheless with juvenile waywardness continued her dangerous pastime, until finally missing her footing, she fell into the water. Instantly the neighborhood was in an uproar; some ran to loosen a boat, others flung boards into the stream, and a sailor present stripped off his jacket and shoes for a plunge after the little castaway.

But Towser fully comprehended the matter at a glance and before it was fairly known that she was in peril, was by the side of his young mistress, had seized her by her floating dress, and was paddling back with her precious burden to the wharf. The generous Jack tar had now only to leap into a ship's yawl hard by, and pull both of the dripping creatures into it, and deposite them upon the deck in safety.

Towser, of course, became more than ever a favorite with the family, and held a very enviable rank above others of his species. As his mistress increased in strength and stature she was never allowed to forget the debt of gratitude due her canine companion, although she had outgrown, the necessity of calling upon him for farther services, so that he slept and grew fat upon his laurels, like some old soldier, whose youthful privations and evidences of valor have procured him a pension for the remainder of his pilgrimage.

Some five years after the occurrence, the family had resolved upon changing their place of residence for the city of St. Augustine. The morning of their departure had arrived; the schooner which was to convey them to their new home was casting off from the pier, the very one which had been the scene of Towser's exploit, but he was no where to be found.—They whistled and called but no dog appeared; the captain became restive, swore he would wait no longer, gave the order, and the craft swept along the waters with a spanking breeze, and was soon a quarter of a mile from the shore.

The girl and her father were standing at the stern of the vessel looking back upon the city which they had probably left forever, when suddenly Towser was seen running down the edge of the wharf with something in his mouth. With a glass they discovered that it was his masters pocket handkerchief, which had been dropped somewhere upon the road down to the vessel, and which he recollected, with some compunctions of conscience, that he had sent his shaggy servant back to look after.

The dog looked pitiously around upon the bystanders, then at the retreating vessel, and leaped boldly into the water. His master immediately pointed out the noble brute to the captain, and requested him to throw his vessel into the wind until the animal could near them; he also offered a large sum if he would drop his boat and pick him up, told him of the manner in which he had preserved the life of his daughter and again offered him the price of a passage if he would save the faithful creature. The girl joined her entreaties with those of her father, wept and implored that her early friend might be rescued; but the captain was a savage; he was deaf to every appeal of humanity—kept obstinately on his course, and the better animal of the two followed the vessel, until his strength exhausted, and his generous heart chilled by despair, he sank among the more merciful billows.

By heaven! we would have thrown the captain overboard.

[We cannot go so far as that. To be sure the fellow was not fit to live—but then he was much more unfit to die.]

Mr. Reamington, of Petersburg, Va. has invented a one-wheeled sulky, which is spoken of as a superior article. It is balanced by the gearing of the horse, and cannot turn over, it is said, unless the horse goes with it.

Remarkable.—One day last week a lady of our acquaintance in this city, feeling sick at the stomach, took a teaspoonful of New England rum, as she supposed; but not liking the taste, she examined the bottle, and found that she had taken corrosive sublimate, which had been kept for the destruction of chintzes whenever chintzes should come. The family becoming alarmed, the lady of the house proceeded to mix, as she supposed, a teacupful of ground ipecacuanha, and this the patient swallowed in her fright, as speedily as she had swallowed the poison. Judge, however, of the surprise of all, when they ascertained that the article was Scotch snuff. The accidents however off-set each other; for the lady, after enduring a siege equal to that endured by the ancient city of Troy, came forth from her couch entirely well; and, as she expressed it, "very much better for the Scotch emetic." As this is a new remedy for poison, we insert the fact for the benefit of the medical faculty at home and abroad.—Washington Jour.

WISTER'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
A Compound Balsamic Preparation from WILD CHERRY BARK & TAR.

The best remedy known to the world for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Bleeding of the Lungs, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Influenza, Shortness of Breath, Pain and Weakness in the Breast or Side, Liver Complaint, and the first stages of CONSUMPTION.

A THOUSAND CURES in cases deemed utterly hopeless have firmly established its vast superiority over every former medical discovery. It has always been styled 'Nature's own Prescription,' being formed chiefly from chemical extracts from Wild Cherry Bark and Tar—two trees that are thickly scattered wherever diseases of the lungs prevail. We give a few instances of its extraordinary power, from a catalogue almost without end.

A lady (address will be given at the New York Agency) who was given up by all of her physicians to die of consumption, had a hard tumor for months on the side—raised among large quantities of matter a sort of bony substance—had taken no medicine for two months, being past all hope—entirely cured by a few bottles of this Balsam in September and October 1844,

A. Williams, Esq. Attorney, &c. New York, cured of spasmodic asthma of 25 years standing, certified to by Recorder Tallmadge and J Power. D. D.

A. Carman, New York city, who had not slept, lying down, for 7 years, (being obliged to sleep in a sitting posture) so far cured as to attend to his business in the most stormy weather.

Thomas Bradlee, Esq., J. P., Jamaica, L. I. cured of asthma of 40 years standing.

Mrs. Anna D. Hopkins, of Knowlesville, N. Y. entirely cured of liver complaint and general debility of eighteen months standing.

Jacob Hoffman, M. D. Huntingdon, cured a child of P. Schroble, of obstinate disease of the lungs after he had tried all the usual remedies in vain.

"There is no such thing as fail" in the history of this wonderful BALSAM. Evidence the most convincing—evidence that not one can doubt—fully establishes this fact For the sake of brevity, we select the following from thousands.

Isaac Platt, Esq. Editor of the Po'keepsie Eagle, one of the most influential papers in the state of New York, states under the authority of his own name, that a young lady, a relative of his, of very delicate constitution, was attacked in February 1842, with severe cold, which immediately produced spitting of blood cough, fever, and other dangerous and alarming symptoms. Through medical treatment and care she partially recovered during summer. But on the return of winter she was attacked more violently than at first; she became scarcely able to walk, and was troubled with cough, chills and fever every day, and appeared to be going rapidly with consumption at this time, when there was no sign of improvement. Mr. Platt procured a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which she took, and it seemingly restored her. She got a second, and before it was half taken, she was restored to perfect health, which she has enjoyed to the present time, without the slightest symptom of her former disease.

Mr Platt says "that cure came under my own observation, and I cannot be mistaken as to the facts"

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM A POSTMASTER, DATED

Pembroke, Washington Co Maine, April 29, 1844

Mr. ISAAC BUTTS —Dear Sir: At the request of many of my friends in this place and vicinity, who are afflicted with consumption and liver complaints, I take the liberty of asking you to appoint some one in this county to sell as agent WISTARS BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and to send him a few dozen as there is none of it for sale within 200 miles from this. I have no doubt that it would meet with a ready sale, if it were where it could be procured without too much expense and delay.

My wife was attacked about six months since with what the physicians called the first stage of consumption—a complaint very prevalent in this section of country. Having seen the Balsam advertised in Augusta,

☞200 MILES FROM HERE☜

I took the pains to send there for a bottle of it, which she took, and which helped so much that I sent for two bottles more, which she has also taken, and she now says she has not felt so well for six years as she does at this time. All those who have inquired of me and ascertained what effect the Balsam had, are anxious to have some for sale in this vicinity, which is the cause of my writing to you.

Please inform me by return of mail whether you conclude to send some, and if so, to whom, in order that it may be known where it can be had.

I am, with respect, yours, &c.
P. G. FARNSWORTH, P. M.

The whole country is fast learning that no medicine—no physician—no preparation of any kind whatever—can equal Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

A TRULY WONDERFUL CURE.

WATERVILLE, Oneida Co. N. Y. Sept. 15 1843.

Dear Sir—I owe it to the afflicted to inform you that in January last I was attacked by a very violent cold, caused by working in the water, which settled upon my lungs. It was accompanied by a very severe pain in my breast and sides, and also a distressing cough. I had in attendance all the best medical aid in our village; but after exhausting all their skill to no avail, they pronounced my disease a CONFIRMED CONSUMPTION, and they one and all gave me up to die. After much persuasion, I got the consent of my physician to use BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, prepared by Dr. WISTAR. I purchased of the Agent in our place one bottle, before using half of which I began to gain strength, and it was very evident my cough was much better, and my symptoms in every way improving I have now used three bottles, and AM RESTORED TO PERFECT HEALTH. This result is alone owing to the use of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY; and I take this method of giving you the information, partly to pay you the debt of gratitude I owe you, and partly that others similarly afflicted may know where to apply for relief.

Very truly yours,
JAMES SAGE.

Mr. PALMER, Druggist, under date of Waterville, September 24, 1843, writes.

The statement given you by Mr James Sage is well known to be true by this WHOLE COMMUNITY. It certainly was a most remarkable cure. The sale of the Balsam is very good, and its success in cures truly flattering.

Yours respectfully,
D. D. PALMER.

THE MOST REMARKABLE CURE EVER RECORDED.

HADDONFIELD, N. J., April 23, 1843.

On or about the 13th day of October, 1841 I was taken with a violent pain in the side near the liver, which continued for about five days, and was followed by the breaking of ulcer or abscess, inwardly, which relieved the pain a little, but caused me to throw up a great quantity of offensive matter, and also much blood. Being greatly alarmed at this I applied to a physician; but he said he thought he could do but little for me except give me some Mercury Pills which I refused to take, feeling satisfied that they could do me no good; many other remedies were then procured by my wife & friends but none did me any good—and the discharge of blood and corruption still continued every few days, and at last became so offensive that I could scarcely breathe. I was also seized with a violent cough, which at times caused me to raise much more blood than I had done before—and my disease continued in this way still growing worse, until February, when all hope of my recovery was given up; and my friends all thought I would die of a GALLOPING CONSUMPTION. At this moment, when my life was apparently drawing near its close I heard of Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and got a bottle, which Relieved me Immediately; and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine, all my pains were removed—my cough and spitting of blood and corruption entirely stopped, and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable me to work at my trade, (which is a capenter.) and up to this time I have enjoyed good health.

Such is the unprecedented success of this BALSAM

"NATURE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTON."

a prescription congenial to our wants, as is prepared from chemical extracts from substances which the Author of nature has placed in our own land for wise purposes, that many who know nothing of the mode of its preparation are endeavoring the reap pecuniary benefits by selling an article similar in name, or in appearance, or by representing their own trash as superior to this BALSAM or by putting up a mixture and solemnly asseverating that it is imported from a foreign country, which is not the case. All these deceptive arts go to show that WISTAR'S BALSAM is known to the world to be "THE GREAT REMEDY," and that to sell any mixture it must be like this in name or purport, to be like it in substance.

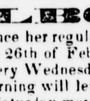

☞Believe not the cunningly wrought fabrication—and take only the original and genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

HEMSLEY'S WORM
DESTROYING SYRUP.
Prepared by R. F. Hemsley,

CHEMIST & PHARMACEUTIST, Easton Md.

WHEN we consider the great number of children who die annually in our county by worms it becomes important that the public should be in possession of some Medicine for their removal, which will combine safety and efficiency in its employment, this desideratum is afforded by the 'Worm Destroying Syrup.' It is not my wish, nor is it my design to throw around this preparation the unmeaning & extravagant eulogiums with which such medicines are usually ushured into notice, I only desire for it a fair & judicious trial to secure its full approbation. The large and increasing sale of this article is the best proof of the value and estimation in which it is held by numerous & respectable families. The presence of worms may generally with readiness be detected by the following.

SYMPTOMS.

Variable appetite—foul tongue—fœted breath—full hard and tense belly—dull heavy expression of the Countenance—a bluish streak under the eye—itching at the nose—puffiness of the upper lip—disordered and irregular bowels—starting and screaming in sleep—grinding of teeth—pain in the bowels & frequently drowsiness or convulsions, attended by slow fever.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Being acquainted with the general and successful use of Mr. R. F. Hemsley's Worm Destroying Syrup, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a valuable remedy for the expulsion of worms.

TRIST. THOMAS, M. D.

I CONCUR IN THE ABOVE,
JAS. A. MUSE, M. D,
Easton March 20 1844

I have for the last two years used with success Mr. R. F. Hemsley's 'Worm Destroying Syrup' Indeed I look upon it as a specific in those cases, and knowing its composition feel no hesitation in recommending it where worms exist.

WM. H. THOMAS, M. D.
Easton March 23d 1844

Having examined MR. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and being conversant with its general and successful employment in Easton and the vicinity, I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe and efficient remedy for the expulsion of worms from the alimentary canal.

CHRIS. C. COX, M. D.
Easton March 7 1844

There is no authelmimtic preparation from the use of which I have seen better results than from MR R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP' having been made acquainted with its composition I can confidently recommend it, not only as a vermafuge but as a gentle tonic suitable in those cases of debility occurring in consequence of the presence of worms in the stomach and bowels.

A. M WHITE, M. D.
Talbot county March 26th 1844

From DR. W. HEMSLEY.

Having prescribed the 'Worm Destroying Syrup' with success in my neighbourhood I can confidently recommend it as superior to any other preparation offered to the public.

I have tried in a desperate case of worms Mr. R. F. HEMSLEY'S 'WORM DESTROYING SYRUP,' and it proved immediately efficacious, this case had baffled the skill of Physicians previously, and the disease must soon have killed the servant. I feel it my duty to give this certificate in favour of the valuable medicine.
